FIGHT WITH DERVISHES.

EGYPTIAN TROOPS ARE HAVING A LIVELY CAMPAIGN.

Captain Pyne of the British Staff Among the Killed—The Dervishes Were Repulsed With Heavy Loss—45 Egyptians and an Officer Killed.

CAIRO, Jan. 4.—The body of dervishes which recently attacked Gemai, near Wady-Halfa, was overtaken near Ambigol yesterday by a detachment of Egyptian cavalry and a fierce battle ensued.

The dervishes, who greatly outnumbered the Egyptians, made several furious onslaughts on the Government troops, but were finally repulsed with heavy loss. Many dervishes were slain.

Capt. Pyne of the British staff and 45 Egyptians, including an officer, were killed and many others were wounded.

A detachment of Egyptian cavalry with British officers have arrived at Ambigol since the battle took place, and further reinforcements have been despatched to the scene of the conflict.

COLD IN AUSTRIA.

Piled Ten or Twelve Feet High in Vienna City.

VIENNA, Jan. 4.—Violent snow storms have prevailed throughout Austria and Hungary all day. All kinds of traffic have been impeded and scores of villages have been completely isolated. All the Imperial shooting parties in Styria have been postponed indefinitely.

A despatch from Trieste says that all traffic in the city has been stopped by the drifts.

In this city the snow is piled 10 or 12 feet high between the roads and sidewalks. No market men have been able to come to town, and there is a great dearth of all farm products. A milk and butter famine has already been proclaimed by the produce dealers.

Pity His Wife, Too.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—A despatch from Boulogne tells a curious story of a French soldier captured in the war of 1870 and repeatedly re-imprisoned for attempting to escape. He was released but a few days ago and reached Boulogne yesterday, to find his wife married again and the mother of several children by her second husband.

Legislation in Spain.

LISBON, Jan. 4.—King Carlos yesterday opened the session of the Cortes. The speech from the throne promised that the Government would submit bills Monday for electoral reform, measures to remedy the deficit in the country's production of cereals, and to increase her export trade in wine, and measures for reform in the public service.

Gladstone's Gratitude.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—Mr. Gladstone has sent out a card expressing his gratitude to his friends throughout the world who sent him congratulatory letters and telegrams on his birthday. He regrets, he says, that the largeness of the number of these friends renders it impossible for him to acknowledge the kindness of each through individual letters.

Dublin's Lord Mayor.

DUBLIN, Jan. 4.—The new Lord Mayor of Dublin was installed in his office yesterday with all the pomp and ceremony that anciently attended the taking of office by the city's chief dignitary. Interest was added to the ceremonies by the presence of the Lord Mayor of London, who is the guest of Dublin's Mayor, and who rode in the procession.

Sir John Abbott's Health.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—Recent reports show that ex-Premier Abbott's health is far from good. He is now in Italy, journeying south by easy stages. He has made no gain in strength since his arrival in Europe; on the contrary, if anything, he is weaker. He still hopes, however, to benefit materially by further rest in the south.

May Be Rescued Yet.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 4.—The steamer Sandhill, from Wilmington, N.C., reports that on Dec. 21 she vainly attempted to rescue the crew of a dismasted Norwegian bark, that a lifeboat which she launched in the attempt was demolished and that she was unable to make further effort to assist the men on the boat.

Ice in London.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—The weather in London has been very wintry for several days and much ice has been formed in the Thames. Traffic above and below London bridge is seriously impeded by pack ice. The upper reaches of the river are frozen over and further obstruction of navigation is expected.

Mexico's Patron Saint.

ROME, Jan. 4.—The Pope has decided that the feast of the Virgin of Guadalupe, Mexico's patron saint, shall be observed as a general feast in Mexico.

His Holiness has also appointed Mgr. Dios, Moza and Guzambrus to three new bishoprics in Mexico.

Hung Him to a Tree.

LOUDON, Tenn., Jan 4.—Last night a masked mob of 50 men overpowered the sheriff and took Henry Duncan, who was in jail charged with killing a man named Stephens, and hung him to a tree. Duncan was also accused of having killed three other persons.

Italy's High Taxes.

ROME, Jan. 4.—The principal Italian shipbuilders and ship-owners have resolved to register their vessels under foreign flags hereafter, in order to escape the ruinous imposts levied on Italian vessels.

No Strike on the Rock Island.

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—General Manager St. John of the Rock Island Railroad reiterated his assertion to-day that no strike exists on that road. He had noticed an announcement of the return to Chicago of A. D. Thurston, past grand chief of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, who proposes to continue managing the affairs of the striking Rock Island operators. "There is no strike on the Rock Island and I have no business with Mr. Thurston," said Mr. St. John.

Crozier Sentenced.

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 4.—Samuel Crozier yesterday pleaded guilty to bigamy and was sentenced to six months in Central.

A BLOODTHIRSTY BROOD

SOME KILLED AND MANY ARE BADLY WOUNDED.

A Row in Kentucky That Should Make Daniel Boone Wish Himself Back from the Happy Hunting Grounds for a Few Minutes.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 4.—The bloodiest fight in Magoffin County history took place yesterday about one mile from Salersville. There were 8 or 10 of the county's best known citizens engaged on each side, armed with repeating rifles and navy pistols. The trouble, which had its inception in a trivial matter the day before, culminated in a pitched battle.

John Davis was killed by a pistol shot; W. F. Desking, constable, was fatally wounded.

Monteville Desking, justice of the peace, has not been found since the fight, but he left a bloody trail on the snow through a woodland near the scene of the tragedy and is supposed to be fatally wounded.

Shepherd Cole, coroner of the county, received some fearful blows with a club and may die.

Bryce Patrick was shot through the bowels and is reported to be dying.

W. T. Patrick received a rifle ball along the right side of his head, but may recover.

Reports as to who was immediately responsible for the terrible affair are conflicting and it is not even known who fired the fatal shots. Dug. Risner and Samuel Risner were brought here this morning by Coroner Cole, charged with assault on W. T. Desking. The coroner made a guard of the persons who were identified with the prosecution, and for whose protection the warrant was issued. This was resented by the friends of the prisoners and both sides came to town heavily armed.

The prisoners were arraigned before Police Judge George H. Gardner, and the commonwealth not being ready for trial they were released under bonds.

Some loud talking on the part of one of the Risners very nearly precipitated a fight in town about 2 o'clock, but prompt interference of the authorities prevented it. The fight took place an hour later. No arrests have been made, and it is feared that another fight is imminent.

DR. M'GLYNN'S NOTE.

Vindicating His Policy Did Not Reach the Vatican.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—The Herald yesterday morning says: Dr. McGlynn has been welcomed back into the fold of the Catholic Church simply because the Pope considered that injustice was done him when he was excommunicated.

Archbishop Corrigan charges against Dr. McGlynn disobedience and preaching false doctrines. The doctrines have not been acted upon at all by Mgr. Satolli in restoring Dr. McGlynn to his full powers as a priest.

These charges will hang over the head of Dr. McGlynn, but it is extremely doubtful if they will ever be pushed. The case will probably never be reopened. Dr. McGlynn was excommunicated for "contumacy," in not having gone to Rome when summoned by the Pope to answer the charges made against him by Archbishop Corrigan.

He was excommunicated because a letter which he despatched to the Pope after receiving the cablegram from him ordering him to Rome within 40 days was "suppressed" before it reached its destination.

An ecclesiastic who occupies a high position in this archdiocese says had this letter reached the Pope it was said Dr. McGlynn would not have been excommunicated. Dr. McGlynn did not know that this letter had miscarried, and was surprised at the end of 40 days to find himself excommunicated.

BECAME A THIEF

Because She Wanted To Fit Herself For a Professional Nurse.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—The story of the larceny of the jewels and wearing apparel from the Princess Marie Ruspoli, wife of Prince Ruspoli of the Italian legation at Washington, came out at the Tombs Police Court, where Miss Kate Sheridan, alias Miss Catherine Rickart, was arraigned.

A warrant was sworn out in Washington for her arrest, and a detective from there came here to see about the woman's extradition. For six months the woman had been the Princess Ruspoli's confidential maid, living with the family last summer at Lenox, Mass., and later near Lakewood, N.J. On Dec. 10, while the family was in Washington, the maid disappeared, taking with her about $2000 worth of her mistress' jewelry and clothing.

Last Saturday Miss Rickart was arrested. She told the detectives she had been a nurse at Blackwell's Island for a year, and it was because she wished to fit herself for the profession of a nurse that she committed the theft. She agreed to return to Washington without extradition proceedings.

FIRE IN ELORA.

A Valuable Business Block Destroyed Along With Much Goods.

ELORA, Ont., Jan. 4.— Yesterday fire burned a valuable business block owned by A. Waddell, D. Foote and F. Tate. The hardware store occupied by Mr. Drainie was the first to go and the contents were destroyed. The next was Mitchell & Co.'s general store, the stock was saved. The next was J. McCabe's grocery, contents saved. J. H. Morrow's drug store and F. Clark's drygoods store were saved, but the goods were badly damaged. Little is known about the insurance.

F. Clark was defeated for the reeveship on Monday.

A. Waddell is a resident of Toronto, and on Sunday night he was one of the citizens who stood for an hour in the rain beneath the eaves of the Home for Incurables building, hanging on to the net in which was caught the inmate who jumped from the roof.

The Czar's Charity.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 4.—The Czar has given orders that relief works be started in the distressed districts forthwith for the benefit of those suffering from the effects of the famine.

Erin Go Bragh.

LIMERICK, Jan. 4.—The Mayor of the city gave a banquet last evening to Parnellite and anti-Parnellite priests. The principal toast of the evening was "Ireland a Nation." All the customary toasts to the Queen, etc., were omitted.

IN TERROR DOWN SOUTH.

A SAMPLE OF THE POWER [illegible] AND ORDER.

A Lynching Mob Are in Possession of [illegible] Hunger for Sight of [illegible] Rest on the Grounds—One Battle With the Sheriff—Another In Expected.

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., Jan. 4.—Bakersville, 40 miles from here, is in a state of terror. A mob of 300 armed men is in possession of the town and determined to lynch Calvin Snipes, who is in jail for the murder of Aaron Winston.

The jail is guarded by the sheriff and a posse of 50 armed deputies. An attempt to lynch the murderer met with firm resistance, one man being reported killed and several others seriously if not fatally injured.

The mob is being augmented hourly and another battle is expected. The Whitson brothers, who are sentenced to be hanged Jan. 17, will be lynched if the mob gets inside the jail.

STRANGE ACCIDENT.

Lawyer McCoy Suffers Death in Earnest in an Amateur Performance.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 4.—A party of about 50 friends assembled last night at the house of Sidney McCoy, a young lawyer, to watch the old year out and the new year in. The feature of the evening's entertainment was the production of a short play written by McCoy and performed by amateurs.

The plot of the play was the betrayal of a band of Russian Nihilists by one of their number. The Nihilists discover the traitress and condemn her to death. They decide by lot who shall perform the execution, and the number fell to the character portrayed by McCoy. Miss Grace King played the part of the traitress, who is given the choice of being killed or stabbing herself, and chooses the latter alternative.

McCoy handed Miss King a stout dagger that had been in his family for many years. In the play the girl, instead of killing herself, stabs her assigned executioner, and as Miss King received the knife she reached forward to touch McCoy on the breast with it. At the same instant McCoy started towards the girl, when she stumbled, and falling forward with the dagger in her hand drove it through McCoy's heart.

McCoy staggered into the next room, asked for a doctor and then fell dead.

Miss King knew there had been an accident of some kind, but did not know that McCoy was killed. She was taken home, and afterwards on advice of friends gave herself up to the police. She was taken to the City Prison at 3 o'clock in the morning, and when she entered the prison she fainted and has since remained unconscious.

This morning McCoy's two brothers secured her release by giving bonds for $10,000 for her appearance. The girl was then taken home, but is still in a critical condition.

Miss King recently suffered from a sprained ankle and had been using crutches to walk with, but had laid them aside to practice the part in the play. As she made a motion to stab McCoy she rested her weight on the weak foot and it gave way and she fell forward.

A FARMER'S WEALTH.

It Caused Him to Be Roughly Treated by Masked Robbers.

WEST BRIDGEWATER, Mass., Jan. 4.—The house of Francis P. Dunbar, a prosperous farmer who lives near the Brockton line, was entered last night by two masked burglars. Dunbar is 74 and his wife 78 years old.

The couple were awakened from their sleep by the intruders, one of whom seized the old man by the throat and demanded to know where his money was concealed. The old man struggled to free himself, whereupon the burglar pounded him into insensibility with a club. His injuries will probably cause his death. Mrs. Dunbar, calling for help, was silenced by threats of bodily harm and she told the men that the money was in her husband's trousers pockets. The burglars secured some $50 from this garment and escaped.

MODERN DIPLOMATS.

The American Republic to Send Brainy Men to Visit Hawaii.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—A Washington special says: An extended trip is contemplated by members of the House and Senate, or at least a part of them. The scheme is a visit to the Hawaiian Islands to be taken by 15 Republicans and 15 Democrats of the House and seven Republicans and seven Democrats of the Senate, who are members of the present and will be members of the next Congress.

One of the chief reasons of the proposed trip is said to be a desire on the part of the United States Government to counteract the influence which Englishmen are exerting in the island to prevent and keep down American commerce.

Suicided in a Park.

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 4.—News has been received here by Arthur White that his brother, Dr. Eugene White of this city, who went abroad last July for his health, committed suicide Dec. 20 in Regent's Park, London, by shooting. Cause unknown.

COLD SPRINGS, OTONABEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

On Thursday night, Dec. 29th, the Cold Springs Union Sunday school held their annual business meeting, superintendent, Mr. H. P. Kennedy in the chair. The secretary's and treasurers report was first read by Miss L. Bennett and adopted by the school. The following is the report:—

Annual report of the Secretary of Cold Springs Union Sabbath School for 1891.

It is with pleasure I present to you the report of our school for the year that is just closing. Although working under adverse circumstances, our building not being suitable for efficient Sabbath School work, we have indeed had a successful year.

During the year there was only one Sabbath that no school was held, and that, as you all remember, was on account of death entering the home of one of our number and taking away a loved one, who was borne to the tomb on that day.

Our school has been well supplied with lesson helps and Sabbath School literature. We have introduced into our school this year the triple pledge against liquor, tobacco and swearing, and it has been signed by the majority of the school.

I must commend our scholars for regularity of attendance, our average for the year being 59 and in the matter of collections they have indeed been liberal, the total collections for the year being $43.35.

We have been represented, by delegates, at both the township and county conventions who brought us back very helpful and encouraging reports.

In church missionary work we are unable to assist, as we are a union school, but we gave this year $10 to the Provincial Sunday School Association to organize and sustain Sabbath schools in the poorer districts.

Our very efficient superintendent, Mr. M. W. Matchett, whose duties called him from home, found it necessary to resign his charge and was succeeded by Mr. H. P. Kennedy, who has ably fulfilled the duties of the office.

Two of our number have gone to other fields to labour for the Master, and our prayers follow them.

Before closing this report, it is my painful duty to record the death of one of our scholars, the late David Thompson, who was ever faithful in attendance at our school. And now, dear friends, in closing the report, let me commend you to the Author and Giver of all those blessings which we have enjoyed during this year, and let us give Him the praise and honour.

Faithfully yours,
L. BENNETT,
Secretary.

The treasurer's report showed receipts of $143.64 and expenditures $80.45, leaving the handsome balance of $63.19 in the treasurer's hands.

Mr. W. Tighe, superintendent of the Baptist Sunday school, Lakefield, was appointed chairman to conduct the meeting for the election of officers for the coming year, as follows:—

Superintendent—Mr. M. W. Matchett.

Assistant Superintendent—Mr. H. P Kennedy.

Secretary-Treasurer—Miss L. Bennett.

Teachers—Class I, Miss L. Kennedy; class II, Miss J. Ambrose; class III, Miss L. Bennett; class IV, girls, Miss L. Smyth; class V, boys, Mr. M. W. Matchett; class VI, Young Men's Bible Class, Mrs. D. Kennedy; class VII, Young Ladies, Mr. H. P. Kennedy.

Rev. Sylvanus Lane,

Of the Cincinnati M. E. Conference, makes a good point when he says: "We have for years used Hood's Sarsaparilla in our family of five, and find it fully equal to all that is claimed for it. Some people are greatly prejuiced against patent medicines, but how the patent can hurt a medicine and not a machine is a mystery of mysteries to me."

Hood's Pills cure Liver Ills.

Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. per package. dw

Do not be discouraged if other medicines have failed to give you relief. Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure acts on the "Kidneys" direct, combine', w th a mild action on the "Liver" and bowels, thereby removing the cause of "Back Ache," sour stomach, dizziness, indigestion and constipation.

THE BIGGEST DAY IN 7 YEARS!

Saturday, December 3rd was the biggest day MR. J. J. SHEEHY has had in seven years. Why is this? Surely not because there is less competition. Certainly not because inducements are not being held out by others. Most assuredly not because prices of farm products are showing an upward tendency. Then why??

Simply because the purchasing public of the town and surrounding country have read Mr. Sheehy's advertisements, have inwardly digested them and have concluded that cheap sale or no cheap sale Mr. Sheehy is bound not to be undersold.

We want every day in December to be a big day. How are we to accomplish this? Simply by offering to the public better value for the money than can be had elsewhere. Just cast your eye over the following quotations:—

All Wool Flannels, 26 in. wide, - -	17½	Good Linen Towels each - - -	5½
9 lb. Wool Blankets, - - - - -	$3.75	Grey Wool Blankets, - - -	31c. a lb.
14 yds. Heavy Grey Canton Flannel,	$1.00	25 yards Factory Cotton, - -	$1.00

These few quotations will probably give an idea of what we are doing and a glance at our BARGAIN TABLE in the centre of our store will convince the most skeptical that when it comes to general bargains we certainly are very decidedly "in it."

WEDDING CHIMES AND PRESENTATION.

On the 25th ult., a very pretty wedding took place in the Presbyterian church, Warsaw. Before the arrival of the bridal party the seating capacity of the church was taxed to its utmost. About 6.15 p. m., the bridal party reached the church, when Mrs. George Taylor, who presided at the organ, struck up a wedding march, to the strains of which the groom, Mr. Robt. Knox, of Asphodel, and groomsman, Mr. Dixon Wilson, of Norwood, marched up the right hand aisle, taking their position in front of the pulpit. About a minute later, Mr. Thos. Campbell, the father of the bride elect, led his daughter up the left aisle, followed by her bridesmaid, Miss Knox, sister of the groom, and her maid of honor, Miss Violet Hazel Sanderson, of Peterborough, and placed her on the left of the groom. All being in readiness, waiting for the pastor to perform the marriage ceremony, he stepped forward, and to the surprise of the bridal party requested them to be seated. He then called upon Mr. Alex. Smith, the senior elder present, to deliver an impromptu address. He came forward and in choice language expressed the feelings of the congregation, and before resuming his seat, he said he had much pleasure in presenting to Miss Beatrice Campbell, as a mark of respect and esteem for her services as organist and leading soprano during the past few years, this silver tea service. At this point Mr. John Wasson, jr., uncovered the service and slightly lifting it, which the bride-elect acknowledged with a bow. The father of the bride-elect returned thanks in very feeling terms for the very beautiful gift. At this stage the pastor stepped forward and united the young couple in the holy bonds of matrimony. Mrs. Taylor played another march to the strains of which the bridal party retired. The invited guests proceeded to the home of the bride's parents, where the wedding dinner was served, after partaking of which a very pleasant evening was spent. An indication of the bride's popularity was manifested by the number of very valuable presents which she received. The silver tea-service was from the well known establishment of W. A. Sanderson, Peterborough.

Dear Sir:—Your Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are the best selling pill in the market. This is a fact. I speak with knowledge on the subject, as I have been dealing in various kinds of Pills, and sell more of Morse's than any other.

If any one does not believe this, I ask him to write any of my customers about it, or better still, I ask him to try a box and see if he will then use any other. I hope I may always have them. Yours gratefully,

H. M. O. BARRY.

Altogether Disappeared.

DEAR SIRS,—About three months ago I was nearly wild with headaches. I started taking B. B. B. and took two bottles and my headaches have disappeared altogether now. I think it a grand medicine.

It is with great pleasure that I inform the public that Membray's kidney and liver cure has given me great help after using only one bottle and can recommend it highly.

Keep it on Hand.

SIRS,—I always keep a bottle of Hagyard's Yellow Oil for cuts, sprains and bruises. The folks at the house use it for almost everything. I know it to be a good medicine, it is an excellent mollifier for cracked or chapped hands.

You hardly realize that it is medicine, when taking Carter's Little Liver Pills: they are very small; no bad effects: all troubles from torpid liver are relieved by their use.

Cures Others

Will cure You, is a true statement of the action of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, when taken for diseases originating in impure blood; but, while this assertion is true of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, as thousands can attest, it cannot be truthfully applied to other preparations, which unprincipled dealers will recommend, and try to impose upon you, as "just as good as Ayer's." Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's only, if you need a blood-purifier and would be benefited permanently. This medicine, for nearly fifty years, has enjoyed a reputation, and made a record for cures, that has never been equalled by other preparations. AYER'S Sarsaparilla eradicates the taint of hereditary scrofula and other blood diseases from the system, and it has, deservedly, the confidence of the people.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

"I cannot forbear to express my joy at the relief I have obtained from the use of AYER'S Sarsaparilla. I was afflicted with kidney troubles for about six months, suffering greatly with pains in the small of my back. In addition to this, my body was covered with pimply eruptions. The remedies prescribed failed to help me. I then began to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla, and, in a short time, the pains ceased and the pimples disappeared. I advise every young man or woman, in case of sickness resulting from impure blood, no matter how long standing the case may be, to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla."—H. L. Jarmann, 33 William st., New York City.

A Life Agent called at a [illegible]
He wasn't in it;
He had spun "the hum," [illegible]
He wasn't in it.
His head began to smile and, be-[illegible]
Of [illegible] and agents—[illegible]
When one's self-must be shuffled to wisdom,
He wasn't in it.

A bit of a draft blew o'er his bald head,
He was in it;
Pneumonia sent him straightway to his bed,
He swayed in it;
His doctor made of it a "quite special" case
To save him for running still more of life's race,
But the grave took some chances to win it,
And he's in it.

When approached by a gent for insuring your life,
Get right in it;
It's the right thing to do for your children and wife,
Them stay in it.
Remember that fires take your goods "out of sight,"
And that accidents happen each day and each night.
While insurance protects every minute,
If you're in it.

A Bank Manager's Opinion.

HE IS "IN IT."

The General Manager of one of the leading banks in Canada, writing to a personal friend, says:—"I have no hesitation in saying that I place the CANADA LIFE upon the highest platform. It is in my opinion carefully, economically and honestly managed; its Reserve Funds are well invested; its rates of Premiums are low, and its future is, I think better assured than a great majority of Companies. I have my own life insured in the Company for a round amount, and would not hesitate to increase the amount of my policies should I decide upon taking out further insurance."

A Government Insurance Actuary's Opinion

On the Relation between Ordinary and Tontine Service.

It is frequently assertedby Companies whose business is nearly all tontined, that although the CANADA LIFE may and does pay large ordinary profits, yet it cannot compare so favourably on a long term distribution or tontine period, and that in the end better results can be obtained on a tontine policy in a large American Co. than on an ordinary or tontine policy in the CANADA LIFE. To prove the absurdity of this statement, the following piece of common sense is quoted from Mervin Tabor, late Actuary of the Illinois Goverment Insurance Department. In his well known book, "The Three Systems of Life Insurance," he says: "A company that gives large dividends on the ordinary kind of policies, can give much larger on the same kinds when Tontined, and a company that pays but meagre dividends on the usual forms, adopting perhaps the Tontine system to "cover up" its small surpluses, cannot be relied on for large returns of surplus under the Tontine forms of insurance."

The CANADA LIFE does not "cover up" its Quinquennial profits as some Companies do, but publishes them throughout the country.

It can and does surpass other Companies on Quinquennial profits. It should and will surpass them on Tontine profits.

WHY TO BE "IN IT."

BISHOP HAWKE'S REASON:—"I claim that Life Insurance is not only a humane, but I might say a Christian Institution."

LORD LYNDHURST'S REASON:—"A Policy of Life Insurance is always an evidence of prudent forethought. No man with a dependent family is free from reproach if not insured."

WHEN TO BE "IN IT."

The younger, the cheaper. Therefore insure when young. Besides by insuring in the CANADA LIFE now, you will share in three years' profits.

WHERE TO BE "IN IT."

The best place to be "in it" is in the Company that gives the best returns for the least money, consistent with absolute security. Therefore, in order to be "in it," choose the

The Dentists Met.

A meeting of the dentists was held last night, at which there was a fair attendance of practitioners in this district. Several matter of which are agitating the profession were considered and it was resolved to form a Dental Association to represent the Midland District. Dr. Marshall, Belleville, was elected temporary chairman and Dr. Rose, secretary (pro tem). Another meeting will be held in February.

Their Last Tribute of Respect.

The funeral of the late Robert Laing took place Monday afternoon from the family residence on Water street to Little Lake cemetery. The cortege was a large one, many of South Monaghan's oldest settlers turning out to pay their last respects to the deceased. Rev. J. C. Davidson conducted the funeral solemnities. The pall-bearers were Messrs. J. C. Turnbull, Henry Denne, town; Thomas Willan, Hugh Waddle, John Roberts and J. Greer, South Monaghan.

Week of Prayer.

The second series of meetings in the Week of Prayer was held last night in the Charlotte street church, and was largely attended. Rev. Geo. Edwards presided. The address was given by Rev. Mr. Goldsmith, acting-pastor of St. Paul's church, on "The Universal Church." He treated the subject in a masterly manner and in a broad catholic spirit, saying wherever Christ's spirit dwelt there should be only one church — the Church of God. The meeting to-night will be held in the George street Methodist church. Rev. A. MacWilliams, of St. Andrew's, will give the address.

Harry Lindley's Company.

The Harry Lindley Comedy Company opened a week's engagement at the opera house last night, presenting in a splendid manner the sensational drama "Broke Gaol." The characters were all well impersonated, and the different fine acts applauded. Miss May Bell and Mr. Herbert O'Neil in their songs were capital and enthusiastically encored. They are new people recently engaged by Mr. Lindley. To-night the play will be the patriotic drama, "The British Flag," produced here for the first time.

THE PRIZE COMPETITION.

The Prizes in the Peterborough Bookstore Competition Awarded Mrs. M. F. Sanderson, Selwyn, wins the Gold Watch; Mr. R. Glover, Ashburnham, Valuable Sewing Machine, the Second Prize, and Mr. F. Stewart Sanderson, Selwyn, Double Case Silver Watch, the Third.

The Peterborough Bookstore Prize Competition closed on Saturday night, Dec. 31st, and yesterday, Tuesday, the counting of the beans in the sealed jar, and of the tickets containing the numbers estimated took place. The following is

THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE.

We the undersigned and each of us hereby certify as follows:

That we have carefully examined the sealings of the jar, which was used in connection with the Peterborough Bookstore Competition, and which was filled with beans, and exhibited in the window of said bookstore;

That the seal of the said jar was not broken or in any way disturbed from the time the said seal was affixed until it was broken by us this day;

That since opening the said jar, we have ascertained by careful count that the aggregate number of beans which were placed in said jar was the number of 7,703.

That we have carefully examined all the tickets which were handed in as per the advertised conditions of the said competition and placed in the ballot box also exhibited in said window, and that no tickets of any kind were handed in or considered by us after the opening and counting of the contents of the said jar.

That the following are the names of the persons making the nearest estimate of the number of beans in the said jar, the number estimated and the prizes awarded respectively, viz:

Mrs. M. F. Sanderson, Selwyn, gold watch, 7,709.

R. Glover, Ashburnham, Sewing Machine, 7,699.

F. Stewart Sanderson, Selwyn, Silver Watch, 7,708.

(Signed) J. J. McBain,
James Darling.

Dated this third day of January, 1893.

It will be seen that Mrs. Sanderson, who estimated the exact number of beans in the jar, must have made a very careful computation, as well as the others who came so close to the exact number.

The next nearest estimate to the lowest prize winner was that of Mr. Wm. Preston, of Smith, 7,718.

There must have been very careful computation made of the contents of the jar for there were hundreds of tickets close to the winning numbers, estimates ranging between 7,700 and 8,000.

THE NEW SCHOOL INSPECTOR.

Mr. Garvin, the Incumbent of the New Office of Inspector, Introduced to the Board—He Brings a Good Record With Him—How he is Held in Esteem in His Old Home.

Whatever difference of opinion there may exist as to the principle of employing an inspector to devote his entire attention to the work of inspection of our public schools, there can it seems be no two opinions as to the wisdom of the individual choice of the Board. Mr. J. W. Garvin, B.A., of Woodstock, was introduced to the Board last night and created a most favourable impression. Mr. Garvin was very highly esteemed in his former home, Woodstock, both in his official capacity as headmaster of the public schools, and in a personal capacity. The teachers in training presented Mr. Garvin with a complimentary address, accompanied with a gold-headed cane. He was associated with Chalmers' church in that place, and previous to his departure, he and Mrs. Garvin were entertained to a banquet in the church hall, and Mr. Garvin was presented with a warmly complementary address. An address of a similar character was presented on behalf of the members of choir and the members of the Sunday school class also presented him with an address and a photograph of the class.

Several prominent citizens also gave short addresses, expressing the high respect and esteem in which both Mr. and Mrs. Garvin are held in Woodstock, which gives assurance that both in a personal and professional capacity we have in Mr. Garvin a valuable addition to our citizenship. The Examiner on behalf of the citizens gives him a cordial welcome to Peterborough.

All Friendship and Good Will in the School Board Now Established—Dr. Tilley's Report—Financial Statement For the Current Year—Grading the Teacher's Salaries—Wood Purchased for the Schools—Mr. Garvin, the New Local Superintendent, Introduced—Many Minor Matters.

At the last regular meeting of the Board of Education for the year, held on Tuesday night, the following members were present: Messrs. W. H. Wrighton, chairman, and Messrs. Dumble, McBain, Ferguson, McKee, Dr. Burnham, Hill, Dr. Boucher, Law, Hamilton, Stevenson and Hartley.

The secretary read the report of the previous meeting.

THAT MINORITY REPORT.

When the chairman asked if the minutes of the previous meeting be confirmed,

Dr. Burnham strongly objected to the minority report in them being adopted. He took exception to several facts and figures contained therein, and pointed out where mistakes had been made in Mr. Dumble's report regarding the salaries paid to public school inspectors in other towns. He moved that the minutes be adopted, excepting the portion referring to the minority report.

Mr. Ferguson seconded the motion. Members had subjoined their names to the minority report and had not even attended the meeting of the Committee on Appointments.

Mr. Wrighton—"This report has already passed the board."

Mr. Dumble stated the minutes were an absolutely correct report of the board's proceedings. Exception could not be taken to them if correct, although exception might be taken to the statements made, and if these were wrong it was only proper to do so. To say that any member who was not present and had signed the minority report, having no right to do so was all humbug.

Several members interrupted the speaker at this point and the conversation at once became general.

Mr. Dumble, continuing, said the board was open to information and to get information. To say that the information contained in the minority report was wrong was like a false cry, some of the members had noised around that it cost $21 to support each child in our schools, but the government report did not show it.

Mr. Hill—It costs that for tutelage.

Mr. Dumble—The government report says it costs $61 in Toronto.

Mr. Hill—The cost of each pupil is $20.

Mr. Dumble—How much goes to capital account? Aren't you intelligent enough to understand the matter?

Mr. Hill—You took the report from the government book, didn't you?

Mr. Dumble—I know I did. I stand corrected, but you are not honest enough to admit that you are wrong.

Mr. Hill—You did not have intelligence enough, if not honesty, to bring in a correct report.

Mr. Hamilton, next speaking said Mr. Dumble, as chairman of the Committee on Appointments, made a blunder when he brought in the minority report. Mr. Dumble was evidently afraid to present the report. It was not a minority report, but a report which he (Mr. Dumble) was the author of and had got several members to sign who had not taken proper precaution to learn its contents. Mr. Dumble had no consideration for the board and the report was a disgrace to the board. He felt ashamed of Mr. Dumble's actions.

Mr. Dumble—You feel sore over the way I have exposed you in the matter.

Mr. Hamilton—We are ashamed of you, sir.

Mr. Hill—It was no exposure.

The passages of words were becoming warmer when Mr. Hill rose to speak further, but was overruled by the chairman.

The minutes were then put and carried amid some confusion.

ENQUIRIES OPENED.

Mr. Wrighton—Any enquiries, gentlemen?

Dr. Burnham asked Mr. Wrighton how his name, as chairman of the board, appeared attached to the minority report when the report was incorrect.

Mr. Wrighton—It was correct as far as I know.

COMMUNICATIONS, ACCOUNTS AND FEES.

The following communications were presented:

A report made by Mr. George C. Young of his inspection of the standard boiler at Central School.—Received.

From John Lachevar, janitor of the South Ward school, asking that his salary be raised to $250 a year owing to his increasing duties.—Committee on Appointments.

From Miss B. Fair, resigning her position as a teacher in the primary department.—Received and accepted.

The secretary then read the following:

THE RETIRING INSPECTOR'S REPORT.

To the Chairman and members of the Board of Education:

GENTLEMEN,—Having completed my work in connection with your public schools I beg to submit the following report for your consideration:—

ACCOMMODATION.

On assuming the duties of inspector of your public schools after the midsummer holidays in 1892, I found the accomodation, the furniture and the general school surroundings very inferior indeed. Since that date, through the liberality of the board, the school accomodation has been enlarged and very much improved, and the majority of the rooms, new and old, have been furnished with many single desks of the very best make, so that your public school accommodation, furniture and surroundings, rank among the best in the province, the basement room at the Central excepted. The increase in the school population of Peterborough the last four or five years has more than kept pace with the increase in school accommodation, hence your public school rooms are nearly all, more or less, crowded, and from necessity, if from no higher motive, the half day system has been adopted this half year in all the Part I. classes except one. Any increase in your present school attendance will demand additional accommodation from two to four more public school rooms will, no doubt, be needed this summer, but I am of the opinion that no interest has suffered from overcrowding up to the present, as a half day is I think, quite long enough for little ones, fresh from the active surroundings of home life to spend in the schoolroom under its restraints, daily, the first six or nine months of school life as the half day system makes heavy demands on the energies of the teachers and materially lessens the outlay of the board. I would suggest that the teachers interested be allowed a slight increase of salary on account of such extra work, the current half year.

SCHOOL WORK.

There has been a very noticeable improvements from term to term in all departments of work in your public schools and in such subjects as reading, writing, drawing, grammar and arithmetic, the improvement has been very marked, indeed, I was particularly pleased with the neatness and excellence of the work of the pupils in several of the rooms on these subjects at the time of my visits to your schools this term. This improvement is due to united effort. The board by its liberality has so far improved the schoolrooms and the school surroundings as to make them an inspiration to better work on the part of the teachers and better conduct on part of the pupils. The teachers stimulated by their improved surroundings have put forth a united and praiseworthy effort to bring the school up to the highest possible state of excellence. It has been my aim to make such suggestions, to give such hints and to render such assistance in connection with the departments of school management or work as could in my opinion most promote the best interests of our schools; and to do all kindly, judiciously and definitely, but not dogmatically. As there is now but one entrance examination a year, the promotions except from the junior classes must be made as a rule at midsummer. The advantage of annual over the semi-annual entrance was apparent last midsummer in the case of the Principal's class both in the greatly increased percentage of successful candidates at that examination as compared with the former examinations and also in the larger number who obtained honour standing. No doubt the yearly promotions will be equally satisfactory, and although each grade may be kept at its present high standard, the work at the end of the year in each room will be so thoroughly mastered as to warrant the promotion of nearly the whole class instead of about fifty per cent. of it or less as has too often been the case at the semi-annual promotions. A supply of promotion papers will, however, be sent to the Principal to be used in the case of any special promotions which it may be thought best to make from the senior classes at the end of this term.

DISCIPLINE.

The order in your public schools is satisfactory, and the general tone remarkably good. Your principal is an excellent disciplarian, and the members of the staff are watchful and painstaking. The pupils as a rule are polite and well behaved, and, except in case of sickness or unavoidable absence, are regular in attendance. There has been no case of stubborn insubordination; but few cases of truancy, and no cases of expulsion or suspension in the last 4 or 5 years.

In concluding this, my last, report to your board, I may be permitted to say that my official work in connection with your schools has been to me very pleasant indeed, and that my intercourse with the teachers and pupils has all along been most cordial. As to my connection with your board, I need only say that it cannot be otherwise than a source of regret to me to feel that a term of office extending over four and a half years, and in many respects so pleasant and so successful, should terminate in any way but the most kindly feelings between every member of the board and myself. Why my official relations with your board have not so terminated I am at a loss to know. But when the mists rise and the sky brightens I feel assured that all will admit that the past four years and a half have been successful years in the history of your schools, and that my labours in connection with them have not been an unimportant factor in raising them to their present state of efficiency. With best wishes for the future success of your schools, I am gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,
W. E. TILLEY.
Inspector of Public Schools, Peterborough.

The report was adopted.

Mr. Chairman McBain presented the following:—

GENTLEMEN,—Your Property Committee beg leave to report that as instructed we have had the hydrants at the West Ward School boxed in and made frost proof so that the water can be used for school purposes. We considered this cheaper than having the water put into the building at present time as it will answer the same purpose and save much expense.

Your committee have had doors placed in front of the girls' closet at the North Ward School.

We have also entered into contracts for a portion of the coming season's supply of wood, as follows:—Mr. Hooten, Cavan, 100 cords best green tamarac at——per cord, also 50 cords best dry tamarac; John McIntosh, 25 cords best dry tamarac, at——and 50 cords best green tamarac; Alex. Hamilton, 50 cords best dry ash and tamarac. I attach contract for the above. I also submit a statement of the wood purchased last year by the former chairman of the Property Committee at a total cost of $992.50.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

J. J. McBAIN,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

Mr. McBain said Mr. Hamilton had called upon Mr. Fessenden in reference to the new room for the inspector in the building, and he said he would be delighted to have him there.

GRADING OF THE TEACHERS' SALARIES.

Mr. Chairman Dumble presented the report of the Committee on Appointments as follows:

GENTLEMEN,—The Committee on Appointments beg leave to report as to several matters to it referred, as follows: That lady teachers holding second or first class certificates and acting as assistants, should be paid on the basis of length of service and efficiency, commencing at $275 per annum and receiving an increase of $12.50 each year for ten years until the salary reaches the maximum of $400.

That as to teachers other than Principals, the second year for reckoning increase of salary shall begin on Sept. 1st, and after the complete year's service and increase of present employees, they shall be assumed to have entered the Board's service on 1st Sept., 1892.

As to the Principals of the Ward Schools and assistant Principals in the Central school they shall be paid on the basis of length of service commencing at $550 a year, with a yearly increase of $15 for ten years until the salary reaches the maximum of $700. The increased salary to begin in the year next after the first of September following the first full year of their first employment.

The Kindergarten teacher shall begin on a salary not higher than $400, and increase at rate of $12.50 a year until a maximum of $500 is reached. That all teachers shall be re-appointed at the regular meeting of the board, held on the first Tuesday in July, and shall be re-engaged for one year, from the 1st of of September then next ensuing, and those appointed during the currency of the year shall only be appointed for the balance of that year. All engagements to terminate on 31st August, and teachers wishing to be re-engaged are required to make application in writing to the secretary-treasurer of the board, on or before July 1st.

As to the principal of Public Schools, he shall be paid on the basis of length of service, commencing with a salary of $750 and receiving an increase of $25 per annum for ten years, until the salary reaches the maximum of $1,000.

That the above arrangements as to salaries shall not relate to past years, but to future years, reckoning from Sept. 1st, 1893, and shall relate to all teachers now on the staff.

That the Kindergarten fees from and after January 1st, 1893, shall be $1 a quarter, payable in advance.

Your committee further report and recommend that the vacancies caused by the resignations of Miss Sim, Miss Fair and Miss Perrin be filled by the appointment of the following teachers:—Miss Throop, Miss Brooks and Miss Young. They are all teachers of considerable experience, and are fairly recommended. They will begin on salaries of $275, subject to the above regulations as to increase of salary if this report is adopted.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

D. W. DUMBLE.

Mr. Stevenson asked for an increase of salary for Miss Warner. When he went to Toronto to engage her he had hard work to secure her for $400 a year, with the promise of a raise of $50 at the end of the year. This had not been given her, and as she was highly recommended he thought the request should be granted in the report.

Mr. Dumble said that Miss Warner under the new arrangement would get $425. He had no objection to the change re salaries in the report.

Mr. Hamilton urged that the words "principal" of the public schools" run "principal of the Central school" in the report so as not to be confusing.

Mr. Dumble thought the matter was all right as it stood. The matter was further discussed when Mr. Dumble said he was not going to degrade the teacher by inserting the words "principal of the Central school."

Mr. Hamilton (riding)—I won't take any talk like that, Mr. Dumble. It is not an offence to the teacher.

Mr. Dumble—You take every opportunity to cross me. Your suggestion is degrading, Mr. Hamilton.

Mr. Hamilton—You are wrong.

Mr. Dumble, continuing, said he did not want to disgrace a principal.

Mr. Hamilton—It is a disgrace!

Mr. Stevenson—I don't think so.

Mr. Hamilton then rose to a point of order.

He denied the slur of Mr. Dumble's that he had used coarse language. Mr. Dumble's conduct reflected on all the members and he did so in any number of ways. He (Mr. Dumble) had as much temper as any other member, but owing to his profession he had control over it, whereas others not so favoured had not. He was not going to be bully-waggred by Mr. Dumble or any other member. The speaker said he did not want to reflect on Mr. Dumble, but he had taken every occasion of reflecting on him. He entertained no unfriendly feelings to Mr. Smith in the matter under discussion. He had always tried to be friendly to Mr. Dumble and help him in all his measures in the past, but because he had got in opposition Mr. Dumble had created trouble but the members of the board would not allow him to rule it and submit to his dictation altogether.

OIL ON THE TROUBLED WATERS.

Mr. Stevenson said they started on a new year and should begin matters fair. All were there to benefit the education of the town, and they should lay aside all jealousies.

The members generally seemed to concur in Mr. Stevenson's pacific suggestion, for at the conclusion of his remarks a quieter spirit seemed to prevade the members of the Board, and the rest of the session passed quietly.

ANNUAL STATEMENT PRINTED.

Moved by Dr. Burnham, seconded by Mr. McKee, that the EXAMINER and the Review be each paid $12.50 for printing the annual statement.—Carried.

SOME CORRECTIONS MADE.

Mr. Dumble stated in the report that he had made a mistake where it was stated that it cost the city of Stratford only $50 a year for school inspection. According to a Government report it cost $1,250 for county of Perth, city of Stratford, town of St. Marys, etc. Mr. Hill said that an inspector could by law demand $10 for each teacher.

Mr. Dumble made one or two other corrections in reference to Woodstock, Kingston and other places.

THE NEW INSPECTOR SPEAKS.

Mr. Burnham introduced Mr. Garvin, of Woodstock, to the Board. He expressed pleasure at being present and endorsed Mr. Stevenson's remarks in reference to the proper beginning of the new year. He had come to Peterborough determined to do his best for the school and put them in the most efficient state possible. He understood that he was not only inspector but generally responsible for the supervision of the schools, to introduce best teaching methods in them, to prepare examinations, to grade teachers, etc., and not spend a half day only in each room as inspector. He congratulated the board on its pioneer work of introducing a man to devote his whole time to the attention of the schools. Their example would be shortly followed in by other towns. He asked the members of the Board to lay aside all difference in reference to his salary and reserve judgment for a few months. He thanked them for the honour of selecting him as their inspector and hoped he would give satisfaction.

Mr. Dumble assured the Board that none of those who had signed the minority report have any personal feelings in the matter. If they had known from the first that he was to be a supervising principal things might have been different. They had objected to the large amount paid for inspector alone. He would give him all support possible, and was sorry that any discord had occurred during the evening. He disliked personalities, and hoped throughout the coming year they would be entirely eschewed.

CLOSING EXERCISES.

A matter in reference to placing one of the new teachers came up for discussion, and was referred to the inspector.

After a few general remarks by Mr. Stevenson the board went into committee of the whole, Mr. Dumble in the chair.

After some consideration, the committee decided to increase the salary of Mr. J. Lacheur, caretaker of the South Ward School, to $300 per year.

The Property Committee were also instructed to secure suitable rooms, if possible, for teaching purposes in order to make increased accommodation for the children in the primary classes.

The board then adjourned,

STRIKE IN GERMANY.

There Are Now 22,000 Coal Miners Out and Riots Are Frequent.

BERLIN, Jan. 3.—The authorities are considerably agitated by the serious character of the strike of coal miners in the Saar district and yesterday four battalions of the 29th and 69th regiments and a large force of gendarmerie were ordered to the scene of the disturbance. The number of strikers has increased rapidly, and now they number about 22,000. Many of them have arms and serious rioting is reported at several points in the district.

The leaders of the strike have forced thousands to join them who would have preferred to remain at work, and their object appears to be not so much to obtain an alleviation of the conditions under which they have been employed as to excite an insurrection.

The authorities have received information that Socialist and Anarchist agitators are behind the movement, and the Kaiser has given orders that all lawlessness must be promptly suppressed at any cost.

The military are under instructions to enforce order without mercy for rioters and to protect those who wish to work in returning to the mines. The authorities hope that with sufficient military and police protection there will be no difficulty in getting the mines into working order again. The rioters, it is said, will be suppressed if it takes an army corps to crush them.

FATAL RIOTS.

Unemployed Make a Foolish Attack Upon Residences of the Wealthy.

AMSTERDAM, Jan. 3.—The unemployed of Swarts Luis, on the Overyssel, held an outdoor meeting Monday, and after listening to several Anarchist speeches began rioting in the streets. They visited all the finest houses, smashed the windows and stoned several conspicuous residents of the town. When the police approached, the rioters attacked them with sticks and stones.

A rioter was shot dead by a policeman at whom he was aiming a carbine. Two policemen were beaten into unconsciousness and many rioters were wounded. About 30 rioters were arrested. Similar riots took place in Pekila and Sappernoer. Police were put to flight by the mob in Sappernoer after six policemen had been wounded.

The military were called out and charged the mob, leaving behind a soldier, who was beaten almost to death. They then opened fire. Two rioters were killed. Five others were severely wounded and many were slightly wounded. Twenty men were arrested.

THE DARK CONTINENT.

The Times Warns England To Look After Her Interests There.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—The Times says: Authentic news has been received of a serious state of affairs in Africa. The Khalifa is sending a strong force from Omdurman to attack Kerckhovens' force, established at Lado, north of Wadelai.

The result will probably be a serious disturbance along the Upper Nile. Kerckhovens should easily persuade the anti-Mahdist tribes to join him in repelling the attack, and even carrying war into the Khalifa's dominions.

Whether or not England has come to terms with King Leopold and approved the move on Lado, no time should be lost in taking effective possession of the British sphere as far as Lake Albert and the Upper Nile, and in letting it be clearly understood that England means to uphold her interest in that region.

Streets of Paris Placarded by Anarchist Proclamations.

LONDON, Jan. 3.—The Paris correspondent of The Chronicle says:

Many Anarchist revolutionary proclamations have been found placarded in Paris. They are eagerly read by the people, but the police efface them as quickly as possible.

There is no doubt preparations have been made for street manifestations, but such attempts are not likely to be serious, as the police are fully cognizant of the plans of the revolutionists.

At an Anarchist meeting held in Belleville yesterday one orator, Lebouchere, was hooted by the audience, who believed he was a police agent engaged in fomenting Anarchist alarm to divert public attention from the Panama scandal.

TROUBLE IN EGYPT.

The Dervishes Are Again On the War Path.

CAIRO, Jan. 3.—The Dervishes in Southern Egypt are displaying renewed activity. On Saturday a large party of them attacked the village of Gemai, near Wady-Halfa, but were repulsed after a fierce fight in which several of them were killed.

Before they could be driven off, however, they had cut a number of telegraph wires and had done other mischief. On Sunday a second attack was made on Gemai, but the raiders were again driven off after a number of them had been killed. The second attack on the village was made by a different band of dervishes from that driven off on Saturday.

COMBINATION.

A Pretty Cape and Jacket in One.

The English woman at the hunt is wont to wear a "covert coat." The back of this garment does not exactly fit; all the seams are strapped, and the front does not quite fit, either. Indeed, it is cut so loosely that it fits over the pommel knee and sets without a wrinkle. What an object a woman must be in the saddle with a barrel-like thing like that on! From this source came the loose, square box coats now worn, and as modified for street wear, they have not gained in sightliness. The engraving shows a very different type of outdoor garment. It is a cape with a tight-fitting jacket underneath. The cape and the jacket are made together, and are of Bordeaux-red cloth. The collar is fastened to the jacket underneath the folds of the cape, and beneath this collar a short cape of velvet falls which stands out in broad folds and which is sewn in under the stiff collar at the same time as the folds of the long cape. Over this short upper cape hang long black jet passementerie ornaments both in front and behind, which end in clusters of beads and grelots. At the back these ornaments are brought down to the edge of the cape radiatingly, which causes the second collar or short upper cape, to appear as if drawn into folds. The lower edge of the long cape, as well as the stiff Medici collar, is bordered with black feather marabout trimming. The jacket is tight-fitting in front, is provided with breast darts, and fastened with buttons.

Keep the Works in good order.

NORMAN, Ont., January 15, 1890.
W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.
DEAR SIR,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills" are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece: frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; as the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve vigor and vitality.
Yours faithfully,
H. F. ATWELL.

A BODICE.

One Constructed so as to Deceive the Uninitiated.

Every neck is not full and beautiful, and nothing so softens unbecoming outlines as the mull bunched full over a bodice. The neck, of course is cut fairly high. The bunching of the mull gives generosity of outline and breadth that makes one prepared to believe that the portion left uncovered is beautiful. Beads wound loosely around the throat help towards this and are admissable. Even the dear blue beads we used to wear when we were children are all right to wear now. You remember, we used to call them "blue coral" and nearly every one of the girls had a string of them doubled around the neck and a string of zig zag red ones. When we were the red coral we put red ribbons on our braids, and when—but that is long ago. At present the girl of seventeen or nineteen looks very sweet with her blue mull dress, the mull full on the bodice and made over a pale shade of blue silk and about her throat a double string of blue coral. Of course her eyes are blue, too. It is a dainty old fashion that is now new, to make girls' dresses sweet and simple. There should be no homely girls now. The present styles should so emphasize youth and girlishness that all should be lovely.

The newest style of blouse bodice, instead of being cut off at the waist in front has the fronts as long as the whole dress, and these fronts are crossed over the bust to the back, and then brought to the front again, where they are tied in sash style. This also gives a short-waisted appearance to the blouse.

FOR SUNDAY READING.

I made the cross myself whose weight
Was later laid on me,
This thought is torture as I toil
Up life's steep Calvary.

To think mine own hands drove the nails!
I sang a merry song,
And chose the heaviest wood I had
To build it firm and strong.

If I had guessed—if I had dreamed
His weight was meant for me!
I should have made a lighter cross
To bear up Calvary.

He Wears a Cod Fish.

A gentleman who was given up to die with consumption happened to receive a visit from a friend, who recommended "Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil." Although having little faith he bought a bottle, and before he was through taking it, found he was gaining flesh. He continued taking the Emulsion until he regained nearly fifty pounds. He is the heartiest man in town to-day. To commemorate his restoration to health he has had a beautiful cod fish manufactured, which he wears as a charm upon his watch chain. That is pretty good testimony for "Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil." Everybody is sounding its praises. In big bottles, 50c. and $1.00, at all Drug Stores.

Three Practical Points.

Three practical points: 1st. Burdock Blood Bitters cures dyspepsia by acting promptly on the stomach, liver and bowels. 2nd. Burdock Blood Bitters cures bad blood by the same specific action combined with its alterative and purifying powers. 3rd, Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases arising from the two first named, such as constipation, headache, biliousness, dizziness, scrofula, etc., by removing their cause as shown and proved in thousands of indisputably recorded cases.

HAMILTON, April 20, 1892.

I was doctoring for years with physicians for a scaly and scurvy affliction of the scalp, they told me it was eczema, but gave me no permanent relief. I was also troubled with excessive dandruff, which would drop from my head like snow flakes. Hearing of Anti-Dandruff I used it, and from the third application felt more relieved than for years; when half the bottle was used the eczema and scaly eruptions disappeared and have not returned since; dandruff was thoroughly removed, the itching of the scalp stopped, and for an elegant, clean and useful hair-dressing Anti-Dandruff has no equal.

AN OTTAWA DETECTIVE

Takes a Short Cut to the Happy Hunting Grounds.

OTTAWA, Jan. 4.—The dead body of Detective Harry Montgomery, swinging from a crossbar in his own back kitchen, with his feet almost touching the floor, a small cord, about the size generally used around tea chests when imported, around his neck, and a chair standing close by, was the scene which met the brother-in-law of the dead man early this morning.

It was, without doubt, a case of carefully premeditated self-destruction. He was seen late last evening and seemed to be sober, but was drinking considerably for some time past.

He was for years connected with the police force, being raised to the position of detective, which he also filled for several years, until discharged about a year ago, owing to inattention to duty through drink. He was, however, doing fairly well, attending to private cases since that time, and his having suicided cannot be attributed to any financial troubles or a case of want.

Yesterday he was busy all day electioneering and not having been seen in the morning nor having been in his house all night, his brother-in-law set out to look for him, finding him as already mentioned. He leaves a widow and three of a family.

The house in which he lived was his own, being given to him by his mother. His father is a saddler in Rideau-street, and is worth from $40,000 to $50,000. Recently it is said that the father changed his will, which was made unfavorable to Harry, who formerly was his favorite son and would come in for most of his money, which was to be divided between his three sons. Harry, who was about 43 years of age, was well known all over Ontario and was popular and respected here. An inquest is now being held. He was connected with many important cases and did good work as a detective.

The chair which stood by the body had been used to stand on so as to adjust the rope and afterwards jump down when all was ready. It was a case of strangulation.

OTTAWA NOTES.

The Trouble Between Vancouver City and the C.P.R.

OTTAWA, Jan. 4.—An appeal to the Supreme Court has been made by the corporation of the City of Vancouver, B.C., against the decision of the Divisional Court of British Columbia in the case of the C.P.R. v. that city. The action involves the right of the city to cross the tracks of the company for the purpose of reaching the fort shore of Burrard's Inlet, the particular case being one in which the city attempted to extend a certain avenue to the water front, the extension proposed involving the crossing of C.P.R. tracks.

His Excellency leaves by this morning's train for Toronto to attend the Board of Trade banquet on Thursday. Sir John Thompson and Hon. Mackenzie Bowell will go up to-night.

Mr. H. P. Buck of Sherbrooke, who has been appointed private secretary to the Hon. W. B Ives, arrived in the city to-day and entered upon his duties.

Some changes in the internal arrangement of the Department of Railways and Canals have been made consequent on the reduction of the staff.

The superintendent of the Ottawa River canals and his assistants have been brought into the western block and the offices lately occupied in Metcalfe-street have been given up. Four rooms on the ground floor used by the department have been vacated, and it is now said that the Militia Department will not be moved out of the western block until after the close of the coming session and that in the meantime temporary accommodation will be found for the Minister of Trade and Commerce, his private secretary and his deputy in some of the rooms at present occupied by the Militia Department, that department taking the four rooms vacated by the Department of Railways.

Offices are being fitted up in the Department of Justice for the accommodation of the Solicitor-General.

A Long Ice Gorge.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 4.—An ice gorge three miles long has formed between Bellevernon and Fayette City in the fourth Monongahela pool, and another gorge is said to be forming in the fifth pool. The river men will make an attempt to break the gorges, and are sanguine of success, as there is plenty of open water above both of them.

The river is still rising here, with nearly seven feet of water in the channel. The ice in this vicinity is all broken and floating down with the current.

CASE OF D. T.

He Shot the Barkeeper and Then Killed Himself and Then Blew Out His Own Brains.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 4.—Antone Duarte, a Portuguese keeper of the wayside, resort near San Leandro, yesterday, while suffering from delirium tremens, went to the room of Anton Dias, his barkeeper, whom he called upon to open the door.

As Dias complied with the request Duarte shot at him. The pistol ball passed through Dias' shoulder, inflicting a serious injury.

Duarte then rushed into the room, firing two shots at Mrs. Dias, both passing through the chest.

Duarte then left the room and went down stairs into the billiard room, where he placed the weapon to his own head, blowing out his brains. Mrs. Dias will die.

THE BLUE LAW.

Supreme Court at Philadelphia Decides Against Sunday Papers.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—Among the decisions handed down by the Supreme Court to-day was one confirming the legality of the old blue law of 1794 in relation to the publication of Sunday newspapers. The case upon which the decision was rendered was that of Thomas Matthews, publisher of The Pittsburg Sunday Leader.

Mr. Matthews was convicted of publishing and issuing his paper on Sunday, Dec. 27, 1891, under the act of 1794, which prohibits worldly pursuits for the Sabbath, save those that are an absolute necessity for the wants of the community.

The court says that the framers of the act of 1794 could not foresee the growth of newspapers or that they would possibly have exempted them under the provisions of the act.

The court in conclusion commends the act, but says that a too liberal enforcement of its provisions may lead to its repeal.

A Fierce Battle.

BUENOS AYRES, Jan. 3.—The Federal Government sent a commissioner to Corrientes a few days ago to mediate between the insurgents and the regularly constituted authorities of the province. The commissioner failed, however, in his efforts to bring about a cessation of hostilities. The two sides massed their forces and a fierce battle was fought, the result of which is not yet known here.

The town of Caseros is besieged by the rebels and is offering stubborn resistance.

BABY FOUR WEEKS OLD

Distressing Skin Disease from Birth. Cured in 5 Weeks. Made Healthy and Beautiful by Cuticura Remedies.

My baby boy had been suffering from birth with some sort of an eruption. The doctors called it eczema. His little neck was one raw and exposed mass of red, inflamed flesh. His arms and across and under his thighs, wherever the fat flesh made a fold, were just the same. For four weeks after his birth he suffered with this eruption, and until I got CUTICURA REMEDIES, there was little sleep for any one. In five weeks he was completely cured. He was nine weeks old February 1st, and you ought to see his skin now, smooth, even, and a beautiful pink and white color. He is as healthy as he can be. The CUTICURA RESOLVENT has given him tone, vigor and strength. I enclose his portrait. Thanks to the famous CUTICURA REMEDIES. They cannot be spoken of too highly, they have done all that has been claimed for them.

WM. A. GARDNER, 184 E. 123d St., New York.

From the age of two months my baby suffered with the eczema on her face and body. Doctored without avail. Used CUTICURA REMEDIES. Found them in every respect satisfactory. The child has now a beautiful skin and is cured. We cheerfully recommend the same to all mothers.

THE PANAMA SCANDAL.

M. Blondin Under Arrest—More Arrests expected at Once.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—M. Blondin of the Credit Lyonnais was confronted before Examining Magistrate Franqueville this afternoon by M. Fontaine, imprisoned director of the Panama Canal Company.

From him many new facts were elicited, and eventually M. Franqueville ordered that he be placed under arrest.

It is reported that another important step will be speedily taken by the examining magistrate.

In law courts a report was current that M. Franqueville had found an important telegram addressed to Charles De Lesseps, and this telegram would not only greatly strengthen the prosecution, but would lead to gravest developments before the opening of the trial next Tuesday.

To-day M. Franqueville had numerous interviews with high police officials and with M. Tanton, the Procureur-General, and consequently more arrests are expected to take place within the next 24 hours.

TEN DAYS BURIED.

Eight Miners Are Rescued from an Awful Situation.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 5.—Ten days ago a mine on the lines of the Lonetz Railway was flooded by the sudden ingress of a large volume of water. The miners had set off a blast and the explosion was followed by a rush of water, with which the pumps were not able to cope. The miners fled for their lives and all managed to reach the surface in safety, except eight men, who it was supposed had been drowned in the workings. The pumps were going night and day, and to-day the mine was declared safe to enter.

A party of miners went down to rescue the bodies of their comrades. They searched the main galleries, but found no trace of them. Finally in a steep working they found the men still alive, but so weak they could hardly speak. They were removed to the surface as quickly as possible. Medical aid was summoned. The physicians state that with proper care the men will recover.

FREEDOM OF SPEECH.

A Hungarian Leader Who Speaks for the Masses.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The Vienna correspondent of The Daily News says a sensation has been caused throughout Austria and Hungary by a daring speech made by Herr Eostvoes, the leader of the Hungarian Independents. Herr Eostvoes denied the right of the king to be offended with subjects of a nation standing unapproachably high above all others.

The king, he said, must be made to understand that he may be angry with foolish advisers, but not with the people. The speaker also condemned the action of the Catholics in coming to incense the king against the Liberals as rebellious subjects.

"The Liberals," said the speaker, "regard Hungary as more precious than their religion, and will renounce their religion rather than their patriotism. The independence of our country makes the aim of our national politics."

The newspapers of Vienna have not dared to publish an exact report of the speech. They substitute "the Crown" for "the King" wherever the latter expression is used."

Revived in Good Time.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The Paris correspondent of The Daily Telegraph reports a strange case of suspended animation that occurred near Honfleur, the subject being a youth named Daubenesque, who was supposed to have died of typhoid fever, and preparations were made for the funeral.

While the coffin containing the body was lying in the church a watcher thought he heard a knocking as if inside the coffin. He at once opened the coffin and was astonished to find the supposed corpse alive.

The Czar's Persecution.

BERLIN, Jan. 5.—St. Petersburg despatches confirm the report that the Czar has ordered the Ministry of the Interior to transfer to the Holy Synod the administration of all church affairs. This order is certain to result in putting further vexations restrictions on non-orthodox religions, and will probably lead to religious persecutions.

It is feared the chief sufferers will be the Lutherans, who are mostly German or of German descent.

ICE BRIDGE AT NIAGARA.

Earliest in the Season Ever Known—Damage May Follow.

NIAGARA, Ont., Jan. 5.—For the first time in seven years the Niagara River at this point is blocked with ice. Some time during Tuesday night the jam occurred and the severe frost cemented it firmly together.

A path has been staked out from Niagara to Youngstown, and people are crossing freely. E. Robinson of Youngstown drove a horse and sleigh, with several in it, over.

The block extends to Queenston Heights. At Lewiston and Queenston it is piled high above the wharves, and it is feared when it goes out that much damage to the wharves will be done.

This is the earliest in the season an ice bridge here has ever been known.

A Lynching Party.

JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., Jan. 5.—Last night a masked mob of 500 men entered the jail at Bakersville, N.C., and took Calvin Snipes, who had murdered Isaac Osborne, a prominent citizen of Mitchell County, to a dense forest about half a mile away and lynched him.

Seven of the sheriff's posse were killed in their efforts to defend the prisoner. About 25 of the mob were killed, and among the dead and wounded were some of the most prominent men in the county.

Homestead Poisoning.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 5.—Coleman and Guilfoyle, who were arrested two days ago without a warrant, but on alleged charge that they were concerned in poisoning of workmen at Homestead, was released by Court of Common Pleas, before which they were taken on a writ of habeas corpus.

A Musical Discord.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Under the laws of New York a powerful combination of piano manufacturers has been formed. Its head office will be in Jersey City. The corporation is the result of a union between William Steinway and Freeborn G. Smith. Both gentlemen are millionaires and leaders in the manufacture of pianos.

A CRASH ON THE RAILS

TWO ENGINES COME TOGETHER AND ARE WRECKED.

Terrible Accident Near Piedmont—Two Trains of Cars Reduced to Splinters—Eight Persons Reported Killed—Others Are Being Burned Alive.

PIEDMONT, Jan. 5.—A terrible accident occurred on the Baltimore & Ohio Railway at Buena Vista, 28 miles east of this city, by which two trains were wrecked and eight persons are reported killed.

A work train was standing on the track when a train consisting of heavily-loaded coal cars crashed into it. Both engines came together with a crash and the cars were reduced to splinters. Some of the workmen were on the cars, while others were busily engaged at work.

The shock was so great that all the men were thrown from the cars and they, with those on the ground, were buried under the wreck. Eight men are reported killed outright and others are still alive under the wreck.

Both trains took fire from the wrecked engines and the flames spread so rapidly that it was impossible to rescue those in the ruins. It is impossible to obtain the names of the victims, as the section boss is reported to be among the injured.

CONSERVATIVE BANQUET.

To Be Held at Sherbrooke—Several Ministers Will Speak.

OTTAWA, Jan. 5.—The annual meeting of the Conservative Association of the Eastern Townships will be held at Sherbrooke on Jan. 17 and in the evening a banquet will be given to Hon. W. B. Ives, at which Sir John Thompson and other Ministers will be present. As this will be the first political gathering attended by Sir John since his acceptance of the Premiership it is expected that he will make such declaration of the policy of his Government as he may deem it advisable to make before meeting Parliament.

The "green goods" men have struck on a new device which would-be speculators in alleged counterfeit money would be wise to take heed of. They no longer send their victims boxes of sawdust or old papers, but really deliver counterfeit bills, only they are counterfeit fives, tens and twenties of "The Confederate States of America," even the genuine bills of which abortive attempt at establishing a Government have long since been valueless, except as curiosities.

One confiding Canadian recently invested $500 in this stuff and was delighted at the bulk of the package he received, but disgusted when he found that its contents were worthless.

Commissioner Sherwood of the Dominion police to-day received from a western bank a sample of a new counterfeit two dollar Dominion note. The counterfeit is printed from a wood cut, is very poorly executed, and should easily be detected. The signatures are especially bad.

Sir John Thompson and Hon. G. E. Foster left for Toronto to-night to attend the Board of Trade banquet. Hon. Mackenzie Bowell was unable to go, as he is suffering from a heavy cold.

MICHIGAN'S CRIME.

That State Heads the List for Blood-Curdling Deeds.

DETROIT, Jan. 5.—The News editorially says:

The people of Michigan seem to be doomed to read the horrifying news of murder daily. The frequency of this crime in this state is becoming inexplicable, especially since the atrocity of it increases appallingly. In the present state of human nature deeds of violence arising from sudden passion are to be expected in all communities. Michigan has her share of these, but she has more than her share of cold-blooded and premeditated murder for robbery or other selfish motive. The mystery of this is all the deeper because the Michigan community, as a whole, is one of the most enlightened and virtuous in the world, and is the only political aggregation who ever received a prize for the superlative excellence of its educational system. In the defeat which we experience in the endeavor to give an intelligible theory of causes, it is natural to fly to our way of punishing for murder, but ours is by no means the only State which does no hanging.

In all events it is evident that something besides theorising must be done. The wholesale murdering must be stopped. Whatever the means the end will sanctify them, if they really accomplish the object. Michigan cannot afford longer to stand at the very head of a column of 44 States for the most brutal and blood-curdling criminality. While we do not send murderers to death, the innocent ones of the state will shortly feel that they are all under that dread sentence.

The St. George Disaster.

WOODSTOCK, Jan. 5.—The Grand Trunk Railway have settled seven of the suits for damages arising out of the St. George disaster, as follows, D. W. Karn $7500, R. W. Knight $7000, Mrs. Swan $3500, D. Peacock $2500, Mrs. Francis $2500, Mrs. Peers $1000, Mrs. Martin $2000.

With the exception of Mr. Karn the plaintiffs received only a small amount in addition to the sum they had paid out in law costs. The railway company paid the seven Woodstock plaintiffs in all $26,000, and the lawyers reaped a harvest.

The Hard Pan Case.

OTTAWA, Jan. 5.—In the Exchequer Court yesterday Judge Burbidge rendered judgment in the "Hard Pan" case for extras claimed from the Crown by Isbester and Reid, contractors for the Cape Breton Railway.

The firm are awarded approximately about $173,000. Other cases will be heard Jan. 20.

Starving Babies.

HAMILTON, Jan. 5.—Acting on information contained in an anonymous letter the officers of the S.P.C.A. visited a baby farm kept by a negro woman named Mrs. Johnston, west of the city limits, and found the woman and six children there suffering for want of food and warmth. The house was supplied with the necessary comforts.

Hirsch's Philanthropy.

SEBASTOPOL, Jan. 5.—M. Freiberg, the agent of Baron Hirsch, arrived yesterday at Simferopol, 37 miles northeast of this city, to make arrangements for the emigration of 6000 Hebrews from the Crimea in the spring. The Government will facilitate the movement.

Fire in Stratford.

STRATFORD, Jan. 5.—F. W. James' drug store and contents were burned last evening. The building was owned by W. F. Fawcett, whose loss is $2000; insurance, $1400. James was well insured.

SAAR MINES

RIOTS AND [illegible] A FREQUENT OCCURRENCE.

A Priest Assaulted by Miners—Soldiers Pelted With Stones—[illegible] Threats of a General Strike—Troops Expected to Disperse Them.

BERLIN, Jan. 5.—Yesterday were [illegible] entirely in the Saar district. [illegible] and their [illegible] made a desperate attempt to [illegible] by spreading terror and [illegible] upon credit.

In Puttlingen this morning a mob of [illegible] miners rushed the houses of the men who [illegible] to join them, dragged out and [illegible] severely and smashed the windows.

At Forbach a mob starting out with a similar purpose was stopped for a moment by a priest who begged the men to be reasonable and not to make innocent workmen suffer for trying to support their families. The doctrines of Anarchy, which they were trying to realize, were disgraceful to Germans and Christians.

A pistol was fired at the priest as he spoke against Anarchists, and then a shower of stones fell around him. The mob made a rush for him, but he saved himself by running away. The mob broke a few windows, beat two miners who refused to stop work and dispersed.

At the pit-mouths the men still working and mine officials have been in constant danger of being killed, many of the strikers were armed with revolvers and a few with rifles and they have been firing recklessly in the neighborhood of the pits.

A meeting of 3000 strikers was held today near Saarlouis and four leaders were elected to act in the room of the two already arrested. Five men and three women delivered violent harangues. They demanded higher wages and shorter shifts. The Government, they said, were trying to frighten the strikers into submission, but if the men would hold out they would be able to rally the German masses to their aid, inaugurate a general strike of German miners, and paralyse German industry. The men became intensely excited during these speeches and frequently cheered the speakers.

After the meeting broke up the men marched off in three bodies, firing revolvers, singing the Marseillaise and shooting all respectably-dressed men in sight.

Other meetings in the district were hardly less uproarious. All the speakers denounced with special virulence the clergy, who have incurred the hatred of Anarchists by counseling moderation.

At Ensdorf the strikers have requested the Mayor to propose to the mine officials for them a compromise.

Reports from Saarlouis to-night are to the effect that despite the bombast of leaders and the apparent responsiveness of the men, the strike is weakening. The striking miners are suffering keenly from the severity of the weather and the expected contributions from England, France and Belgium have not come in. As the men were unprepared for the strike they must either return to work soon or starve.

ANOTHER LAND WAR.

James O'Connor Says That Ireland is Like a Match, Ready to Set Aflame.

DUBLIN, Jan. 5.—The Evicted Tenants' Commission resumed its session, Sir James Mathew presiding. Mr. Dillon made an earnest plea in behalf of the reinstatement of evicted tenants, and produced statistics showing number of good settlements made through plan of campaign between landlords and tenants.

These settlements had been brought about through the good sense and good feeling of landlords and their tenants. Upon some of them the battle was fought with a stubbornness and tenacity which characterized the Irish people, whether they be landlords or tenants or their allies, on either side. Nevertheless an honorable peace had been secured. Even upon the Olphert estate of mournful memories settlements have been come to, and there was a prospect that all the evicted tenants will be reinstated.

Nevertheless Mr. Dillon informed the Commission there were thousands of evicted tenants whose condition was so pitiable and desperate that it constituted a menace to public peace, and he urgently advised that measures be adopted for their relief, both on the ground of humanity and public security. Mr. Dillon also spoke severely of those landlords who were apparently endeavoring to embarrass the Government by merciless evictions at this severe season.

Mr. James O'Connor, a leading member of Irish Evicted Tenants' Association, is reported as saying they did not want to hamper Mr. Gladstone or Mr. Morley in any way, but they were determined to do all in their power to get evicted tenants reinstated on their farms. Unless landlords wanted to see agitation of the past twelve years recommenced and repeated they would bring about a satisfactory settlement with the evicted tenants. The country was like a match and there needed very little to set aflame as big a land war as there was before.

Mr. Dillon stated that the total amount received from all sources for the support of evicted tenants under the plan of campaign was £234,000 sterling.

DEATH ON THE RAIL.

A Locomotive Plows Through Three Coaches Filled With Passengers.

VIENNA, Jan. 5.—A passenger train from this city collided at Kanizsa yesterday with a passenger train from Stuhlweissenburg. Kanizsa is at a junction of the two lines. The engineer of the Vienna train, misunderstanding the signals, ran at half speed on the track ahead of the Stuhlweissenburg train, which was moving 20 miles an hour.

In the crash the locomotive of the latter train plowed through the three carriages filled with passengers. They were completely demolished. Eight passengers were killed, five sustained injuries of which they will probably die, and ten were severely wounded.

All the passengers on the Stuhlweissenburg train were thrown from their seats and hardly a person escaped uninjured, but none were killed.

His Death Will Be Regretted.

DENVER, Col., Jan. 4.—Dr. Alexander Shaw, chief of the horticulture department of the World's Fair and one of the board of World's Fair managers, died yesterday.

NORWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The average daily attendance at the Norwood High School for the fall term was about 100. What village can beat this?

Miss Crowly, separate school teacher, Asphodel, on her severance with the school was presented with an album and an address by her pupils.

Prof. Crowe and family have been giving a number of concerts in this vicinity the last few weeks.

The Sunday school of the Presbyterian church gave a very enjoyable entertainment on Tuesday evening last. The programme consisted of the usual menu.

Large quantities of wood are being drawn to town. It seems to find a ready sale.

Miss Bertha Kidd, of Warsaw, spent New Year's visiting friends in this place.

Messrs. Roxborough. Toronto University; George Rose, Queen's College; F. W. Truscott, Trinity Medical College, are spending their holidays in town.

Mr. J. T. Clarke, jeweler, of Campbellford, spent New Year's with Rev, Wm. Buchauan.

On Wednesday last a very pleasant event took place at the residense of Mr. Robert Gardner, Dummer—the marriage of his daughter Margaret to Mr. G. H. Parker, of Dummer. A large number of guests were present. Rev. Wm. Buchanan performed the ceremony.

On Wednesday evening another wedding took place at the residence of Mr. J. McLaughlin. The parties interested were Mr. J. King of the C. P. R. Havelock, and Miss Edith Blanche McLachlan, of this place. The bride was assisted by her sister Hattie and Miss Mabel Foster, and the groom by Mr. J. Martin. The presents were numerous and costly. The nuptial knot was tied by the Rev. Wm. Buchanan.

The same afternoon Mr. Jno. Williamson and Miss Catherine Sedgewick, both of Dummer, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. Wm, Buchanan.

About 11 o'clock on Saturday night the residence of Mr. A. S. Harrison was found to be on fire, but there being no wind it did not gain much headway. The loss will be about $200 or more.

The anniversary services in connection with the Methodist church took place on Sunday last and were largely attended. The sermons were preached by Rev. John Burwash, M.A., of Victoria College, Toronto, and were eloquent and impressive. The thank offering amounted to nearly $200.

OMEMEE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The remains of the late Geo. Edwards, stationmaster, Omemee, were taken to his former residence, Millbrook, yesterday for interment, the funeral being under the auspices of Lorne Lodge of Masons, Omemee. On the arrival of the train there a large number of Millbrook Masons were assembled, besides a large number of citizens. The business places were all closed, Headed by the excellent Citizen's Band of Millbrook. The funeral procession moved to the Presbyterian burying ground. The "Dead March" in Saul, was very sweetly rendered by the band. The floral decorations consisted of a square and compass from Lorne Lodge of Masons, Omemee, and a cross from the members of the Presbyterian church. As a citizen he will be very much missed, being in charge of the Omemee station for about twelve years. He was a consistent member of the Presbyterian church and Sabbath school. His bereaved mother, two sisters and two brothers have the heartfelt sympathy of the community in their loss of such a noble son and kind brother, taken away at the early age of 35.

The election returns resulted as follows:—

Councillors—Dennis Scully, Robt. Boates, W. S. Graham.

Deputy Reeve—Wm. Adams.

Village of Omemee—Reeve—Dr. Cornwall, majority over Mr. Beatty of 33.

Councillors—J. Morrison, J. Parsons, E. A. Adams, A. McNeely.

SOUTH MONAGHAN.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The many friends of Mr. Robert Lang, formerly of this place, will be very sorry to hear of his sudden death on Saturday morning last at 4 o'clock. He was 72 years of age, and until shortly before his demise was quite hale and hearty. Altogether he was about fourteen days ill, suffering from inflammation of the lungs and heart failure, and kept getting worse until the spark of life was extinguished. The deceased's friends and relatives will have the deep sympathy of this neighbourhood in their sad bereavement.

A very interesting event took place at school section No. 5 on Friday, Dec. 23rd, when the retiring teacher, Mr. Bryce, was presented with a complimentary address, regretting his departure, and bearing testimony to the faithfulness with which he has discharged his duty as teacher. The address was accompanied with a "gentleman's companion" and album. Mr Bryce made a suitable reply to the address, which was signed, on behalf of the school, by Misses Amy Donaldson, Jennie Donaldson, Bessie Goodfellow and Maud Laing.

The ceremony of the presentation was preceded by a very pleasant entertainment and concert. Addresses were also given by Rev. Mr. Drummond, Dr. Montgomery and the chairman, Mr. Waddell.

Miss Edith Roddy is recovering.

Mrs. Robert Lang, Centreville, is quite ill.

We learn Dr. Niddrie is about to organize a lodge of Foresters here.

Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. per package. dw

Do not be discouraged if other medicines have failed to give you relief. Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure acts on the "Kidneys" direct, combined, with a mild action on the "Liver" and bowels, thereby removing the cause of "Back Ache," sour stomach, dizziness, indigestion and constipation.

THE BIGGEST DAY IN 7 YEARS!

Saturday, December 3rd was the biggest day MR. J. J. SHEEHY has had in seven years. Why is this? Surely not because there is less competition. Certainly not because inducements are not being held out by others. Most assuredly not because prices of farm products are showing an upward tendency. Then why??

Simply because the purchasing public of the town and surrounding country have read Mr. Sheehy's advertisements, have inwardly digested them and have concluded that cheap sale or no cheap sale Mr. Sheehy is bound not to be undersold

We want every day in December to be a big day. How are we to accomplish this? Simply by offering to the public better value for the money than can be had elsewhere. Just cast your eye over the following quotations:—

All Wool Flannels, 26 in. wide, - -	17½	Good Linen Towels each - - -	5½

14 yds. Heavy Grey Canton Flannel,	$1.00	25 yards Factory Cotton, - -	$1.00

These few quotations will probably give an idea of what we are doing and a glance at our BARGAIN TABLE in the centre of our store will convince the most skeptical that when it comes to general bargains we certainly are very decidedly "in it."

A FOOT-HOLD for Consumption is what you are offering, if your blood is impure. Consumption is simply Lung Scrofula. A scrofulous condition, with a slight cough or cold, is all that it needs to develop it.

But just as it depends upon the blood for its origin, so it depends upon the blood for its cure. The surest remedy for Scrofula in every form, the most effective blood-cleanser, flesh-builder, and strength-restorer that's known to medical science, is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. For Consumption in all its earlier stages, and for Weak Lungs, Asthma, Severe Coughs, and all Bronchial, Throat and Lung affections, that is the only remedy so unfailing that it can be guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, you have your money back.

For a perfect and permanent cure of Catarrh, take Doctor Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Its proprietors offer $500 reward for an incurable case of Catarrh in the Head.

SEARCHING FOR SEAL IN BEHRING SEA.

Interesting Narrative of a Sealing, Whaling and Hunting Cruise—Thrilling Experiences—Hairbreadth Escapes.

Below we print a very interesting letter written in a graphic and scholarly manner, in relation of a cruise in the Behring Sea. The narrative is all the more interesting because it was written by a clever young citizen of Peterborough. The letter, which was not intended primarily for publication, was a private one, sent by Mr. W. H. Fitzgerald to his father, Mr. J. W. Fitzgerald, C.E., town, who kindly permitted the EXAMINER to make use of it:

Now that the Behring Sea quest on is so much heard of, a short sketch of the fur seal, which is the bone of contention, may not prove uninteresting to you:—

We left San Francisco on the twelfth of March 1891, on board the whaler Alert, for a whaling, sealing and other hunting cruise in the North Pacific Ocean, along the coast of Japan and in the South Seas. Now, in the opinion of old sailors there are three bands, or nations I might call them, of fur seals:—one which is found on the western coast of South America, and makes its habitat on the islands around Cape Horn; another which abounds on the coast of Japan and the Copper Islands, (Russian), and a third, of which I will first speak, which migrates from the southern coast of California to the American Island of St. Paul and St. George, commonly known as the Pribyloff Islands in the American Behring Sea, that is, that part of the sea over which the United States has jurisdiction.

About the end of January they commence their northward passage, feeding as they go, on the rich fish banks which are so numerous on the western coast of America and especially off the islands of Vancouver and Queen Charlotte. Once in the Behring Sea they are at home, for there are the islands, or rookeries, they are called, on which they bring forth and suckle their little ones, there they will find the waters teeming with fish for their sustenance, and there, I might also add, they will find the sealer ever on the lookout for their precious pelts. On the morning of the sixteenth of March the man on the lookout, having sighted seals, the order "boats out" was given by the captain, after we had partaken of a hasty breakfast. We had six sealing boats, having a length of twenty feet each and a five foot beam. In each one of these there are three men—the hunter, or gunner, who stands in the bow, the boat puller, who sits in the middle and uses nine-foot oars, and in the stern the steerer who, facing the boat, pushes with a pair of seven foot oars.

PREPARING FOR THE FRAY

After equipping the several crafts by putting in them our guns, ammunition, lunch and clubs, each boat is lowered with two men, and the third loses no time in tumbling in after the boat touches water, for were it to stay by the ship's side any length of time it would be battered to pieces by the action of the waves.

The boats then start out in divergent lines before the vessel, whose place it is, of course, to follow at a distance. Each boat carries a compass by which bearings of its position, in relation to that of the vessel, are from time to time taken, for without these precautions were a fog to settle down, they would be wholly ignorant of the whereabouts of the vessel and would find themselves at sea, indeed, in the worst sense of the term.

Often even with those safeguards it is not possible in a heavy fog to reach the vessel, for in a light breeze it cannot keep pace with the small boats under sail, and has perhaps shifted its position considerably since the fog first shut down.

For this emergency the vessel carries a small cannon, which is fired off at intervals, and its position thus made known to those in the small boats. My own boat was out all one night, and we had a pretty stiff breeze too, but we were fortunately picked up next morning at daylight by a sealing schooner that happened our way.

The same day about noon we found our ship, and all the boys were overjoyed to see us as they had given us up for lost on account of the high wind that had been blowing all that night.

On this particular morning of the sixteenth, of which I first spoke, a cold crisp one by the way, with a fresh breeze from the south-east, we set sail and for ten miles danced gayly along, rewarded by the sight of anything better than a few finback whales and some sea fowl. But our first day was not destined to be such a blank one, for on turning our boat vesselwards I descried something not far away floating inertly like a piece of blubber on the water.

SURPRISING THE SLEEPING SEAL.

Lowering our sail and rowing up to it as noiselessly as possible, I discovered it to be a seal asleep, as they are generally found in day time, for in their navigations they travel and fish most at night and rest during the heat of the day. Each hunter brings with him two breach-loading shot guns, in which buck shot is used. One of these, I, being a hunter, at once took in hand to give the sleeper either a rude awakening or an eternal quietus. As we approached to within about one hundred yards of the seal the boat puller ceased rowing and the steerer alone pushed the boat ever so quietly up to leeward of the sleeper, for were to go to windward the seal might catch scent of us and be off. Their sense of smell seems as acute asleep as when awake. Of course, to shoot a fur seal was a new thing to me, but as I was no novice with a gun and didn't catch the buck fever, I took a good aim and fired, sending the charge through his head and killing him instantly. We then neared up and with a long gaff hauled him along side and catching him by the hind flippers pulled him into the boat. Sometimes the seal is only stunned by the shot and when taken hold of makes a vigorous resistance and turns to bite one, but there is no danger if you have hold of his hind flippers for your hands are then beyond his reach. Were you to catch him in any other way he would be likely to bite you, and a serious thing is a seal's bite. It seems poisoned and the part festers and swells terribly. If the seal be but slightly wounded and has life left to swim it is then that the excitement commences, for you pull after him and as he rises for air keep firing until you have put him hors de combat. Very often, of course, they get away, as a seal unwounded, or but slightly so, can distance a steamer. I got six in my boat that day, and in all we got thirty. We hunted about the same place for a few days longer and having but poor luck of Vancouver Island. In passing the mouth of the Columbia river we encountered some terrific winds and our foremast having been carried away and two of our boats smashed, we were obliged to beat into Victoria Harbour. We were not long in making the necessary repairs, and again set out. Along the mainland, south of Vancouver Island we kept comparatively close to land and we had all along a magnificent view of the snow-capped peaks and chasms of the Rockies, "rearing their heads sublime" into the clouds: but the grandest sight of all was Mount St. Elias as it stood supremely alone overtopping in its lofty grandeur all other peaks in view. It, of course, we did not see, until we had passed to the north of Vancouver Island. Day after day, when the weather permitted, we hunted the coveted seal and otter, and here I will say a few words as to the manner of hunting the otter.

The sea must be perfectly calm or the otter will not show himself. When one is seen three boats follow him. The hunters use rifles and as he rises to the surface for air, shots are fired to keep him down and wind him, when he is finally got at and killed. Sometimes we would come on a female otter, holding to her breast her little one, (seals and otters have but one pup at a time) which all the while would keep up a piteous, almost human, appeal, until hard pressed in her endeavour to save herself, the mother would let go the young one. The full grown seals are called bulls and cows and the young ones pups, and every cow seal killed before the middle of July has either an embryo pup or a full formed one in her. We have often cut them out alive and kept them for pets. About the end of June most of the seal have found their way into Behring Sea and we went into harbour on an island called Codiac preparatory to following them. We here touched land to prospect, for the first time in four months, and you may rest assured I once more beneath me. Our stay was not long, however, for after taking in a supply of water, we made sail for the sea, where we spoke several Canadian schooners which had just entered. We learned from them that there was a rumor afloat to the effect that England and America had established a modus vivendi by which all sealing vessels were to be kept out of the Behring sea for a period of one year, commencing May 1891.

After this intelligence we were doubly watchful, and inaugurated a new modus operandi so that we might not fall in the way of the war vessels on patrol, but the inevitable came at last.

One day, the twentieth of July, I think it was about thirty miles off the Pribyloff Islands (with all aboard for it was too rough and foggy to launch the small boats) we were scudding along under short canvas when a cry "a cutter in sight" was heard.

At once the order "all hands on deck and crowd all canvas" was given and executed in a trice.

The faint outline of a man-of-war had been seen far off, but a fog had settled down and obscured it from view. To put as great a distance as possible between it and ourselves was our object but alas! the fog was soon dispelled and there, not half a mile away, was the huge hulk of a man-of-war, under full sail and steam, bearing down upon us.

From her topmast floated the Stars and Stripes, and as she neared us she signalled to "heave to," but we didn't; she then fired a blank shot and we did. If we had not, she would have sent a ball hurtling through our rigging in short order, for she had all her guns hauled into position and her decks cleared for action. One of her boats was manned with men and officers and coming along side our vessel boarded it. Our seal skins were counted and we were given to understand that with a greater number of seal skins than they had counted we would forfeit all our skins and perhaps the vessel. While in the sea we did no more sealing but as whales seemed plentiful turned our attention exclusively to them. Now, of whales there are three principal kinds on this coast—the finback, sperm and right whale. The finback, except for its blubber, is of little commercial value. The sperm whale, which is scarce, is hunted for its sperm; and lastly the right whale, in which is found often as much as four thousand pounds of the much-sought-for whalebone of commerce, valued in San Francisco at $5 per pound.

Of course we had seen whales earlier in the voyage, but they had not been feeding, and it is whilst feeding that they are best hunted. A barrel called a crow's nest is fixed away up in the foremast and in this a man stands all day on the lookout for these monsters. When he sees one he shouts "Whale in sight!" the order to lower the boats is given, and away in pursuit of the whale we go. On the twentieth we came on a school of right whales and we at once prepared for action. Our three whale boats were lowered, five men in each, our cordage and harpoons placed in position, and off we start. The captain stood in the bow of one of the boats with a harpoon in hand, ready to sink it into the whale, the first mate in the bow of another, and one of the sailors, an old whaler, in the third. We made for what seemed to be the largest whale in sight, and as we neared him he didn't seem to take much notice of our approach, but when about thirty feet off the captain drove the iron (as the whalers call a harpoon) up to the eye in his flesh, was terrible to hear, and with a turn he made straight for the boat I was in. Of course I made up my mind that my time had come, but it hadn't, for with a swerve to one side we dodged him, and as he passed us we drove another iron into him. He now seemed crazed and lashed the water into foam with his powerful flukes, and with a final slap at the captain's boat, which he missed, he made a dive and struck straight out. Talk about the excitement of a toboggan ride down the mountain at Montreal, or down the side of the Rockies on a wild-cat train, but never in my life did anything seem to travel as did those three boats in tow of the whale. The water was ploughed up by the boats in their course, and rose in walls on both sides, and though in danger of being swamped we all enjoyed the excitement of the thing. But the end came. Our speed gradually slackened, the whale came to a stop and floated lifeless on the water, and our ship came alongside and made it fast. There was no sleep for us that night, for to cut out the bone (the whalebone of commerce is found in the whale's head) and the best of the blubber occupied us for the greater part of the night.

THE ROAR OF RAGE AND PAIN

Cures Others

Will cure You, is a true statement of the action of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, when taken for diseases originating in impure blood; but, while this assertion is true of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, as thousands can attest, it cannot be truthfully applied to other preparations, which unprincipled dealers will recommend, and try to impose upon you, as "just as good as Ayer's." Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's only, if you need a blood-purifier and would be benefited permanently. This medicine, for nearly fifty years, has enjoyed a reputation, and made a record for cures, that has never been equalled by other preparations. AYER'S Sarsaparilla eradicates the taint of hereditary scrofula and other blood diseases from the system, and it has, deservedly, the confidence of the people.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

"I cannot forbear to express my joy at the relief I have obtained from the use of AYER'S Sarsaparilla. I was afflicted with kidney troubles for about six months, suffering greatly with pains in the small of my back. In addition to this, my body was covered with pimply eruptions. The remedies prescribed failed to help me. I then began to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla, and, in a short time, the pains ceased and the pimples disappeared. I advise every young man or woman, in case of sickness resulting from impure blood, no matter how long standing the case may be, to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla."—H. L. Jarmann, 33 William st., New York City.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE "IN IT."

A Life Agent called at a friend's place one day,
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had seen "the bore" coming and fled from his way
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had heard so much said, he was tired and sick
Of insurance and agents—'twas all a blank trick,
When one's call must be shuffled to win it,
HE WASN'T IN IT.

A bit of a draft blew o'er his bald head,
HE WAS IN IT;
Pneumonia sent him straightway to his bed,
HE STAYED IN IT;
His doctor made of it a "quite special" case,
To save him for running still more of life's race,
But the grave took some chances to win it,
AND HE'S IN IT.

When approached by a gent for insuring your life,
GET RIGHT IN IT;
It's the right thing to do for your children and wife,
THEN STAY IN IT.
Remember that fires take your goods "out of sight,"
And that accidents happen each day and each night.
While insurance protects every minute,
IF YOU'RE IN IT.

A Bank Manager's Opinion.

HE IS "IN IT."

The General Manager of one of the leading banks in Canada, writing to a personal friend, says:—"I have no hesitation in saying that I place the CANADA LIFE upon the highest platform. It is in my opinion carefully, economically and honestly managed; its Reserve Funds are well invested; its rates of Premiums are low, and its future is, I think better assured than a great majority of Companies. I have my own life insured in the Company for a round amount, and would not hesitate to increase the amount of my policies should I decide upon taking out further insurance."

A Government Insurance Actuary's Opinion

On the Relation between Ordinary and Tontine Service.

It is frequently asserted by Companies whose business is nearly all tontined, that although the CANADA LIFE may and does pay large ordinary profits, yet it cannot compare so favourably on a long term distribution or tontine period, and that in the end better results can be obtained on a tontine policy in a large American Co. than on an ordinary or tontine policy in the CANADA LIFE. To prove the absurdity of this statement, the following piece of common sense is quoted from Mervin Tabor, late Actuary of the Illinois Goverment Insurance Department. In his well known book, "The Three Systems of Life Insurance," he says: "A company that gives large dividends on the ordinary kind of policies, can give much larger on the same kinds when Tontined, and a company that pays but meagre dividends on the usual forms, adopting perhaps the Tontine system to "cover up" its small surpluses, cannot be relied on for large returns of surplus under the Tontine Forms of Insurance."

The CANADA LIFE does not "cover up" its Quinquennial profits as some Companies do, but publishes them throughout the country.

It can and does surpass other Companies on Quinquennial profits. It should and will surpass them on Tontine profits.

WHY TO BE "IN IT."

BISHOP HAWEN'S REASON:—"I claim that Life Insurance is not only a humane, but I might say a Christian Institution."

LORD LYNDHURST'S REASON:—"A Policy of Life Insurance is always an evidence of prudent forethought. No man with a dependent family is free from reproach if not insured."

WHEN TO BE "IN IT."

The younger, the cheaper. Therefore insure when young. Besides by insuring in the CANADA LIFE now, you will share in three years' profits.

WHERE TO BE "IN IT."

The best place to be "in it" is in the Company that gives the best returns for the least money, consistent with absolute security. Therefore, in order to be "in it," choose the

Another Horse Escapade.

Last night a runaway horse which had loosed itself from its cutter, had its career brought to a close at the Missing Link railway bridge over the creek. It fell with its feet between the timbers and as far as its own efforts availed, became a fixture. The 9 o'clock express which was due had to be flagged, and was delayed about 25 minutes, while a large number of men, with considerable difficulty, released the animal.

DON'T MISS THE PLAY.

Musical Notice.

A rare opportunity for advanced pupils or others will be afforded those attending Mrs. Morrow's classes, as she will open classes in vocal and instrumental music and give monthly concerts, when her pupils will be brought before the public. Mrs. Morrow being the finest lady pianist in Canada and having studied under the finest teachers in America, such as Carl Faeltn and Prof. Aldn, pianoforte, and Prof. O'Neil, voice, of the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, is an exceptionally good chance for pupils to still further advance in music. Those wishing to attend will call on Mrs. Morrow, 423 Downie street, Tuesdays and Fridays, from 1 o'clock to 5 p.m.

THE SLEEPING BEAUTY.

Friday Evening, January 13th, 1893.

The grand concert advertised for the above date will be well worth the patronoge of the music-loving public. Mr. P. Grenville Kleiser is an elocutionist of the highest merit, and at every appearance is recived with great favour. The Toronto papers welcome him home (after an extended tour in the west) in terms of flattering regard as the leading elocutionist on the stage. Several attempts have been made to secure him for Peterborough in recent seasons, but the efforts have failed, his engagements extending far into the spring. A great treat may be looked for on the above date. Miss Minnie Gould, soprano, is a lady who is spoken highly of a a vocalist by competent critics. Miss Vair, of Peterborough, whom everybody will welcome back after an extended visit to Denver, is too well known to comment upon, except to say that she has decidedly improved in her singing since her last appearance here. The Peterborough Octette, composed of the best local talent, will render several selections, the closing one of which will be the beautiful octette "Good Night," from Ermine. A concert of such excellence will no doubt draw a large house. d3

Prices: 10, 20 and 30 Cents.

Don't forget the date—Friday, the 20th.

Why Mr. Walter Kerr Speaks to All.

I must thank the people of Peterborough and surrounding country for the patronage I have received from them in the past year, but intend in this year to keep my eye more to business. I have secured one of the best taffy makers in this town to make all kinds of taffy. I have on hand fresh mixed candies, peanuts and oranges. My taffy is the biggest stick for one cent you every did see. One stick will keep you chewing for one hour, and 10 cents will keep you chewing all day. Parties wanting to have a taffy social will do well to call and see me and my prices before calling elsewhere. Don't forget the address, W. KERR, Royal Candy Store, 419 Water street. 6d

"The British Flag."

The magnificent national production "The British Flag" or "Condemned to Death," was put on the boards at the opera house last evening by the Harry Lindley Company to a large audience. The play is heroic and sensational and many references were made to the old flag, which evoked considerable cheering. The catchy songs of Miss Ethel Lindley, Miss Bell and H. O'Neil were encored. To-night the company produces the delightful musical extravaganza "The Sleeping Beauty in the Woods," which was enthusiastically received in Kingston. There will be many songs, jokes and local hits. Mr. R. M. Roy will be present with his calcium light effects to throw upon the scenes and tableaux.

Week of Prayer Services.

The series of meetings in the week of prayer are being largely attended each night. The George street church was crowded to the doors last evening with an attentive congregation, Rev. J. H. Locke presided, and on the platform were Revs. J. E. Trotter, Geo. Edwards and the speaker of the evening, Rev. A. MacWilliams. After earnest opening exercises, Rev. Mr. MacWilliams delivered a comprehensive and thoughtful address on the "Domestic, Political, Social and Religious Life of the country," which he treated in an admirable manner, speaking in a hopeful vein and giving much solid encouragement and sound advice to his auditors. To-night the meeting will be held in the Murray street Baptist church. Rev. Geo. Edwards will speak on "Home and Foreign Missions."

THE TOWN FINANCES.

Our down town or, rather, our back door contemporary, devotes almost one of its lengthy columns to an affected criticism of the position taken by the EXAMINER in respect of the town finances. The Review's article, as a sample of brains hammered out and thought spread thin, is worthy of attention, but nevertheless it is a shy waltz around our proposition in reference to the deficit of $6,000. We do not notice in any part of this windy disquisition any mention of the intention of the Review or its protege, Mayor Kendry, putting up a cheque for $100 in answer to our challenge, based on the assertion that there is, admitting a shortage of $3,000 carried over from '91, a deficit on the financial operations of '92, of over $6,000. We have asserted and proven that this deficit has been created in the face of a largely increased revenue at the disposal of the council of '92—an increased revenue greater than the alleged deficit brought over from '91, and in spite of the great pledges of economy and retrenchment with which the Mayor and Council of '92 heralded their assumption of office. Mayor Kendry began this present year by stating at his nomination that the poor would have a donation of $100 from Mr. Stratton, for he would accept the latter's challenge, and was certain he would have to pay it; but by refusing to accept the latter's challenge he is robbing the poor of $100; for if he accepts the EXAMINER'S challenge, which is still open, the poor would then get $100, whatever the result of the investigation.

It makes little difference to the ratepayers how their great grandfathers paid their taxes, but it does deeply concern the average struggling ratepayer to know how he is to meet his taxes, if the rate of taxation is to mount up to the tune of $6,000 deficit. The chief point in the financial discussion, which the EXAMINER has wished to impress upon the ratepayers, is that there is a deficit of over $6,000—in spite of the Mayor's refusal to accept an investigation to prove the fact—and to get an answer, in the interests of the people, as to where this money has gone.

The Review in its tilt against facts, for some reason singles out one of our correspondents, "Low Taxes," for criticism, but it will find that "Low Taxes" is abundantly able to take care of himself.

The controversy in connection with the financial condition of the town has been forced upon the EXAMINER. We began by examining, as any ratepayer has a right to do, the council's statement, and discovering that there was a deficit of over $6,000, wished naturally to know where the money had gone to. Our statements were denied, and to settle the matter beyond a quibble, we issued the challenge for an investigation, with which the public is familiar. But Mayor Kendry and the Review shirk and fight shy of an investigation. Thus the matter stands. The EXAMINER maintains that there is a shortage of $6,000, Mayor Kendry and the Review deny it and are both afraid to accept a challenge involving an investigation which will prove which is right. Now, gentlemen—in the emphatic, if not elegant language of sporting circles—either "put up or shut up."

For that tired worn-out feeling and lack of ambition that so many women complain of, try Dr. Butler's Golden Pills. They act like magic. One box a cure.

CRISP CURLING CHRONIQUES.

What is Going on at the Rink Where Curlers Most do Congregate.

The hardware firm were in full practice last night, preparing for the great fight next week. The skip appeared in great shape and put his men through in masterly style. The men feel to-day as if they were suffering from la grippe after their strenuous exertions. Groceries to-day are away down.

Three rinks of the Granites went to Lakefield to-day, in response to a challenge, to play the Lakefield curlers. Following was the personnel of the rinks:—

Judge Weller, skip.	Geo. Edmison, skip.
R. B. McKee,

"It is with pleasure that I tell of the great benefit I derived from Hood's Sarsaparilla. For 6 years I have been badly afflicted with breaking out with running sores during hot summer months. I have sometimes not been able to use my limbs for two months at a time. Being induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I got one bottle last spring, commenced using it, felt so much better, got two bottles more; took them during the summer, was able to do my housework, and

POLICE COURT PROCEEDINGS.

The Brealy Case Comes Up and the Charge Not Sustained—Rogers Gets a Six Months Sentence in the Central.

There was a large crowd assembled in the police court room this morning for a couple of hours listening to the well known Brealy case.

Thomas Rogers, a stalwart old British soldier, but having only one leg, was locked up again last night and was charged with being a vagrant. He was given twenty-four hours to leave the town yesterday by the court and did not do so. In reply this morning he stated "I tried to get away yesterday but found that I could not travel, so I thought I had better come back.

Magistrate—That is not an answer to this question.

Prisoner—I plead guilty. I cannot get away.

Magistrate—All right, we will help you, and give you six months in the Central Prison at hard labour. You are not a citizen of the town or county, and I don't see why the common general gaol for the whole country should not take care of you.

The prisoner then left the court room in charge of an officer, and seemed to take his sentence unconcernedly.

THE BREALY CASE.

The enlarged case of J. J. Brealy in connection with the Monaghan Grange Hall, came up this morning. He pleaded not guilty to the charge that he did unlawfully and maliciously commit damage to Eathon Grange Hall by breaking a lock and forcing open a door, the said hall being the property of Eathon Grange, contrary to the statute in that behalf. He elected to be tried summarily. Mr. J. H. Burnham appeared for the defence, and Mr. E. B. Stone for the prosecution.

Mr. Stone—I understand the accused has stated his election.

Magistrate—Yes.

Taylor McBrien who swore out the warrant against the defendant was the first witness called. He said: I live on the Cavan side of Monaghan township, know Grange Hall and also Mr. Brealy. I saw him at the Grange Hall on the 30th attempting to break in, between 4.30 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon. He broke in the front door, fastened with an iron bar out side which fastens over a staple with a lock through it. Saw him with an axe breaking it open and also saw him knock lock off and get in. The band, of which I am a member, was to hold a concert at the hall that evening. I got the right to hold a concert from Grangers. I did not have the key, Herbert Williamson, leader of the band had it.

Cross-examined by Mr Burnham.—The Band has no connection with the Grange except the privilege of meeting there from the Grangers. The band pays nothing for this use. I swore out this information on my own authority, as I believe it was a trespass to stop our concert. None of the Grangers told me to seek redress. I was close by hall when Mr. Braely came. He spoke some words to Bandmaster Herbert Williamson, saying he had everything in the hall under seizure.

A LADY GIVES TESTIMONY.

Mrs. Maggie Colin, sworn, said: I know Brealy and Grange hall. I saw Mr. Braely on the evening of the 30th, the night of the concert, before it began. I asked him not to interrupt the concert. He said that he would not. He also stated he wanted to catch them. I said that the band boys never had done him a wrong. He replied Herbert Williamson had put lies in the paper about him.

To Mr. Burnham—He was not excited.

Torrance Lillico, a young boy, was the next witness. I remember the afternoon of the 30th ult. I saw Mr. Brealy there and saw him taking iron bar from door of Grange Hall.

THE SECRETARY OF THE HALL.

Richard Lillico deposed: I am secretary of Eathon Grange in Monaghan. The Grange is in possession. This is the place where the shooting was done by Brealy last spring. We give the Templars and band boys the right to use the hall. The latter had a right to use it on the evening of the 30th. The trustees hold the key.

To Mr. Burnham—I belong to the Grange. I never attended a meeting where the breaking up of the Grange was discussed. As far as I know the lodge always had the requisite number of seven members.

Mr. Stone said Mr. Brealy had issued a writ against Geo. Young, a trustee, for trespass, but had never served it, preferring to take the law in his own hands.

Mr. Burnham said: I want to show that Brealy went there to collect rent under seizure.

Magistrate—It is all right to show the question of forfeiture or title and ownership by a civil court but not a police court, which has no jurisdiction in such a matter. All you can do is to ask questions regarding ownership so far as to see whether Brealy went to the hall under a colour of right.

Witness continuing said: Mr. Brealy is the owner of the land and we hold the lease from him. Mr. Brealy claims he is in possession by reason of forfeiture of the lease and he is entitled to possession. I don't know if rent has been paid. The trustees hold the keys and are in possession.

To Mr. Stone—Mr. Brealy owns the land. The Grangers own the building and have the right to remove the building under that lease.

TREASURER OF THE LODGE.

Andrew Young, sworn, said:—Directors have possession of Eathon Grange. He corroborated Mr. Lillico's evidence in toto. I don't know that Brealy has attempted to enter the place prior to the trouble last spring.

To Mr. Burnham—Am the treasurer of the Grange. It is my duty to pay the rent. Lease calls for the payment of rent once a year. The last time rent was paid was before the Grange was reconstituted.

Mr. Burnham, to witness—Will you describe the reconstitution of the of lodge, and whether Mr. Brealy had a right to go there.

Magistrate—That is a question of title again. Even if the court said he had right of possession he had no right to take it with an axe and gun. The question is was Brealy's a bona fide question of right.

The same trustees still hold office since our reorganization. I don't remember Mr. Brealy ever being appointed caretaker.

THE BANDMASTER SPEAKS.

Mr. Herbert Williamson, leader of the North Monaghan band, said he carried the key of the hall. I locked the door myself about 4.30 o'clock p.m. on Dec. 30th, and it was still locked when Brealy went there. I got the key from trustees of the Grange. Our concert had been advertised about two weeks.

To Mr. Burnham—I got the keys from Mr. Brealy the time he moved to town. I returned the key to him after the Grangers had put on the lock. We got permission from Mr. Brealy to hold our meetings in the Grange Hall, and afterwards we obtained leave to meet there from the trustees also. I knew there was a dispute between Brealy and the Grangers about the title. The trustees demanded from me the key I got from Brealy, and I refused to give it to them, returning it to Brealy.

Wm. Swinton called, said; Am one of the trustees of the Grange. I carry one key and Herbert Williamson the other. The lock on Dec. 30th belonged to the Grangers. Williamson got the right to occupy hall from the Grange. Brealy was bound over to keep the peace some months ago.

THE CHARGE DISMISSED.

The magistrate in delivering judgement said he had issued a warrant in the case on the ground of prosecution representing that Braely came to the the hall with an axe and a gun, and knowing the character of the party concerned in the matter. The charge was laid that he did unlawfully and maliciously break a lock and force an entrance into the hall, but the evidence showed that the only effence was that Braely had broken the lock and the only thing he had with him was an axe. There is no evidence to sustain the charge of forcible possession, and where unlawful and malicious possession is taken it must be criminal. He thought that the lock was broken in this case by defendant under the colour of right. Defendant was acting as he thought in good faith to obtain possession of the hall, but took an illegal and improper way to go about it, but he could not find the injury to property malicious or wilful and the charge could not be sustained. The question of ownership and title should be settled by a civil court and not by a police court. The defendant on the question of forfeiture had taken a wrong method and he strongly advised him not to resort to it again. This was the cause of so much bloodshed and riot among the neighbours to the south of us.

Mr. Stone concurred in the magistrate's opinion, and held that the prosecution did right in removing a dangerous man like Brealy with an axe, who was present in a crowd and had committed a breach of his bonds and was liable to commit a breach of the peace. The court then adjourned.

Of diseases start from a torpid liver and impure blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures every one of them. It prevents them, too. Take it, as you ought, when you feel the first symptoms (languor, loss of appetite, dullness, depression) and you'll save yourself from something serious.

In building up needed flesh and strength, and to purify and enrich the blood, nothing can equal the "Discovery." It invigorates the liver and kidneys, promotes all the bodily functions, and brings back health and vigor. THE FRENCH CABINET.

Rumors of Disagreement Said to be Without Foundation.

PARIS, Jan. 4 — Magistrate Franqueville's examination of MM. Charles de Lesseps, Marius Fontaines, Sans-Leroy and Felix Cottu, who are charged with being implicated in the Panama Canal corruption, was finished on Saturday.

The case of the deputies charged with having received money from the Panama Canal Company was opened by Magistrate Franqueville yesterday. The accused are Jules Roche, ex-Minister of Commerce; Maurice Rouvier, ex-Minister of Finance; Emmanuel Arene, member from Corsica; Baron Jean de Soubeyran, member from Vienne; Antonin Proust, member from Deux Sevres, and Joseph Dugue de La Fanconnerie, member from Orne.

There is no reason to believe that any more deputies are implicated in the Panama Canal scandals, and therefore no more arrests are expected.

M. Charles Floquet this evening authorized the correspondent of the International Telegram Company to deny the truth of reports that he intended to resign the presidency of the Chambers. The statement that he had even helped a Russian statesman to obtain 800,000 francs from the Panama Company, M. Floquet said, was an unqualified falsehood got up by his enemies merely to blacken his reputation. M. Floquet added that to his certain knowledge the current rumors of disagreement in the Cabinet were without the slightest basis in fact.

BRIGANDS IN POLAND.

A Notorious Leader and His Followers Are Captured.

VIENNA, Jan. 4.—The authorities at Warsaw are excited over the spread of brigandage in Russian Poland. The province of Radom, adjoining Austrian Galicia, has recently been infested by a band of 20 brigands, led by a notorious robber chief, named Julian Voyte.

These robbers attacked the residence of a wealthy land owner, named Vetchkodovitch, slaughtered the live stock found on the place, and after plundering the house set it on fire. Vetchkodovitch succeeded in escaping. Some of his employes carried word of the outrage to the authorities, and on the following day a force of troops went in pursuit of the brigands and overtook the robbers in a forest, when a sharp fight occurred. The robbers made a fierce resistance and wounded several of the soldiers, but the bandits were at length subdued and taken prisoners.

The troops then made their way to the abode of Voyte, the rubber leader, where they found a large quantity of stolen wealth. In the cellar of Voyte's house a peasant was found whom the robber chief was holding for ransom.

Another band of 16 masked brigands attacked the mansion of Baron Khevokh, near Alexandrovo, about 60 miles west of Warsaw. A severe conflict ensued, the Baron aided by his servants and by peasants from the estate making a brave resistance to the banditti. Several persons were wounded on each side, but the bandits were repulsed. A number of land owners in the neighborhood of Zavada have had their residences sacked by brigands.

ABOUT THE UMBRIA.

The Cunard Company Vindicate the Action of the Gallia.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—The Cunard Company have issued an official statement of the Gallia-Umbria incident. In this statement Capt. Ferguson of the Gallia says that when his steamer approached the Umbria he saw a steamer lying in proximity to her, blowing off steam. The Umbria was lying like a duck in the water, and formed a perfect picture of security, while the Gallia was rolling heavily. On reading the signal, "shaft broken." Capt. Ferguson consulted with his chief engineer.

The latter officer was satisfied from the next signal, "Ready to proceed to-morrow," that the Umbria was in no danger whatever and that there were some weeks' more provisions aboard for all the passengers and crew. Captain Ferguson, the report continues, had to consider his own position, with the prospect of easterly weather leaving him an insufficient margin in his coal supply. Should he, it asks, have expended a considerable portion of his fuel in standing by the Umbria for one and possibly two days?

HOT SCOTCH WORK.

State Aid For Emigration Has Been Withdrawn.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—The outgoing of Lord Salisbury's administration and the incoming of that of Mr. Gladstone has quite upset the policy and plans of state-aided emigration.

The Secretary for Scotland has intimated that there will be no further Crofter emigration to the Northwest under control of the state.

The British Columbia Crofter scheme is affected by this declaration, and as a consequence the Crofter company that proposed to establish a Crofter colony and provide the members with means for making a living, which would be to the mutual advantage of both the company and its settlers, is still unformed and the syndicate has been compelled to obtain an extension of time of one year for its formation.

A CRACK 'ATWEEN CRONIES.

Port Hope and Peterborough Poetically Foregather—The Bard of Smith's Creek to the Bard of Smith and Vice Versa.

Mr. Wm. Telford, of Smith, has received the following poem from a brither bard, Mr. John Elliott, Port Hope:

THE RHYMSTER'S REQUEST.

To William Telford, Esq.:

Dear Telford man, when I began
Your poems first to read,
My een got dim, ran o'er the rim
And legs they'd muckle need.

My heart was fou—up to ma mou'
Auld Scotland I like well,
Your words so grand, describe our land
And makes a body feel.

I wish you wad—make me so glad
Your autograph to get,
Just signed yourael, then I can tell
It is your hand o' writ.

For in your book—whene'er I look
And see your autograph,
I'll paste it there—no ither where,
Your health with pleasure quaff.

—JOHN ELLIOTT.

Port Hope, Dec. 2nd, 1892.

THE RHYMING REJOINDER.

Mr. Telford sent the following reply:

To John Elliot, Esq., Port Hope, Ont.:

DEAR SIR,—Your wish shall be gratified:
Dear brither poet, and brither Scot,
I have received your well-rhymed note,
If time permits, and muse prevail
You will receive it by next mail.

The boon you crave I freely grant,
Though wit and learning both are scant;
Teachers or schools on me have but small claim,
By God-lent gifts I here inscribe my name.

WILLIAM TELFORD.

Paste these two stanzas in your book,
Some one unborn may on them look,
Saying, that's the author's own handwriting,
When grave-fed worms my dust are biting.

WM. TELFORD.

John, do not scowl, nor mocking laugh
At my illiterate autograph,
If cramped like me in knee-pot fetter,
Perhaps you would have done no better.

ASPHODEL.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

On Friday last, Dec. 23rd, the people of S. S. No. 4, Asphodel, presented their esteemed teacher, Miss E. Crowly, with a nicely worded address, accompanied by two beautiful presents—a fine plush album and a manicure set. The address referred in praiseworthy terms to her three year's engagement at the school and the interest and attention always manifested by her in the welfare and progress of the pupils. All joined in wishing her a large measure of success in the future. Miss M. Boland read the address and Miss K. Garvey made the presentation. The surprised recipient made an appreciative and grateful reply, thanking the pupils for their expression of kindness and goodwill. She would always remember kindly the pleasant relations which had existed between them and hoped they would enjoy a merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

MATHER'S CORNERS.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A Sunday School Teacher Appreciated.

On New Year's eve the members of Miss Maggie Brough's class in Mather's Corners Union Sunday school, wishing to show their gratitude for her, their teacher, presented to her a pair of Seal skin mits as a token of esteem. Miss Edith Taylor read an address and Miss Gertie Taylor made the presentation. Miss Brough thanked her class kindly for their presentation.

Dear Sir:—Your Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are the best selling pill in the market. This is a fact. I speak with knowledge on the subject, as I have been dealing in various kinds of Pills, and sell more of Morse's than any other.

If any one does not believe this, I ask him to write any of my customers about it, or better still, I ask him to try a box and see if he will then use any other. I hope I may always have them. Yours gratefully,

H. M. C. BARRY.

Cancer has been discovered in American brook trout in a pond in New Zealand. It was supposed that the disease was unknown to fishes.

The profits of the Paris postoffice, which last year amounted to $10,000,000, have moved the postoffice clerks to consider what steps they should take for getting their salaries raised.

Algeria is the greatest cork-producing country in the world, having 2,500,000 acres of cork forests, of which 300,000 are made to yield regular crops. The finest cork is obtained from that province.

Fame comes only when deserved, and then is as inevitable as destiny, for it is destiny.—Longfellow.

It is the girl who says she doesn't believe in accepting presents from young men who is most likely to be popular this month.—Washington Star.

Think of John Burroughs, the naturalist and lover of birds, having once been Jay Gould's school-master! No stranger contrast can be imagined than that presented by the natures of these two men.

"In his blind, groping way," Emerson who is spoken of commiseratingly by some persons as being "not a believer," said: "All that I have seen teaches me to trust the Creator for all I have not seen."

Self-sacrifice, when it is voluntary and for the sake of a good cause, is divine. But the self-sacrifice which is forced upon one is pitiable and ignoble. That form of sacrifice, for instance, which merges the husband, father, citizen, in the mere laborer, and reduces life to a bread-and-butter hunt, has no grandeur to redeem it. Give our working people time and space for the family, for self-culture and for worship on God's day.

'Tis the purpose of Christianity to develop the whole nature of man, body, soul and spirit. Any type of education other than this inadequate and awry. The great naturalist, Charles Darwin, confessed that his devotion to his specialty had "atrophied" his faculty of enjoying music, painting, poetry, and dwarfed his imagination. Such a result is deplorable. 'Tis clearly education amiss. A crowning glory of religion is that it symmetrizes human nature.

The Moravian Church, among the smallest in numbers, is foremost in its missionary spirit and activity. As early as 1729 the disciples of the Unitas Fratum transplanted "the hidden seed" from Bohemia and Moravia in Saxony. Their little settlement in Herrnhut became a disseminating center of Christianity. Their missionaries carried the cross to Africa, the East Indies, the West Indies—everywhere. Whenever, wherever, the cause of missions is discussed, the Moravian Church deserves an honorable mention.

Christ always seized opportunity. He acted on the now-or-never plan. Chances seldom recur—they occur. The poor Magdalene, the avaricious publican, the blind man by the gate of Jericho—these and multitudes of others all profited by the Galilean's habits of using occasion. Let us not wait for great opportunities. All opportunities are great. But the First of July comes only once a year. Magnificent occasions occur seldom. But we can all be heroes and heroines on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays of the ordinary week. Such heroism is the hardest and the most useful. Almost anyone could brace himself for a splendid trial. Manhood and womanhood are both tested and exhibited on work-a-days.

J. M. Barrie has written a new play for Mr. Toole, called "The Professor." It relates how an old gentleman falls in love with his pretty secretary.

Each verse of Mr. C. F. Hoffman's death song, translated from the Ojibway, ends with the words "baim-wa-wa!" They represent the sound of the thunder-god's voice.

In the days of Queen Elizabeth it was customary to strew green rushes on the uncarpeted floor of the actor's retiring-room in the theatres—hence the term green-room.

A new dish appeared lately on the menus of Swiss table d'hote which puzzled everyone who read only its name—Ariostu. Those who risked a trial were amused to find an old friend—Irish stew.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

UNSUBSTANTIAL

Is the Word Which Characterizes Head Gear.

A woman has a constitutional objection to going quite uncovered in the theatre. When she gets herself up in her best she wants something on her head to help it all. Besides she does not believe, and nothing will make her, that she is prettier without than with a hat. She knows better, especially if the thing on her head is from Paris. To suit the occasion, Paris sends over narrow bands of twisted ribbon or of straw which set about the head almost like a crown. The band is jeweled, or studded with tiny flowers, and in the front there is a bit of a bow, or an ornament. Such devices are becoming, and are as far as most of us will yield to the masculine "hats off" in play houses. Another pretty fashion is that of the old-time jeweled net, drawn over the crown of the head and fastened down at its four corners with fancy pins. Through the meshes the pretty hair shows, and it also serves to keep in place the low coil. Of cours, if the bonnet is to be defined as a covering for the crown of the head, this will be called a bonnet and tabooed, if theatre managers become brave enough to make the rule that we must uncover. But let them try it!

The hat shown in the accompanying picture is of bright red velvet and has a perfectly smooth crown with a few rows of narrow velvet around it. The brim is of double-folded velvet, the folds lying very thick together, and in front it stands up in a hollow fold. The brim narrows at the back and is caught up by a fold of lace. Behind are two fancy plumes of bright red, with black thin pieces of wire. This hat may be worn with a dark green, black or any other dark visiting costume.

He Wears a Cod Fish.

A gentleman who was given up to die with consumption happened to receive a visit from a friend, who recommended "Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil." Although having little faith he bought a bottle, and before he was through taking it, found he was gaining flesh. He continued taking the Emulsion until he regained nearly fifty pounds. He is the heartiest man in town to-day. To commemorate his restoration to health he has had a beautiful cod fish manufactured, which he wears as a charm upon his watch chain. That is pretty good testimony for "Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil." Everybody is sounding its praises. In big bottles, 50c. and $1.00, at all Drug Stores.

Cure for Dyspepsia.

In investigation the cause of this prevalent complaint it is found to rest principally in wrong action of the stomach and impurity of the blood. These exciting causes are easily removed by the regulating, purifying tonic and digestive effects of Burdock Blood Bitters, hence the success of B. B. B. in curing dyspepsia in any form, no matter of how long standing or how severe it may be.

HAMILTON, April 20, 1892.

I was doctoring for years with physicians for a scaly and scurvy affliction of the scalp, they told me it was eczema, but gave me no permanent relief. I was also troubled with excessive dandruff, which would drop from my head like snow flakes. Hearing of Anti-Dandruff I used it, and from the third application felt more relieved than for years; when half the bottle was used the eczema and scaly eruptions disappeared and have not returned since; dandruff was thoroughly removed, the itching of the scalp stopped, and for an elegant, clean and useful hair-dressing Anti-Dandruff has no equal.

U.S. TARIFF REVISION

TO BE ARRANGED BY A SPECIAL COMMISSION.

So That Remedial Legislation May Be Prompt When Congress Meets—An Extra Session May Be Necessary—The Republicans are Distrustful.

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—The World, the leading organ of the Democratic party, says editorially:

The Democratic disposition to approach the work of tariff revision cautiously and conservatively is in strong contrast with the recklessness with which the McKinley enormity was framed and passed. There was then a heedless determination to carry out a partisan program at all hazards and all costs.

The disposition now is to bring the best wisdom to bear and to solve the problems presented in the way which shall most benefit the country, with the least disturbance to any just interest.

Statesmanship is once more to take control. Washington despatches report that opinion is setting more and more strongly in favor of an Administration Bill. The plan is to call into counsel the united wisdom of all the recognized leaders of Democratic thought, and to have a bill carefully framed during the summer, which shall reflect the Democratic idea and afford the relief promised to the people, so that legislation may be prompt when Congress assembles, without the necessity of hurry in its preparation.

Should there be an extra session in the spring—which the condition of the Treasury, when the country is permitted to know what it is, may render necessary—there will be a strong disposition to pass at that time one or two of the perfected separate bills, especially the free-wool bill, so that the people may have cheap clothes next winter. But this will in no way interfere with the program of care and counsel as to the broader work of reform. The party of the people is going to fulfil its promises, and do it with conscientious care.

The Tribune, the leading organ of the Republican party, says editorially:

"Tariff Reform" does not get on as rapidly as was expected by the Free Traders or by southern manufacturers. When it was first discovered that Mr. Cleveland had been elected with a supposed majority in each house there arose to the skies a chorus of rejoicing and a loud and impatient demand for an extra session of Congress to repeal the McKinley bill without delay. But "the native hue of resolution" has been "sicklied o'er by the pale cast of thought."

The exceeding difficulty of abolishing duties without destroying industries begins to be appreciated. Here and there Democrats also perceive that fully the present revenue must be raised by customs duties, that a large reduction of revenue by placing articles on the free list will have to be compensated by increased revenue from other articles, that if the duties on these other articles be reduced the imports will have to be enormously increased, to the destruction of home industries, and that revival of the tax on sugar would play the mischief politically. In this dilemma Democratic leaders grow every day more anxious to have some months for study of the problem before attempting any change of tariff.

The latest plan, which meets with much favor, is that a committee shall be appointed by the present House, composed of members who have been re-elected and that this committee, in conference with the Cabinet and the Treasury officials, shall frame a bill during the spring and summer so that it can be passed at an extra session beginning in September. It is quite unnecessary to say that this is Oligarchy and not Democracy.

The Republican party made trial of a Tariff Commission just once. Out of about 30 tariff laws it has enacted within the last 37 years, only one was in any part the product of commission work, the act of 1883, and that proved the worst of all the 30. It did more harm and less good than any other, and contained more serious mistakes.

It is only just to the commission to say that many of the mistakes were made in amendments which the two houses of Congress, being profoundly dissatisfied with the bill prepared for them, adopted without much consideration. Yet the most damaging of all the provisions of this act were framed and recommended by commissioners supposed to be especially competent experts in the very industries which those provisions affected.

In general, the experience did not encourage the system of government by commission, both because the representatives of the people were not satisfied to abdicate their functions, and because the work of the commission was less thorough, less intelligent and less well balanced than the work of Congressional committees before or since.

If Mr. Cleveland and three other guardians of Democracy can make a commission to their liking, and thus shape the tariff bill to be submitted, it is probable that such a measure may be safer and more carefully considered than any that the members of the House, mainly without experience or practical knowledge, would frame for themselves.

A LINDSAY MAN KILLED.

Two Doctors and a Nurse Under Arrest on a Serious Accusation.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 5.—Dr. J. D. Minkler, member of the State Board of Medical Examiners; Dr. M. A. Gile and Catherine McCormick, a nurse, were arrested at Centralia yesterday on the charge of having murdered Alfred Wright, aged 70. Wright came from Lindsay, Ont., to Centralia during the boom with $3,700, all that was left of a fortune, and invested it in real estate and erected a building. He was lame from hip disease, and a year ago had a paralytic stroke. He engaged McCormick as nurse, and Minkler and Gile performed an operation on his hip Dec. 6. The intention was to put the joint in position by stretching, but this failed and they cut out a piece of bone, causing great suffering. Wright gave a check for $250 in payment, but claimed that this was extorted, and that he had agreed to pay only $150. C. W. Johnson, to whom Wright had entrusted a certificate of deposit for $1059, refused to cash it. Johnson had a guardian appointed, who dismissed all three prisoners. Wright died Dec. 23, and an autopsy was held. At the coroner's inquest evidence of conspiracy was given which led to a verdict holding the three prisoners responsible for Wright's death. Gile is a Kelley graduate, but has relapsed. McCormick was formerly in the Salvation Army, but was expelled.

Revenge of a Corsican.

LONDON, Jan. 4.—The Telegraph's Paris correspondent tells the story of the trial and acquittal yesterday of the Corsican, Masson, who shot dead a former friend, Belogodere, after having induced him to stroll out with him one evening. Masson is a shepherd near Ajaccio, and has a beautiful young daughter.

Belogodere seduced her and the murder was the consequence. Masson confessed that the deed was premeditated, but the jury after three minutes' consideration of the case pronounced him blameless.

The Light Air in Colorado.

DENVER, Jan. 5.—George H. Metcalf, who says he is a son of a member of the Canadian Parliament, came here a few days ago to visit his cousin, H. E. Metcalf. His actions were so peculiar that he was placed in St. Luke's Hospital. He jumped from a second-story window, clad only in his nightgown, ran through the streets chased by a crowd, and jumped upon a horse, which he rode at breakneck speed until it fell. He was finally caught and taken back to the hospital.

BANQUET OF 1893

Toronto Board of Trade Entertains.

ORATORY FOR THE NATION

By the Leading Statesmen of Canada.

The Premiers of the Dominion and Ontario, Hon. Wilfred Laurier and Others Prominent in the Two Great Parties were Cheek by Cheek and Jowl by Jowl at the Festive Board—Generous Wine and Goodly Pretender Bridged the Political Chasm.

TORONTO, Jan. 6.—Again the great annual banquet of the Board of Trade has come and gone. The vast gathering of 1893 was more enthusiastic, more loyal, more Canadian in its sentiment than ever. The annual banquet of the Board of Trade has gradually been elevated until at the present time the affair is one of great rejoicing in prosperity, the activity and the grand resources of Canada. Canada's great statesmen, her merchant princes, her railway magnates and representatives of all branches of her industries foregather beneath the expansive roof of the Pavilion to enjoy a multitude of good things, a feast of reason and, we may add, a flow of soul, if soul mean good-will toward all men and love of one's country.

Some 600 guests sat down to the banquet and almost as many more listened to the speeches from the gallery. The ladies of Toronto were present in all their loveliness to hear what the greatest citizens of their country had to say.

The plan of the table shows where and how the distinguished guests were seated.

LEFT.

At 9.15 by the clock President Baird, who occupied the chair, called the banqueters to order. He first introduced the Governor-General.

Lord Stanley was received with general applause. He said during his speech:

Lord Stanley.

In regard to a certain unrest in the public mind when comparisons with the neighboring republic were made, he thought, in view of the figures just cited, that the unrest was built on comparison only. Some ladies, he was told—his simile was not got from domestic information—had a peculiar feeling on entering a room. They did not care about themselves being well dressed, but waited to know if their friends were better dressed. Canada's unrest might be likened to such discontent as the lady might experience in finding others a little better dressed than herself. He would recommend those who sought to change to carefully study the facts as they exist. Under the present constitution the people of this country were at the greatest freedom to make laws for themselves, and great powers were delegated to the provinces. The judicial system, on the whole, could compare favorably with that of the Mother Country, and it was well administered. The transition from one Government to another, at the time of Sir John Macdonald's death, showed the excellence of the system of government. There was no turmoil or trouble. The change came quietly about. He did not think that there would be anything gained by making the office of Governor-General elective. The present system ensured impartial judgment in times of crisis. The whole course of history of the great self-governing colonies for the past 50 years was a gradual reducing of the entire dependence on the Mother Country, and for his part he thought the destiny of these great colonies should be calmly and dispassionately worked out by themselves. Who could tell what the next half-century would bring forth? The course of history showed dependence in the past and augured reliance in the future. [Cries of "Hear, hear."]

Sir John Thompson, who was received with loud cheering, said:

I am conscious that there are problems of the state which might well tax the energy and wisdom of the ablest. But these problems are not for us alone. They are problems not for Canada alone, but for every man who loves his country and who wishes to help its progress in the future. It would be idle when so many conjectures have been put forward if I were to tell you to refrain from their consideration.

One of these questions is a serious one, because it touches the religious feeling of the people of Canada from one end of the Dominion to the other, and because it is stated to affect the rights and liberties of one of the smallest, but not the least important, of our provinces. Questions like this which come home to the moral and religious conviction of our people are important questions to the state; therefore, I say that they should not be approached in a political spirit or as affecting the prosperity of one party alone, but in their reference to the State.

It is a question not for one party or one section, but a problem to be met in the widest spirit of patriotism. Deeply as the feelings of the country have been aroused, I say that there are only two safe guides to a safe result. One is the people themselves. It is for them to regard the question in the spirit of conciliation and even concession, where concessions can be made without sacrifice of principle.—[applause]—and it is for the Government to guide and shape that opinion, as far as I am able to judge, according to the constitution of this country. It is by this we propose to guide and to abide. [Applause.]

Sir John then said that on this subject he had been sadly misinterpreted or misunderstood in a speech he made some weeks ago by one journal—that in pleading for toleration and for the difference of feeling and of race which existed in this country he was told he was putting in a plea for toleration for himself and uttering an implied sneer on those who disapproved of his position as First Minister of this country.

I have no plea for toleration for myself, said Sir John with vigor. I am prepared to fight my own battle and I want no toleration in that regard. I am occupying my responsible position from no desire of mine to outstrip other men in the race for political distinction; I occupy that position because those who were qualified to decide, and were bound to decide, thought that I could serve the state. [Cheers.]

I am nothing more than a public servant. If I can succeed in serving the state well I shall have achieved the only ambition I have in public life. [Renewed cheers.] If I should fail to serve the state well or unacceptably to the people I shall give place to another man, and I rejoice to know that there are men in both political parties who can serve the state with advantage when I have passed off the scene.

Sir John Thompson.

Mr. President, you were good enough to refer to questions connected with trade. In this department there were problems confronting us as soon as we entered office. These questions are to be calmly considered by both political parties. I believe the solution will be reached by the combined help of these parties.

There has been a great reversal of parties in the United States, and the question has arisen all over this country what the outcome of it will be for us. Is it to be free trade, reciprocity or a policy of wrath and indignation against Canada?

We are on the eve of one president of that great country going out of office and another stepping in. Will he before he leaves office strike a blow of anger against Canada, and will his successor bring with him the same feelings that prevailed four years ago? These are questions now affecting men's minds.

Let me refer to our own position and the reception of Canadian questions at Washington. We have had our attention called by the retiring President to causes of complaint against the Government of Canada. We have endeavored to remove those grievances, even in cases where we thought we were in the right.

We had a complaint in regard to canal tolls—that we discriminated unfairly against the United States, or against the interpretation of the treaty. We said, "Put us back where the treaty put us." We asked them to give us as free a use of canals in the United States as we gave them in Canada. And we said: "If it is not a matter of treaty let us make a new treaty on the subject." Eventually the cause of grievance was removed. [Applause.]

A little later another matter was brought to our notice by the United States in respect to the duty on sugar. Within the last few weeks that cause of complaint, that grievance, has been removed.

At this announcement the Board of Trade men specially cheered.

When President Harrison goes out of office he will go without just cause of complaint against Canada. [Applause.] What about the new President and the new party coming into power?

In answering this the Premier adverted to the fisheries question, which at one time was thought to have brought the two countries to the verge of war. This was the state of feeling at the time the conference met, but at the finish the President said that the settlement that had been made was honorable, fair and final. [Cheers.]

We met the dominant party in the Senate and the House of Representatives, who had grievances against Canada and who, at the close of the negotiations, testified that the modus vivendi was an honorable solution of the question. It was objected that the proposed settlement was for two years only. We have extended it to five years, so that the same men may be back in office and find everything as satisfactory as they left it.

In these respects we have shown to our neighbors what the policy of this country is and shall be for the future, in so far as we have to speak for it—a policy that shall make us and the United States the best of neighbors, and God grant that we may never be anything else than the best of neighbors. [Cheers.]

Then there is the question to which I have referred—what is to become of us: Is it to be free trade, reciprocity or retaliation?

Let us take counsel of the past in these questions. When the same party were in office four years ago the greatest advance they made in the direction of free trade was to raise the tariff nearly 40 per cent. higher than Canada's. It may be that a change has taken place. Let us wait and see the result of this change of opinion.

We are not driven to seek our example in that country, but I should be a fool if I did not admit that every nation is bound to take lessons from its neighbors and to have respect to the conditions of tariff and trade in each country.

Well, is it to be reciprocity? It may be. We shall be glad to see what terms are proposed, but they will have to be better terms than ever to meet the acceptance of myself and my colleagues. [Cheers.]

Eleven months ago the proposal was to desert the principles on which alone this Empire can be held together, and that McKinleyism should be adopted in Canada when it was about to be discarded in the United States.

There are signs that far greater changes will be proposed in the United States tariff than 12 months ago. It will be 12 months before they can take effect. I think there is too much anxiety in the minds of the people of this country about those changes [Applause.] There is no reason because our neighbor is making a change in his house to pull down ours. [Renewed applause.]

We propose, continued the Premier, to take advantage of the experience and to watch the movements of tariff changes in the United States, and to adopt any changes which will be best for Canada first, and best for the Empire next. [Loud cheers.]

Mr. President, I am invited to answer whether we consider the National Policy perfection. I answer the question, assuming that the National Policy means the tariff, although I do not admit that exactly.

I know of no tariff that is perfection, and I know of features in the present tariff which require correction. Therefore, on that point we propose to take your advise and "lop the mouldering branch away."

There are other questions which have been put forward as great problems for us to deal with. We have been challenged with the fact that there is a movement in this country not only to change the constitution of the country, but to change the allegiance of its people. Both parties in this country—and those who are outside party ranks—will put that problem out of existence at the first opportunity. [Loud cheers.]

There are other questions looking to the status of this country and its future. On this subject, said Sir John, I commend to you the eloquent words of His Excellency, who also spoke the words of caution.

In conclusion the Premier said: I am sure that every man who is a Canadian at heart feels that this country ought to be a nation. Thank God, we shall help to make it a nation—[cheers]—but we do not desire that it shall be a separate nation, but a nation in itself, firm, a bulwark of the British Empire, whose traditions we admire, whose protection we enjoy, and who gives to this country in the fullest degree the rights and privileges of self-government. [Renewed cheers.]

Hon. Wilfrid Laurier was called upon to respond to the toast "Our Sister Provinces." So terse a sentence fell from his lips during his whole discourse that was not the signal for applause, which shook the building. "I am relieved," he said, "of the responsibility and the necessity of proving that the people are prosperous, and I can safely assure my hearers that were the Liberals the advisers of the Governor-General the prosperity of the people would not need proof, but would be visible to the naked eye. [Cheers.] Most of the provinces live in perfect harmony because they are so far apart—[cheers]—but this can hardly be said of Quebec. They enjoy hardly the harmony that should exist between young married people, and yet I think there is more affection between them than is generally admitted. At least the press of Ontario take a lively interest in Quebec and give it free advice daily. I am afraid they have accomplished very little good in my native Province. If the people of one Province were better acquainted with another there would be fewer misgivings. The press of Ontario say the French lack enterprise. I grant that you can beat us in making money, but we are ahead of you in the spending. [Laughter.] The whole matter simmers down to a discussion of the question, "Who is wealthy?" You no doubt have one standard here, a long bank account, rows of big houses in fashionable streets! Are the owners of these wealthy in Toronto? In Montreal we count the man wealthy who is satisfied with what he has. [Cheers.]

We are of the French race and are British subjects and are satisfied with our lot. But do you know if I were not French I would prefer to be Scotch. But when will the time come that it will not be discussed whether we are French or Scotch, or Irish, but that we are Canadians—[cheers]—Canadians—[cheers]—Canadians! [Cheers.] How I love the name of Canada!

The fathers of confederation had in mind the desire to found upon the north half of this continent a nation. It was a great undertaking to bring together those scattered provinces. But trade is a most potent force to move prejudice and to weld the chain of friendship. The eloquent speaker concluded with a tribute to Toronto's growing trade and thanked the Board of Trade for its hospitality.

Hon. George E. Foster, Minister of Finance, on rising to speak was received with loud applause.

Four years ago he had spoken of the future. And I stand here to say that the promise I made then of continued prosperity has been fulfilled beyond my expectation and beyond the expectation of most of you here. [Loud applause.]

He characterized the commercial, agricultural and manufacturing industries as a trinity of body, of soul and of spirit. Agriculture was the body, manufacturing industries the soul, "transmitting and transforming all that goes to build up a nation;" commerce the spirit which presides over all, distributing to every man his due portion.

Time was when the first was the only element possessed. Then came commerce, and later came the manufacturing. All three were necessary to the continued and permanent progress of any country. What would England have been without these?

Not many years ago how small was the agricultural area of this country! To-day how large and how vast! So large and so vast that the mind of no single man is able fully with the information he possesses to comprehend and grasp. [Loud applause.]

The experience and observation must lead to the conclusion that the manufacturing industries of the country have made immense strides forward. [Hear, hear.] Industrial establishments had increased 52 per cent. There had been an increase of 44 per cent. in the number of employes, and in wages the percentage was 78 higher. Capital invested increased 114 per cent., raw materials 42 per cent., and the value of products increased 52½ per cent.

The next toast was to "The Dominion Parliament and Legislative Assemblies of the Provinces," and Hon. Mackenzie Bowell and Sir Oliver Mowat were down on the toast list to respond. In the absence of the Minister of Trade and Commerce Hon. Frank Smith spoke to the toast, and explained that Mr. Bowell was detained in Ottawa by a severe cold. The speaker said: "I am pleased to know that one of the first appointments in the new administration was that of Hon. Mr. Bowell to the Senate. He is now a brother Senator of myself and I expect to see him appointed as leader of the Senate. I have been long acquainted with Mr. Bowell, but the longer I know him the more I like him. I can but ask you to give to the leader of the Commons the same support that I will give to Mr. Bowell."

Sir Oliver Mowat.

Then Sir Oliver rose to reply to the second part of the toast, "The Legislative Assemblies of the Provinces." I am not so sure as some of the speakers who have preceded me that our country is quite safe. But I will not discuss that subject. I must speak for the Legislatures. Now I hold that they have done much to consolidate the Dominion. But for the institution of the Local Governments the Dominion Government would never have existed. It is now the conviction of all statesmen that it is fortunate for this country that no attempt was made to set up the Dominion before the provinces were established. The Legislatures have an important jurisdiction to perform, greater even than that of the Dominion Government, excepting the tariff and the national railways. But both are necessary for the welfare of the people. The strength of Confederation will always depend upon the unity and yet distinct existence of both. I am glad that from the beginning of Confederation the provinces have enjoyed responsible government. I believe it is far better than the rival plan of an executive for a fixed term and not responsible to the people.

I have been a good many years in the position I now occupy. During all that time my friends and myself have occupied the old buildings we are just now about to vacate, and yet I am bound to say that were I guaranteed 20 more years of office I would be willing to occupy those same old buildings during that time. I am now 72, so you see I am safe in setting the limit at 20 years, for by that time I would be beginning to be an old man. [Laughter.]

Now you will bear in mind that my opponents are Conservatives and that they do not like unnecessary changes. They have done splendid duty for 20 years at the left of the Speaker, so I call upon them to stay there for 20 years more. [Cheers.] They have an able leader—[hear, hear]—and he has able supporters, and it would ill become me to take from them all the honor of the good laws we have made for the province—laws which sister provinces have more than once seen fit to copy. [Applause.]

Every speaker has referred to the annexation movement, and I desire to state my views, said the venerable Premier, and every sound in the vast hall was hushed as the audience hung upon the words of the speaker. During all the time I have been in public life there has been but one annexationist in the Ontario Legislature, and he was not a Liberal. [Cheers.] And I was glad to note that that gentleman ran for mayor in his native town of Windsor a few days ago and was rejected by a large majority. [More cheers.] I read a few days ago a letter from the Continental Union Club to a New York paper, in which it was stated that the Liberal party in Canada was American and the Conservative European. Now, Mr. Chairman, I take this first opportunity to deny that statement. It is absolutely false. I declare that both Liberals and Conservatives are Canadian. [Thunders of applause.] The same writer stated that there existed hatred in the minds of Americans against the British nation. Now, I deny that all Americans hold such a hatred. The writer says that this hatred is so inveterate that a generation will have to pass before Americans will be able to distinguish between tail twisting and patriotism. If that is so then I say that generation will pass before Canada will become a part of the American republic, for Canadians will never be a party to doubling the territory of that country if it will have the effect of doubling their jingoism and impertinence. [Loud cheers.]

PERSONAL POINTERS.

Miss Hall Caine, a young sister of the famous novelist, is making quite a reputation as a comedy actress in England.

The King of the Belgians is said to have granted a concession of an influential English company to grow tobacco in the Congo, and to trade in that article.

Not having been successful thus far in smirching the record of President Carnot, the enemies of the French Republic are now doing their best to implicate his wife. There is a strong belief in the minds of people everywhere that the Carnots are above suspicion.

The favorite amusements of the sons of the German Emperor and Empress are all connected with the water. The Crown Prince already is a very fair oar, and he and Prince Ethel Fritz also amuse themselves by fishing, but their favorite game is making ducks and drakes, an amusement which in my youth used to be thought very highly of.

Bjornson recently celebrated his sixtieth birthday at Christiania, but declined all invitations from the capital, where the National Theatre wished to pay homage to him as one of the founders of the Norwegian drama. There were festivities in his honor, however, in the principal towns of the kingdom, and most of the Norwegian lyric poets celebrated the event.

AN INTERESTING PERSONAGE.

The Mother of Mr. A. P. Poussette, Q.C., Dies at the Ripe Old Age of 84 Years.

The Canadian of Sarnia, Ont., of Jan. 4th inst. contains the following account of the death of the late Mrs. Peter T. Poussette, mother of our esteemed townsman, Mr. A. P. Poussette, Q.C., who died at Sarnia, on Friday, Dec. 30th. Deceased lady was an interesting personage and very highly respected for her excellent traits of character. The many friends of Mr. Poussette will sympathize with him in the loss of his aged mother, of whom the Canadian says:—

One of the few remaining links between the era of pioneer settlement and the Sarnia of to-day was severed on Friday last, Dec. 30th, 1892, in the death at the ripe age of 84 years, of Mrs. Poussette, relict of the late Peter T. Poussette, for many years Master in Chancery, Clerk of the Peace, and Town Clerk of Sarnia. Mrs. Poussette was daughter of Thomas Courthope, Esq., owner of the Deptford Royal Navy shipyards, the yard in which was built the first steamer that ever plied on the Thames. She was married at an early age to Mr. Poussette, then a practicing solicitor in the city of London. In those days emigration to Canada was the fashion in England, among people most unaccustomed to privations, such as had to be borne by Canadian pioneers, and most unlikely to take kindly to the rude and harsh conditions inseparable from life in the backwoods. Mr. Poussette was one of the many victims of the colonizing fever, and in 1839 he gave up his practice in the city, and with his wife and two eldest sons set out for Canada, intent upon hewing out for himself a backwoods home, settling for that purpose upon a location on the lake shore, in the Township of Sarnia, some ten miles above where is now the town. For ten years or more, Mr. and Mrs. Poussette maintained the struggle against the exigencies and drawbacks of pioneer life, until in 1[illegible] Mr. Poussette received the appointment of Postmaster of Sarnia, when he gave up his endeavour at farming and moved into what by that time had grown to be the village of Sarnia, where he resided until his death in [illegible], and where his widow always afterwards made her home. Mrs. Poussette had, therefore, been over half a century a resident of the County of Lambton, and for over forty years a resident of the village and town of Sarnia. All her children who survive, were with her at the time of her death, with the exception of the youngest, a daughter, who lives in Switzerland. Her youngest son, A. P. Poussette, of Peterborough, arrived two hours before she passed away. Her funeral took place on Sunday afternoon from her residence on Vidal street to St. George's church, and thence to Lake View Cemetery, the coffin being borne from the house to the church by three sons, Dr. A. C. Poussette and H. M. Poussette, of Sarnia, and A. P. Poussette, Q.C., of Peterborough; two grandsons, Guy Frederick Poussette, of Chicago, and Rivington Poussette, of the School of Science, Toronto, and an old and devoted friend, Dr. E. Oliver, of Sarnia.

A PLEASING AFFAIR.

Was the Annual Entertainment Held at St. John's Church Last Evening.

The annual Christmas entertainment held in the St. John's church Sunday school rooms last evening was an enjoyable success. The edifice was crowded to the doors with numerous children, accompanied by a large number of their parents and friends. The superintendent, Mr. Walkey, presided, and after a few pleasant and complimentary remarks he introduced a meritorious programme, which was well rendered, the children who took part acquitting themselves in a manner that left nothing to be desired. The shadow pantomimes by Rev. W. M. Loucks and Mr. T. J. Baker, were an attractive feature and pleased all present.

At the close of the lengthy but excellent programme, the distribution of prizes began and all the scholars were made very happy in taking home with them some nice memento of the occasion. The following pupils of the Sunday school obtained the highest marks for attendance, lessons, conduct and church attendance during the year ending Dec. 1st, 1892:—1 Archie Hagel, 364; 2 Maggie Dugan, 362; 3 Ruby Burnham, 354; 4 Gordon White, 353; 5 Serena Morris, 338; 6 Dollie Comstock, 336; 7 Addie Armstrong, 323; 8 John Cocks, 311; 9 Manson Comstock, 297. Each of the above scholars attended every Sunday in the year, and the first mentioned Archie Hagel obtained perfect marks.

Other scholars who distinguished themselves were Walter Hagel, 359; Charlotte English, 331; Alice Cocks, 330; Jane Layfield, 330; Harry Lneb, 329; Maud Byers, 329. Every scholar in the Sunday school who attended 20 Sundays or over was awarded a prize, and it was found that more than half the scholars were so qualified. The infant class was not, however, included in this arrangement.

SEARCHING FOR SEAL IN BEHRING SEA.

Interesting Narrative of a Sealing, Whaling and Hunting Cruise—Thrilling Experiences—Hairbreadth Escapes.

Two days later we went out again and this time managed to harpoon an active young bull whale. With the touch of the iron in his back he turned on us and with one stroke of his terrible tail smashed the boat I was in, killed the old whaler who stood in the front of the boat, and badly disabled another. Of course we were all in a heap in the water in an instant. As soon as I came to the surface I swam to where the old harpooner lay. I held him up and tried to get him to speak, but as his head was badly fractured and part of his brain protruded. I held him up however and looked about me for my companions. They were a short distance off helping the poor fellow who had been disabled and were making for the captain's boat. The water was icy cold and I had a hard time to keep myself and the poor old harpooner afloat until the other two boats picked us up. Every one pronounced the poor fellow dead and we made for the ship. We did all we could under the circumstances to revive him, but all to no avail, and that evening he found a last resting place beneath the icy waters of Behring Sea. The other man's right leg was broken in two places and he was laid up for the remainder of the voyage. He was getting as well as ever as we reached San Francisco later on. There is plenty of excitement and a great deal of danger in a whaler's life. After a stay of a few week's longer in the Behring Sea we squared away for the Copper Islands in the Russian part of the sea. We were told that seals were plentiful off these islands and we found they were, but to get close enough to shore was the trouble. Some said that the Russians allowed outsiders to seal within nine miles of the islands, while others maintained that we laid ourselves open to capture if we went within fifty miles of them. We took good care however to keep out of sight of the Russian gun boats and as they had only two or three

HE WAS EVIDENTLY DEAD,

ON PATROL AROUND THE ISLANDS

we succeeded pretty well. After a hunt of five weeks we made sail for Vladivostock, a port on the coast of Siberia. Here we remained for three days taking in water, and one evening just as we had hoisted anchor preparatory to sailing, a small boat coming one man came alongside, and, having hailed the captain, commenced to talk, it seemed to me in an excited manner, in Russian. The captain, knowing no more about Russian than he did about Sanscrit, of course didn't understand a word he said. Having asked us all whether we knew any Russian and getting a negative answer, I made the remark that perhaps he might understand a little French, and as no one aboard but myself spoke it I, asked him what he wanted. In faultless French he replied that he was an escaped convict from the mines in the interior, and he begged of us in the name of humanity to take him aboard. That night he and I had a long talk. He was a Russian count and the son of a wealthy nobleman in St. Petersburg. He had spent ten years in Paris, and upon his return to his native land had joined the army and risen to the rank of Lieutenant, but having being suspected of was banished to Siberia where he would doubtless have met his death had not our timely presence saved him. He spoke French with the true Parisian accent (by the way he complimented me on the purity of mine) and was conversant with the works of all the great masters of French and English literature. In a short time he learned to make himself useful on board and through all proved himself a good willing fellow.

But here I must say something about a sunset in these latitudes, often called the land of the midnight sun. On a calm, clear summer's evening, with naught in sight save sky and sea, it is seen to best advantage. We often left the vessel at three o'clock in the morning and returned at nine-thirty at night with the sun in full view. Like a ball of fire it sinks in the bosom of the broad Pacific, dying in its track the waters red and suffusing the western sky with the most beautiful tints of turquoise, green, opal, purple, etc., ad infinitum. I doubt whether an Italian sunset surpass it in beauty and clearness, and all night the sky is tinged with its golden hues. There are not more than two hours darkness, if one can call it so, on midsummer night.

And what a tremendously beautiful view of the firmament, every star shining out with a cold, clear-cut brilliancy never seen in more southern latitudes. I have passed nights alone on the boundless prairies of Dakota, in the forests, in the mountains, and upon the dry sands of the Mogave desert, but nowhere did I experience that that I felt when alone at the wheel at midnight. No light but that of the stars and the faint dying glow of the sunset tints, no sound to break the stillness save the occasional weird blow of a whale close by or the shrill cries of some sea fowl flying past, and what a mournful sound is the blowing of a whale falling on the ear with a dying cadence as the knell of bygone centuries. I would lapse into a reverie and reflect that perhaps centuries before a thought of America had even entered the mind of the intrepid Columbus, this self-same whale had disported himself in these icy waters then as now on this night in the nineteenth century; and then as I looked on the countless stars my mind would turn to thoughts more serious, thoughts of the grandeur and mighty forces of nature, of the Infinite Cause, of life, of death and the great Beyond, thoughts of my childhood's home and those I loved. Thoughts such as these would be upon me, until suddenly it would occur to me to look at the time and call the man next in turn, and down I'd go to rouse the next poor victim.

We succeeded in taking four additional whales before reaching Yokohama, Japan, about the end of October. To me Yokohama was a revelation. The Japanese seem to have adopted, very widely, western ways and civilization. They have a monarchy modelled somewhat after that of England, a blending of the American and English school systems, railroads, telegraph and telephone lines, electric lighting systems, and last but not least, are fast learning the vices of Europeans. The suddeness of the change is phenemenal. It is, as Darwin says, one of the wonders of the world.

While other places have to be educated up to, and, after ages of evolution, be prepared for reform, with these people the act follows its conception. Whether this transplanting of our civilization in the place of their own is all for the best I am not prepared to admit for in this sunny land they have known no such extremes of wealth and poverty, no such internal race hatreds, no such tyranny as are found under our highly evolutionized Christian civilization. In a word they were happy before the whiteman forced open their ports, coming as he always does, first as an invader, next as a missionary and then as a trader, forcing upon them the sale of his life and soul-destroying opium and rum.

We left Yokohama after a week's stay and up to the time of our arrival in San Francisco, nothing worth mentioning took place, except that we caught a few more whales and called at some island of the Sandwich group. We had in all eleven whales, fifteen hundred seals and thirty seven otter, considered a fair catch. But for the loss of one man our voyage was unmarred by any accident out of the common.

After severing connection with the vessel Petrolski (the Russian) and myself made a trip to the city of Old Mexico, whence after a month's stay he set out for Paris and I for San Francisco. I often hear from him and in his last he tells me that his father has succeeded in obtaining for him pardon from the Czar.

Since September last I have made another trip to Japan and visited Hong Kong also.

THE BIGGEST DAY IN 7 YEARS!

Saturday, December 3rd was the biggest day MR. J. J. SHEEHY has had in seven years. Why is this? Surely not because there is less competition. Certainly not because inducements are not being held out by others. Most assuredly not because prices of farm products are showing an upward tendency. Then why??

Simply because the purchasing public of the town and surrounding country have read Mr. Sheehy's advertisements, have inwardly digested them and have concluded that cheap sale or no cheap sale Mr. Sheehy is bound not to be undersold

We want every day in December to be a big day. How are we to accomplish this? Simply by offering to the public better value for the money than can be had elsewhere. Just cast your eye over the following quotations:—

All Wool Flannels, 26 in. wide, - -	17½	Good Linen Towels each - - -	5½
9 lb. Wool Blankets, - - - - -	$3.75	Grey Wool Blankets, - - -	31c. a lb.
14 yds. Heavy Grey Canton Flannel,	$1.00	25 yards Factory Cotton, - -	$1.00

These few quotations will probably give an idea of what we are doing and a glance at our BARGAIN TABLE in the centre of our store will convince the most skeptical that when it comes to general bargains we certainly are very decidedly "in it."

MOTHERS, and especially nursing mothers, need the strengthening support and help that comes with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It lessens the pains and burdens of child-bearing, insures healthy, vigorous offspring, and promotes an abundant secretion of nourishment on the part of the mother. It is an invigorating tonic made especially for women, perfectly harmless in any condition of the female system, as it regulates and promotes all the natural functions and never conflicts with them.

The "Prescription" builds up, strengthens, and cures. In all the chronic weaknesses and disorders that afflict women, it is guaranteed to benefit or cure, or the money is refunded.

For every case of Catarrh which they cannot cure, the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy agree to pay $500 in cash. You're cured by its mild, soothing, cleansing, and healing properties, or you're paid.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The New Year Reception an Agreeable Success—The Montly Meeting.

Following is an account of the New Year's reception to young men held at the Y.M.C.A. rooms, as well as the proceedings at the regular monthly meeting of the directors, which were handed to the EXAMINER a day or two ago, but owing to the pressure of other matter have been unable to appear before:

On Monday the usual New Year's Day reception was held. A large number (probably over three hundred) young men and boys visited the rooms during the day, the greatest number being between 4 and 6. A cotton sign stretched across the street wished the young men of the town a Happy New Year and invited them to call at the rooms during the day. Between 3.30 and 7.30 refreshments were served by the Ladies Auxiliary and were partaken of by most of the visitors. The gallery was used as a refreshment room while the hall was occupied by those playing games, etc. The gymnasium also received a good deal of attention. Music, both instrumental and vocal frequently enlivened the proceedings, and all present seemed to have a most enjoyable time. Many, who were visitors for the first time, were agreeably surprised to find the Association occupying such elegant and commodious premises. The proceedings were concluded about ten o'clock with devotional exercises.

The heartiest thanks of the Association are due to the many ladies who generously supplied provisions, and especially to those members of the Auxiliary who devoted the afternoon and evening to the work of dispensing them; also to several friends who kindly loaned games and assisted in other ways.

The Y. M. C. A. board meeting Tuesday evening was the largest and liveliest for some time. Among other things it was decided that the periodicals on file in the members' reading room should be placed in the public reading room, where it is thought they will be much more useful than where they have been for the past year. It was also decided that the annual business meeting should be held on Thursday, 12th inst, and the public anniversary on Tuesday, 24th inst, when Messrs. S. Moore and R. J. Colville will be the speakers of the occasion. Votes of thanks were passed to several benefactors of the Association, especially the friends who contributed the supplies for the New Years' Day reception, and to the following churches for the collections recently taken by them for the benefit of the association:—

St. Paul's	$30 00
George street	22 45
Murray street	11 64
St. Andrew's	4 85

It should, however, be mentioned that the Christian Endeavour Society of St. Andrew's church sent the association a contribution of $40 earlier in the year.

Two delegates were appointed to the approaching provincial convention in Montreal, and it is possible that three or four more others may attend.

KINMOUNT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The Scott House has again changed hands. Edward Perrin who has been the genial host for the past three years has sold his interest to Mr. Gilbert Scott and his son-in-law, Mr. William Caldwell, of Haliburton. They take possession on Monday next.

Mr. John Lambert, who met with an accident to his right leg and who was in the Toronto Hospital, is, we are glad to say, improving. John's friends would be very sorry should the injury prove serious.

Mr. James Wilson, who was recently married, was serenaded by the Kinmount band on Thursday evening.

A considerable number of Galwayites are engaged at present taking out bark, ties, etc., and several have gone to the lumbering shanty for the winter.

A True Blue entertainment was held on New Year's night. The programme was efficiently carried out, and a pleasant evening's enjoyment was the result.

The merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla is proven by the many wonderful cures it is accomplishing. It is just the medicine for you.

Our schools re-commenced on Jan. 3rd.

Mr. J. D. Senny has returned from holidaying in Millbrook.

Mrs. Ed. Courtney had the misfortune to break her leg on Monday morning, the result of a fall. We hope that under the careful treatment of Dr. Mark she may soon be fully restored and around again.

Election for municipal offices was confined to the councillors this year. The old council was re-elected, Coe taking the majority of votes over all his compeers. John Boyd received in one polling division 37 plumpers, R. Coe, 17 and T. Donaldson, 1.

Mr. T. W. McLean has returned from a visit to Caledonia.

Mrs. W. J. McLean and daughter are visiting at Mr. James McLean's.

Mr. D. W. Best, of Queen's College, Kingston, is spending his vacation under the parental roof.

The Boys.—Boys should always have some quick and sure remedy for sudden attacks of Cramps, Diarrhœa, or Dysentery, for a physician is not always near, and an hour's delay in cases of this kind often leads to serious results. Therefore parents should have on hand a supply of PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER, which is as efficacious as it is simple and harmless. Directions are with each bottle, and one dose rarely fails to bring relief to a sufferer from any bowel complaint. New Size 25c. Bottle, full 2 oz.

Keep it on Hand.

SIRS,—I always keep a bottle of Hagyard's Yellow Oil for cuts, sprains and bruises. The folks at the house use it for almost everything. I know it to be a good medicine, it is an excellent mollifier for cracked or chapped hands.

You hardly realise that it is medicine, when taking Carter's Little Liver Pills: they are very small; no bad effects; all troubles from torpid liver are relieved by their use.

A Sensible Man would use Kemp's Balsam fo the throat and lungs. It is curing more cases of coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, croup and all throat and lung troubles than any other medicine. The proprietor has authorized any druggist to give you a sample bottle free to convince you of the merits of this great remedy. Large bottles 50c. and $1. dw

Very Much Pleased.

SIRS,—I am very much pleased with the effects of Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Our family has been greately troubled with severe colds, pains in the chest, etc., and have been promptly relieved by this valuable medicine which we willingly recommend.

Cures Others

Will cure You, is a true statement of the action of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, when taken for diseases originating in impure blood; but, while this assertion is true of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, as thousands can attest, it cannot be truthfully applied to other preparations, which unprincipled dealers will recommend, and try to impose upon you, as "just as good as Ayer's." Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's only, if you need a blood-purifier and would be benefited permanently. This medicine, for nearly fifty years, has enjoyed a reputation, and made a record for cures, that has never been equalled by other preparations. AYER'S Sarsaparilla eradicates the taint of hereditary scrofula and other blood diseases from the system, and it has, deservedly, the confidence of the people.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

"I cannot forbear to express my joy at the relief I have obtained from the use of AYER'S Sarsaparilla. I was afflicted with kidney troubles for about six months, suffering greatly with pains in the small of my back. In addition to this, my body was covered with pimply eruptions. The remedies prescribed failed to help me. I then began to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla, and, in a short time, the pains ceased and the pimples disappeared. I advise every young man or woman, in case of sickness resulting from impure blood, no matter how long standing the case may be, to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla."—H. L. Jarmann, 33 William st., New York City.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE "IN IT."

A Life Agent called at a friend's place one day,
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had seen "the boys" coming and fled from his way
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had heard so much said, he was tired and sick
Of insurance and agents—'twas all a blank trick,
When one's cash must be shuffled to win it,
HE WASN'T IN IT.

A bit of a draft blew o'er his bald head,
HE WAS IN IT;
Pneumonia sent him straightway to his bed,
HE STAYED IN IT;
His doctor made of it a "quite special" case,
To save him for running still more of life's race,
But the grave took some chances to win it,
AND HE'S IN IT.

When approached by a gent for insuring your life,
GET RIGHT IN IT;
It's the right thing to do for your children and wife,
THEN STAY IN IT.
Remember that fires take your goods "out of sight,"
And that accidents happen each day and each night.
While insurance protects every minute,
IF YOU'RE IN IT.

A Bank Manager's Opinion.

HE IS "IN IT."

The General Manager of one of the leading banks in Canada, writing to a personal friend, says:—"I have no hesitation in saying that I place the CANADA LIFE upon the highest platform. It is in my opinion carefully, economically and honestly managed; its Reserve Funds are well invested; its rates of Premiums are low, and its future is, I think better assured than a great majority of Companies. I have my own life insured in the Company for a round amount, and would not hesitate to increase the amount of my policies should I decide upon taking out further insurance."

A Government Insurance Actuary's Opinion

On the Relation between Ordinary and Tontine Service.

It is frequently asserted by Companies whose business is nearly all tontined, that although the CANADA LIFE may and does pay large ordinary profits, yet it cannot compare so favourably on a long term distribution or tontine period, and that in the end better results can be obtained on a tontine policy in a large American Co. than on an ordinary or tontine policy in the CANADA LIFE. To prove the absurdity of this statement, the following piece of common sense is quoted from Mervin Tabor, late Actuary of the Illinois Goverment Insurance Department. In his well known book, "The Three Systems of Life Insurance," he says: "A company that gives large dividends on the ordinary kind of policies, can give much larger on the same kinds when Tontined, and a company that pays but meagre dividends on the usual forms, adopting perhaps the Tontine system to "cover up" its small surpluses, cannot be relied on for large returns of surplus under the Tontine Forms of Insurance."

The CANADA LIFE does not "cover up" its Quinquennial profits as some Companies do, but publishes them throughout the country.

It can and does surpass other Companies on Quinquennial profits. It should and will surpass them on Tontine profits.

WHY TO BE "IN IT."

BISHOP HAWKE'S REASON:—"I claim that Life Insurance is not only a humane, but I might say a Christian Institution."

LORD LYNDHURST'S REASON:—"A Policy of Life Insurance is always an evidence of prudent forethought. No man with a dependent family is free from reproach if not insured."

WHEN TO BE "IN IT."

The younger, the cheaper. Therefore insure when young. Besides, by insuring in the CANADA LIFE now, you will share in three years' profits.

WHERE TO BE "IN IT."

The best place to be "in it" is in the Company that gives the best returns for the least money, consistent with absolute security. Therefore, in order to be "in it," choose the Lecture at the Collegiate Institute.

Don't forget the lecture this evening at 8 o'clock in the assembly hall of the Collegiate Institute. The speaker will be Rev. H. Symonds, M.A., rector of St. Luke's Church, and his theme will be an interesting one—on Ancient Civilizations and Modern Civilization. A fine programme has also been prepared. Parents of children and all those interested in the cause of education should not allow the opportunity to pass without hearing this lecture. Remember this evening at 8 o'clock in the Collegiate Institute. Admission 20 cents. 4-1t

Addresses on Foreign Mission.

The week of prayer service held in the Baptist church last evening was well attended. Rev. J. E. Trotter was the chairman and conducted the opening devotional exercises. Rev. Geo. Edwards and Rev. A. MacWilliams were also present. Mr. Edwards' address on "Foreign Missions" was timely and exhaustive. He spoke hopefully and furnished many facts, showing the spread of the Gospel and the evangelization of the world at no distant date. To-night the last meeting of the series will be held in St. Andrew's church. Rev. Messrs. Thom and Trotter will be the speakers on the topic of "Home Missions and Missions to the Jews."

Harry Lindley Company.

The Harry Lindley Company appeared at the opera house last evening to another packed house. The grand fairy extravaganza founded on the nursery story of "The Sleeping Beauty in the Wood" was enacted with pleasing effects and enlivened by singing and dances. Mr. Roy, with his calcium light effects, threw the mellow coloured light upon the pretty scenes and charming tableaux during the evening. To-night "East Lynne." On Saturday afternoon there will be a matinee, and on Saturday night two plays, "Ten Nights in a Bar-room" and "Muldoon's Picnic."

Horses Should be Tethered.

Chief of Police Roszel stated to a reporter this morning in the post office that it was no wonder there were so many runaways in Peterborough, caused mainly by the careless habit many citizens possess of leaving their horses untied while they take a run in the post office or do some shopping for a few minutes. This morning notwithstanding the frigid weather three teams were noticed standing on Hunter street, and not one of them tied. The animals which often would otherwise stand perfectly quiet, become benumbed with cold and move off in order to get warm, hence the fruitful source of runaways, and some of these days owing to the negligent habit there will assuredly be a serious, if not fatal, accident to record.

Bylaw No. 395, passed July 22nd, 1870, says:

"That no person shall ride or drive on any sidewalk or permit any vehicle to stand on any sidewalk or crossing, or leave any horse or horses in any street, lane or alley or other public place in the said town untied, or drive with a sleigh or cutter without at least two bells being attached to the harness or sleigh."

The Chief intends giving all offenders a fair warning, and if the above is not heeded, a batch of those who daily commit a breach of this law will have to face the magistrate. The penalty cannot exceed $50 exclusive of costs or 21 days in gaol.

SCORE ONE FOR SCUGOG CITY.

Lindsay's Nobby New Opera House Opened.

Last night saw the opening of the new Lindsay Opera House, by the Warrington Concert Company, of Toronto. The building is one of the finest in the province of its kind, and our sister town can indeed boast of being in that respect far in advance of Peterborough. The building is an ornament architecturally, as may be judged from the fact that Mr. Blackwell, our well known citizen, was the designer and superintendent, and when it is known that Mr. Richard Sheehy, also of Peterborough, had charge of the masonry and brickwork, that is certainly sufficient for a discerning public to know that "Dick" has finished his part of the contract in a manner most creditable to himself and the town he lives in. The opera house is 120 x 55 feet, with an auditorium 52 x 55 feet, seating, including the gallery, 900 people. The stage is about 35 feet deep and runs upwards the entire height of the roof, 50 feet. It is provided with an excellent stock of scenery, both flats and drops. Wm. McMaster, of Peterborough, did the carpenter work of the stage and did it well. The scenery was painted by A. Trato, of Chatham, and the interior decoration of the walls and ceilings of the auditorium was done by Elliott, of Toronto, one of the best establishments in Canada. The fine accoustic properties, the heating, the lighting and the decorating leave nothing to be desired, and before many days, it is to be hoped, that Peterborough will follow suit. The building was erected by a joint stock company of local men, and cost, land and all, about $18,000.

CRISP CURLING CHRONIQUES

What is Going on at the Rink Where Curlers Most do Congregate.

The three rinks of the Granites who went to Lakefield yesterday returned last night badly defeated. The ice on the Lakefield rink was in a capital condition. but very little light was admitted and one of the curlers remarked to-day that it was the first match he ever played in a cellar. Fourteen ends were played by each rink with the following result:

RINK NO. 1.

The Granites will have the use of the ice this evening.

The grocers appeared to be frightened because the hardware dealers stole a march on them and had a little practice on the quiet. Courage, coffee-dealers, and try and make the anticipated match a live issue. The nail shovellers are ready, willing and waiting.

HOCKEY HAPPENINGS.

The First Match of the Season Played Last Night.

The first hockey match of the season to place at the skating rink last night and was contested with a great deal of interest. The opponents were the boys of the Collegiate Institute Hockey team and all the students or visitors who are home for the holidays from all the colleges. Following are the names of the teams:—

Visitors.		Collegiate Institute.
H King	goal	C Halliday
P Goldsmith	point	(Capt) L King
T Ferguson	cover point	H Burnham
D C King (Capt)	centre	R Davidson
A Campbell, A Ferguson, C H Bradburn	forwards	V McWilliams, S. Adams, E Grubbe
R McWilliams	goal umpire	W J Drope
Referee		F Heap

The struggle resulted in an easy victory for the Collegiates, who, after an hour's hard playing succeeded in capturing six goals while their opponents made one. The victors showed to excellent advantage their recent practice and kept the puck well in hand to the sorrow of the collegians who lacked combined team playing and to practice. Four goals were scored in the first half, King making 2, Davidson 1, and Adams 1. In the second half two more were added by Adams and King. For the conquerers King, Grubbe, Davidson and Adams ably upheld their ends, while F. Ferguson, Goldsmith and D. C. King did the principal work for the losers.

A Long Procession

Of diseases start from a torpid liver and impure blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures every one of them. It prevents them, too. Take it, as you ought, when you feel the first symptoms (languor, loss of appetite, dullness, depression) and you'll save yourself from something serious.

In building up needed flesh and strength, and to purify and enrich the blood, nothing can equal the "Discovery." It invigorates the liver and kidneys, promotes all the bodily functions, and brings back health and vigor. For Dyspepsia, "Liver Complaint," Biliousness, and all Scrofulous Skin, and Scalp Diseases, it is the only remedy that's guaranteed to benefit or cure, in every case, or money is refunded.

RUSSIAN STUNDISTS

Forced to Become Slaves and Do Sentry Duty.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The Moscow correspondent of The Daily Chronicle describes at length the unsparing persecution of the Stundists in Kieff. Similar persecution, he says, has been carried on in the provinces of Western and Southern Russia since 1875.

Imprisonment, punishment, beatings, flogings and outrages that he would have considered incredible unless he had personally verified each case have been the lot of the wretched people.

In one village in the Kaperatinitz district the Governor had arrived early in September for the purpose of inquiring into the state of religion. In this inquiry he was assisted by local priests. Eventually the officials compelled the Stundists to abandon their own lands and shops to work in the communal lands during the day and do sentry duty in the village at night, so that they were hardly able to visit their homes at all.

Recently even women with nursing infants were compelled to assist in communal field work. The orthodox peasants superintended the others, and inflicted with impunity all sorts of brutality on the Stundists whenever the latter lagged in the field or fell asleep on sentry duty.

Although eventually menaced by mobs the Stundists still refused to embrace the orthodox religion. To make an example the village elder then one night summoned police and peasantry to his aid and took possession of a hut whose Stundist owner was absent on sentry duty.

The hut was fumigated with a noxious weed, so that the children were almost suffocated. As the mother still refused to abjure her faith, she was stripped naked and subjected to frightful indignities.

The party visited other houses where similar scenes were enacted unless the intended victims had received warning and escaped to the open steppes. In one case an elder and a coachman violated a woman in the absence of her husband. They dragged her about the floor until she became unconscious and afterward restored her to consciousness by sitting on her breasts and another puffing smoke from a noxious weed into her mouth. The visits and the same horrible scenes were of nightly occurrence until all the Stundists were driven to seek refuge in the steppes.

If husbands protested against the outrages committed on their wives, they were unmercifully beaten and appeals to the law had no effect beyond securing a reduction of the number of hours of communal work and sentry duty.

When the men engaged in the horrible work complained that they had exhausted the noxious weed they were informed that a fresh supply would be sent them and vodka besides. All are still enjoying freedom and continue the atrocities.

Yet But a Rumor.

BERLIN, Jan. 5.—The Tageblatt says that Dr. Senner of The New York Staats Zeitung is believed to have been selected by President-Elect Cleveland to succeed William Walter Phelps as United States Minister to Germany.

At the Foreign Office the correspondent of the International Telegraph Co. was informed that nothing to this effect had been heard there.

A Sensible Reply.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—According to the Rome correspondent of The Daily News the efforts made to induce the Pope to withdraw his support from the Republican Government in France on account of the Panama canal scandal have failed.

When the matter was broached it is said the Pope replied that the scandals did not affect the Republic, and that it was the duty of French Catholics to endeavor to purify politics.

A London Home Burned.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The residence of Dowager Lady Beatrice Orde, widow of Sir John Powlette Orde, and stepmother to the present baronet, was burned early this morning. Lady Orde and the servants were taken out of the windows by the firemen. None were injured. A large quantity of valuables and heirlooms of the Orde family, which is one of the oldest in the kingdom, were destroyed.

A Museum Purchased.

BERLIN, Jan. 5.—The German Wagner Society have purchased in Vienna the collection of manuscripts and other relics known as the Vienna Wagner Museum. The price was $25,000. The conditions of the purchase were that the owner of the collection should continue to add to it until 1895, when it will be transferred to Germany.

Fatal Explosion in a Mine.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 5.—A despatch from Retchitza, on the Dnieper, says that 65 men were killed by a mine explosion there yesterday. Four men severely injured were brought up from the pit shortly after the explosion.

Hungry For War.

PARIS, Jan. 5.—The Russian Generals Komaroff and Ichernaieff declare the Panama affair will have no effect upon the friendship Russia entertained for France. They say a war with Germany would be the most popular of all wars.

A Bee In His Bonnet.

LONDON, Jan. 5.—W. T. Stead says he believes that the possibility of communicating with the dead will soon be established by scientific proof.

Mormon Colony for Mexico.

SANTA ROSALIE, MEX., Jan. 5.—Elder John Stuart of Salt Lake City has obtained a concession from the Mexican Government for the establishment of a Mormon colony here, has arrived with 20 families, comprising about 100 persons.

This is the first instalment, as the colony is expected to number 2000 people. Nothing is stipulated in the concession with reference to the practice of polygamy.

Blaine's Illness.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Mr. Blaine was not feeling so well at 6 o'clock last evening as he felt earlier in the day. Dr. Johnson, his physician, says that there is no particular reason to assign for the change and that no danger is apprehended of another relapse.

Another Explosion.

TROY, Jan. 5.—An explosion of illuminating gas wrecked the four-story building at the corner of Ferry and Third-streets yesterday and Robert Sitz was seriously burned and injured. His wife received severe bruises, as did also Mrs. Dr. M. D. Dickinson. The Third-street wall was blown across the thoroughfare and the loss, a total one, will reach several thousand dollars. The cause of the explosion was a large leak in the gas meter.

A Sensible Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—A bill introduced in the House by Mr. Martin of Indiana provides that the term of all persons appointed to offices in the United States shall be for four years, whether under civil service or otherwise, and no person is to be eligible to hold office for more than eight years, and all persons having held offices for this length of time or longer are not to be eligible to hold office after July 4, 1893.

IN PLAIDS.

Becoming Costumes for Mother and Daughter.

The material of the mother's dress in the picture is rough woollen check, either brown and drab, black and gray, or blue and gray. The passementerie trimming and the belt are in a darker shade. The skirt is cut on the bias and lined. The front of the skirt must be gored, and the darts must be ironed quite flat. The back breadths fall in small pleats. Two rows of passementerie are sewn on to the edge of the skirt, which has a silk balayeuse underneath. The jacket is in two parts, one of which is in the form of a folded surah blouse and only reaches the waist. This is fastened in the middle with hooks and eyes. The back of the jacket fits closely to the figure, and reaches considerably below the waist, as seen in the engraving. There are slightly puffed sleeves with long cuffs, which are ornamented with embroidery. These rough woollen materials are much worn at present, in combination with silk and velvet.

The little girl's dress is of Scotch plaid cut on the bias. The skirt is lined with satin and slightly gathered so that the belt is made of the lining. The belt is of satin laid over stiff muslin, which must be first accurately fitted and then turned in on both sides and herring-boned. The underskirt has a small pleated flounce which is, however, not visible. The blouse has a plain yoke, over which the material is pleated, the pleats being ornamented with trimming similar to that on the belt. This waist is fastened invisibly at the back with hooks and eyes, the fastening being concealed under a fold of the material. The collar is stiff and plain; the sleeves are plain and tight-fitting down to the wrist but at the top they have two puffs, which are separated by bands of the trimming. This trimming also passes over the shoulders.

Mr. Edison contends that long-lived men always have "thick heads of hair." He says that his own father, who is yet vigorous at eighty-three, has a "wonderful head of hair;" but the Sun offsets this case by that of a citizen of New York over ninety who has been bald since he was in his twenties.

An instructive and pathetic custom still prevails in Munich. Every destitute child found begging in the streets is arrested and carried to a charitable institution. On his arrival he is photographed—dirt, rags and all. After being maintained and educated, when he quits the institution to begin life the before mentioned photo is given him, and he is required to make a solemn declaration that he will keep it as a reminder of the wretched state from which he was saved and the kindness shown. The charity has received many gifts from its reclaimed waifs.

TEA TABLE TALK.

It is a bad thing to give money to 'rounders who make systematic raids upon householders in the holiday season under one specious pretext or another.

In preparing a year's supply of the new Columbian postage stamps for 1893 $300,000 was allowed for the European demand. As no American stamps can be used in foreign countries this quantity simply preserves the requirements of foreign stamp collectors and indicates the extent of the collecting mania.

This year there is a dearth in the carved toys for a peculiar reason. They are made for the most part in the Batavian mountains, and the little lathes with which the cottager turns them are moved by the water power of the mountain streams. There was a drouth in the country early in the year and consequently the supply of turned toys dwindled.

The question has been raised in the newspapers whether "cousin" was used two hundred or more years ago for nephew or niece. Prof. Rolfe, of Harvard, the Shakespearean commentator, says that Shakespeare applies it at least nine times to a nephew, seven times to a niece, twice to an uncle, once to a brother-in-law, and four times to a grandchild. He also uses it eight times as a title given by princes to other princes and noblemen.

Robert S. Ball, the English astronomer, shows that "a very trifling proportional variation in the intensity of the sun's radiation might be competent to produce great climatic changes" (on the earth). It is, therefore, clear, says the Herald, that if violent solar paroxysms mean an unusual hot sun, causing even a slight abnormal rise of terrestrial temperatures in the hemispheres exposed to the sun's vertical rays, then years of increasing solar disturbance, as 1892, should bring us unusually warm summers and autumns and unusually cold winters and springs.

A charming Spanish legend holds sentimental Spain responsible for the pretty custom of wearing orange blossoms at weddings. "One of the Spanish kings," so reads the legend, "had an imported orange tree of which he was very proud, and of which the French ambassador was extremely anxious to obtain a slip. The gardener's daughter was poor, and requiring a dowry in order to marry her lover, she obtained a cutting of the orange tree and sold it to the ambassador for a high price. At her wedding she wore a wreath of orange blossoms in her hair in recognition of the plant to which she owed her happiness."

An Excellent Breakfast Dish.

Broiled rice is an excellent breakfast dish, and served with a poached egg on each portion, is valuably nutritious and strengthening. The rice is boiled the day before, and put away in a deep dish. The next morning it should be cut in slices, brushed lightly with melted butter, and broiled on a fine wire broiler over a rather slow fire. The eggs are poached, and one put on each slice of rice. Send to the table on a hot platter garnished with cresses or parsley.—New York Times.

ABOUT PERSONS.

Tennyson's personal estate proves to have a value of about $250,000. Browning's amounted to a little over $80,000, and Matthew Arnold's to only $50,00.

It is announced that the Empress of Austria intends to spend several weeks cruising in her steam yacht, the Miramare, the objective points being Madeira, the Canary Isles and the East Indies.

The return to Rome of Baron Schoesser, late German Minister to the Vatican, has much surprised his friends, as when he resigned his post a few months ago it was on the plea that the Roman climate was injurious to his health.

There is some criticism of Mr. Moody in Chicago because he has engaged as one of his evangelists for next summer's meetings the Rev. John McNeill, the eccentric Scotch preacher. Mr. McNeill is said to be much addicted to the use of slang in the pulpit, and though Chicago people are pretty free of slang themselves, they draw the line at its use in the pulpit.

During the past half-century—since the discovery of Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the average limit of human life in civilized countries, has been considerably lengthened. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is everywhere considered the standard blood-purifier, the Superior Medicine.

He Wears a Cod Fish.

A gentleman who was given up to die with consumption happened to receive a visit from a friend, who recommended "Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil." Although having little faith he bought a bottle, and before he was through taking it, found he was gaining flesh. He continued taking the Emulsion until he regained nearly fifty pounds. He is the heartiest man in town to-day. To commemorate his restoration to health he has had a beautiful cod fish manufactured, which he wears as a charm upon his watch chain. That is pretty good testimony for "Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil." Everybody is sounding its praises. In big bottles, 50c. and $1.00, at all Drug Stores.

A Cure for Dyspepsia.

In investigation the cause of this prevalent complaint it is found to rest principally in wrong action of the stomach and impurity of the blood. These exciting causes are easily removed by the regulating, purifying tonic and digestive effects of Burdock Blood Bitters, hence the success of B. B. B. in curing dyspepsia in any form, no matter of how long standing or how severe it may be.

HAMILTON, April 20, 1892.

I was doctoring for years with physicians for a scaly and scurvy affliction of the scalp, they told me it was eczema, but gave me no permanent relief. I was also troubled with excessive dandruff, which would drop from my head like snow flakes. Hearing of Anti-Dandruff I used it, and from the third application felt more relieved than for years; when half the bottle was used the eczema and scaly eruptions disappeared and have not returned since; dandruff was thoroughly removed, the itching of the scalp stopped, and for an elegant, clean and useful hair-dressing Anti-Dandruff has no equal.

MANITOBA SCHOOLS.

REPORT FROM THE SUB-COMMITTEE OF COUNCIL.

The Members Do Not Feel Called Upon to Express an Opinion—They Find Themselves Utterly Without a Precedent for Guidance.

OTTAWA, Jan. 6.—The sub-committee of council to which the petition of the Catholic minority of Manitoba for remedial legislation was referred has made a very voluminous report to council in which the whole case is reviewed at great length. After reviewing the course of legislation in Manitoba on the school question and the appeal to the Imperial Privy Council and its decision, the report of the sub-committee concludes:

As to the request which the petitioners make in the second paragraph of their prayer, viz., that it may be declared that the said Acts 53 Vic., 27 and 38, do prejudicially affect the rights and privileges with regard to denominational schools which the Roman Catholics had by law or practice in the Province of Manitoba at the time of the union, the sub-committee are of opinion that the judgment of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council is conclusive as to the rights with regard to denominational schools which the Roman Catholics had at the time of the union, and as to the bearing thereon of the statutes complained of, and Your Excellency is not, therefore, in the opinion of the sub-committee, properly called upon to hear an appeal based on these grounds.

That judgment is as binding on Your Excellency as it is on any of the parties to the litigation, and, therefore, if redress is sought on account of the state of affairs existing, it must be elsewhere and by other means than by way of appeal under the sections of the British North America Act and of the Manitoba Act, which are relied on by the petitioners as sustaining this appeal.

The two acts of 1890, which are complained of, must, according to the opinion of the sub-committee, be regarded as within the powers of the Legislature of Manitoba, but it remains to be considered and heard as an appeal against statutes which are alleged to have encroached on rights or privileges with regard to denominational schools which were acquired by any class of persons in Manitoba not at the time of the union but after the union.

The report then deals with the argument made before the sub-committee by Mr. Ewart, and after referring to the new points raised by the last petition continues as follows:

With reference to Mr. Ewart's contention that remedial legislation could only become necessary after the legislation of the Manitoba Government had been declared intra vires, the argument presented by counsel on behalf of the petitioners was that the present appeal comes from Your Excellency in council, not as a request to review the decision of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, but as a logical consequence and result of that decision in as much as the remedy now sought is provided by the British North America Act and the Manitoba Act as a remedy to the minority against statutes which interfere with rights acquired by the minority after the union. The remedy, therefore, which is sought is against acts which are intra vires of the Provincial Legislature.

His argument is also that the appeal does not ask Your Excellency to interfere with any rights or powers of the Legislature of Manitoba, inasmuch as the power to legislate on the subject of education has only been conferred on that legislature with the distinct reservation, that Your Excellency in council shall have power to make remedial orders against any such legislation which infringes on the rights acquired after the union by any Protestant or Roman Catholic minority in relation to separate or dissentient schools.

Upon the various questions which arise on these petitions, the sub-committee do not feel called upon to express an opinion, and so far as they are aware, no opinion has been expressed on any previous occasion in this case or any other of a like kind by Your Excellency's Government or any other Government of Canada. Indeed, no application of a parallel character has been made since the establishment of the Dominion.

The application comes before Your Excellency in a manner differing from other applications which are ordinarily made under the constitution to Your Excellency in council. In the opinion of the sub-committee the application is not to be dealt with at present as a matter of political character or involving political action on the part of Your Excellency's advisers. It is to be dealt with by Your Excellency in council, regardless of the personal views which Your Excellency's advisers may hold with regard to denominational schools, and without the political action of any of the members of Your Excellency's council being considered as pledged by the fact of the appeal being entertained and heard. If the contention of the petitioners be correct, that such an appeal can be sustained, the enquiry will be rather of a judicial than of a political character. The sub-committee have so treated in hearing counsel and in permitting their only meeting to be open to the public. It is apparent that several other questions will arise in addition to those which were discussed by counsel at that meeting, and the sub-committee advises that a day be fixed at which the petitioners or their counsel may be heard with regard to the appeal according to their first request.

The sub-committee think it proper that the Government of Manitoba should have an opportunity to be represented at the hearing and they further recommend, with that view, that in case this report should be approved a copy of any minute embodying it and of any minute fixing the date of the hearing with regard to the appeal be forwarded, together with copies of all the petitions referred to, to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba for the information of His Honor's advisers.

In the opinion of the sub-committee the attention of any person who may attend on behalf of the petitioners or on behalf of the Provincial Government should be called to certain preliminary questions which seem to arise with regard to the appeal.

TO CLEAR!
TO CLEAR!
TO CLEAR!

"Slaughter" is the word for this month. Stock-taking will be upon us in a few days, and, as we prefer to clear out many lines at a sacrifice for cash, rather than take them into stock again, a regular deluge of bargains awaits all shoppers at the GOLDEN LION. "A bird in the hand will be worth four in the bush" to us all this month, and the nimble quarter will buy as much as the slow dollar between now and stock-taking day.

QUARTERED.

The following lines are now offered at a sweeping reduction off original prices in order to clear them completely out—

1. Scalette Collars and Muffs.
2. Feather Boas.
3. Mantle Scalettes.

5. Childrens' Mantles.

Our aim, as on previous occasions, is to clear out stock—not bad stock, but first-class lines—at big reductions.

All who have patronized our January sales in the past, know that we mean business, and carry out, to the letter, our agreement.

THE BEST YET!

The month just following the holidays will be in every respect the grandest bargain season yet inaugurated at the RED FLAG. FENTON'S FOLLY.

Guilty of Manslaughter But Mercy is Recommended.

TORONTO, Jan. 7.—The jury at the assizes yesterday found Patrick Fenton of Highland Creek guilty of manslaughter and culpable negligence in the killing of Minnie Davis on Dec. 23.

The story, as gathered from the evidence, is as follows: Fenton, being a particular friend of the Davis family, was often at the house and was almost looked upon as one of the family.

On Monday, Dec. 26, he took his rifle with him when he went up to Davie's, on the chance of seeing a dog which he was desirous of shooting. He entered the kitchen and placed the rifle behind the door, while talking to the girls. Old man Davis called to him to load his rifle and hurry out, as the dog in question was out by the stables. Fenton placed a cartridge in his rifle, but by the time he reached Davis the dog had disappeared. Neglecting to draw the charge Fenton returned to the homestead and with the hammer at full cock danced into the parlor where Minnie Davis and her little brother were sitting by the fire. Minnie was sitting in a low rocking chair and was leaning back with her legs crossed and her feet resting on top of the stove. Fenton crossed the room and going behind Minnie pointed the rifle in fun (as he claims) at her back, at the same time pressing the trigger. The rifle discharged itself and the bullet tore through the body of pretty Minnie Davis, touching in its course such vital parts as to cause her death.

The little sister and brother were also in the track of the bullet, and each received deep flesh wounds in the lower part of their body.

Not being braced, the rifle recoiled with terrific force, almost knocking the boy off his feet.

As soon as Minnie realized that she had been shot she threw her arms around Fenton's neck and was assisted to the sofa by him, after which he immediately left to summon a doctor.

Mr. James A. Macdonald, counsel for the prisoner, brought no evidence in defence, resting his case on that adduced by the crown.

In his address to the jury Mr. Macdonald described the bright, happy homestead, with its one empty chair in such touching language that many of the jurymen, as well as those assembled in the body of the court, were well nigh moved to tears.

In returning their verdict of guilty, the jury coupled with it a strong recommendation to the judge for mercy. His Lordship will consider the recommendation when disposing of the case.

When the judge entered the court room in the morning, Foreman Plews of the grand jury rose to lay a grievance before His Lordship. The jury were considerably worked up over the fact that Elijah Armstrong and David Plews had been approached by County Constable Edwards and told that but for the interference of Mr. Tyrell of Weston and Mr. A. L. Willson of Eglinton a true bill would have been returned against Britton for manslaughter.

The jury were most indignant, and the judge promised them to deal with the constable on the merits of the case. A bench warrant has been issued for his arrest.

True bills were brought in by the grand jury against W. F. Maclean, libel, two charges; Charles G. Flick, non-support; Harry Hosier, false pretences.

REPLY TO ROSS.

Hanlan Will Row the Black Brunswicker Every Day in the Week.

TORONTO, Jan. 7.—Ned Hanlan was in a merry mood last night when spoken to in regard to the challenge of Wallace Ross. He said:

"If Richard K. Fox will put up a purse of $2500 with his cup I will be only too willing to row Wallace Ross at the time specified in his challenge over any suitable course the donors of the cup may choose."

"As Ross is The Police Gazette champion I do not think that R. K. F. will have any objection to back his champion for $2500 or put up $2500 with his cup, but I cannot afford the time to row simply for the bald-beaded cup," continued Hanlan logically.

"I would like to make a race with half a dozen such men as Ross. I could row people of that calibre every day in the week of six days for $1000 a match," he concluded.

A SAD CASE.

A Widow and Four Small Children in Montreal Were Found Starving

MONTREAL, Jan. 7.—A woman named Mrs. Proulx, who with her four little children occupies a room in the house No. 42 St. Dominique-street, is starving and no one seems willing to lend her a helping hand. To make matters worse, the woman from whom she rents the room is also too poor to keep her for nothing and threatens to put her out.

The case of destitution came to the ears of Sergeant Soulliere, who visited the house and found the little children clinging to their mother. The unfortunate woman is only 24 years of age, and was left a widow four years ago. She had been working in a restaurant in McGill-street, but was told one day not long ago that her services were no longer required.

For some time afterwards she tried to find work, but without success, and then she meditated on suicide, the thoughts of her children alone saving her from ending her life.

Cure Hebert of Notre Dame Church gave her some money, but this was soon exhausted, and for quite a while she has been living simply on bread and water. She informed the officer that this state of affairs could not last much longer. The cure of Notre Dame was informed of the poor woman's condition, and he stated that he would again aid her. To-day Soulliere will place the case in the hands of Mr. Marshall of the S.P.W. and C., and an effort will be made to provide for the woman and the youngsters.

Killed at a Fire.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 7.—An immense cotton warehouse in Juniper-street, this city, caught fire at midnight and the flames spread to two adjoining warehouses, in which cotton was stored. All were gutted. Eleven thousand bales of cotton were destroyed. Loss, $750,000. One of the walls fell, killing three firemen and injuring a number of others seriously.

A Rum Distiller Fails.

PARIS, Jan. 7.—Marius Henard, a rum distiller of Martinique and member of the Chamber of Deputies for that island, has failed. Liabilities 1,000,000 francs.

OHIO RIVER ICE GORGE.

OVER $100,000 WORTH OF DAMAGE DONE.

A Large Number of Coal Barges Taken Away by the Moving Ice and Destroyed —The Danger is Not Over and the Situation is Still Threatening.

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 7.—The floating ice in the river gorged at 9 a.m. between the Louisville and Nashville bridge and the Cincinnati Southern Railway bridge. This is a distance of two miles. Below the river was clear.

In this immense raft were locked all the coal fleets, the mine packets and several tow boats.

The harbor boats Comet, Ben Wood and Alice Barr tried all day to break the gorge, but without result. At 4.30 o'clock this immense body of ice began to move in a solid mass. The packets and tow-boats to all appearance escaped with little or no injury. On the other hand every coal fleet suffered. The principal destruction is the following:

Pittsburg Coal Co., four barges and two floats, value $10,000. These were on the Ohio side of the river.

Just opposite them at Ladlow, Ky., Mr. Bush lost his 16 barges, valued at $60,000. Seven miles further down the river is Addiston on the Ohio side of the river. Here two barges and three floats have been taken away, valued at $10,000. These are all the losses definitely ascertained. Other inevitable incidental losses are estimated at $30,000, making a total of $100,000.

But the danger is not over and the situation is still threatening. At 9 o'clock to-night the gorge stopped at North Bend, 13 miles below here. Another gorge at the same time formed just above Lawrenceburg, Ind., 23 miles down the river. Between these two gorges the water is clear.

In the front of the upper gorge are locked coal boats and barges. Behind them is three miles of ice. There seems scarcely a possibility of saving any of the property in this prison of ice. The river above is open, but it is floating heavy. If another gorge forms here to-night greater damage will be done.

LIZZIE O'BRIEN.

She Interests Police Circles By Not Paying Hotel Bills.

TONAWANDA, Jan. 7.—The Chief of Police has heard from the Chief of Police of Toronto that the woman who was arrested here for not paying her hotel bills and was declared insane, and has since escaped, is believed to be a woman who operated at Toronto a year ago.

The Toronto chief says the woman assumed the name of Lizzie O'Brien while in Toronto and soon afterwards she went to London, where she beat two hotels in the same manner. The police lost track of her after she left London and had not heard of her to the time of her arrest in Tonawanda. The woman is of short, thick stature, is apparently about 30 years old and has dark hair and light eyes. When seen last in Tonawanda she wore a black dress and a long white cloak.

AN IRON PIER.

Destroyed by the Sea—Fierce Storm Along the Coast.

LONG BRANCH, N.J., Jan. 8.—The fierce snow and windstorm which prevailed along the entire New Jersey coast wrought terrible carnage to property and the bluff. A heavy sea raged all day yesterday and to-day. The Shrewsbury Hotel at Seabright is being undermined.

The street is being washed away by the sea and has caused the stopping of trains running to Highlands on the Southern road. The bulkheads and bluff at that place are also going to pieces. The Long Branch iron pier is a total wreck. The high sea has carried off a greater portion of the structure. The entire bluff on Chelsea-avenue is gone. Not a single foot of bluff at that point remains.

The Panama Railroad.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The Panama Railroad has practically passed out of the control of the Panama Canal Company. A cable enquiry was sent to Paris, and a reply was received last evening which settled the disposition of the isthmus railroad shares. The information given by the despatch was as follows: The Canal Company owned 68,534 shares of Panama Railroad stock, out of the total of 70,000 shares. These 68,534 shares are not in the possession of the receiver, M. Monchicourt. They are held chiefly by two individuals. Paul Arthur Cheramy holds 30,500 shares, M. Hyronimous holds 37,000 shares and A. M. Boudet is in possession of 1071 shares. The 68,534 shares are thus accounted for to the number of 68,521.

The shares held by Messrs. Cheramy, Hyronimous and Boudet came into their possession as security for the contractors on the canal works of the isthmus.

Trouble Among Siwashes.

SEATTLE, Wn., Jan. 7.—From passengers who have arrived from Alaska on the steamer City of Topeka it is learned the salmon canneries at Chilcat were burned two weeks ago and were a total loss.

Cape Fox Indians had a pow-wow on Dec. 24 to settle a long-standing feud between two families, but not being able to come to an agreement they got drunk and a fight ensued, during which one man was killed and several wounded.

That night the friends of the murdered man drew lots to avenge the murder. An aged squaw drew the lot and next day walked up behind the murderer and fired two barrels of a shot gun into his back.

She then went to her hut and loaded the gun again and sent her son to see that the job was finished. He found the man dead. This has started a vendetta and serious trouble is expected.

Blizzard in Michigan.

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., Jan. 7.—The worst blizzard for many years struck this section early yesterday afternoon. Traffic of all kinds is practically suspended. The wind has blown sand and snow into railroad cuts north and south of here to the depth of 10 feet.

A FATHER'S INSANITY.

Killed Himself and Four Children for a Mother's Folly.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—A despatch to The Times says that a laundryman named Herins, heart broken on account of his wife's unfaithfulness, killed his four children and himself in Paris last night. He closed all the windows, locked the doors, put his children to bed and then burned a half-bushel of charcoal in the open stoves, so as to fill the rooms with poisonous fumes. While waiting for death Herins wrote on the floor with chalk frightful denunciations of his wife and her lover.

CANADIAN PARLIAMENT.

Fines Imposed On Two Vessels Guilty of By-Compounding Matches.

OTTAWA, Jan. 7.—The Americans [illegible] have been very fond of laming Canadians for smuggling Chinamen into the United States, but the fact of the matter is, the most smuggling there is of that kind is done by Americans.

Hon. G. Wallace, Conservative of Colchester, had another opportunity [illegible] cases which bear out this contention. [illegible] were those of the schooner Queen [illegible] and the sloop Halcyon, both [illegible].

The former was seized in North Saanich, B.C., and the latter at Sea Lions. Both were charged with infraction of the customs laws in not reporting, and each was fined the full maximum the law allows, $500. And in addition the Ocean Belle was fined $200 for having on board a Chinaman who was not registered.

These fines were confirmed by Comptroller Walker yesterday.

The Halcyon is an old offender, and both vessels have the reputation of being engaged in smuggling Chinamen into the United States.

The revenue for the six months ended 31st December is $18,559,025, and expenditure $13,842,497. This shows an increase in revenue of $806,545, and a decrease in expenditure of $797,902, as compared with same period last year. The surplus at the end of last month was $4,716,528, but this has since been reduced by about $3,000,000 by the semi-annual payment of the provincial subsidies and a large amount of interest on the public debt which falls due in January.

The net debt of the Dominion has decreased $3,213,929 since the close of the last fiscal year.

All the banks here report that January payments were more promptly met on the fourth than usual and that the business outlook is better than it has been for years.

AN ACTOR'S LOSS.

He Hires a Dresser in Toronto, to Whom He Entrusts $75.

TORONTO, Jan. 7.—Mr. Franklin McLeay of Wilson Barrett's company is the victim of misplaced confidence and now mourns the loss of $75, while a young man in whose charge he gave it is now being looked for by the Montreal police. While the company was playing at Toronto two weeks ago Mr. McLeay secured as a dresser a young man, about five feet eight inches in height, who said he came from Montreal, but Mr. McLeay did not learn his name. The dresser gave satisfaction, and on the Saturday evening at the close of the Toronto engagement said he would join Mr. McLeay again at Montreal. This he did, and on Monday was at the Queen's Theatre when the company arrived, and he assumed his old position. Thursday evening before going on the stage Mr. McLeay gave him $75 to take care of, and that was the last seen of him. After an hour's wait the police were notified and are now looking for him.

ORATORY IN PARIS.

A Marquis Raises a Row by Anti-Semitic Declamation.

PARIS, Jan. 7.—A great anti-Semitic meeting was held at the Tivoli Vauxhall last evening under the supervision of the Libre Parole group. The hall was packed and the first two speakers were received apparently with enthusiastic approval.

The principal speaker of the evening was the Marquis de Mores. He began his address with a general onslaught on the Jews as the corrupters of French honesty and the haters of French honor.

A tremendous uproar greeted these assertions, and about 50 men started forward to dispute with the Marquis his place on the platform. At the steps to the platform they met some 30 partisans of the Libre Parole group, who showed fight.

Police Commissary Veron announced that unless the disorder ceased he must dissolve the meeting and a snort lull followed. The Marquis de Mores expounded at some length his ideas on Socialism and strikes, and then suddenly returned to the subject of the Jews with the declaration that were it not for them and other capitalists like them the social question would be solved easily.

The Jews, he said, had brought about the state of affairs which was culminating in the Panama scandal. They rejoiced in such ruin of French reputations.

About 300 persons rose, groaning and hissing, as the Marquis de Mores reached this climax. The rest of the audience cheered or shouted for order so that the speaker might proceed. The Marquis, whose voice had been partially inaudible for several minutes before the outbreak, could not be heard by those almost within arm's length, although he continued talking and gesticulating.

Eventually the Libre Parole crowd made a rush for the principal disturbers, upsetting and smashing seats and trampling down all antagonists in the way.

Commissary Veron then called in two bodies of policemen, each 100 strong, and cleared the hall.

A Loaded Cigar.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The Paris correspondent of The Standard says that a cartridge 5 inches long and 2 inches in diameter with a lighted fuse attached to it was thrown into the audience at the anti-Semitic meeting last night. The cartridge was carried out by a policeman, and the police are now trying to give the impression that the cartridge was only a cigar.

The Paris correspondent of The Morning Post attended the meeting called by the Libre Parole at the Tivoli Vauxhall last night. He described it thus:

A lighted cigar was thrown from the gallery while the Marquis de Mores was speaking. It was mistaken for a bomb and produced a partial panic. Then a determined effort was made to storm the platform, packed with reporters, whose position became exceedingly critical. Iron chairs and tables were thrown about. The Marquis de Mores and his little band of adherents were obliged to stand their ground, as there was no rear exit.

There was a terrible struggle. Many nasty wounds were inflicted. De Mores and his party fought their way to the floor, where a pitched battle was fought by the police and the factions of the audience.

Many were removed unconscious from the hall and numerous arrests were made.

Serious developments were averted only by the moderation of the police.

A DECLINING CHAMPION.

OUR evening contemporary, the defender of deficits and the champion of civic incompetency and the protector of the oppressors of the poor—ratepayer—and the rich one too, for that matter, almost covers another column, and in so doing does everything but accept the EXAMINER'S challenge in respect of the over $6,000 deficit of '92. The ratepayers are not interested in the personal position in the matter occupied by Mr. Statton or Mr. Kendry or the Review. What they want to have is some authoritative decision as to whether there is a deficit of $6,000 or not. The EXAMINER says their is, and challenges either Mr. Kendry or the Review to an investigation by an independent and competent financial authority—an investigation that will settle the question and at the same time add $100 to the charity fund of the town. They both decline to accept our simple challenge, which may be repeated thus: That after allowing for the deficit, which the council of '92 claim they carried forward from '91, there is a shortage of $6,000 in the financial operations of the year 1892. If our contemporary thinks that we are ignorant, as it asserts, of the financial affairs of the town, let it cover our challenge and then it can be proven who is right and who is wrong. Surely they can find some man in Peterborough in whose financial ability they have sufficient confidence to act in their behalf in the proposed independent audit. We have no fear of not finding one on our behalf and are satisfied to have those two select a third. Our contemporary declining to accept the challenge is prima facie evidence of its belief in the existence of a deficit of $6,000 and over.

WHAT THE POLITICIANS SAY.

A Hopeful Outlook for the Trent Valley Canal—Finance Minister Foster's Wet Blanket.

Subjoined is a quotation from the utterances of politicians full of promise for the immediate construction of the Trent Valley Canal with an appendix in the shape of the latest official utterances, indicative of the policy of the government on the subject. After what Hon. Mr. Foster says at the Board of Trade Banquet in Toronto, on Thursday night, we may continue, indefinitely, the whistling we have done for the Trent Valley Canal:—

He stated that the Minister of Public Works had given him (Mr. Stevenson) every assurance that the Trent Valley Canal contract between Peterborough and Lakefield would be let during the coming summer. This was no election dodge, because the elections were now all over. He hoped the next summer (1888) to see thousands of men employed. (Applause.) —James Stevenson, M.P., at Opera House, night of his first election, Feb. 23rd, 1887.

The Government is ready to build the canal (Trent Valley). The Conservative candidates are ready to uphold the Government in the work and urge it forward; the rest remains with the electors.—Peterborough Review, Feb. 20th, 1891—closing sentence of report of finding of Trent Valley Canal Commission.

KINGSTON, March 3rd, 1891.

James Stevenson, Esq.:

The Trent Valley Canal commissioners having reported favourably on the completion of the scheme, Parliament will be asked in the Estimates next session for a grant for the purpose.

JOHN A. MACDONALD.—

Telegram sent to Mr. Stevenson a few days before the polling in March, 1891.

He had told them four years ago after the election that he believed the Trent Valley Canal would be undertaken at once.—Mr. Stevenson, M.P., at a monster meeting in the Opera House, Feb. 4th, 1891.

To-day we stand within a measurable distance of seeing a time when the account for the great public works * * shall have been finished, and the account in regard to them closed—Hon. George Foster at the Board of Trade banquet, Toronto.

In view of this encouraging outlook it may be suggested that "we are within a measurable distance of the time when the Member for West Peterborough "would send in his resignation," which was to be done in case work on the Trent Valley Canal did not forthwith begin. If Mr. Foster had known the great risk he ran of losing a supporter by blacklisting the Trent Valley Canal he would have been a little more cautious. We are afraid that Mr. Stevenson, in making the promises quoted above, did not realize the twisters and squirmers he was dealing with at Ottawa.

THE BIGGEST DAY IN 7 YEARS!

Saturday, December 3rd was the biggest day MR. J. J. SHEEHY has had in seven years. Why is this? Surely not because there is less competition. Certainly not because inducements are not being held out by others. Most assuredly not because prices of farm products are showing an upward tendency. Then why??

Simply because the purchasing public of the town and surrounding country have read Mr. Sheehy's advertisements, have inwardly digested them and have concluded that cheap sale or no cheap sale Mr. Sheehy is bound not to be undersold

We want every day in December to be a big day. How are we to accomplish this? Simply by offering to the public better value for the money than can be had elsewhere. Just cast your eye over the following quotations:—

All Wool Flannels, 28 in. wide, - -	17½	Good Linen Towels each - - -	5½
9 lb. Wool Blankets, - - - - -	$3.75	Grey Wool Blankets, - - -	31c. a lb.
14 yds. Heavy Grey Canton Flannel,	$1.00	25 yards Factory Cotton, - -	$1.00

These few quotations will probably give an idea of what we are doing and a glance at our BARGAIN TABLE in the centre of our store will convince the most skeptical that when it comes to general bargains we certainly are very decidedly "in it."

HIGH LIVING, if you keep at it, is apt to tell upon the liver. The things to prevent this are Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Take one of these little Pellets for a corrective or gentle laxative — three for a cathartic. They're the smallest, easiest to take, pleasantest and most natural in the way they act. They do permanent good. Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Sick or Bilious Headache, and all derangements of the liver, stomach, and bowels, are prevented, relieved, and cured.

They're guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case, or your money is returned.

The worst cases of Chronic Catarrh in the Head, yield to Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. So certain is it that its makers offer $500 reward for an incurable case.

A favorite among the vogues is the cloak that hangs straight and full from the shoulders, and giving a square outline. It certainly isn't graceful or pretty, but is very stylish. This part of the cloak is made of the very latest rage in cloth, the ground being of one color with raised dots all over it of a contrasting color. I saw one yesterday of gray ground with royal purple spots. To the cloak part is added a very full cape that is about shoulder length, but so very full that it stood straight out from the collar to its edge at the shoulders. The cape was plain gray trimmed with silver passementerie, and it had the ever-present little box-pleat in the back. No outline could be queerer than that made by the back view of this cloak, but it was stylish. I chased the girl because I knew she had red-brown hair all in her eyes and about her ears, and big, soft, brown eyes. And she had that thick dead camelia white skin that is so lovely, and a beautiful chin, with a general way of carrying her head that only stylish women have. She might not have been considered pretty, but a stylish girl is worth two of such.

Cameos will come back if the little short-waisted street dresses do, and the little pokes that used to go with them. Many of us have a cameo or so tucked away. Bring them out, in their old setting just as they are. The big oval pin that grandmamma used to wear, with the profile of her long departed husband cut on it, will do very nicely, though it would be more picturesque if it were the features of the delicate little lady instead of those of her spouse carved thereon. By the way, do you know that there are cameo cutters in every large city? Most of them are very poor, and will, for little more than the price of the stone, cut for you a likeness of yourself or of anyone from a picture—profile, of course. It is such a pretty present to make just now when cameos are sure to be quite the thing presently.

A dress that I have just seen as imported from Paris as a model for duplication by a dealer. It has a jacket effect that sulls widely back from a very bright waistcoat. The rolling shows the very bright lining of the jacket, and the whole is the nicest sort of thing for a reception, but a bit loud for the street. At any rate, if you feel it is, you can roll the jacket shut, instead of open, and so it only shows its dark cloth and not a hint of the gay lining, and so it also hides the waistcoat, all but just a little glimpse. All around the neck, at the lower edge of the collar, is a narrow fold of the cloth, not quite all around but just around the back and out to the edges of the roll of the jacket. When the jacket was rolled back and open it was held in place by passing the ends of this fold to the back of the neck and buttoning them there under the cute little bow that finished one end. Now that you wear the jacket the other way you loosen the fold and fasten it in front. There it has the dearest clergyman tie effect you can fancy, and adds to the suddenly demure change.

Don't think that the little woman with no figure is going to look badly in a short-waisted dress. She may not have much figure but she is going to look about thirteen years old if her face permits it at all, and that is an advantage. The little woman I have in mind wore an absurd creation of cheese cloth in light blue. It was short-waisted and the sash had a big rosette in the middle of the back almost between the shoulders. She had the sort of figure one refers to as flap-sided and flat. But what of that? That is the sort of figure an undeveloped girl has, and behold the little woman looked about thirteen or fourteen. Since she was not that at all, but a very smart little woman who had really never had her fair chance in the late fashions, she sailed in and wiped out all the other women completely. She tripped about, held up her little gown and did baby talk. She took up the paper knife and said to the old fellow who was already her slave, "You let me alone, or I'll take this dagger and dag you," and it made the biggest hit of the whole evening. I tell you, there is going to be a big shake up of favorites this coming season.

Best Cure For

All disorders of the Throat and Lungs is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has no equal as a cough-cure.

Bronchitis

"When I was a boy, I had a bronchial trouble of such a persistent and stubborn character, that the doctor pronounced it incurable with ordinary remedies, but recommended me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I did so, and one bottle cured me. For the last fifteen years, I have used this preparation with good effect whenever I take a bad cold, and I know of numbers of people who keep it in the house all the time, not considering it safe to be without it."—J. C. Woodson, P.M., Forest Hill, W. Va.

Cough

"For more than twenty-five years, I was a sufferer from lung trouble, attended with coughing so severe at times as to cause hemorrhage, the paroxysms frequently lasting three or four hours. I was induced to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and after taking four bottles, was thoroughly cured."—Franz Hoffman, Clay Centre, Kans.

La Grippe

"Last spring I was taken down with la grippe. At times I was completely prostrated, and so difficult was my breathing that my breast seemed as if confined in an iron cage. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and no sooner had I began taking it than relief followed. I could not believe that the effect would be so rapid and the cure so complete."—W. H. Williams, Cook City, S. Dak.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE "IN IT."

A Life Agent called at a friend's place one day,
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had seen "the bore" coming and fled from his way
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had heard so much said, he was tired and sick
Of insurance and agents—'twas all a blank trick,
When one's coil must be shuffled to win it,
HE WASN'T IN IT.

A bit of a draft blew o'er his bald head,
HE WAS IN IT;
Pneumonia sent him straightway to his bed,
HE STAYED IN IT;
His doctor made of it a "quite special" case,
To save him for running still more of life's race,
But the grave took some chances to win it,
AND HE'S IN IT.

When approached by a gent for insuring your life,
GET RIGHT IN IT;
It's the right thing to do for your children and wife,
THEN STAY IN IT.
Remember that fires take your goods "out of sight,"
And that accidents happen each day and each night
While insurance protects every minute,
IF YOU'RE IN IT.

A Bank Manager's Opinion.
HE IS "IN IT."

The General Manager of one of the leading banks in Canada, writing to a personal friend, says:—"I have no hesitation in saying that I place the CANADA LIFE upon the highest platform. It is in my opinion carefully, economically and honestly managed; its Reserve Funds are well invested; its rates of Premiums are low, and its future is, I think better assured than a great majority of Companies. I have my own life insured in the Company for a round amount, and would not hesitate to increase the amount of my policies should I decide upon taking out further insurance."

A Government Insurance Actuary's Opinion

On the Relation between Ordinary and Tontine Service.

It is frequently assertedby Companies whose business is nearly all tontines, that although the CANADA LIFE may and does pay large ordinary profits, yet it cannot compare so favourably on a long term distribution or tontine period, and that in the end better results can be obtained on a tontine policy in a large American Co. than on an ordinary or tontine policy in the CANADA LIFE. To prove the absurdity of this statement, the following piece of common sense is quoted from Mervin Tabor, late Actuary of the Illinois Goverment Insurance Department. In his well known book, "The Three Systems of Life Insurance," he says: "A company that gives large dividends on the ordinary kind of policies, can give much larger on the same kinds when Tontined, and a company that pays but meagre dividends on the usual forms, adopting perhaps the Tontine system to "cover up" its small surpluses, cannot be relied on for large returns of surplus under the Tontine Forms of Insurance."

The CANADA LIFE does not "cover up" its Quinquennial profits as some Companies do, but publishes them throughout the country.

It can and does surpass other Companies on Quinquennial profits. It should and will surpass them on Tontine profits.

WHY TO BE "IN IT."

BISHOP HAWKE'S REASON:—"I claim that Life Insurance is not only a a humane, but I might say a Christian Institution."

LORD LYNDHURST'S REASON:—"A Policy of Life Insurance is always an evidence of prudent forethought. No man with a dependent family is free from reproach if not insured."

WHEN TO BE "IN IT."

The younger, the cheaper. Therefore insure when young. Besides by insuring in the CANADA LIFE now, you will share in three years' profits.

WHERE TO BE "IN IT."

A Large Supply of Wood.

Mr. J.J. McBain, the active chairman of the Property Committee of the School Board, has just completed the purchase of between 400 and 500 cords of wood for the use of the town schools during the winter. The wood was bought at a much finer figure than in previous years. Mr. McBain paid for the best green tamarac, 4-feet long, $2.25 per cord, and for the best dry tamarac $2.40 to $2.50 per cord. This large supply was contracted for by several men.

Weir-McLachlan Nuptials.

On the evening of December 28, a very pleasant event took place at the residence of Mr. Jas. McLachlan, Peterborough street, says the Norwood Register, when a number of guests assembled to witness the marriage of his daughter Edith to Mr. John Weir, of Madoc. The Wedding March was played by Miss Raddon, and the bride was given away by her father. Miss Hattie McLachlan and Miss Mabel Foster assisted the bride, the groom being supported by Mr. J. Martin, of Havelock. After the ceremony, a sumptuous repast was partaken of. Mr. and Mrs. Weir left on the midnight train to visit friends in the east, followed by the hearty good wishes of their many friends. The presents were numerous and beautiful.

An Unusually Sad Case of Affliction.

Diptheria has visited the home of Mr. Wm. Kane, who resides near Pigeon lake in Enfinsmore township, with very a heavy hand. On Monday last, Mr. Kane was in town to procure a coffin to bury a five year old child of his which had died from the effects of diphtheria. But the germs of the dread disease had been scattered in the household and as a consequence another boy child about two years old and also the father died yesterday and will be buried to-morrow. The mother and a young daughter who are also afflicted were removed to St. Joseph's hospital last evening. The family have the sympathy of the whole community in their terrible loss and suffering. The late Mr. Kane was about 30 years of age and was a respectable farmer, who formerly came from near Harwood. He had only been married some eight or nine years.

Friday Evening, January 13th, 1893.

The grand concert advertised for the above date will be well worth the patronage of the music-loving public. Mr. P. Grenville Kleiser is an elocutionist of the highest merit, and at every appearance is received with great favour. The Toronto papers welcome him home (after an extended tour in the west) in terms of flattering regard as the leading elocutionist on the stage. Several attempts have been made to secure him for Peterborough in recent seasons, but the efforts have failed, his engagements extending far into the spring. A great treat may be looked for on the above date. Miss Minnie Gould, soprano, is a lady who is spoken highly of as a vocalist by competent critics. Miss Vair, of Peterborough, whom everybody will welcome back after an extended visit to Denver, is too well known to comment upon, except to say that she has decidedly improved in her singing since her last appearance here. The Peterborough Octette, composed of the best local talent, will render several selections, the closing one of which will be the beautiful octette "Good Night," from Ermine. A concert of such excellence will no doubt draw a large house.

For St. Vitus dance, and all nerve diseases, Dr. Butler's Golden Pills are a specific. If a speedy cure is not effected money refunded.

East Lynne Produced.

There was another well filled house last night at the opera house to see the Harry Lindley Company produce the great society drama "East Lynne." The characters were well displayed and the play put on in an unusually excellent manner. Miss Bell and H. O'Neil favoured the audience with capital songs. This afternoon the company gave a matinee, and to-night they will produce two plays of four acts each, viz., "Ten Nights in a Bar-room" and "Muldoon's Pic-nic." There will be several attractive features in addition.

Why Mr. Walter Kerr Speaks to All.

My taffy is the biggest stick for one cent you every did see. One stick will keep you chewing for one hour, and 10 cents will keep you chewing all day. Parties wanting to have a taffy social will do well to call and see me and my prices before calling elsewhere. Don't forget the address, W. KERR, Royal Candy Store, 419 Water street. 6d

Colorless, Emaciated, Helpless

A Complete Cure by HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

This is from Mr. D. M. Jordan, a retired farmer, and one of the most respected citizens of Otsego Co., N. Y.

"Fourteen years ago I had an attack of the gravel, and have since been troubled with my

Liver and Kidneys

gradually growing worse. Three years ago I got down so low that I could scarcely walk. I looked more like a corpse than a living being. I had no appetite and for five weeks I ate nothing but gruel. I was badly emaciated and had no more color than a marble statue. Hood's Sarsaparilla was recommended and I thought I would try it. Before I had finished the first bottle I could feel that I felt better, suffered less, the inflammation of the bladder had subsided, the color began to return to my face, and I began to feel hungry. After I had taken three bottles I could eat anything without hurting me. Why, I got so hungry that I had to eat 5 times a day. I have now fully recovered, thanks to

Hood's Sarsaparilla

I feel well and am well. All who know me marvel to see me so well." D. M. JORDAN.

CRISP CURLING CHRONIQUES

What is Going on at the Rink Where Curlers Most do Congregate.

At the rink yesterday afternoon Messrs. W. Sallsbury and E. A. Peck, of the Granites, played a thirteen-point game, with the following result:—

Sallsbury ..... 5 vs Peck 13

Wm. Hall and Geo. Howson, of the Thistles, also played a 13-point game. The former won by a score of 14 to 3.

The Peterborough club as a whole will play Lindsay soon and an interesting game is expected.

An inter-rink match of the Thistles occurred between Skips Rutherford and Ray at the rink last night. The former defeated the latter quite easily in a game of sixteen ends. The ice was very glary. Following were the rinks:—

F. Bartlett,	G. Howson,
J. McClelland,	A. Blade,
G. Brown,	S. Clegg,
S. Ray, skip.....24	T. Rutherford, skip...19

In the report of the Lakefield match yesterday an error crept in. The three three rinks of the Granites were defeated by only 17 points. Skip Hatton's quartette downed Skip Grylls' by a score of 14 to 12.

The match between the hardware firm and the grocers was to have come off last night, so say the former, but the grocers failed to fyle an appearance. It will, however, occur next week some night.

ANCIENT CIVILIZATION AND MODERN CIVILIZATION.

Eloquent Lecture Delivered by Rev. H. Symonds, M.A., Rector of St. Luke's Church Before the Collegiate Institute Library Society.

The attendance last evening assembled in the Assembly Hall of the Collegiate Institute, to hear Rev. Herbert Symonds, M.A., rector of St. Luke's church, Ashburnham, deliver his excellent lecture "Ancient Civilization and Modern Civilization," was very small indeed. The Literary Society are certainly not receiving that patronage from the citizens generally which the merit and educative influence of the lecture deserve. The chair was taken at eight o'clock by Mr. R. Max Dennistoun, M.A., who in a few eulogistic terms referred to the speaker's ability and splendid reputation, which had preceeded him. The chairman expressed deep regret at the small audience present as he felt that those present would enjoy a treat which they would not soon forget. He then called upon Rev. Mr. Symonds to deliver his lecture. The lecturer was received with applause and proved himself to be a fluent and graceful speaker, treating his subject in an admirable manner, which held the closest attention of his hearers.

The lecturer commenced by quoting the observation of Emerson, that civilization "implies the evolution of a highly organized man, brought to supreme delicacy of sentiment as in practical power, religion, liberty, sense of honour and taste." The Century dictionary defines civilization as the state of being "reclaimed from the rudeness of savage life, and advanced in arts and learning," whilst to civilise is to "introduce order and civic organization amongst man, to refine and enlighten, to elevate in social and individual life."

But by far the most luminous and complete exposition of all that is implied in the word civilization is to be found in the first of the distinguished French historian M. Guizot's lectures on the history of civilization in Europe. M. Guizot comprehends all the varied facts in the life of man under two heads. There are first of all the social facts, resulting in institutions, governments and so on, and secondly the individual facts "which seem to interest the human soul rather than public life," such as, creeds, philosophical ideas, science, letters and arts. "These facts appear to address themselves to man with a view to his moral perfection, his intellectual gratification, to have for their object his internal amelioration, his mental pleasure, rather than his social condition." Civilization then is the progress which mankind makes in the perfection of all its social relations, and of its individual well being, whether of body, soul or spirit. It was this idea of the perfect individual in the perfect state that Plato elaborated in his most famous dialogue The Republic. So too it is the same idea to which St. Paul gives expression less elaborately, perhaps less beautifully, but with far more ardour and practical power when he wrote. "There are diversities of gifts but the same spirit, and there are diversities of ministration, but the same Lord. But to each one is given the manifestation of the spirit to profit withal." Each individual is to use his own gift, but the ultimate aim is the upbuilding of the whole society.

It is necessary, in studying the history of civilization, to remember that European civilization is not an original creation, but is based upon preceding civilizations, which we call Ancient. And though these are in outward form gone forever, their spirit still resides in the body of modern civilization and renders their study of real practical interest to all.

Of ancient civilizations we shall altogether leave out of account those of Assyria and Babylonia, of Egypt and Phœnicia, because modern civilization owes very little, if anything, to them, and confine ourselves to those of Rome, of Greece and of Palestine. Each of these was developed from within. Each had a special character stamped upon it, and like specialists were extremely good at one thing, but were not good all round. They were intense, but narrow, and herein were individually far inferior to European culture, which has assimilated the strong points of all.

1. "The Roman genius," says Lowell, "was eminently practical, and far more apt for the triumphs of politics and jurisprudence than of art." Reverence for law, order and duty—this is the key-note of the Roman character and the source of its greatness. This genius for law may be traced out in every institution of the Republic. In the family it took the form of obedience to parental authority. The sanctity of the marriage bond was the source of the pure and lofty character of the Roman matron. The father of the family had an unlimited power over the children, and if emancipated it was by the same process as the manumission of slaves. When we turn from the family to the state it is the same. If the child gave absolute obedience to the father the man gave unswerving devotion to the State, as expressed in the senate. Patres conscripti—"Fathers and elect,"—is the title by which Cicero addressed that body. It is this reverence for law and order which first enabled Rome to conquer the world, and having conquered it to govern it. The Roman respected the deities of the conquered, and so propitiated their prejudices. He admitted the worthy conquered to citizenship, and founded colonies in the important towns and strategic posts—and so it has come to pass that Roman law to this day lies at the basis of European law. "The public reason of the Romans has been silently or studiously infused into the domestic institutions of Europe."—(Gibbon)

2. There is a vast difference between the Roman and the Greek, but the latter has been a not less potent influence in the civilization of Europe. The genius of Greece expressed itself in a consuming love of the beautiful. It is perfection of form at which the Greek aimed in all he attempted. "The Greek," says Robertson, "saw this world almost only on the side of beauty." This is obviously true of Greek art and architecture, but it is equally true of philosophy and literature. And therefore in our schools and colleges we turn to old Greece for the models which must be the foundation of literary effort, and therefore our museums are full of casts and copies of Grecian statuary, for the love of beauty has been absorbed by the European, and contributes its share to the development of its civilization.

3. The genius of the Hebrew is religious. The Bible contains almost the whole of his literature, and it is all directed to God. His laws are laws of God, his poetry Psalms, his wisdom "the fear of God," his preachers are prophets, and so it is that Europe simply incorporated the Hebrew religion, when in the "fullness of time" it burst into flower, and was carried by the Apostles, in a Greek dress, over the Roman world.

Thus the constituents of European civilization are derived from Rome, Greece and Palestine. Recognizing a divine providence over-ruling the destiny of man, may we not see inspiration in the development of the characters of Rome and Greece. For law is of God, and beauty is of God, just as are, holiness, piety and love. To recognize the finger of God in all that is good, will give a more earnest tone to all that we do, and will relieve self-culture from the petty conceits and vanity which often render it a by word.

Duty, art, religion, let these be woven together in our lives in harmonious proportions, and thus they will be lifted above the realm of the temporal and transitory, and exhibited as parts of the perfectly civilized state, the city not built with hands, eternal in the heavens, whose maker and builder is God, and whose materials are the spirits of just men made perfect.

At the close of the interesting lecture, Mr. D. W. Dumble, in an elaborate speech moved a hearty vote of thanks to Rev. Mr. Symonds for his exhaustive and masterly handling of his subject. This was seconded by Dr. Boucher and carried unanimously.

During the evening Miss Annie Hall sang a solo in a clear voice, and the Glee Club, owing to the unavoidable absence of some of its leaders, were unable to furnish glees, as they fully intended. The meeting dispersed shortly after nine o'clock with the singing of the National Anthem.

A Long Procession

Of diseases start from a torpid liver and impure blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures every one of them. It prevents them, too. Take it, as you ought, when you feel the first symptoms (languor, loss of appetite, dullness, depression) and you'll save yourself from something serious.

In building up needed flesh and strength, and to purify and enrich the blood, nothing can equal the "Discovery." It invigorates the liver and kidneys, promotes all the bodily functions, and brings back health and vigor. For Dyspepsia, "Liver Complaint," Biliousness, and all Scrofulous, Skin, and Scalp Diseases, it is the only remedy that's guaranteed to benefit or cure, in every case, or money is refunded.

RAILWAY CROSSING NOTICE.

In every station along the line of the Grand Trunk Railway there is posted up a large sheet of printed instructions to the company's employees, and one paragraph of these orders to conductors and brakemen reads as follows: "Level crossings must not be obstructed. No engine, tender or car must be left on any level crossing for a longer period than five minutes; and if, in any city, town or village a train is waiting for more than five minutes, it must be cut so as to leave the whole width of the roadway, including footpaths, clear. In such case the cars must not be coupled together again until the crossing is protected by a signal."

A CORNWALL MIRACLE.

HOW AN ESTEEMED CITIZEN REGAINED HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

Mr. William Moore's Interesting Story—His Friends Despaired of His Recovery, but he Once More Mingles With Them as Hearty as of Yore—A Story Full of Hope for Other Sufferers.

Cornwall Freeholder.

In this age there are few persons who do not take one or more newspapers, and it may be said with equal certainty that there are few who have not read from time to time of the marvellous cures effected by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. But reading is one thing, and believing what you read is another, and no doubt of the thousands who have read of the Hamilton miracle, the Saratoga miracle, the Calgary miracle and others that have appeared from time to time in the columns of the Freeholder, achieved, through the agency of Dr. Williams' marvellous little pellets, many may have laid aside the paper in unbelief. While, however, these people may not believe what happened at Saratoga or in Calgary, they would no doubt be convinced if one should bring to their notice a case in their own immediate vicinity where a marvellous cure was effected through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Every one in Cornwall knows Mr. Wm. Moore, who for years has driven the delivery waggon for Mack's Express Mills and when it was known last winter that his health was failing rapidly, very general regret was expressed by a large section of the community. His voice grew weaker, his laugh less hearty and it appeared that consumption had marked him for a victim. At last he was forced to give up work altogether and keep within doors. So things were till late in the summer, when he commenced to get about again, and he steadily improved until he was once more able to take up his calling and work as of yore. What worked so marvellous a change? A veritable miracle it was indeed. Hearing that Dr. William's Pink Pills had something to do with the case a reporter of the Freeholder called on Mr. Moore at his cosy home on Eight street and fortunately found him at home. Without any preliminary fencing the reporter said to Mr. Moore, "I am glad to see you so hearty and strong again; the last time I saw you it seemed as if your race was about run. I have heard that your wonderful recovery is entirely due to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills; have you any objection to tell me something about it?"

"No objection at all," said Mr. Moore. "Pink Pills did cure me and I am only too glad to let the world know all about that wonderful medicine. As you know I was a very sick man; indeed my life was despaired of.

MY WORK WAS VERY TRYING

and I was forced to be out in all sorts of weather, for people must eat, you know. It often happened that after lifting heavy sacks of flour or grain at the mill, I was in a profuse perspiration, and heated as I was I had to drive out in the face of a fierce storm, or with the thermometer ever so many degrees below zero. A man can't stand that kind of thing forever, and after a good many warnings I felt that something had really got hold of me and I was forced to quit work. I had heavy colds all the time, severe pains in the back and loins and no appetite whatever. I lost flesh continually until I was, as you remember, a mere shadow of my former self, and everybody that saw me thought that I was dying of consumption. I doctored for a couple of months; had poultices all over me and took a great deal of medicine. I will not say that the doctoring did no good, but it didn't do much, and I felt as I were never going to get any better. At this time my attention was directed to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People by reading an account of a case that seemed little short of a miracle. A sister of my wife had used them and had found them a valuable medicine, and strongly urged me to try them. I must confess that I did so with some reluctance. I had tried so many medicines without benefit that I despaired of finding anything to cure me, but my case was desperate and I yielded to the solictations of my friends and purchased a supply of pills from Mr. E. H. Brown, the druggist. I had not been taking them very long when I began to notice a difference in myself, and found my appetite, which been almost entirely gone, returning. I continued to take the Pink Pills and found my strength gradually returning, something I had despaired of. In a few weeks I had so far improved that I was able to go around, and was constantly gaining strength. I not only relished my food but it did me good, and I saw that I had at last hit upon the right remedy. Well to make a long story short I continued to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills until my old time strength had fully returned and I was able to go back to work. Since then I have been teaming every day, lifting heavy weights as usual, and I never felt better in my life. This is the whole story, and you may spread it freely. I was on the brink of the grave and you see me now. It was Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that restored me, and I know them to be a grand medicine, and would urge everybody whose symptoms are like mine to profit by my experience. My case may not be so wonderful as some I have read of, but it is miracle enough for me, and I can never say enough about Pink Pills, they are beyond any praise I can give them. I can only to give them a fair trial and I am confident they will never regret it.

URGE ANY WHO ARE IN DOUBT

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a perfect blood builder and nerve restorer, curing such diseases as rheumatism, neuralgia, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, St. Vitus' dance, nervous headache, nervous prostration and the tired feeling therefrom, the after effects of la grippe, diseases depending on humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. Pink Pills give a healthy glow to pale and sallow complexions, and are a specific for the troubles peculiar to the female system, and in the case of men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork, or excesses of any nature.

These Pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., and Schenectady, N. Y., and are sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark and wrapper, at 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50. Bear in mind that Dr. Williams Pink Pills are never sold in bulk, or by the dozen or hundred, and every dealer who offers substitutes in this form is trying to defraud you and should be avoided. all other so-called blood builders and nerve tonics, no matter what name may be given them. They are all imitations whose makers hope to reap a pecuniary advantage from the wonderful reputation achieved by Dr. William's Pink Pills for Pale People, and refuse all imitations and substitutes.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company from either address. The price at which these pills are sold makes a course of treatment comparatively inexpensive as compared with other remedies or medical treatment.

HOW TO CUT FODDER.

A Point That is Not as Clearly Understood as It Should Be.

In cutting hay and fodder the length of cut is of considerable importance. If the cut feed is to be wet and meal mixed with it, the shorter it is cut the better, fodder particularly, for it will take up the water more readily and become softer and more digestible as well as more palatable. If it is to be fed dry then it may be cut in lengths of an inch and one-half to two inches, this length being better than a shorter one for fodder, because the cows will not get their mouths sore on account of the hard pieces of stalk cutting their gums when they get the pieces upright between their jaws.

When the fodder is cut short and wet and softened this objection does not apply. The English farmers speak of "chaffing" instead of cutting their hay, and if we can get hay and fodder into the condition of chaff as regards fineness it will be to our advantage. The only objection to be made to this short cutting is the time it takes to do it, but there is usually plenty of time to spare in winter. Finely cut hay, fodder and straw can be better mixed together than when cut long, and by mixing them we can sometimes feed to better advantage than to feed separately.

We have found when we have cut a large quantity of corn fodder at one time that it soon lost its sweet smell, and unless it was thoroughly dry would, if piled in large heaps, heat up and become musty. We finally adopted the plan of mixing the cut fodder with cut hay or straw as soon as possible after cutting it, and it then kept in good condition. Cutting fodder pays, not only by making it more convenient to feed, but having the manure in such fine condition to handle, there being no long, tough stalks to bother. This is quite an item where large quantities of fodder are used and the manure is drawn out in the field in winter to be used on spring crops. —Colman's Rural World.

Catarrh in the Head

Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. per package. dw

Ornamental Pin-Roll.

The accompanying sketch illustrates a very dainty little pin-roll, handsome and ornamental when suspended by the side of a mirror or from any convenient hook, that may happen to offer appropriate support, among the ornaments or furnishings of one's room. It is as neat and attractive as it is useful. To copy the design, make a solid roll of curled hair, two inches thick and four and a half long, and cover it smoothly with soft flannel or muslin, gathering and drawing in the cover at each end, as a bolster is covered. Slip this inside of a cover made of a piece of pretty silk or satin, six inches wide and seven inches long, on which two floral sprays have been embroidered. Turn in a seam's width at the edge of one end, gather with a strong, double silk, draw up closely and fasten in the center of the end, finish the other end in the same way, but do not break off the silk. Change the needle for a long, slender darner, run this straight through the middle of the roll from end to end, pull the thread short enough to give the ends a slightly puffed appearance with a depression in the center, and fasten it. Around the roll, midway between the ends, tie a silk cord, tipped with fluffy silk tassels, drawing it in closely, and knot the ends in front, as seen in the sketch. The arrangement of the cords by which it is suspended is also shown. The full cluster of loops ornamenting each end is tacked securely over the center gathers, entirely concealing them. Stock the roll with nice assorted pins, black and white, large and small, and suspend it as suggested and it will be found so pretty and handy that it will soon become indispensable. Figured or brocaded silk would make a pretty cover for such a roll, and ribbon might be used in place of the cord if one chose.—American Agriculturist.

FOR SUNDAY READING.

One of the best schools in which to study patience is fishing. The fisherman who can angle half a day without catching a fish, and then go home with an empty basket but a full enthusiasm, has his reward in moral improvement.

The sages of old were at variance regarding the chief end of highest good of life. Cicero informs us that there was so great a dissension on this point that no two teachers of ethics agreed; and he remarks that they who did not agree in stating the summum bonum or highest good necessarily differed in the whole system of precepts for the right conduct of life.

"I believe women are the sweetest, purest, most unselfish, best part of the human race. I have no doubt on this subject whatever. They sing the melody in all human life, as well as the melody in music. They carry the leading part, at least in the sense that they are a step in advance of us men, all the way in the journey heavenward." So said the late Dr. J. G. Holland, and we are inclined to agree with him. On the moral and aesthetic side women are peerless. They stand for the heart as men do for the head. Not that either sex lacks heart or head. But each is characteristically effectual or intellectual.

The Episcopal "Book of Common Prayer" is generally regarded as a fine specimen of English and as an excellent manual of worship. Dr. Achelis, professor of theology at Marburg, however, does not think so. In a recent chapter on liturgies in his "Treatise on Practical Theology," he says, "No trace is to be found in it of any liturgical principle whatever. It is a conglomerate of scripture readings, hymns and prayers, without any psychological progress." What a pity our Episcopal brethren did not know this sooner, so that when they revised the prayer book they might have fashioned it into accord with Dr. Achelis' notions of psychology.

A very brilliant, magnetic and talented young minister was called to the pulpit of one of the oldest churches in Boston, a few years ago, and every one flocked to hear him, and became very enthusiastic—in short, he became a perfect "Reverend Idol." Well—the Saturday Evening Gazette is the narrator—among the admirers was a young widow, with a great deal of money (and, presumably, not so much brains), whose devotion so overcame her discretion that she one day intimated to the Idol that her fortune, her hand and her heart were at his disposal. "Then, madam," was the stern reply, "Give your heart to God, your fortune to the poor and your heart to the man who asks for it."

At this season of the year cold in the head resulting in Catarrh is alarmingly prevalent. As a precautionary measure a bottle of Nasal Balm should be kept in every household. It speedily relieves and permanently cures the worst cases of cold in the head and catarrh. All dealers or by mail on receipt of 50c. for small, or $1 for large bottle. G. T. Fulford & Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Great Surprise

is in store for all who use Kemp's Balsam for the throat and lungs, the great guaranteed remedy. Would you believe that it is sold on its merits and that any druggist is authorized by the proprietor of this wonderful remedy to give you a sample bottle free. It never fails to cure acute or chronic coughs. All druggists sell Kemp's Balsam. Large bottles 50 cents and $1. dw

My friend, look here! you know how weak and nervous your wife is, and you know that Carter's Iron Pills will relieve her, now why not be fair about it and buy her a box?

Outrivals all Others.

In curing coughs, colds, hoarseness, asthma, bronchitis, sore throat, and all diseases of the throat and lungs, there is one remedy which is unequalled by any other. We refer to Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup which has effected many remarkable cures this season.

You hardly realize that it is medicine when taking Carter's Little Liver Pills: they are very small; no bad effects: all troubles from torpid liver are relieved by their use.

EXCELLENCE.

RHEUMATISM.—Mr. WM. HOWE, 66 Red Lion St., High Holborn, W.C., London Eng., states he had rheumatism 25 years; suffered intensely from swelling of hands, feet and knees. He used St. Jacobs Oil with marvelous results. Before the second bottle was exhausted the pain left him. He is cured.

NEURALGIA.—Mrs. JOHN McLEAN, Barrie Island, Ont., March 4, 1899, says: "I suffered severely with neuralgia for nine years and have been greatly benefited by the use of St. Jacobs Oil."

SCIATICA.—Grenada, Kans., U. S. A., Aug. 2, 1898. "I suffered eight years with sciatica; used five bottles of St. Jacobs Oil and was permanently cured." JACOB I. SMITH.

STRAIN.—Mr. M. PRICE, 14 Tabernacle Square, E.C., London, Eng., says: "I strained my wrist and the severe pain yielded like magic to St. Jacobs Oil."

LAMEBACK.—Mrs. J. RINGLAND, Kincaid St., Brockville, Ont., writes: "I was confined to bed by severe lumbago. A part of a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil enabled me to go about in a day."

BOAS AND MUFFS.

Florette Devotes a Chapter to Them.

Fur muffs are likely to be more fashionable than made ones, although the latter are ensuite with the hat when the costume is not trimmed with fur or feathers. Fur boas of the sort worn by the girl in the picture will again be in quite general use, though many smaller ones are seen which end in a head. It makes us wonder if women are really cruel. Just as it seems they have at least been shamed into quitting the use of whole birds on their bonnets and gowns, they have taken to fur heads. Poor little things! The fur things the heads come from, I mean. What beauty is there in a cape trimmed all about the edge with these heads? Women say they are "so cunning." You see the little mouths painted bright red inside and they are given a cheerful expression and bright bead eyes. This is enough to please the tender-hearted woman who has money enough to satisfy her taste for "cuteness." The heads are used for buttons on fur and other cloaks. They make unhandy buttons, too, but what of that? They are so cute! They are put on hats; woman has a passion for crowning herself with folly. As for muffs—well, it is so nice to have a lot of little heads sticking up. Then, finally, comes that butcherlike custom of putting an entire animal about the throat. The head being at one end and a couple of claws, and the body wound about the throat till the tail can be made fast to the neck of the little thing, and all four claws hang on the breast of the gentle creature who thinks it such a sweet idea.

FLORETTE.

Man inherited from his immediate ancestors, the apes and monkeys, a voice of considerable altitude, in which the lower tones were almost unknown. The monkeys chattered to their fellows from tree to tree in shrill head tones, the natural vocal expression of a weak and timid race, in whose physical formation the head had begun to hold an important place. The upper notes of the register were characteristic of the first men, as they still are of savage tribes and peoples, and of the half-civilized members of modern society, whose voices have never been subjected to discipline. The voices of country people accustomed to magnificent distances and conversation at long range are, if not keyed higher, oftener used in the upper ranges than those of city people who feel obliged by the necessities of good breeding to moderate their tones. When a man is self-contained he uses the middle and lower tones of his voice; when angry the voice gradually to the head. If the gentler sex would oftener bear in mind the eulogies of Shakespeare and Scott of that voice gentle and low, which is an excellent thing in women, they would more rarely have occasion to wonder why they have ceased to be attractive. The music of the Chinese, Japanese and of all wild tribes is keyed high and sung usually in falsetto, the lower notes being obtained by drums, tomtoms, or some other instruments of the kind. Although their songs are far from agreeable to the ear, they still think they sing. Nast's Weekly

During the past half-century—since the discovery of Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the average limit of human life in civilized countries has been considerably lengthened. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is everywhere considered the standard blood-purifier, the Superior Medicine.

He Wears a Cod Fish.

A gentleman who was given up to die with consumption happened to receive a visit from a friend, who recommended "Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil." Although having little faith he bought a bottle, and before he was through taking it, found he was gaining flesh. He continued taking the Emulsion until he regained nearly fifty pounds. He is the heartiest man in town to-day. To commemorate his restoration to health he has had a beautiful cod fish manufactured, which he wears as a charm upon his watch chain. That is pretty good testimony for "Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil." Everybody is sounding its praises. In big bottles, 50c. and $1.00, at all Drug Stores.

A Cure for Dyspepsia.

In investigation the cause of this prevalent complaint it is found to rest principally in wrong action of the stomach and impurity of the blood. These exciting causes are easily removed by the regulating, purifying tonic and digestive effects of Burdock Blood Bitters, hence the success of B. B. B. in curing dyspepsia in any form, no matter of how long standing or how severe it may be.

HAMILTON, April 20, 1892.

I was doctoring for years with physicians for a scaly and scurvy affliction of the scalp, they told me it was eczema, but gave me no permanent relief. I was also troubled with excessive dandruff, which would drop from my head like snow flakes. Hearing of Anti-Dandruff I used it, and from the third application felt more relieved than for years; when half the bottle was used the eczema and scaly eruptions disappeared and have not returned since; dandruff was thoroughly removed, the itching of the scalp stopped, and for an elegant, clean and useful hair-dressing Anti-Dandruff has no equal.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The bankruptcy case of Mrs. Charles Stewart Parnell came up yesterday in the Brighton County Court. Counsel for Mrs. Parnell submitted a scheme, by the terms of which preferred debts against his client will be paid in full immediately.

Creditors not preferred will be paid 7s. 6d. in the pound now, while remaining 12s. 6d., plus 4 per cent. interest, will be paid out of Mrs. Parnell's annual income, which, it was announced, amounted to £800.

In a recent statement regarding Mrs. Parnell's affairs, Mr. Hawksley, her solicitor, said in reply to a question asked by the official receiver in bankruptcy, who said that the creditors would probably desire an explanation as to why Mrs. Parnell's share in the £140,000 left by her aunt, Mrs. Wood, was represented by only £22,000, that as a result of a litigation the sum of £61,520 came to the debtor, £45,000 of which had been paid to the trustees under the settlement made on her marriage with Capt. O'Shea. As to the balance, the captain took half the interest and Mrs. Parnell the other half.

The suggested scheme of arrangement would be carried out by absorbing half of the interest now accruing to Mrs. Parnell, the remainder being devoted to maintenance of herself and children.

The proposal was opposed by Messrs. Jay & Co. on the ground that an immediate dividend of 12s 9½d could be paid instead of 7s 6d as contemplated, and it was also urged that as Mrs. Parnell's life interest was uncertain owing to her weak health it would be more advantageous to the creditors to throw the matter into bankruptcy and make sure of the 12s 9½d rather than run any further risk.

The scheme accepted by the court to-day was finally agreed upon by a majority of the creditors.

The official receiver is acting as trustee for Mrs. Parnell's estate.

One of the creditors recently complained that Mrs. Parnell was still keeping her horses and carriages, and this brought forth the statement that Mrs. Parnell was receiving an allowance of only £6 a week from her estate.

A QUANTITY OF FOOD.

Distributed From a Trap to the Cold and Hungry Poor.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—A dense fog and severe frost prevail and the Thames is full of floating ice. The cold is causing much suffering among the poor. A peculiar scene is reported from Whitechapel, where a number of unemployed were assembled. A small trap drove up on which was a large black box.

The driver dismounting informed those about him that it contained bread and cheese which he had been instructed to distribute among those who really stood in need of food. The driver was at once surrounded.

The first piece of bread and cheese was handed to one of the nearest, and immediately dozens of men and women endeavored to get on the trap from every available point and help themselves. In this emergency the driver commenced to throw the provisions indiscriminately among the crowd, who caught them as they were thrown.

In this way about 50 loaves, cut up into quarters, were rapidly distributed, but a quantity of the bread fell to the ground and was afterward trodden underfoot. When the supply was exhausted the trap was driven quickly away.

CANADIAN WHEAT.

The Product Receiving Special Attention in Britain.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Canada's wheat product is receiving a good deal of attention in the British markets at present. Comparisons made with the Western American product, as against Manitoba's wheat, are in favor of the latter.

To this end, Dunlop Bros. of Glasgow have issued a report which states that, while Duluth and other spring wheats are rather disappointing, Manitoba again comes to the front this season. This report, continuing, says that Manitoba has exported freely to the British market.

Though the quantity has been large, the quality is not inferior, for the Manitoba wheat is handsome, heavier and in every way much more attractive than the Minnesota wheat. Thus Manitoba's No. 2 hard wheat has become popular in the English and Scottish markets.

Manitoba Nos. 1 and 2 hard find a ready sale. The prices are as follows, quoting from yesterday's London transactions: Manitoba No. 1 hard sold at 30s c.i.f., No. 2 winter at 29s.

May be No Restriction.

COLOGNE, Jan. 7.—At a meeting held of the North Atlantic Steamship Association it was decided to postpone the proposed reduction of the number of trips to America by steamships of the companies belonging to the association. The reason for this action is that the association has received advices from Washington to the effect that there is no prospect at this time of the passage of a bill excluding immigration, or greatly restricting immigration of the kind chiefly carried by north Atlantic steamship lines, and opposition to exclusion or anything approaching it is increasing, especially among the western Congressmen.

Fire At Coney Island.

CONEY ISLAND, Jan. 7.—West Brighton Hotel, Vanderver's bathing pavilion, Chambers' drug store, Eberhardt's [illegible] shop, Berkhardt's hotel and Gibson's milk dairy were totally destroyed by fire to-night. The damage is estimated at $100,000. The firemen had hard work saving the west end pavilion where the Coney Island Athletic Club fights were held.

Franks' Pavilion, a large frame structure, and Gipson's bathing houses were washed out to sea. Gaffney's pavilion and other buildings were damaged.

Snow continued to fall until late to-day on Eastern Long Island, but no serious damage is reported.

Fire at a Health Resort.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Jan. 7.—The Kentucky Hotel was destroyed by fire early yesterday. The fire spread very rapidly and the guests barely had time to escape with their lives, glad only in their night garments. Nearly all of the guests lost their personal effects.

GUELPH, Jan. 7.—This city did the honors to Lord Stanley yesterday. He went to Berlin in the evening.

TO CLEAR!
TO CLEAR!
TO CLEAR!

"Slaughter" is the word for this month. Stock-taking will be upon us in a few days, and, as we prefer to clear out many lines at a sacrifice for cash, rather than take them into stock again, a regular deluge of bargains awaits all shoppers at the GOLDEN LION. "A bird in the hand will be worth four in the bush" to us all this month, and the nimble quarter will buy as much as the slow dollar between now and stock-taking day.

QUARTERED.

The following lines are now offered at a sweeping reduction off original prices in order to clear them completely out—

1. Sealette Collars and Muffs.
2. Feather Boas.
3. Mantle Sealettes.
4. Ladies' Mantles.
5. Childrens' Mantles.

Our aim, as on previous occasions, is to clear out stock—not bad stock, but first-class lines—at big reductions.

All who have patronized our January sales in the past, know that we mean business, and carry out, to the letter, our agreement.

THE BEST YET!

The month just following the holidays will be in every respect the grandest bargain season yet inaugurated at the RED FLAG. The reason for this is that every line we handle must be cleared out before stock-taking. The sacrifices of the Holiday season will appear pale under the Blood-Red Slaughter of the next month's business, and no marks or figures on the goods must interfere with their ready sale.

OUR THANKS

are cordially tendered to our myriads of customers for their generous patronage, and we trust that the pleasant relationship which has so signally brightened the past, may be strengthened and extended during this month of Snaps.

TO SMOKERS!

We beg to tender our thanks to smokers for their hearty appreciation of our efforts in the past to furnish them with the Highest Grade Goods consistent with prices charged, and to assure them that no effort will be spared to continue to cater with ONLY the CHOICEST the market of the world affords. Our brands this year will be found even better than ever. Our name is a guarantee of the best value at lowest prices.

We buy no CHEAP tobacco. Quality at any price is our motto, not quantity at the lowest prices. We do not manufacture CHEAP cigars. Our goods are High Grade. Cost no more to the consumer than Cigars of greatly inferior quality that are persistently foisted upon the public by some dealers for the sake of additional gain.

That the Cigar is so disgusted with the Panama scandal that he proposes swinging away from the dual alliance, however, is not probable, for he is not believed to be such a sentimentalist as to throw over a strong ally for a moral scruple. He is merely anxious to keep the peace, and having been conciliated by the appointment of Gen. Von Werder to the German embassy in St. Petersburg he has taken advantage of his first opportunity to show his good intentions. At court the visit of the Czarewitch will be received with much pleasure from the purely personal point of view, as during the Kiel meeting last summer he made an exceptionally favorable impression upon Emperor William and his suite.

The people have waited expectantly all the week for some official utterance as to the conflicting versions of the Emperor's New Year's speech, but none has been made. If the speech was intended to coerce or persuade the malcontents to cease their opposition, it has failed of its purpose. The Koelnische Zeitung reiterates its former statement that a compromise is both possible and probable.

Three thousand coal miners of the Ruhr district this afternoon met in Essen and heard with approval appeals to help their oppressed comrades in the Saar district. Before adjourning a resolution to strike tomorrow was passed unanimously.

The spark of these men, and thousands they are likely to carry out with them, is a desperate one. They are totally unprepared for even a day of idleness and are penniless.

The Krupp works in Essen, which the men are especially anxious to injure, are safe from inconvenience for several weeks at least, as, in anticipation of trouble, the managers have accumulated a stock of 2000 tons of coal. Other ironworkers of the same region are equally well supplied with coal, and in view of the prevailing slackness of trade are ready for the worst the miners can do.

A meeting of 3000 miners and miners' delegates from all parts of Westphalia was held in Bochum this afternoon. The Socialistic element had complete control from the beginning and strong resolutions of sympathy with the Saar strikers were passed almost without opposition, and the meeting decided in favor of a general strike in support of the Saar men. The strike will begin tomorrow. It is not believed, however, that all the miners will endorse the action of their delegates.

An attempt was made this afternoon to blow up the Cologne express near Rauxel. A dynamite bomb was placed on the track about 300 yards from the station, but exploded prematurely. The track was torn up for some 20 yards, and the buildings near by were shaken on their foundations. The report gave the alarm, and the train was signaled. The passengers were terrified, and several refused to proceed after the track had been repaired temporarily.

Track-walkers were sent out ahead before the train started, and despatches ordering similar precautions at stations ahead were sent out. No other bombs were found. The man who placed the bomb has not been arrested.

The news of the attempt to wreck the train caused the greatest anxiety in the Dortmund district. It is believed that the explosion was the first gun in the strike of the coal miners, which is expected to begin early this week.

GERMANY IS IN TROUBLE

THE SAAR MINES STRIKE IS SPREADING.

Gretchens and Frens Are Inciting the Men to Outrage—And Bismarck Is Patting His Hands and Sneering at the Emperor.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—A special to The Sun from Berlin by the International Telegram Co. says:

The pendulum has begun once more to swing toward the left in the public life of the Empire, and the labor question has supplanted temporarily militarism in the view of the Berlin editors and statesmen.

During the last week the eyes of all have been directed toward the basin of the Saar, where the striking coal miners have shown a persistence and aggressiveness entirely disproportionate to their numbers and hopes of success.

A week ago, despite the prevailing apprehensions, few persons thought the strike would be a matter of more than three or four days. Events since then, while showing nothing of hope for the strikers, have revealed an efficacy of revolutionary agitation of which neither the Anarchists nor the extreme Social Democrats were supposed to be capable. The strike has not only spread, but the intemperance of the speakers and the bitterness of the men have increased alarmingly.

A unique and deplorable feature of the strike is the enthusiasm of the miners' wives in support of it. As the keenest sufferers from the movement, the women were expected to exercise a deterrent influence. German women of all classes have usually resisted the special efforts of Socialistic and Anarchistic agitators to enlist their sympathies with the revolutionary cause.

In the last few days, however, the women in the Saar district have not only declared for the strike, but have addressed meetings and led mobs. In fact, were it not for their efforts, hardly 5000 men would be out to-day in the whole basin of the Saar. There has been no determined effort on the part of the local authorities to repress the excesses of the strikers or to protect the miners who continue at work.

The inactivity of the responsible officials in the Saar district can be accounted for only upon the hypothesis that they were ordered from Berlin to be exceptionally lenient. The publication of the expected ultimatum was also delayed at the instance of the Emperor, who hoped for the prestige of his social reform policy to have the difficulty settled without any resort to extreme measures. A week ago the Government believed that the strikers could be persuaded to abandon their unreasonable attitude and special agents were sent to the Saar district to talk to the men. These missions were fruitless, and the Government has been convinced that summary measures must be enforced. The managers of the Saar mines have been ordered, therefore, not to recognize in any way hereafter the Anarchist and Socialist leaders, and to notify the chief agitators that their services will not be accepted under any circumstances.

The men have been informed that all who are not at work early this week will be discharged.

The leaders of the miners in the Lower Rhine and Westphalia districts have refused to assist the Saar strikers. In revenge the Saar leaders are trying to foment a strike among the youngest and most ignorant workers in Westphalia. They have held numerous meetings and have tried to discredit the men who are holding back. The success or failure of these efforts will be determined within the next two days.

Not even by the Social Democrats is the strike regarded so complacently as by Prince Bismarck, who is daily ringing the changes on "I told you so" in his Hamburger Nachrichten. The demands of the men are entirely justified, he thinks, in view of the Emperor's "brand new labor policy," discovered in 1890, and proclaimed to the world by the call for international labor conference.

The strike and the attendant excesses, says The Hamburger Nachrichten, are the natural result of the Government's weakness in 1890. The consequent legislation was bound to encourage the disorderly element of the masses and the Government must now repent its cowardice in sack cloth and ashes. The strike concerns only nominally the terms of certain sections of the Bill for the Regulation of Labor, passed in 1891. In reality, it is due to that pernicious sort of legislation which favors the employed at the expense of the employers.

A vast amount of speculation is being wasted upon the visit of the Czarewitch in this city on the occasion of the Princess Margaret's marriage to Prince Frederick Charles of Hesse. The report that he will bring with him an autograph letter from the Czar to Emperor William has been confirmed. The Czarewitch's visit, although purely friendly, has considerable political significance, for it will be the strongest presumptive evidence that the Czar is earnestly endeavoring to improve the relations between the courts of Berlin and St. Petersburg.

CAUGHT GAMBLING.

Austria's Emperor Gives a Surprise to Swell Club Men.

VIENNA, Jan. 9.—The police Saturday made a raid upon the Jockey Club on suspicion that illegal games were being played in its rooms. The card rooms were crowded at the time with the elite of the aristocratic and diplomatic circles of Vienna and large sums of money were at stake.

The police seized 450,000 florins in cash and checks and took the names of those present for future use. The Prince De Montennovo, President of the Jockey Club, hastened to the offices of the Ministry of Justice to protest against the action of the police and to explain that the course taken was unjustifiable.

The Prince was informed that the Emperor himself had especially sanctioned the raid. The Prince De Montenuovo thereupon promised that gambling would cease at the club. It is believed that the money seized will be returned to its owners.

FOREIGN FINANCES.

The Market in France Appears to Be Demoralized.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—Discount rates dropped during the past week to 1¼ for three months and ¾ for short, at which, it is believed, they have reached bottom. The supplies in the market are abundant in spite of the repayment of loans to the Bank of England, but as the revenue payments, which began this month, will sweep about five million off the market, and as a considerable efflux of gold will probably take place shortly, the present rates are not likely to change until a general rise sets in. Business on the Stock Exchange during the week expanded somewhat, but the movements in prices were irregular.

American railroads were inactive and dull.

Disastrous Settlement.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—The settlement just concluded has been the most disastrous recorded in many years. There were many forced liquidations of "bulls'" accounts. Prices all round declined. The market appears to be completely demoralized and all speculative business has ceased. The fall in rentes since the beginning of the Panama Canal exposures is estimated at 35,000,000 francs and the fall in other French securities at nearly 15,000,000 francs. On the Bourse during the week all international funds were lower.

Up and Down.

BERLIN, Jan. 9.—A more cheerful tone prevailed on the Boerse at the opening of the week, but prices weakened later on the receipt of unfavorable advices from Paris. A more favorable feeling was produced yesterday by the Hungarian conversion operation.

Russian Intrigue.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—The Standard learns upon good authority in Berlin that Russian agents have arrived at Cabul to make the Ameer offers as to the settlement of the Pamir question without the knowledge of England.

Burned to Death.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 9.—The residence of Frank Thomas of Elkhorn, a well-known farmer of that locality, was destroyed by fire Saturday during his absence. His mother, being unable to escape, was burned to death.

The Last Spike Driven.

SPOKANE, Wash., Jan. 9.—The last spike of the Great Northern Railway was driven last evening. Connection was made in the Cascade Mountains a few miles beyond Summit. The line will be open for through traffic in a few days.

Typhus In New York.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Six deaths from typhus fever occurred during Saturday night on North Brothers Island and were reported at the sanitary headquarters today. Three new cases were reported today.

Lord Stanley At Goderich.

GODERICH, Jan. 9.—Lord Stanley attended St. George's Church here yesterday. He will be given a formal reception by the citizens to-morrow morning.

Iron Companies Combine.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 9.—A paper here says it is well understood that all the great iron pipe companies of the country have combined and will be operated as one company. The immense plants at Addyston, Chicago, St. Louis, Pittsburg, Buffalo, Anniston, etc., have signed the agreement, and the only one holding out is the one at Columbus. This, it is generally believed, will join next week. The capital stock will be $20,000,000.

THE SATOLLI MISSION.

A Garrulous Old Maid Charged With Making Mischief.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 9.—Archbishop Ireland would not talk yesterday about the story that he had formulated charges to the Pope that Archbishop Corrigan and others had organized a conspiracy to overthrew of Mgr. Satolli and himself. He had read the story, but would say nothing about it. However, Rev. John Conway, editor of The Northwestern Chronicle, who stands next to Archbishop Ireland of all ecclesiastics in the Northwest, made the following statement:

The news from Chicago regarding a conspiracy against Archbishops Ireland and Ireland has been received in St. Paul with much surprise. Many will doubtless be astonished at it. Most people will be, except the conspirators themselves and those who follow ecclesiastical questions very closely. Journalists, who are directly interested in church matters, knew by journalistic intuition that a conspiracy was being hatched.

The libelous pamphlet written by Archbishop Corrigan's Italian secretary, the effusions of Miss Eades, a garrulous old maid, who is Roman correspondent of The New York Catholic News, the despatches purporting to have come from Boston and other cities outside of New York, yet all having the same purpose, the plethora of anonymous letters published in the papers, pointed clearly to the existence of a conspiracy against the representative of the Holy Father.

The Chicago Post has done great service to Christianity and the country by unearthing the arch-conspirator. Some scandal as well as great good will follow from the revelations of The Post, but the clumsy Catalinism of the New York dignitary is directly responsible for the scandal. The American people see in this an additional confirmation of Pope Leo's friendship and of his admiration of American institutions. This friendship and admiration have been well set forth by the Pope's representative, Mgr. Satolli. The anonymous writers of the Cabalistic bureau will probably now cease.

I have just seen The Post. As to the statement that Archbishop Ireland has preferred charges in Rome there is no necessity for his doing so, because Rome's representative is here in the person of Archbishop Satolli. Moreover, he has just learned the clear evidence from The Post, upon which charges could be based.

Further than this statement from Dr. Conway nothing could be had to-night, but there is good reason for believing that no such charges have been formally preferred.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

On the Move—Boats and Barges Crushed—Every Man Was at His Post and Were Heroes.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Jan. 9.—At 2 o'clock yesterday the ice gorge began to move, crunching and grinding the shores, crashing against the great stone piers of the five monster bridges, on it went, increasing its speed every minute. Nineteen steamers and a hundred coal barges, empty or loaded, at the landing had but two or three inches of oak plank to present resistance.

Every man was at his post on the steamers and every man was a hero. Again and again the ponderous chains that held the steamers and the wharf boats to their moorings were parted and as often repaired. By 9 o'clock to-night all apparent danger to the steamers at the landing was over, the gorge had passed and the river was comparatively clear.

The tow-boat, the Matthewson, valued at $10,000, was destroyed. Down below the destruction of coal barges and other property, from accounts at 10 p.m. have been terrible.

MGR. SATOLLI.

His Mission to America Has Resulted in Distressing the Pope.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The following is an extract from a letter written by a high ecclesiastic in Rome which was received in this city yesterday, confirming the recently reported regret of the Pope at certain of the results of Archbishop Satolli's mission to the United States.

Recent events in your grand country have opened the eyes of the Vatican, and I can assure you deeply pain the holy father. The failure of Monseigneur Satolli to make peace in the American church is a great blow to the authorities. There are wheels within wheels and plots underlying plots, but truth will out.

The Cardinal Secretary of State, the Prefect of the Propaganda, and even the Pope were led to believe that the American hierarchy hungered for an apostolic delegate. They were truly deceived. No blame attaches to Satolli. He did the best he could. As to the school question, there were some awful mistakes, and it is thought the learned archbishop was mislead. All I can tell you is that the Holy See will uphold the Baltimore Councils.

A WONDERFUL ESCAPE.

Collision Between a Train and a Street Car

MONTREAL, Jan. 9.—A terrible fatality took place last night. A street railway car containing a large number of passengers was coming in from St. Henri, a suburb of Montreal, shortly after 6 o'clock last evening. When it reached the St. Henri railway crossing the Lachine express from Montreal hove in sight.

The gate was down at the time, but the car horses were going at such a pace that the driver could not stop in time and they dashed through the gate onto the railway track. The engine of the express struck the street car with terrible force. The driver of the street car, Joseph Mathieu, was struck by the engine and hurled under the car. One of the passengers, named Latulippe, was also badly hurt, but the rest of the passengers managed to escape.

The car was totally demolished. Mathieu had his spine injured and was otherwise badly hurt. He was removed to the hospital, where he died an hour afterwards.

WEST RIDING FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

Successful Annual Meetings at Lakefield and Peterborough—Interesting Subjects Capably Dealt With by the Delegates—Live Discussions—Not the Attendance that there should have been.

The annual meeting of the West Riding Farmers' Institute was held at Lakefield in the council chamber on Friday. Among those present were:—Messrs H. C. Garbutt, president; John A. Davidson, secretary; Jos. Trennum, R. H. Braden, Jas. Roberts, R. Q. Dench, Ed. Jorna, Wm. Abbott, S. Montgomery, A. Kidd, Wm. Doidge, Prof. Sharman, B.S.A., D. E. Smith, B.A., R. F. Holtermann, O.A.C., C. Quinn, John Stothart, Wm. Baptie, Alex. Richardson, Jas. Jory, Rev. M. Bartlett, Peter Baptie, M. Snelgrove, G. J. Galvin, J. F. Davidson, O.A.C., S. McKibben, Isaac Garbutt, Wm. Nicholson, W. W. Grant, J. P. Andrews, A. Fairbairn, J. Northcot, Wm. Preston, Jas. Morrison, Geo. W. Fitzgerald, W. Preston, John Donaldson, Rev. J. McEwan, Rev. Mr. Grant, Jas. Rose, Fred Armstrong, R. C. Strickland, Jas. Davidson, S. A. McKee, Thompson Braden, W. M. Cox, Jas. Baptie, H. Lefevre.

D. E. Smith opened upon the question which is causing so much interest among farmers, "The Silo," Jos. Trennum, A. J. Kidd, R. H. Brown, and others taking part in a long discussion.

Prof Sharman, on "Draining and Cultivating the Soil," gave an address at some length. In the discussion that followed it appeared that underdraining was a system but little practised as yet.

R. H. Holtorman followed upon "Beekeeping." This locality was well adapted to beekeeping and a number being engaged in the business a discussion followed.

Rev. Mr. McEwen said he had kept bees for nine years. If he should be laid aside he thought he could support himself just as comfortably on bee-keeping as on the salary that any preacher would get. He was very much pleased with the method Mr. Holterman had handled the subject. He had started out with the statement that honey took nothing from the fertility of the soil and in addition bees assisted in increasing the clover seed yield, fruit yield, etc. The remarks in regard to swarming and wintering were also very important.

Mr. W. W. Grant, Lakefield, spoke upon the subject of dairying. In his address he condemned the system of keeping cows which were not paying. A business man would not think of tolerating the great difference between what some cows did and what others could do. He thought the system of paying for milk by weight only should be condemned. Canadian butter in the British market was comparing very favourably with the finest Danish butter.

Prof. Sharman followed, upon what variety of grain, roots, potatoes and corn we should grow. He pointed out what had been done in the direction of selecting the best varieties by the Ontario Agriculture College, assisted lately by the Ontario Agricultural and Experimental Union. He showed the great difference in the yield between varieties, and how much could be done by the judicious selection of varieties.

THE EVENING MEETING.

At the evening meeting there was a large and attentive audience. The ladies turned out in good numbers. Reeve Casement occupied the chair. The programme was interspersed with music by the Lakefield Glee Club, Rev. Mr. Bartlett, Miss Nelson and others.

H. B. Sharman, B.S.A., addressed the meeting on "Modern methods of increasing agricultural knowledge," and D. E. Smith, B.A., on "City and Country life as an Educator," and Mr. R. H. Holtarman, apiarist, on "Wonders of the Honey Bee." The addresses were very interesting and were listened to with marked attention. Forty-nine new members were added to the roll of the Institute.

The Peterborough Meeting.

There was only a fair attendance at the meeting held in the Council Chamber, Peterborough, on Saturday afternoon, of the West Riding Farmers' Institute. Promptly at 1.30 proceedings began.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., said he had been invited by the president, Mr. Garbutt, to take the chair. He regretted that there was so small an attendance of farmers on an occasion that directly affected their interests, especially when three gentlemen had come from a distance to address them. Other professions were united and active in advancing the interests of their calling, and farmers should be as united and energetic. After a few words in commendation of Farmers' Institutes he introduced

Mr. H. S. Sharman, B.S.A., of the Agricultural College, who addressed the meeting on the subject, "How to Sustain and Increase the Fertility of the Soil." This was a very important subject, for upon the soil depended all the varied products of the farm. The question vital to successful farming was the sustaining and increasing of the fertility of the farm. He went on to point out the elements in the soil necessary to plant growth. All fairly good soils contained nearly all the essential plant food. But there were some of the elements which need to be supplied—nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash, and the supply of these was the problem in sustaining fertility. An artificial fertilizer derived its chief value from containing more or less of these elements. The chief value of farm yard manure was its containing a small proportion of these ingredients, aside from its mechanical value on the soil. The quantity of these three elements in a ton of farm yard manure could be carried in the hand. Of these three elements the air contains nitrogen, which composed four-fifths of the air we breathe. Nitrogen was the most costly ingredient in artificial manures and the most important. Plants could not draw all the nitrogen they needed from the air, and had to depend upon the soil, in which these three elements are rapidly exhausted. The investigations of scientists show that there are certain plants that can draw nitrogen from the air, but in conjunction with a microscopic organism the ability of plants to take nitrogen from the air was increased. The class of crops affected by this condition were the leguminous—clover, peas, beans, etc., which by the working of this organism on their roots easily assimilated nitrogen. A crop of peas contains three times as much nitrogen as wheat and yet leaves a large quantity of nitrogen in the roots and stubble. Clover is shown by practical experience to be an enriching crop. The growing of peas, clover, etc. in suitable rotation was a potent means of supplying nitrogen, and the speaker spoke in high terms of growing clover by the use of leached ashes which was a fertilizer of which farmers took too little heed. This style of culture—growing peas and other leguminous crops—could be followed to advantage in connection with stock raising. But immediate results could not always be expected—a continuation would be necessary to secure the best.

In the discussion that followed Mr. Mann thought good farm yard manure was the best we had, and it was discouraging to think that its fertilizing value could be reduced to a handful.

Prof. Sharman did not want any one to go away with the idea that barnyard manure was not valuable, but in proportion to bulk it contained a small proportion of the three essentials, nitrogen etc. The proper time to apply it depended on circumstances; on flat land it could be applied early, and on rolling land when well rotted; as to the time of ploughing under clover—turn under the second crop about the time it is blossoming.

Mr. Dawson Kennedy had found immediate results, from ploughing under clover, and he asked the best method of restoring run-down farms, when there was not enough barnyard manure, and Mr. Sharman said on very much reduced soils artificial manures would be needed, and the only way to decide what manures was to experiment upon the soil.

Mr. Kennedy instanced a farm, which would grow nothing, being restored by sowing peas in conjunction with land plaster—wetting the peas and mixing with land plaster. Good crops of peas followed. Mr. Sharman said this indicated lack of lime, and perhaps the lying at rest of the soil for two or three years had supplied a quantity of plant food.

SUMMER FALLOWING.

Mr. Dawson Kennedy was called on to speak on the question—"Has Summer Fallowing had its Day?" He did not condemn summer fallowing out and out. Some fields on some farms needed summer fallowing—soils that had not been thoroughly mixed owing to stumps and stones. Summer fallowing on cleared farms was a waste of money. He had quit summer fallowing seven years ago—he succeeded better in many cases without it. He grew a great deal of clover; he pastured it some, then ploughed it down, sowed wheat and had a good crop. He grew good crops of spring wheat and peas from ploughing under clover, and his soil was clean. Summer fallowing, he thought, had had its day on cleared farms.

ROAD-MAKING.

Mr. D. B. Smith, B.A., of the firm of Smith Bros., Holstein breeders, Brampton, gave an address on "Road Making." Condemning at the outset the system of statute labour, he suggested that the roads be divided into provincial, county and township roads. The first the main roads to shipping ports; the county, the main roads to the chief shipping towns, and the township roads, which presented the greatest difficulty. He suggested the employment of an engineer who should prepare proper plans and specifications, and commissioners should carry out their specifications, they to have a certain number of men to do so. He pointed out that this road system would be no new experience. He suggested that an amount equal to commutation at 30 cents a day should be collected in the form of taxes. He dealt with the question of repairs, suggesting the employing of a man with a cart to go over a certain beat and keep roads in repair. Each township should have a road-making board to have charge of the roads and the appointment of engineer and commissioners. No more money than that voted by the township could be expended. It was cheapest and best to appoint an engineer who was qualified. The value of a road depended upon its being made right at the start. The rate of commutation of statute labour should be from 50 to $1, according to the township.

Mr. John Riddel said the question had been raised by Mr. Stratton, M.P.P. for West Peterborough, as to the wisdom of commuting statute labour, and he believed the sentiment was largely in favour of a change, as he was. He thought a person to keep roads in proper repair was an important subject.

In answer to Mr. W. Collins, Mr. Smith said the road board he had mentioned would appoint the commissioners. Mr. Collins thought the work of the road board could best be done by the council.

In answer to Mr. T. E. Bell, who was opposed to an engineer, Mr. Smith said the road board had charge of keeping roads open in winter.

The Messrs Stothart also contributed valuable suggestions on the subject, under discussion.

Mr. Stratton said that during his travels holding meetings last fall he gathered that there was a feeling that many roadmasters did their work well, and statute labour on many beats was well performed. He believed that fully two-thirds of the people were better satisfied with their present system of statute labour than an expensive change. In this county engineering problems had been largely solved, and the engineer was not a necessity. He believed plenty of competent men could be found to build roads as well as an engineer. He had sounded the people of West Peterborough pretty thoroughly and he felt sure they would not tolerate the appointment of an engineer such as had been proposed.

Mr. Smith said the countries of Europe had tried the engineer system for a hundred years and found it the best. Under the present system the people of this province had made no advance in road making for fifty years. A road to be permanent should be built right at first.

THE FARMERS INSTITUTE.

Mr. Stratton pointed out that it was contemplated neither by the government nor county that the money granted should be put in the bank, but should be spent in furthering the objects of the Institute, and supplying farmers with information, and Prof. Sharman pointed out that membership in the Institute, entitled the member to receive, free of charge, all the various reports issued by the Ontario Government in relation to the chief subjects that interested the farmer; bulletins of the Bureau of Industries, Dairymen's Associations, Creamery and a large number of other valuable reports bearing directly on the farming profession.

Mr. R. F. Holterman, of Brantford, spoke upon the subject of

BEE KEEPING.

It was important, he said, for the farmer to grow crops that took the least fertility of the soil. If we took $300 worth of wheat from the soil, we robbed it of $48 worth of fertility, and so on with other grains, till we got to dairying, which drew less from the soil—$200 worth of butter only took 35 cents from the soil, and the production of honey took absolutely nothing from the soil. On the other hand, the honey bee performed an important function in fertilizing flowers and fruits. This they do by roving from blossom to blossom and mixing the pollen of one flower with that of another. An apple blossom required five distinct fertilizations to full development of the fruit. The good offices of the bee was important in fertilizing clover—a good crop of Alsike clover seed depended largely on fertilization by insects. The conditions of successful bee-keeping were to secure conditions of situation favourable to early honey flow to get early maturity of bee colonies in readiness for the summer's work. The surplus honey beyond this object was grown from clover, buckwheat and basswood. Alsike clover was a good honey crop, which seldom failed.

As to keeping bees, the speaker said whoever went into the business should get a good book on the subject—"A. B. C of Bee-keeping"—and subscribe for the Canadian Bee Journal. Always buy colonies of bees in the spring—about the end of May—from some man in the neighbourhood—always select the hive that shows the most activity on the part of the bees, it was a mistake to select the heaviest hives—bees, not old honey, were wanted. Bee-keeping was a good employment for a son or daughter of a farmer, who, with fair success, would make more from bees than the rest of the farm produced. There was not more certainty of success in bee-keeping than any other business—it needed the same conditions of industry and intelligence to succeed. He preferred the Langstrath hive. Bees can be kept so that they will not swarm—covering and shading them when they show signs of swarming would tend to prevent it. Bees should be shaded from the sun, except at night and morning. The securing of a self-hiving apparatus, which seems to be successful, will make it possible for farmers to keep bees profitably—without the necessity of perpetual watching at the swarming season.

In answer to a question asked by Mr. Kennedy, Mr. Holterman said he wintered his bees in a cellar. He screened off a space about 12 x 15 but in which he could keep a hundred colonies. This should be well ventilated and the temperature kept equable. Bees should be kept as dry as possible—they should not be kept in the same room with vegetables and roots. In wintering on a summer stand he covered the tops of hives with chaff, or if he had only a few hives, old flannel. He preferred pure Italian bees, but a beginning might be made with ordinary bees.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Mr. J. Coyle Brown, school inspector for Peterborough county, was greatly pleased to be present. In regard to road making, he believed the statute labour system would soon be a thing of the past. He approved of the employment of a man to keep roads in repair. He thought the northern parts of the county could be profitably employed in bee keeping.

Mr. J. W. Garvin, inspector of public schools, Peterborough, spoke of his great interest in farming, which had, however, greatly changed in the last few years, and there was now needed upon the farm the best brain of the country. He advised farmers to give their boys an education if they desired it. They would then be contented to stay on the farm instead of flocking to the cities. Send them to some school or the Agricultural College where they could get an all-round education. He had for the first time joined a Farmers' Institute, which was a great help to the farmer, who received valuable assistance from the Ontario and Dominion Governments in connection therewith. Mr. Garvin's remarks were received with warm applause.

A PLEBESCITE.

Mr. Smith took a vote in respect of his subject of roadmaking.

The first vote was on the question of the desirability of a change in the present system of road making, and the vote in favour of a change in the system, was almost unanimous. The vote on the commissioners proposal received no votes and about one fourth seemed to be in favour of employing the engineer proposed.

Mr. Smith suggested that it would be desirable to arrange that farmers' sons should be trained at the Agricultural College in a knowledge of the principles of road making, and they could then be employed as engineers in carrying out the system he proposed.

VOTES OF THANKS, ETC.

Mr. Collins moved, seconded by Mr. Stothart, —That Messrs. Dawson Kennedy, vice-president, and J. A. Davidson, secretary, and the mover, be a committee from the Institute to wait on the County Council to urge them to pass a by-law making the use of wide tires on waggons obligatory.—Carried.

Mr. Garbutt, president, moved, seconded by Mr. T. E. Bell, that a vote of thanks be tendered to the gentlemen who had addressed the meeting, which was carried unanimously.

Mr. Sharman and Mr. Holterman acknowledged the vote in suitable terms.

On motion of Mr. Bell a standing vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Stratton for his occupancy of the chair, and a very successful meeting came to a close.

THE BIGGEST DAY IN 7 YEARS!

Saturday, December 3rd was the biggest day MR. J. J. SHEEHY has had in seven years. Why is this? Surely not because there is less competition. Certainly not because inducements are not being held out by others. Most assuredly not because prices of farm products are showing an upward tendency. Then why??

Simply because the purchasing public of the town and surrounding country have read Mr. Sheehy's advertisements, have inwardly digested them and have conclude that cheap sale or no cheap sale Mr. Sheehy is bound not to be undersold

We want every day in December to be a big day. How are we to accomplish this? Simply by offering to the public better value for the money than can be had elsewhere. Just cast your eye over the following quotations:—

ON TRIAL.

That's a good way to buy a medicine, but it's a pretty hard condition under which to sell it. Perhaps you've noticed that the ordinary hit or miss medicine doesn't attempt it.

The only medicine of its kind so remarkable in its effects that it can be sold on this plan is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. As a blood-cleanser, strength-restorer, and flesh-builder, there's nothing like it known to medical science. In every disease where the fault is in the liver or the blood, as Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Biliousness, and the most stubborn Skin, Scalp, and Scrofulous affections, it is guaranteed in every case to benefit or cure, or you have your money back.

To every sufferer from Catarrh, no matter how bad the case or of how long standing, the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy say this: "If we can't cure it, perfectly and permanently, we'll pay you $500 in cash." Sold by all druggists.

THE RISING GENERATION

SHOULD BE TRAINED IN THE WAY OF TRUTH AND RIGHTEOUSNESS.

Spirited Anniversary Services in the George Street Methodist Church Yesterday—Rev. F. W. Wilson, of Toronto, was the Preacher—Masterly Discourses and Overflowing Congregations.

At seven o'clock last evening when that inspiring hymn,

Father supreme by whom we live,
Thou who art God alone;
Our song of grateful praise receive,
And make our hearts thy throne, written by Rev. Dr. E. H. Dewart, and sung as the opening select on, the congregation that filled the George street Methodist church was perhaps the largest which has gathered within its walls for some time. It was the occasion of the annual Sunday school anniversary services and that body was especially fortunate in obtaining such a talented and attractive divine as the Rev. W. F. Wilson, pastor of the MacCaul street Methodist church, Toronto, to preach sermons appropriate to the occasion.

Rev. Mr. Wilson, although a comparatively young man in the ranks of Canadian Methodism, having been ordained only seven years ago, is one of the most popular and widely known clergymen in the province at the present time. Of stalwart build and herculean frame and straight as an arrow, with a fresh, expressive countenance, and a beardless face, he certainly has a commanding pulpit appearance. Combined with these physical attributes, the reverend gentlemen is possessed of a clear resonant voice, almost stentorian in tone, and with the masterly way in which he presents the facts and thoughts of his subject, the members of the congregation cannot help but appreciating and becoming thoroughly interested and impressed.

THE MORNING SERVICE.

In the morning the preacher talked from no Biblical text, but said he would take the words of his discourse from a book in which there were no words, consonants, syllables or phrases as in other books but was composed solely of colours—white, black, red and gold. By using apt illustrations and forcible Bible quotations, the speaker represented man when he first came into the world as being free from sin, and in consequence pure and spotless. This state was represented by the white, but through temptation man fell from grace, and was subject to evil, hence our natures were no longer pure but became tainted—they were black from the baneful consequences of sin. By the blood of Christ, which was typical of the red we were made pure. The treasures of heaven as a mood of God-fearing and self-sacrificing lives was next depicted by the minister.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

In the afternoon at the Sunday school Rev. Mr. Wilson was present and gave a very pleasing address to the teachers and scholars on the line of Sunday school work and encouraging them in their studies and labours for Christ. The attendance was unusually large, no less than 501 out of the 600 scholars enrolled as members being present. The school, under its zealous and efficient superintendent, is in a prosperous condition, and, as Rev. Mr. Locke stated at the evening service, was doing a grand work for the Master. The officers and teachers number about thirty in all, and each one is conscientious and enthusiastic in his or her labours. The pastor stated that the children being trained were fast coming into full membership with the church, and that a number had sought regeneration at the recent revival services, and had become identified with the church and joined some one or other of the many church classes.

THE EVENING SERVICE.

Rev. Mr. Wilson again officiated and based his remarks upon the words, "What manner of child shall this be," found in St. Luke, 1 chapter, 66th verse. This question in the text was asked about a very remarkable child which had been born but eight days. Remarkable was the child, but because he was a child of promise and born to his parents when they were at an elderly age. He was remarkable in his habits, dress, tendencies and studies. He talked with God and was also wonderful as a preacher—an itenerant minister of six months and then went home to heaven. John the Baptist was the modern Luther of Judaism, the John Knox of his time. He talked before the King and before God. He suffered but he won. This question was asked by those who came to his circumcision. This question to-day was one of world wide influence and one which touched every human heart. Each parent since home began asked over the cradle of his child "What manner of child can this be." This was a closing period, every 33 years generations passed and childhood took its place. The speaker then went on to describe the uncertainty of the, inclinations and development of youth, of the evil influences and manifold temptations on every side, and how the children should be trained in the way of truth and righteousness. Our homes should be pure, pleasant, practical and Christian. The attachment and influence of that great institution, the home, and the example and character of parents shaped the course of the youth to a surprising extent. The hand that rocked the cradle was the hand which moved the world, and no sounder philosophy than this was ever known. The problems of the dawning century would come up for solution by the boys and girls of to-day, who would become the judges, parliamentarians, educators and moulders of thought and opinion to-morrow. All depended on the the way the children were trained. The preacher in an energetic manner spoke of the Sabbath schools, its work, influence and associations, the greater factor it was in the making of nations and its tremendous growth since its foundation by Robert Raikes in 1770. Sabbath school teachers little knew what great blessings might be derived from their labours, although many regarded their work as of no moment or importance and looked upon it as a thankless position. The clergyman would have all school children taught irrespective of race, creed or breed, loyalty to their land, their Queen, and their God.

At the close Rev. Mr. Wilson expressed his pleasure with Peterborough her citizens, and the kind reception given him, and Rev. Mr. Locke reciprocated the kindly statements made, in a few words.

THIS EVENING'S EVENT.

Special contributions were taken up at both services in aid of the Sunday-school. This evening the anniversary services will be continued in the church. A free tea will be served the scholars of the intermediate and Bible classes from six to eight o'clock by the teachers of the school, after which a public service will be held. An excellent programme will be provided by the children and short addresses delivered by the pastor and other local speakers.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE "IN IT."

A Life Agent called at a friend's place one day,
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had seen "the bore" coming and fled from his way
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had heard so much said, he was tired and sick
Of insurance and agents—'twas all a blank trick,
When one's coil must be shuffled to win it,
HE WASN'T IN IT.

A bit of a draft blew o'er his bald head,
HE WAS IN IT;
Pneumonia sent him straightway to his bed,
HE STAYED IN IT;
His doctor made of it a "quite special" case,
To save him for running still more of life's race,
But the grave took some chances to win it,
AND HE'S IN IT.

When approached by a gent for insuring your life,
GET RIGHT IN IT;
It's the right thing to do for your children and wife,
THEN STAY IN IT.
Remember that fires take your goods "out of sight,"
And that accidents happen each day and each night.
While insurance protects every minute,
IF YOU'RE IN IT.

A Bank Manager's Opinion.

HE IS "IN IT."

The General Manager of one of the leading banks in Canada, writing to a personal friend, says:—"I have no hesitation in saying that I place the CANADA LIFE upon the highest platform. It is in my opinion carefully, economically and honestly managed; its Reserve Funds are well invested; its rates of Premiums are low, and its future is, I think better assured than a great majority of Companies. I have my own life insured in the Company for a round amount, and would not hesitate to increase the amount of my policies should I decide upon taking out further insurance."

A Government Insurance Actuary's Opinion

On the Relation between Ordinary and Tontine Service.

It is frequently assertedby Companies whose business is nearly all tontined, that although the CANADA LIFE may and does pay large ordinary profits, yet it cannot compare so favourably on a long term distribution or tontine period, and that in the end better results can be obtained on a tontine policy in a large American Co. than on an ordinary or tontine policy in the CANADA LIFE. To prove the absurdity of this statement, the following piece of common sense is quoted from Mervin Tabor, late Actuary of the Illinois Goverment Insurance Department. In his well known book, "The Three Systems of Life Insurance," he says: "A company that gives large dividends on the ordinary kind of policies, can give much larger on the same kinds when Tontined, and a company that pays but meagre dividends on the usual forms, adopting perhaps the Tontine system to "cover up" its small surpluses, cannot be relied on for large returns of surplus under the Tontine Forms of Insurance."

The CANADA LIFE does not "cover up" its Quinquennial profits as some Companies do, but publishes them throughout the country.

It can and does surpass other Companies on Quinquennial profits. It should and will surpass them on Tontine profits.

WHY TO BE "IN IT."

BISHOP HAWKE'S REASON:—"I claim that Life Insurance is not only a a humane, but I might say a Christian Institution."

LORD LYNDHURST'S REASON:—"A Policy of Life Insurance is always an evidence of prudent forethought. No man with a dependent family is free from reproach if not insured."

WHEN TO BE "IN IT."

The younger, the cheaper. Therefore insure when young. Besides by insuring in the CANADA LIFE now, you will share in three years' profits.

WHERE TO BE "IN IT."

The best place to be "in it" is in the Company that gives the best returns for the least money, consistent with absolute security. Therefore, in order to be "in it," choose the Saturday Night's Production.

The opera house was crowded to the entrance on Saturday night to witness the production of "Ten Nights in a Bar-room" and "Muldoon's Pic-nic" by the Harry Lindley Company. The house was given a rare treat in witnessing eight acts altogether, four in each play, and all seemed to be well pleased with the two productions, accepting the frequent outbursts of applause as a criterion. Mr. H. O'Neil in his song and dance elicited much merriment. The company will be here two more evenings to-night and to-morrow night. By special request the Western comedy drama, "Reddy the Mail Girl," will be played to-night.

"It makes everything cheerful," she responded pleasantly.

"But it will break me up paying for it."

"Oh, no it won't," she insisted. "Haven't you been using gas long enough to know that the charge is just the same whether you use much or little."

Why Mr. Walter Kerr Speaks to All.

I must thank the people of Peterborough and surrounding country for the patronage I have received from them in the past year, but intend in this year to keep my eye more to business. I have secured one of the best taffy makers in this town to make all kinds of taffy. I have on hand fresh mixed candies, peanuts and oranges. My taffy is the biggest stick for one cent you every did see. One stick will keep you chewing for one hour, and 10 cents will keep you chewing all day. Parties wanting to have a taffy social will do well to call and see me and my prices before calling elsewhere. Don't forget the address, W. KERR, Royal Candy Store, 419 Water street. 6d

CHURCH CHIMES.

The board of trustees of the George street Methodist church meet to-night.

The annual meeting of St. Andrew's church congregation will be held on the 19th inst.

An interesting children's service was held in St. Luke's church yesterday afternoon, and was well attended.

Mr. L. Crowly conducted the service at the Park street Baptist mission last night, and gave an admirable address.

The annual business meeting of the congregation of the Murray street Baptist church will be held in Thursday night next.

Special services will be begun in the Murray street Baptist church this evening and continue all this week except Thursday night.

The George street male quartette Messrs. Manning, McKee, Hill and Turner sang "Nearer my God to Thee" with fine expression last night.

Communion service will be conducted in St. Andrews church next Sunday morning. The preparatory sermon on Thursday night will be preached by Rev. Mr. Goldsmith.

Rev. Geo. Edwards, pastor of the Charlotte street Methodist church preached both morning and evening yesterday, in the Cambridge street Methodist church, Lindsay, to large audiences.

Owing to the illness of Mr. W. J. Mason, pew steward of George street Methodist church, he has been excused from his duties temporarily. The allocation and payment for pews took place to-day.

Ensign Dawson, superintendent of the Prison Gate Home, Kingston, who was to conduct services at the Salvation Army barracks yesterday was unable to come owing to severe illness in his family.

Rev. Wm. Buchanan, of Norwood, preached two splendid sermons in the Mark street Methodist church yesterday. The pastor, Rev. J. Thom, B.A., preached missionary discourses at Norwood.

Rev. Principal Cavan, D.D., Toronto, will conduct the services in St. Paul's church next Sunday, and on Monday night will deliver a missionary address at a public meeting to be held in the church.

Communion will be dispensed in St. Paul's church on Sunday morning next. The preparatory sermons on Friday at 11 a.m. and 7.45 p.m., will be preached by Rev. Mr. Thom and Rev. Mr. MacWilliams respectively.

Miss Bella McLennan, of Whitby, daughter of Rev. K. McLennan, a former pastor of St. Andrew's church, presided in a clever manner at the organ in St. Andrew's church yesterday. Miss Baker, the new organist, will assume her duties on Sunday next.

Rev. T. M. Campbell, of Lindsay, preached special missionary sermons in the Charlotte street Methodist church yesterday. The rev. gentleman is an able and logical preacher and delivered two magnificent sermons in the interest of the missionary cause. Collections were taken up in this behalf and a liberal response met with.

At morning and evening services in St. John's church yesterday, Rev. J. C. Davidson directed the attention of the congregation to the fact that owing to the concentration of business in town on Saturdays, business men were completely wearied out and unfitted for the duties of the Lord's day. He strongly urged the members of the congregation to abstain from doing any but necessary business on Saturday, and thus show a particular interest in the welfare of of their brethren.

Yesterday being the first Sunday after the Epiphany, the services at St. John were of a festival character. Rev. J. C. Davidson preached in the morning on the words, "When they saw the light they rejoiced with great joy," Matt. ii, 10, and in the evening Rev. C. B. Kenrick preached from the text, "I am the bright and morning star." Rev. xxii, 16. The singing of the choir was exceedingly good. The Te Deum in the morning was Hopkin's in G, and at evensong Tour's Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis in F, well sung; also an exceedingly effective anthem by Simper, "We have seen his Star in the East," in which the solo was well taken by Master Boswell.

Mr. Potter, a missionary of the Upper Canada Tract Society who is in charge of the sea board mission among the sailors and shantymen from Toronto to Cornwall, is in town collecting funds for the society. Mr. Potter will remain in town a week in the interest of this important work, calling upon the citizens. Yesterday he delivered an instructive and highly interesting address on the work and the beneficial results accruing from it, in St. Paul's Presbyterian church in the morning and in St. Andrew's in the evening. Mr. Potter furnished many instances of the spread of the gospel and the great practical work being done among the numerous sailors on our lakes and among the shantymen in the northern country. It will be remembered he paid Peterborough a visit about a year ago but had, as he stated last night, never had the opportunity of speaking to the citizens before.

Death of the Lady Superintendent.

The EXAMINER regrets to announce the death of Miss Ballantyne, lady superintendent of the Nicholls Hospital, which took place on Sunday. Miss Ballantyne's devotion to duty led, doubtless, to her death. Before being fully recovered from an attack of typhoid fever, she undertook the nursing of diphtheria patients, and in her weakened condition, too readily contracted the fatal disease. Miss Ballantyne came to town two years ago from Guelph, and held the position of head nurse up to the time of Miss Eastwood's retirement last October, when she became Lady Superintendent, discharging the duties of the position with very commendable fidelity and efficiency. In both her official and personal relations she was warmly esteemed, and the many friends she has formed will feel keenly the peculiar sadness of her death.

Friday Evening, January 13th, 1893.

The grand concert advertised for the above date will be well worth the patronage of the music-loving public. Mr. P. Grenville Kleiser is an elocutionist of the highest merit, and at every appearance is received with great favour. The Toronto papers welcome him home (after an extended tour in the west) in terms of flattering regard as the leading elocutionist on the stage. Several attempts have been made to secure him for Peterborough in recent seasons, but the efforts have failed, his engagements extending far into the spring. A great treat may be looked for on the above date. Miss Minnie Gould, soprano, is a lady who is spoken highly of as a vocalist by competent critics. Miss Vair, of Peterborough, whom everybody will welcome back after an extended visit to Denver, is too well known to comment upon, except to say that she has decidedly improved in her singing since her last appearance here. The Peterborough Octette, composed of the best local talent, will render several selections, the closing one of which will be the beautiful octette "Good Night," from Ermine. A concert of such excellence will no doubt draw a large house.

HIGH SCHOOL TRUSTEE APPOINTMENTS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—As the appointment of two trustees to the High School Board is about to be made, let me, as a Roman Catholic, draw attention to the fact that the High School belongs to Protestant and Catholic alike, being supported by taxes levied on all classes without distinction, and the pupils being of all creeds. For twenty years I have watched to see if the town council would do as the people have done in reference to the formation of the council—that is, make the Board fairly representative of all classes of the people. For twenty years the council has never once nominated a Roman Catholic to the Board. Is this an accident or can it be said that the strong Protestant majority of Peterborough, ignoring the boasted principle of equal rights, have steadily refused to do the fair thing? Mr. Editor, I would fain think it an oversight, and that this injustice may not longer be wilfully continued, I write this letter trusting that their attention being drawn to it, the council will, in the next appointments, do what is right and fair. I am, Sir,

Your obedient servant,
A R. C. EQUAL RIGHTER.

Peterborough, Jan. 9th, 1893.

A PEDESTRIAN'S QUERY.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Could you give an answer to these queries:

1. How much snow fell between Sunday night and Monday morning?
2. Is it to be understood that the pedestrian breaks the path for the snow plough or the snow plough for the pedestrian?
3. Where are the snow ploughs, anyway?

Yours, knee keep in snow and doubt,
PEDESTRIAN.

Monday morning, 10 o'clock.

[THE EXAMINER regrets that it cannot give specific answers to these pertinent questions. As to the first there is a difference of opinion. The children who had to wade to school this morning through unbroken drifts, are of opinion that there was about a foot of snow. The snow ploughs evidently think there was about an inch. As to the second query—that raises a constitutional question which the town council should speedily settle. Seriously it is a shame that on many important thoroughfares the snow plough had not plied in time to open a path for school children. The snow plough service doesn't seem to be so good as it was last winter. The council should insist on a reform at once.

CRISP CURLING CHRONIQUES

What is Going on at the Rink Where Curlers Most do Congregate.

An interesting Pres. vs. Vice-Pres. match took place on Saturday night between Skips Dennistoun and Rutherford. Fourteen ends were played, and the ice was in a miserable condition. Skip Dennistoun's quartette was successful by one point. Following is the result:

H. Snowden,	W. Clancy,
A. Blade,	W. J. Montgomery,
S. Clegg,	W. Salisbury,
T. Rutherford, skip..12	R. M. Dennistoun, sk..13

The Lindsay curlers will play the Peterborough rink as a whole to-morrow. Two rinks of the Peterboroughs will go to Lindsay to play there, while two rinks from Lindsay will come down to Peterborough. Some great sport is expected by the curlers. Skips Rutherford and Ferguson will go to Lindsay, while Skips Attrill and Boucher will play here.

An interesting match took place on Saturday evening between Skips Dr. Boucher and Judge Weller. Sixteen ends were played and good sport enjoyed. At the end of the fourteenth end both sides were even. Following is the score:—

C. J. Leonard,	Rev. H. Symonds,
E. H. D. Hall,	J. Burnham,
G. W. Hatton,	E. B. Edwards,
Dr. Boucher, skip...14	Judge Weller, skip,..11

A "scratch" match took place on Saturday night, when two magistrates got into a fight. The rural justice in the inter-magisterial match downed his opponent by two points.

Some of the curlers complain that the circles about the "T" are very indistinct and should be re-marked. The "pot lid" could hardly be distinguished on Saturday night.

THE NICHOLLS' HOSPITAL.

Report of the Plumbing and Sanitary Condition by Mr. MacDougall—Resolution of Condolence.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Nicholls' Hospital, held in the town clerk's office this morning, the following report prepared by Mr. Allan MacDougall, sanitary engineer, Toronto, at the request of the directors, was presented and adopted:

THE ENGINEER'S REPORT.

TORONTO, Dec. 29th, 1892.

To the Chairman and Members of the Nicholls' General Hospital Trust, Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—I beg leave to report that I made a test of the plumbing work and sanitary fixtures of the Nicholls' General Hospital yesterday, being aided in this by the architect, Mr. Blackwell.

It affords me great pleasure to state that I found the building in a perfectly sound sanitary condition. I have never in the years I have been engaged in house examinations had such satisfactory results as I had in examining the Nicholls' Hospital yesterday. To apply the smoke test to six separate lines of soil pipe and find no leaks of any consequence is in my experience phenomenal. The tests show that the work has been done carefully in a workmanlike manner, and reflects great credit on architect and plumber. Each line of soil pipe being independent, having its own trap outside the building, is an excellent precaution.

I noted the care evinced all over the building to keep it clean, particularly in such small points as slop cloths, slop pails and other small details to which I pay particular attention in making my examinations. The freedom of smell round the closets, slop hoppers and sinks attracted my attention. I was all over the building and record with pleasure my satisfaction at the prevailing cleanliness.

I would suggest that the fresh air inlets placed in each line of soil pipe be carried out about 10 or 12 feet from the building, also that the waste from the laundry tubs be altered to 2-inch with drawn Dubois running trap, and that this trap and that from the adjoining room be back vented; they are the only fixtures which are not vented.

I noticed the use of sulphate of iron for disinfecting the sewage and approve of the method adopted. It will be well, if you do not already do so, to divide the first tank by a wire screen to catch any solids in the sewage and to place the outlet in the second tank, below the level of the water of the first; this lets the scum float on the top where it can be oxidized by the air and also come under the action of the iron.

I submit a list of the defects found, which should be attended to at once, and I tender my thanks to Miss Ballantyne and the staff for the assistance so kindly given to me. Main building, north end:

1. Defective lead joint in soil pipe in basement near junction of lavatory waste and with main pipe.
2. Defective lead joint at junction of back vent from bath basin, w. c., etc., and fitting in main pipe at both lavatories, ditto south end.
3. Defective connection between horn of closet and back vent pipe, new rubber pipe wanted.
4. Defective lead joint in attic of annex, near men's bed room, where I understand a new bath is to be put in.
5. W. C. in contagious ward connected to back vent with putty. Take out this joint and form a proper metal connection wit hrubber, gasket, and building screws.

Mr. Blackwell knows all the joints which require repairs; they are so slight that I call attention to them on account of the nature of the building.

The staff complain of a smell in the pantry of the annex; all the fixtures are in good order, the gas stove may cause a little of it and want of ventilation be another cause. A small gas burner placed under the shaft in the roof will induce a current and probably remedy the evil complained of. The hospital is well situated for disposal of sewerage by sub surface irrigation. I understand that this has been brought before you by Mr. Blackwell. An effective system could be put in next season at a very moderate cost.

I have the honor to be gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,
ALLAN MACDOUGALL.

THE LADY SUPERINTENDENT'S DEATH DEPLORED.

The following resolution was then passed:—Moved by Mr. Poussette, seconded Mr. McClelland, that the Board deeply regret the death of their lady superintendent, Miss Ballantyre, under circumstances of a peculiarly affecting nature, she having, while suffering from the effects of a recent attack of typhoid fever, undertaken at great risk the nursing of diphtheria patients, thus contracting the dread disease which caused her death. The Board desire to place on record their appreciation of her services and as a mark of respect, resolve to attend the funeral in a body.—Carried.

The meeting then adjourned.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The young men's meeting Saturday evening was addressed by Mr. J. W. Bennett. Twenty-three were present.

Twenty-eight young men attended the young men's meeting yesterday afternoon at 4.15 and heard a most excellent address from Rev. F. M. Campbell, of Lindsay, on "The Rich Young Man."

Last evening nearly three hundred people attended the gospel and song service, which was addressed by Rev. W. F. Wilson, of Toronto. A most thrilling and practical address was delivered in which the speaker referred to the degrading effects of sin and the saving and elevating power of the grace of God. He believed that Christ came to save the body and mind as well as the spirit, and praised the Young Men's Christian Association for its attempt to benefit men in all three parts of their being. Some people were always talking about death as if religion consisted entirely in getting ready to die, but he claimed that it was a preparation for life. In conclusion the speaker urged every young man present to give his heart to Christ and his life to Christian work. The address was listened to with rapt attention and evidently made a deep impression.

The annual business meeting for the reception of reports and election of officers will be held next Thursday evening at 8. A full attendance of members is requested.

A Disturbance

Isn't what you want, if your stomach and bowels are irregular. That's about all you get, though, with the ordinary pill. It may relieve you for a moment, but you're usually in a worse state afterward than before.

This is just where Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do most good. They act in an easy and natural way, very different from the huge, old-fashioned pills. They're not only pleasanter, but there's no reaction afterward, and their help lasts. One little sugar-coated pellet for a gentle laxative or corrective—three for a cathartic. Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Dizziness, Sick and Bilious Headaches, are promptly relieved and cured.

They're the smallest, the easiest to take—and the cheapest pill you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the good you get.

BOW-LEGS.

How They and Other Troubles May be Corrected.

A lady wishes me to beg that you will ask "J.W.A." what can be done for a woman who has for 30 years stood on her heels and turned in her toes; also whether spring heeled shoes are to be advised, and whether the exercises recommended are safe for those suffering with misplacements.—C.S.V.

A father carried sketches to a great artist, asking him if he thought his son, who made them, would ever become a great painter. Thrusting aside the papers, the artist said: "Let me see the boy. I care nothing for what he has done; I would see how much work there is in him!" I thought of this incident when I read the above query concerning the mishappen limbs—so many things can be done if one has persistency enough to do them, which seem impossible if this working power is lacking.

The physical exertion necessary to remedy the bow-legs is not so great as the mental demand. The memory is what will be taxed most, and what will serve most, because it will require almost constant watchfulness to hold the legs in the right position. But this must be done until they change in shape and are straight.

When standing, the heels should be thrown in and the toes turned out in an exaggerated manner, and the knees held firmly together as long at a time as possible. The exercise for "freeing" the knee (p. 796) should be practiced as often as once or twice a day. It should be borne in mind to hold the knees together always, when sitting as well as standing.

The difficulty commonly called "knock-knees," as well as the deformity we are discussing, is usually with the muscles, and the relative position of the femur, tibia and fibia, and not with the shape of either of these bones taken by itself. If a person stands in a weak position—that is with the knees bent—the weight is taken off the knee-joint, and by the outcome of a general law that "diminished pressure results in increased growth," the joint grows more protruding. Standing straight and square on the leg throws the weight of the knee and the "increased pressure diminishes the growth."

In regard to spring-heel shoes, there seems to be no particular advantage about them only high heels should of course be avoided. If common shoes are preferred, a lift or two could be taken off the heels. Elastic bands should not be worn on the leg, as they not only impede circulation but affect the muscular action.

Improvement is always an encouragement to proceed, and for this reason I would suggest that the legs be closely observed (in a pier glass) before commencing practice and by standing in a perfectly easy and natural position. Then after a few weeks you ought to be able to detect a slight improvement, but do not look for any decided change for a much longer time.

——Concerning the "misplacements" alluded to, the term is rather indefinite, but I suppose a common trouble among women generally called "displacement" [of uterus] is meant.

In the first place there is no donbt that proper exercises are beneficial for such troubles; bnt every case requires special treatment, which no one can safely give without particular information. This we know; organs which are so easily and quickly affected by the general health are very susceptible to any improvement in the system. A noted Physician says: "Proper exercise, never in excess, avoidance of lifting, a healthy, happy mental condition—these are worth more than all the medicine ever dreamed of"—in such cases as are referred to.

The ligaments which hold the organ affected in place are greatly dependent upon the muscular force and strength of the pelvic region. Many women who have taken quantities of medicine and different kinds of treatment have found that nothing benefited them so quickly or so permanently as measures taken to improve the general health. Consequently if the trouble is not of a serious nature all physical exercise taken with extreme care and moderation ought to prove beneficial. A physician should be consulted by explaining to him the nature of certain exercises, and his judgment sought in your special case. The lower torso movement, exercises for the back, bending movements and the correct standing posture should all claim attention. Exercise in the open air should not be neglected for anything else. "Work the wits and save the body" must be applied to lifting or straining the body in any way.

The figure accompanying this article shows an exercise of great value to the entire body. It is given in a course of medico-gymnastics (by an able teacher) for pelvic weakness. I could not advise its use to any one, however, without her consulting a physician, as in a severe case it might be most injurious.

The pole that is held aloft may be an old broom-handle sawed off about twenty-seven inches long. This should be firmly grasped in both hands in the position shown. If one can walk up and down on a piazza in the open air, it is better than walking in the house. You will readily see how this exercise will make demands upon the entire body. Hold the head erect and pay attention to the legs as you walk, holding the knee stiff when the weight is on that leg, and as soon as the weight is transferred, relax the stiff limb. Strike on the ball of the foot first and then turn out the toes.

As soon as fatigue is felt stop immediately. Rest a little, and proceed. To relieve the arms, retain the grasp on the pole and lower it until it rests on the shoulders. Then raise the pole and proceed in the former position.

This may be very tiresome for a time, but as strength is gained by its practice, it will prove exhilarating.—J. W. A. in Country Gentleman.

A Pleasant Herb Drink.

The best cure we know of for Constipation and Headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs and is made for use by pouring boiling water on to the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders and is now the sovereign remedy with ladies for clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the pack, ages at 50c. and $1

Three Practical Points.

Three practical points: 1st. Burdock Blood Bitters cures dyspepsia by acting promptly on the stomach, liver and bowels. 2nd. Burdock Blood Bitters cures bad blood by the same specific action combined with its alterative and purifying powers. 3rd, Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases arising from the two first named, such as constipation, headache, biliousness, dizziness, scrofula, etc., by removing their cause as shown and proved in thousands of indisputably recorded cases.

To be free from sick headache, biliousness, constipation, etc., use Carter's Little Liver Pills. Strictly vegetable. They gently stimulate the liver and free the stomach from bile.

HOW TO WEAR THE HAIR.

Care of the Hair—The Latest Styles in Hair-Dressing.

The tendency in hair-dressing is toward extreme simplicity. It is considered in bad taste to make any addition to the natural hair, and false frisettes, puffs and switches are very little used. The most striking innovation of the season in a distinct parting of the hair in the middle from the forehead to the crown of the head. This may undoubtedly be traced to the influence of the 1830 styles. For morning the hair is worn in some soft, fluffy way around the face. There is a very slight fringe of hair over the forehead, but this fringe is parted in the middle, curling in on each side. The back hair is divided off from the front hair, though this does not show when the coiffure is completed. It is necessary in order to arrange the front hair so that the parting from the forehead to the crown of the head shall be an evidence. The two portions of the front hair are twisted closely to the head, then mingled with the back hair, which is arranged for the street in a soft coil either oblong or in the shape of a figure 8, extending from about the middle of the back of the head low in the nape of the neck. The special characteristics of the morning coiffure are the fine parting, the delicate parted bang over the temples, and the soft careless coil which is always kept rather long and is arranged with that ease which shows the most consummate art. The set styles of hair-dressing, like the shamrock twist (consisting of three puffs), and others which now find favor in England, are not a success in our country. The refined American woman will not allow her coiffure to be overweighted by the hair-dresser with frisettes, puffs and other false pieces. Her hair is seldom over-elaborately dressed, but it is arranged in a becoming and tasteful manner adapted to the contour of her face.

For evening the mass of the hair may be arranged extremely high on the crown of the head or at the middle of the back, according to the conformation of the face and head. If the face is round, it may be placed directly on the crown or quite high, but if it is long it should be arranged considerably lower at the back. A woman with a pure Grecian outline of feature may wisely adopt the new Psyche knot, which differs decidedly from the close little twist with a bunch of curls in the centre called by this name a few years ago and worn in the back of the head, midway. The new Psyche knot consists of three distinct twists, one above the other, is rather small and long, and is placed on the crown of the head. A satin ribbon about one inch wide is sometimes wound in this twist and tied in a smart little bow, with standing ends and loops. A diamond hilted dagger or a jewelled hairpin of any kind is then thrust through the hair. A high coiffure consists of a French twist kept very close to the head, with a loop of hair coming toward the front, and two loops forming a small figure 8 crossing the twist on the crown of the head. For the evening coiffure the entire hair is now waved in natural waves, in very much the same way it seems to have been dressed in the time of the First Empire, judging from pictures of that epoch. It is not necessary to crimp the entire hair in this case, as this would add too much to the bulk if the tresses were thick. Therefore, merely the layers of hair on the outside are waved, and when these are combed out and the mass of the hair is lifted to the crown of the head, the effect is of natural wavy hair. Another advantage in waving the hair is that it tends to hold the short hairs en masse with the longer ones.

The care of the hair is a matter which should occupy the attention of any woman who desires luxurious tresses. Vigorous washing every night tends to invigorate its growth; but the monthly clipping of the ends is more efficacious than anything else, if systematically attended to. The best hair-dressers do not advise shampooing or washing the hair oftener than once a month. In the matter of luxuriant growth, Nature does more than artifice. The woman with fine silken tresses is not as likely to have long, abundant ones as if her hair were coarse. Blond, golden-haired women do not have as abundant hair as their sisters of the ashen blond type, or as brunette women. That reddish-brown hair so much admired by poets and artists is usually very abundant; but hair of the paler shades is more likely to be sparse.—N.Y. Tribune.

Arrange convenient drinking vessels for the fowls during the winter.

It is important to have the floor of the duck and geese quarters dry in winter.

By watching for the first appearance of cold and curing it roup may be prevented.

Dressed poultry should always be thoroughly cooled out before packing for market.

One of the best ways of securing dryness under foot is by using dry earth on the floor.

Mr. William Buchanan, 24 years engineer in the Cunard Steamship Company's service, 8 St. John's Road, Kirkdale, Liverpool, Eng., writes: "I suffered two years of agony from an affection in the head which six physicians pronounced incurable.

They were divided in opinion as to whether it was acute neuralgia of the head or rheumatic affection of the brain, but all agreed that I could never recover. In my paroxysms of pain it needed two and sometimes three men to hold me down in bed. When at death's door,

ROYALISTS IN FRANCE.

THEY HAVE ARRANGED FOR A POLITICAL MEETING.

The Count of Paris and Family Have Gone to Seville—Royalists Will There Plan Their Campaign for the Next General Elections in France.

PARIS, Jan. 7.—The Count of Paris has gone to Seville with his son, Ferdinand Francis, and the Count d'Haussonville. The Count of Paris will, it is expected, be shortly joined by the Countess and the rest of the family, and a gathering of the Orleans princes and their principal counsellors will take place to fix a line of conduct in view of the French general elections.

The Spanish Government is keeping an espionage upon the Count and his adherents, and it is understood Premier Sagasta will not allow any demonstration on Spanish territory.

The French Government exhibits very little anxiety in regard to the Royalist gathering.

The charges against M. Baihut, who was Minister of Public Works in the De Freycinet Cabinet, have aroused great interest, largely on account of the peculiar social career of M. Baihut and his connection with the divorced wife of M. Armengaud. As Minister of Public Works M. Baihut had an important influence upon the course of the Government in regard to the Panama Canal Company, and the charge is substantially that he sold that influence.

The Figaro says M. Franqueville, the juge d' instruction, has decided that the evidence against M. Baihut, presented during the examination in regard to the check for 500,000 francs alleged to have been paid to him, warrants putting him on trial.

It is reported that the proof against M. Baihut, as well as against other important personages whom the Government is prosecuting or preparing to prosecute, is due to an understanding arrived at between the authorities and Charles DeLesseps, whereby the latter, in consideration of giving all the information in his power in relation to the beneficiaries of the Panama corruption, is to be treated with great leniency, if not admitted to absolute immunity.

The report is that Charles DeLesseps has made an unreserved statement of all facts within his knowledge and will do the same on his trial and at any separate trials of others connected with the scandal.

M. De Lesseps' motives are stated to be not only to secure immunity as far as possible from the penalty of the law, but also to convince the public that the Panama Company was forced by irresistible pressure on the part of the officials and the press to choose between wholesale corruption and the threatened ruin of the enterprise.

It is said the acknowledgments made by M. De Lesseps are of the most startling character and will create a sensation in America as well as in France. M. Tiburce-Franqueville is conducting the examination of the accused with great skill.

M. Andrieux denies that M. Herbette, French Ambassador to Berlin, is the influential man implicated in the Panama scandal whose name he refused to give to the parliamentary commission.

M. Delahaye publishes this morning an important letter narrating how he received the commission to expose the Panama scandal. A certain person came to him, he says, with a fac simile of the original list of 172 Senators and Deputies who had accepted Panama bribes.

The list was shown to him, however, on the condition that he should not reveal the names, but merely take steps to compel the Chamber of Deputies itself to undertake the exposure. M. Delahaye says that the subsequent events amply confirmed all the statements of his informant. He adds that much more remains to be revealed.

Several newspapers yesterday predicted the arrests of more deputies and senators on next Monday.

The police were busy between 1 and 3 o'clock yesterday destroying incendiary placards posted by Anarchists. These placards called upon the people to rise at once, seize arms and destroy their corrupt oppressors and seize the reins of government. A feeling of alarm was apparent throughout the city last evening and it is likely to increase to-day in consequence of the prophesies of the press that the worst developments are to come.

Gen. Saussier, military governor of the city, has taken every possible precaution. The city would be safe were it not for the general conviction that the Government is playing fast and loose in the Panama matter. The laxity of the Government's conduct of the prosecution is the subject of universal comment.

The continual succession of boils, pimples, and eruptions from which many suffer, indicates an impure state of the blood. The most effective remedy is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It expels the poison harmlessly through the natural channels, and leaves the skin clean and clear.

HAMILTON, April 20, 1892.

I was doctoring for years with physicians for a scaly and scurvy affliction of the scalp, they told me it was eczema, but gave me no permanent relief. I was also troubled with excessive dandruff, which would drop from my head like snow flakes. Hearing of Anti-Dandruff I used it, and from the third application felt more relieved than for years; when half the bottle was used the eczema and scaly eruptions disappeared and have not returned since; dandruff was thoroughly removed, the itching of the scalp stopped, and for an elegant, clean and useful hair-dressing Anti-Dandruff has no equal.

JAS. G. BLAINE IS DYING

HEART FAILURE IS DRAGGING HIM TO THE GRAVE.

His Services to the American Republic Stamped Him As a Citizen Crowned With Genius for Statesmanship—His Name Ranks With the Honored.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Jan. 9.—The news that James G. Blaine had once more passed into the valley of the shadow of death, and that even those who had been most sanguine in anticipation now held no hopes of his recovery, became known in Washington and by means of press bulletins to the country at large this morning. Notwithstanding the hopeful views which the family and the attending physician, by their direction, had from time to time given out for publication, no expectation of Mr. Blaine's ultimate recovery has been entertained by anyone in a position to acquire knowledge of the real facts of his case since the issue of the significant bulletin of Dec. 17 last.

Next day, Sunday, Dec. 18, just three weeks ago, there occurred that sudden failure of the heart's action which for hours left the patient trembling on the verge of death, and which broke down much of the reticence and suppression of facts that had heretofore been maintained, and elicited admissions which seemed to preclude any hope of recovery or even of any natural amelioration of his condition. Many more or less well founded assertions of failing vitality and dangerous relapses have since then found publicity, but none have been officially admitted until last night. But last night the physicians admitted that Mr. Blaine was worse and much weaker. Even then this admission was qualified by the announcement that no immediate danger was anticipated.

The doctor's bulletin, alarming as it was, left many facts to be supplied by outside enquiries. It was about midnight that his condition became so alarming that the trained nurse, who is constantly at his bedside, had Dr. Johnston aroused and hurriedly summoned. Dr. Johnston arrived at 1 o'clock and found Mr. Blaine sinking rapidly, and he worked over him for some time before signs of recovery became evident. His condition was so alarming that the family fearfully looked for the end before the dawn of the Sabbath morning and remained awake and within immediate call of his bedside all night.

The powerful heart restoratives applied by the doctors, which are stated to have been the most potent known to medical science, were successful in rallying and making more steady the feeble and fitful pulsations of the heart, so that by the time the churchgoers passed the family residence in Lafayette-square Mr. Blaine's condition was a shade better.

At 8 o'clock Dr. Johnston left the house and hurried through the Lafayette Park on his way to breakfast at his home, a few blocks away. To a reporter who intercepted him he said that Mr. Blaine at that hour was in a really dangerous condition.

Dr. Johnston is a very conservative man, and this was the most decided statement he had ever made respecting Mr. Blaine. Mr. Blaine, he said, began to grow weaker yesterday afternoon and his condition grew worse with the oncoming of the night. Mr. Blaine sank as the vital forces of nature ebbed. He was at that time so low that there was cause for apprehension of the worst.

In response to an inquiry as to Mr. Blaine's chances for rallying, as compared with the dangerous elements in the case, Dr. Johnston said the probabilities were in the direction of the patient's failing. Dr. Johnston returned to Mr. Blaine's residence shortly before 10 o'clock.

Soon after 11 o'clock an intimate friend of the family left the residence and was driven to the Western Union Telegraph Company's office, where telegrams were sent to relatives of the family announcing the latest state of the illness. These stated, it is understood, that the family were without hope that Mr. Blaine would recover.

Towards the evening Mr. Blaine rallied slightly from his attack of the morning. This rally was effected by the doctors administering nitro-glycerine to stimulate the action of the heart, which it is believed is almost clogged by uræmic poisoning. This drug is the most powerful known to medical science, and is never used except on desperate occasions. Repeated doses of the medicines were given during the day and this afternoon.

As the day drifted into twilight and the shades of night fell upon the great red mansion a dim light appeared in the sick room on the third floor south. Visitors became fewer and the people on the streets hurried by the house in the shivering cold, only stopping a moment to ask of his condition from the newspaper men about the house. It is ascertained that there were three distinct relapses during the night. At 1 a.m., when he was first seized with heart failure, his physicians really thought the end had come. But by the aid of stimulants, chafing and the usual accessories he rallied. He soon after, however, relapsed into a stupor. Suddenly at 5 o'clock this morning he opened his eyes, which were as clear as they ever were, and seeing his physician at his side, exclaimed:

"Doctor, I am glad you have come." The tones of his voice were remarkably clear and strong for a man almost in extremis. Five minutes later he sank into a stupor again and 30 minutes later still he had a second attack of heart failure. Strange to relate he again rallied only to be seized the third time three hours later.

Shortly before 10 o'clock the President sent a messenger to and telegraphed over from the White House to enquire as to Mr. Blaine's condition. He was informed that the patient was resting comfortably, and that it was hoped and expected he would live through the night.

In view of conflicting statements which have been made concerning Mr. Blaine's religious views, the statement that the Rev. Dr. I. S. Hamlin, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of the Covenant, was called to the bedside of the dying man, has more than usual interest.

At 6 o'clock this morning, when the family feared that Mr. Blaine was dying, a messenger was sent to Rev. Dr. Hamlin, who went to the house almost immediately, arriving there at 7 o'clock. He entered the sick room and prayed by Mr. Blaine's bedside. Mr. Blaine rented a pew at the Church of the Covenant and it was the only church he attended since his return to Washington this autumn. He visited it on one occasion only. Dr. Hamlin visited the house again later in the day.

At midnight Mr. Blaine's physician issued the following bulletin:

"Mr. Blaine's condition has been more favorable this afternoon. He is now, at midnight, sleeping quietly and shows a fair degree of strength.

"The probabilities are that no change for the worse will take place tonight, although no positive [illegible] on this point. A [illegible] this morning.

TO CLEAR!
TO CLEAR!
TO CLEAR!

"Slaughter" is the word for this month. Stock-taking will be upon us in a few days, and, as we prefer to clear out many lines at a sacrifice for cash, rather than take them into stock again, a regular deluge of bargains awaits all shoppers at the GOLDEN LION. "A bird in the hand will be worth four in the bush" to us all this month, and the nimble quarter will buy as much as the slow dollar between now and stock-taking day.

QUARTERED.

The following lines are now offered at a sweeping reduction off original prices in order to clear them completely out—

1. Sealette Collars and Muffs.
2. Feather Boas.
3. Mantle Sealettes.
4. Ladies' Mantles.
5. Childrens' Mantles.

Our aim, as on previous occasions, is to clear out stock—not bad stock, but first-class lines—at big reductions.

All who have patronized our January sales in the past, know that we mean business, and carry out, to the letter, our agreement.

TO SMOKERS!

We beg to tender our thanks to smokers for their hearty appreciation of our efforts in the past to furnish them with the Highest Grade Goods consistent with prices charged, and to assure them that no effort will be spared to continue to cater with ONLY the CHOICEST the market of the world affords. Our brands this year will be found even better than ever. Our name is a guarantee of the best value at lowest prices.

We buy no CHEAP tobacco. Quality at any price is our motto, not quantity at the lowest prices. We do not manufacture CHEAP cigars. Our goods are High Grade. Cost no more to the consumer than Cigars of greatly inferior quality that are persistently foisted upon the public by some dealers for the sake of additional gain.

When you ask for our brands, "Cable Extra," "Kicker," "Mungo," "Madre E-Hijo," "El Padre," "La Cadena," and "La Flora," Clear Havana Cigars, the cream of the Havana crops, you secure yourself against inferior value.

Those dealers who state they are "just out," or don't handle them, or have better value, etc., are the ones who are not satisfied with a reasonable profit.

By insisting upon having our brands you protect yourself.

With best wishes for a happy and Prosperous New Year.

We beg to remain,
Very Gratefully yours,

THAT SARNIA ROBBERY

CLERK M'MAHON HAS BEEN COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

McMahon Took the Money and Gave It to His Confederate—He Afterwards Got Back Some of the Money—Seemed Frightened.

SARNIA, Ont., Jan. 10.—James McMahon, who was arrested for complicity in the Sarnia express robbery last Wednesday, was brought before the Mayor Monday and committed for trial.

Evidence was given by the bank officials, showing money sent. Cook, the agent of the express company, proved getting the money back from McMahon on Dec. 23 last.

The principal evidence was given by Government Detective Joe Rogers of Toronto.

Rogers proved a statement he got from the prisoner in Toronto on Jan. 1, in which the prisoner gave him full particulars of how the job was put up and carried out.

The first plan was, McMahon was to be be slugged while driving the wagon and the money was to be taken. This was not carried out.

The next job was to rob the safe. McMahon was in charge of the office and carried the key of the safe. His confederate got him to go to his house and there took an impression of the key on a piece of soap. The key was made from it and given to McMahon. It was thus planned to leave the basement door open as a blind.

McMahon took the $6715 out of the safe when he went to dinner on Dec. 20 and gave it to his confederate, McMahon leaving the brass key in the safe to throw suspicion off him.

Some days after McMahon got some of the money from his confederate and took it home. He became frightened and put it in the stove and burned it, some $300.

Detective Rogers was seen at the Bellchamber Hotel as to the second party, but he refused to say anything about him or his name. Rumors are current as to who it is, several names being mentioned. Rogers was asked what he thought of the outcome of the robbery. He replied:

"It has turned out exactly as I told Mr. Bryce, the superintendent of the company, when here on Dec. 21."

Residents here are surprised at the developments, McMahon being looked upon as a steady, honest young man. The prisoner is defended by JAMES LISTER, Q.C."

DR. BRIGGS' CASE.

The Presbytery Exonerates Him From the Charge of Heresy.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The final meeting of the Presbytery of New York, sitting as a court on the trial of the charges against the Rev. Dr. Charles A. Briggs, met yesterday afternoon to receive the report of the special committee having in charge the consideration of the vote taken at the last meeting of the judiciary. The report of this committee is:

"Giving due consideration to the defendant's explanations of the language used in his inaugural address, accepting his frank and full disclaimer of the interpretation which has been put upon some of the phrases and illustrations and his affirmations of loyalty to the standards of the church and to the holy scripture as the only infallible rule of faith and practice, the Presbytery do not find that he has transgressed the limits of liberty allowed under the constitution to scholarship and opinion."

"Therefore, without expressing approval of critical or theological views embodied in the inaugural address, or the manner in which they have been expressed and illustrated, the presbytery pronounces the Rev. Charles A. Briggs, D.D., fully acquitted of the offences alleged against him, the several charges and specifications accepted for probation having been not sustained."

BLAINE STILL ALIVE.

It Seems Scarcely Probable He Will Survive Another Day.

WASHINGTON, JAN. 10.—Dr. Johnston paid a visit to Mr. Blaine between 5 and 6 o'clock last evening. He said Mr. Blaine had rested comfortably all day and was much better. He had rallied considerably and there was no reason, so far as Dr. Johnston could see, to expect a fatal termination during the night.

At 11 o'clock there was no change in Mr. Blaine's condition. He was resting easily.

Mr Blaine's physicians authorize the following:

Mr. Blaine passed a comfortable day until 8 o'clock last evening, when he become not so well, and at this hour, 1 a.m., he is still losing strength.

PACKED DYNAMITE;

It Exploded and He Leaves a Widow and One Child.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y., Jan. 10.—Sampson Woolsey, whose home is in Troy, but who is employed at Highland, opposite this city, met with a singular accident. From some unknown cause a dynamite cartridge exploded in his pocket, shattering his thigh badly. He was taken to Vassar Hospital, where he died last evening. He leaves a widow and one child.

DIED AT HER POST.

Miss E. Lister, a Missionary to the Indians At Alberni.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Jan. 10.—Miss E. Lister, who arrived at Alberni in October last to take charge of the Presbyterian Girls' Home, died at her post on Jan. 3, after 10 days' illness of pneumonia. She was from Perth, Ont., a volunteer for work among the Indians.

Surprised the Shareholders.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—At a meeting of the directors of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company prior to the stockholders' annual meeting, a resolution was adopted authorizing the payment of five per cent. interest on the first, second and third preferred bonds. Interest on these bonds has not been been paid in years.

Hurrying the Sultan.

LONDON, Jan 10.—A despatch from Tangier to The Times says that Great Britain has sent an ultimatum to the Sultan giving him 48 hours in which to decide whether or not he will pay indemnity for the murder of a British subject by the native police recently.

THE QUEEN AND SOCIETY

SHE NO LONGER RETAINS HER DISPOSITION FOR PRIVACY.

Doing This More For the Sake of Others Than to Please Herself—Entering Into Social Festivities That Have Been Banished From Court For Many Years.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—There can be no doubt that the Queen is making a change in her habits, which many of her loyal subjects look upon with great interest, mingled, perhaps, with surprise. She is relaxing in no slight degree the privacy in which she has lived and is entering into certain social festivities which for many years have been banished from court. It is very likely she is doing this more for the sake of others than to please herself. She may feel that the younger members of her family ought to have a little amusement occasionally and that while they live with her they cannot get it without her permission.

There is Princess Beatrice, who is always with the Queen and whose children are there quite as much as the Duke of Connaught's children, who are also a great deal with their grandmother. Altogether there are a great many young folks about, so that the Queen may naturally have felt it was in some sense her duty to modify the austere seclusion in which she has lived since the death of the Prince Consort.

The Queen herself, moreover, is not at all of that brooding and morose disposition which many people attribute to her. She is naturally of a cheerful temperament—no one has a more thorough enjoyment in lively or amusing conversation. That was always said to be one of the reasons why she first took so strong a personal liking to Benjamin Disraeli, who told her lively stories of what was going on in society and related them with that dryness and gravity which everybody found irresistible.

She can be serious enough upon proper occasion, as most people who have to transact business with her find out, but she can also unbend. Then she is known to be one of the most charming women in the world, as well she may be, considering the enormous range of her knowledge, her experience and the vigor of her intellectual faculties.

The operatic and dramatic performances given before her last year indicated her desire to bring herself more in contact with the world, but the most striking occurrence has been her sanction of the tableaux vivants which Princess Beatrice has been the prime means of getting up at Osborne during last season.

This is the time of year at which the Queen has hitherto avoided anything approaching social entertainments. It is associated with her heaviest bereavements. Seldom indeed have strangers entered her household until the Christmas and New Year celebrations have been all over. This is the first year in which she has made any signal departure from her custom.

The performances which have taken place at Osborne House were not given merely for the benefit of her own family, but strangers were invited, some of them entirely unknown, except by their positions or names, to Her Majesty. On Wednesday last, for instance, a great number of residents of the Isle of Wight were honored with invitations, and, I dare say, some of them will never cease to talk of the wonderful tableaux vivants in which the chief parts were played by the Duke of Connaught, Princess Louise, Princess Beatrice and their children.

What a sight for these heavy, respectable provincials to see Arthur, Duke of Connaught, playing King Alfred in the neat herd's hut and being roundly scolded for allowing the cakes to get burned. The descriptions of these wondrous things will keep many an Isle of Wight home quite fashionable for at least a twelvemonth to come.

Then, all the naval officers who happened to be near at hand were bidden to the show. It cannot, therefore, be said that the Queen is selfish in her enjoyments. She treated her neighbors with true old English hospitality, just as the Prince of Wales treats his at Sandringham. There was a very bounteous supper spread in the dining-room, and needless to say, that all the arrangements were of the most perfect kind.

As for the actual performances, a lady who was present informs me they could not have been more beautifully rendered even if the actors and actresses had been taken from the real stage. The Duke of Connaught and Princess Beatrice won especially loud praises, the Queen applauding most heartily. Now that the ice is fairly broken it is hoped the Queen may do a little more to encourage the regular drama, which stands sorely in need of a little fillip from some quarter or other.

I have never heard of the theatrical business being so bad as it is now. Even Mr. Irving found it expedient to reduce the number of his stalls and assign more space to the pit, which is always crowded, but then there is a great difference between paying half a crown and half a guinea for your seat.

To expect the Queen, who is in her 74th year, to go to the London theatres again would be unreasonable, but when a play is acted before her a great many people are seized with an eager desire to see it who otherwise would have felt no interest in it. In that way the Queen can materially help the poor players, who just now are very poor indeed, and many fervently hope she will do it. A MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT.

A Treacherous Brute.

ISHPEMING, Mich., Jan. 10.—A crowd of Finlanders had a row in a saloon at Portage Entry and one was stabbed. A companion went for Dr. M. Meloche, who declined to attend. The Finlander, without the slightest warning, shot him.

Dr. Meloche died in a few hours, and his assailant is in jail.

The Deadly Locomotive.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Jan. 10.—The fast express on the Detroit, Lansing & Northern ran down a cutter at a crossing at Sunfield village, killing Mrs. George Allaman and Mrs. Cora Van Hager instantly, breaking Mr. Allaman's back and legs, and dangerously injuring his son. The cutter was carried half a mile on the cow catcher and Mrs. Allaman's body was in it.

Caleb Buchanan Dead.

HAMILTON, Jan. 10.—Caleb Buchanan, an employe for 20 years in the job room of The Times office, and only brother of Josh Buchanan, city editor of that paper, died this morning of pneumonia.

Football Killed Him.

BELLEVILLE, Jan. 10.—George Willard, aged about 21, a student at Albert College, whose parents live near Mount Forest, died last night from injuries received in a football match several weeks since.

OTTAWA NOTES

The Cabinet Ministers on Some West Side Work.

OTTAWA, Jan. 10.—[illegible] the whole Ministry will leave west [illegible]. On Wednesday night Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, Hon. A. R. Angers, Hon. J. C. Patterson and Hon. E. G. Wallace will leave for Niagara Falls, where they will attend the banquet on Thursday evening in honor of Senator John Ferguson, who will be presented with a handsome service of solid silver by his late constituents. On Thursday night Sir John Thompson, Sir Adolphe Caron, Hon. C. H. Tupper, Hon. John Haggart and probably one or two more Ministers will leave for Toronto, where they will be joined on Friday by the four Ministers who will attend the Ferguson banquet, and all will attend the Young Conservative Association meeting in the Auditorium. Hon. Mr. Foster, it is understood, will be unable to attend.

Hon. Clarke Wallace will not go through to Niagara Falls, but will stop off at Toronto, where he will be in the Custom House on Thursday morning and also again on Friday morning to meet any one who may have business with him, as well as to become acquainted with some of the members of the outside service of his department.

Mr. H. F. McHugh, superintendent of the Signal Service in connection with the Department of Marine and Fisheries, has come up from Quebec for the winter and to-night sent from here his first bulletin on the weather in the lower St. Lawrence and gulf, which will be continued three times a week during the winter. This is the first time this service has been performed from Ottawa, and apropos of that it may be stated that there is a pretty well authenticated rumor afloat that the Government will in future call into Ottawa during the winter a number of permanent members of the outside service who have little or no duty to perform after the close of the fall season, and utilize them in the several departments to which they belong while parliament is sitting, and so avoid the employment of extra clerks.

It seems to be pretty well understood now that the system which has obtained for so many years, especially in the Public Works Department, of employing large numbers of extra and temporary clerks, is to be abandoned, and the civil service confined as far as possible to the permanent staff.

This will lead to the dismissal of a good many, some of whom have been long in the department. But the changes will probably be gradual, and no large number of dismissals must be expected before the end of the present fiscal year. A few who have been holding temporary positions with the understanding that they would be made permanent if they passed the civil service examination and who failed to do so in November have been dismissed, and a few more dismissals of this class will most likely occur.

Director-General Davis of the World's Fair has notified the Canadian authorities that a contract has been entered into for the publication of 10,000,000 copies of the official catalog of the fair, and that lists of Canadian exhibits must be sent in at once. Only one or two lines will be allowed for each exhibit. It will be necessary for the Provincial Commissioners to forward their lists to the Dominion Commissioner immediately or they will be too late.

Sam Cassidy of this city has refused to be keeper of the House of Commons restaurant, because the Speaker's rules, he considers, restrict the profits to very little.

The German and Swedish Governments have prohibited Canadian emigration agents from working in those countries.

WEST YORK.

Mr. J. W. St. John Nominated by the Conservatives.

TORONTO, Jan. 10.—Mr. J. W. St. John of Parkdale was nominated yesterday afternoon by the West York Conservatives to contest the local election for that riding in their interests. The association met at Weston.

Mr. J. A. Macdonald was proposed by George Symes, Henry Welsh by John Bryans, W. J. Bull by J. W. S[illegible]on, S. T. Humberstone by Henry W[illegible] and William Medland by J. A. Macdonald. Then Mr. William Medland rose and proposed Mr. J. W. St. John, and the [illegible]im that greeted the mention of his name bespoke an easy victory. In fact so confident were some of the delegates that he would be elected that they strolled out of the hall.

Before the balloting began Messrs. Bull and Medland withdrew, and the first vote stood: St. John 55, Welsh 31, Macdonald 11 and Humberstone 6.

Mr. Welsh, seconded by Mr. Macdonald, moved that the choice be made unanimous, and with three cheers the motion was carried.

Mr. St. John, with his broad familiar smile between his broader beard, thanked the meeting for his nomination. Then the campaign cigar, the lineal descendant of the peace-pipe, went round, and the campaign began in earnest.

Foresters' Insurance.

OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 10.—Dr. Oronhyatekha, head of the Independent Order of Foresters, and John A. McGillivray, Q.C., Supreme Court Secretary, both of Toronto, arrived in the city yesterday and had a conference with Mr. Fitzgerald, Government Superintendent of Insurance, this afternoon. They are desirous of obtaining from the Government a certificate showing the standing of the order in Canada as an insurance society which will permit them to do business in certain States of the Union.

There are only a few states which require these certificates. The society got one from the Government already for Wisconsin, and now they desire one for Illinois and another for the State of Maine. Mr. McGillivray told your correspondent that there was considerable trouble in obtaining these certificates, the society being under a special act of incorporation; but if they were refused this time they would apply at the next session of Parliament for an amendment to their act instructing the Insurance Department to issue them.

Will Not Say Anything.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Mgr. Satolli remained in Washington yesterday and did not go to New York to take part in the feast of St. Agnes, at which, it was stated, that both he and Archbishop Corrigan would officiate. Mgr. Satolli absolutely declined to say anything on the Corrigan-Ireland publication, holding that it would be improper for him to do so.

A WORD TO WEST PETERBOUGH LIBERALS.

THE most effective and obvious discharge of the duty of a great party towards the country implies the existence of a clear and explicit definition of its policy, and it is equally plain that consultation and conference amongst the representative men of the Liberal party is the best means of bringing this about. In order to attain this end it is proposed that such representative men, composed of Liberal members of the Dominion Parliament and Local Legislature, and delegates selected from every riding in Ontario, shall meet for consultation in Toronto on Tuesday, January 24th. Accordingly it is requested that as many West Riding Liberals as possible will make it a point to attend a meeting to be held at the office of Mr. G. M. Roger, Water street, Peterborough, on Saturday, January 21st, at two o'clock p.m., to select delegates to attend the conference in Toronto on the 24th. It is to be hoped that each member of the Liberal party will consider it his duty to be present on Saturday, January 21st.

THE Catholic Register is the name of a new Roman Catholic journal in Toronto. The new journal is successor of the Irish Canadian and the Catholic Weekly Review of Toronto, whose places it supplies. It is a five-column, 16-page journal, very neatly gotten up and printed. Rev. J. R. Teefy, M.A., Superior of St. Michael's College, wields the editorial pen and this is a guarantee that the columns of the Register in literary polish will take leading rank, as the fact of his selection by His Grace, Archbishop Walsh, is a guarantee that Catholic "interests will be promoted and Catholic rights—religious, educational and civil—vindicated" in a most satisfactory manner.

THE new dress of the Woodstock Sentinel-Review indicates the application to its mechanical department of the enterprise that marks every department of its columns. The new dress is decidedly neat and becoming, and is only a type—no pun intended—of the excellence and merit of its editorial and news columns, which explains the liberal patronage and public appreciation the Sentinel-Review worthily enjoys. It is a sturdy and temperate exponent of Liberal principles, and as a news medium shows judicious enterprise. The new dress was supplied by the same firm that furnished the EXAMINER'S new dress—the old reliable house of Messrs. iller & Richard. The EXAMINER gives its co-tem. its best wishes for not only a prosperous New Year, but a prosperous future.

A Disturbance

Isn't what you want, if your stomach and bowels are irregular. That's about all you get, though, with the ordinary pill. It may relieve you for a moment, but you're usually in a worse state afterward than before.

This is just where Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do most good. They act in an easy and natural way, very different from the huge, old-fashioned pills. They're not only pleasanter, but there's no reaction afterward, and their help lasts. One little sugar-coated pellet for a gentle laxative or corrective—three for a cathartic. Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Dizziness, Sick and Bilious Headaches, are promptly relieved and cured.

They're the smallest, the easiest to take—and the cheapest pill you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the good you get.

Do not be discouraged if other medicines have failed to give you relief. Mumbray's Kidney and Liver Cure acts on the "Kidneys" direct, combined, with a mild action on the "Liver" and bowels, thereby removing the cause of "Back Ache," sour stomach, dizziness, indigestion and constipation.

Do not suffer from sick headache a moment longer. It is not necessary. Carter's Little Liver Pills will cure you. Dose, one little pill. Small price. Small dose. Small pill.

FALSIFYING FIGURES.

On December 21, on the occasion of his re-election by acclamation, the new comptroller of inland revenue, Mr. John F. Wood, M.P., made a ministerial and official statement to his constituents as to the public debt. That statement was reported verbatim in the government organ at Toronto. He gave what purported to be the net debt for six years, and stated that it was $237,809,030 in 1891, and $236,493,600 in 1892. That was an incorrect statement, and the proof is furnished by the public accounts. The blue book shows that the net debt in 1892 was $241,131,434, a sum nearly $5,000,000 in excess of the figure given by Mr. Wood. He had prepared carefully a tabulated statement, and he made a number of calculations based on his statement, and a number of arguments designed as a reply to the "wailers" and the "pessimists" who deplore the fact that under the "national" policy over $1,000,000 has been added to the public debt. It is hard, however, to meet members of the government who reply to opposition arguments by incorrect figures. Ten days before Mr. Wood told the public that the debt had decreased by $1,315,000 the minister of finance had signed his official report, showing an increase of $3,322,000. Mr. Wood made a further misstatement when he said:—"Although the public debt has increased in six years by about $9,000,000, the cost of carrying the debt is less now than in 1887 or in 1888."

The public accounts give the following figures, under the head of "interest paid on debts:"

1887	$ 9,682,928
1888	9,823,313
1889	10,148,931
1890	9,666,841
1891	9,584,136

Instead, therefore, of the public debt "increasing in six years by about $9,000,000," it increased by nearly $14,000,000; and instead of the cost of carrying the debt being "less now than in 1887," it is more. Mr. Wood also gave the figures of trade for the last fiscal year, officially termed 1892, which he could only have obtained from the department at Ottawa, because they are not yet published. It may be said that Mr. Wood only copied the misstatement made by the Minister of Finance at Petrolia in September last, when he said that the public debt in 1892 was only $236,000,000, but as that misstatement had been fully exposed in the press of the country, the excuse is not available.

THE BIGGEST DAY IN 7 YEARS!

Saturday, December 3rd was the biggest day MR. J. J. SHEEHY has had in seven years. Why is this? Surely not because there is less competition. Certainly not because inducements are not being held out by others. Most assuredly not because prices of farm products are showing an upward tendency. Then why??

Simply because the purchasing public of the town and surrounding country have read Mr. Sheehy's advertisements, have inwardly digested them and have conclude that cheap sale or no cheap sale Mr. Sheehy is bound not to be undersold

We want every day in December to be a big day. How are we to accomplish this? Simply by offering to the public better value for the money than can be had elsewhere. Just cast your eye over the following quotations:—

All Wool Flannels, 26 in. wide, - -	17½	Good Linen Towels each - - -	5½
9 lb. Wool Blankets, - - - - -	$3.75	Grey Wool Blankets, - - -	31c. a lb.
14 yds. Heavy Grey Canton Flannel,	$1.00	25 yards Factory Cotton, - -	$1.00

These few quotations will probably give an idea of what we are doing and a glance at our BARGAIN TABLE in the centre of our store will convince the most skeptical that when it comes to general bargains we certainly are very decidedly "in it."

A MULTITUDE MADE MERRY.

The Sabbath School Anniversary Services Held in the George Street Methodist Church Last Night.

The annual anniversary services in connection with the George street Methodist church Sunday school were conducted in the church last evening by a public meeting. From five to six hundred people, the majority of them members of the intermediate and Bible classes of the school, partook of a generous and very tasty supper between the hours of six and eight o'clock, served in the basement of the church. The teachers and officers proved capable waiters and the physical wants of all were speedily satisfied. An adjournment was made at 8 o'clock to the body of the church and notwithstanding the roaring tempest outside, a large number braved the elements and spent a very profitable and delightful evening. Mr. T. W. Robinson, the vigilant and active superintendent of the school made a first class chairman, and everything passed off to the entire satisfaction of all. The opening hymn was "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name" after which Rev. Geo. Edwards, pastor of the Charlotte street church led the audience in prayer. The chorus, "Sound the Battle Cry," was then sung by the school, after which the chairman gave a practical address on the growth and development of the school from its inception to its present high state of efficiency. Mr. Robinson stated he had been connected with the Sunday school for some thirty years, and was one of its oldest, if not the oldest, scholar of the institution. The speaker paid a tribute of praise to the noble work done by his predecessors in upbuilding the school, particularly to their former superintendents, Messrs. J. W. Flavelle and H. S. Griffin. There was great encouragement for its continued success and prosperity.

A class of ten charming little girls from the infant class, all prettily dressed, then sang very sweetly a motion song. They were excellently trained by Mrs. MacIntyre, and Mr. Seward played the accompaniment.

THE SECRETARY-TREASURER'S REPORT.

The secretary-treasurer of the school, Mr. H. E. Armstrong, presented his annual report, giving the various officers of the school. The infant class had enrolled 227 members, with an average attendance of 137. Mrs. Hockins and Mrs. MacIntyre, teachers. The intermediate classes, numbering 30, had a membership of 280. There were five ladies' Bible classes with 78 members in all. A young men's Bible class, taught by Mr. J. Jeffries, had 60 members, with an average attendance of 40. An adult class had lately been organized been organized by Mr. W. Millar. During the year five teachers and officers had left town. There were also three deaths—Johnny McComb, Hettie Wright and Arnold Green. The library had 800 volumes and was well patronized. The periodicals taken were, each scholar, Quarterly; teacher, Times, and lesson cards for infant class. The average collections were $6.72, the largest $12.67, the smallest $3.87.

The financial statement showed an exceedingly healthy condition of the funds, as follows:

The choir from the school which presented the Christmas cantata, "Star of Bethlehem," then sang "In Beautiful Eden" with fine effect, Miss Lumsden taking the solo part,

After which Rev. S. T. Bartlett, of Lakefield, gave a very pleasing and entertaining talk to the children.

A quartette by Miss A. Wilkinson, Miss Maguire, and Misses Annie and Clara Belleghem, entitled "Farewell," was then sung beautifully.

Rev. Geo. Edwards and Rev. Mr. Locke followed in fine addresses, complimenting the children on their good behaviour, and the excellent way the programme had been carried out. This was probably the most successful anniversary the school had ever held.

The hymns, "Ring the Merry Xmas Bells," was then sung, and the entertainment terminated with the Doxology and the pronunciation of the benediction by Rev. Mr. Bartlett.

Dublin's Unemployed.

DUBLIN, Jan. 9.—Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien had a long interview Saturday with John Morley, Chief Secretary for Ireland, the object being to urge upon Mr. Morley the purchase of tracts of grazing land in Connaught as a solution of the difficult question that is presenting itself of caring for the unemployed in Dublin.

They urge that these tracts of land should be secured by the Government, divided into small farms and then rented to tenants at fair rates. They claimed that this course would prevent laborers flocking to Dublin, and would result in great benefit to the working classes.

Fairfax Acquitted.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—Vice-Admiral Fairfax has been acquitted of the charge of neglect of duty in connection with the stranding of the British warship Howe at Ferrol, Spain, on Nov. 22. It was shown that the cause of the stranding was the defective character of the chart supplied to the navy.

Silver Wedding Benefits.

ROME, Jan. 9.—A decree of general amnesty will be issued in Italy on the occasion of the silver wedding of King Humbert and Queen Margherita. Among the beneficiaries of the decree will be Italians in the United States who have failed to render the required military service in Italy. They will thus be enabled to revisit Italy at any time without fear of arrest. Humbert was married to Margherita on April 22, 1868.

His Duty Was Unpleasant.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—John Morley, Chief Secretary for Ireland, made a speech Saturday that is noteworthy on account of its breathing of friendliness for the people of Ireland. In the course of his remarks he said that the Government was persuaded that migration was preferable to emigration and that the Government would do its best to meet the wishes of the Irish, but he feared that it would be impossible to do anything in the matter during the coming session of Parliament.

Bronchitis

"When I was a boy, I had a bronchial trouble of such a persistent and stubborn character, that the doctor pronounced it incurable with ordinary remedies, but recommended me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I did so, and one bottle cured me. For the last fifteen years, I have used this preparation with good effect whenever I take a bad cold, and I know of numbers of people who keep it in the house all the time, not considering it safe to be without it."—J. C. Woodson, P. M., Forest Hill, W. Va.

Cough

"For more than twenty-five years, I was a sufferer from lung trouble, attended with coughing so severe at times as to cause hemorrhage, the paroxysms frequently lasting three or four hours. I was induced to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and after taking four bottles, was thoroughly cured."—Franz Hoffman, Clay Centre, Kans.

La Grippe

"Last spring I was taken down with la grippe. At times I was completely prostrated, and so difficult was my breathing that my breast seemed as if confined in an iron cage. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and no sooner had I began taking it than relief followed. I could not believe that the effect would be so rapid and the cure so complete."—W. H. TO BE OR NOT TO BE "IN IT."

A Life Agent called at a friend's place one day,
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had seen "the bore" coming and fled from his way
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had heard so much said, he was tired and sick
Of insurance and agents—'twas all a blank trick,
When one's coil must be shuffled to win it,
HE WASN'T IN IT.

A bit of a draft blew o'er his bald head,
HE WAS IN IT;
Pneumonia sent him straightway to his bed,
HE STAYED IN IT;
His doctor made of it a "quite special" case,
To save him for running still more of life's race,
But the grave took some chances to win it,
AND HE'S OUT IT.

When approached by a gent for insuring your life,
GET RIGHT IN IT;
It's the right thing to do for your children and wife,
THEN STAY IN IT.
Remember that fires take your goods "out of sight,"
And that accidents happen each day and each night.
While insurance protects every minute,
IF YOU'RE IN IT.

A Bank Manager's Opinion.
HE IS "IN IT."

The General Manager of one of the leading banks in Canada, writing to a personal friend, says:—"I have no hesitation in saying that I place the CANADA LIFE upon the highest platform. It is in my opinion carefully, economically and honestly managed; its Reserve Funds are well invested; its rates of Premiums are low, and its future is, I think better assured than a great majority of Companies. I have my own life insured in the Company for a sound amount, and would not hesitate to increase the amount of my policies should I decide upon taking out further insurance."

A Government Insurance Actuary's Opinion
On the Relation between Ordinary and Tontine Service.

It is frequently asserted by Companies whose business is nearly all tontined, that although the CANADA LIFE may and does pay large ordinary profits, yet it cannot compare so favourably on a long term distribution or tontine period, and that in the end better results can be obtained on a tontine policy in a large American Co. than on an ordinary or tontine policy in the CANADA LIFE. To prove the absurdity of this statement, the following piece of common sense is quoted from Mervin Tabor, late Actuary of the Illinois Goverment Insurance Department. In his well known book, "The Three Systems of Life Insurance," he says: "A company that gives large dividends on the ordinary kind of policies, can give much larger on the same kinds when Tontined, and a company that pays but meagre dividends on the usual forms, adopting perhaps the Tontine system to "cover up" its small surpluses, cannot be relied on for large returns of surplus under the Tontine Forms of Insurance."

The CANADA LIFE does not "cover up" its Quinquennial profits as some Companies do, but publishes them throughout the country.

It can and does surpass other Companies on Quinquennial profits. It should and will surpass them on Tontine profits.

WHY TO BE "IN IT."

BISHOP HAWKE'S REASON:—"I claim that Life Insurance is not only a humane, but I might say a Christian Institution."

LORD LYNDHURST'S REASON:—"A Policy of Life Insurance is always an evidence of prudent forethought. No man with a dependent family is free from reproach if not insured."

WHEN TO BE "IN IT."

The younger, the cheaper. Therefore insure when young. Besides by insuring in the CANADA LIFE now, you will share in three years' profits.

WHERE TO BE "IN IT."

The best place to be "in it" is in the Company that gives the best returns for the least money, consistent with absolute security. Therefore, in order to be "in it," choose the

A Large Christmas Turkey.

The Cobourg Post clips the following from the EXAMINER, and adds: "Mr. R. Croft, of Cobourg, sent his brother, Mr. Wm. Croft, of the Croft house, an immense turkey for a New Year's present. It weighed no less than 30 lbs. 6 oz., dressed and drawn." Richard knew that the boarders at the Croft house were fond of turkey, and also knew that the above bird would fully satisfy their cravings.

The Evening's Profitably Spent.

The night school conducted at the Peterborough Business College has been a decided success during 1892. Over forty-five young men and women have availed themselves of the opportunities afforded of improving operations by attending the night classes. Any person who desires to take up arithmetic, writing, shorthand, bookkeeping or typewriting, should not fail to enter at once for a three months course, if possible, and determine to do thorough work. Those desirous of a day course at the College should write for particulars or call and make arrangements as early as possible. 2d1w

Shipbuilding Operations.

Mr. J. W. Hickey, practical shipbuilder from Port Hope has been engaged for some time past in building a large scow for the Dickson Company at Riverside Park. The new barque will be 80 feet long, 19 feet beam with a depth of five feet and built of pine. It will be very strong in its construction and capable of carrying some 60,000 feet of lumber. The Dickson Company will use the scow, which will be completed in about three weeks, for towing lumber between Harwood and Peterborough. Mr. Hickey and staff will also build a large sidewheel steam scow at Buckhorn, for towing logs and carrying lumber on the inland lakes for the same firm.

Opera House, Jan. 13th.

Never before in the history of the platform has their been such a demand for entertainments, combining instruction with pleasure in such a way as to correct the laxity of taste long displayed in the choice of light and frivolous amusements. This being especially true of elocutionary recitals Mr. Kleiser recognizing that artistic excellence is considered scarcely sufficient in itself, but should be supplemented by the choice of readings of great literary merit, has therefore prepared a repertoire, embracing humorous, dramatic, pathetic, and dialectic and musically accompanied recitations, which have been chosen with the greatest care as to their literary excellence and appropriateness for the concert platform. Don't fail to hear him on Friday evening, Jan. 13th, in the opera house.

EQUAL RIGHTS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—Allow me a few lines to express my approval of the broad, generous sentiments expressed in your issue of last evening by a R. C. Equal Righter. The council of 1893 have an excellent opportunity of doing the right thing by appointing to the High School Board a Roman Catholic representative of the council. I feel confident that Mr. C. W. Sawers will not object, after the letter that appeared in the town papers a few days ago. By all means give our Roman Catholic friends a representative on the Board. They pay their proportionate rate of taxes, and should have a glimmer of Equal Rights in this matter.

Yours truly,
EQUAL RIGHTER.

H. Snowdon, 9.....vs ..F. Bartlett, 13

The rinks had an excellent practice last night, getting into shape to meet the Lindsay brethren to-day.

The following rinks went to Lindsay to-day to play two rinks there:

R H Kells,	E B Edwards,
R S Davidson,	W Sallsbury,
C McGill,	R M Dennistoun,
W G Ferguson, sk.	T P Attrill, sk.

The Lindsay curlers, two rinks strong, arrived in town to-day noon and had dinner at the Snowden House. They are playing two quartettes of the Peterboroughs skipped by Dr. Boucher and T. Rutherford. The home rinks are two ahead as we go to press. The ice is in splendid condition and the cold weather lends hilarity and activity to the game.

Long and Terrible Illness from Blood Poisoning

Completely Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Mrs. Mary E. O'Fallon, a very intelligent lady of Piqua, Ohio, was poisoned while assisting physicians at an autopsy 5 years ago, and soon terrible ulcers broke out on her head, arms, tongue and throat. Her hair all came out. She weighed but 78 lbs., and saw no prospect of help. At last she began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and at once improved; could soon get out of bed and walk. She says: "I became perfectly cured by and am now a well woman. I weigh 128 lbs., eat well and do the work for a large family. My case seems a wonderful recovery and physicians look at me in astonishment, as almost like one raised from the dead."

HOOD'S PILLS should be in every family medicine chest. Once used, always preferred.

Alarm Clocks!

There are a great many small Alarm Clocks which have been running for a few years and are now out of order, which the owners are allowing to remain idle, because they think it will cost too much to repair them. If you bring them to us you will find that we will make them run as well as they ever did, at a very small charge. We have already changed hundreds of them from being merely rubbish into good timepieces. If you want to buy a new one, we will sell you an Alarm Clock at a lower price than any one else in the trade. We sell only the very best make and warrant every one.

The Presbytery of Peterborough met in St. Paul's church, Peterborough, this morning, Rev. D. A. Thompson, Hastings, moderator, presiding. There were present: Rev. Jas. Cleland, Mount Pleasant; Rev. F. Andrews, Keene; Rev. Wm. Bennett, Springville; Rev. P. Duncan, Colborne; Rev. J. Carmichael, Norwood; Rev. John Hay, Cobourg; Rev. John McEwen, Lakefield; Rev. C. S. Lord, Grafton; Rev. Wm. Anderson, Bobcaygeon; Rev. A. MacWilliams, St. Andrew's church, Peterborough; Rev. J. A. Bloodsworth, Millbrook, and Rev. J.K. Smith, D.D., Port Hope. The following elders were also in attendance:—Jas. Russell, Cobourg; Robert Digwall, Port Hope; Robert Tully, St. Andrew's, Peterborough; Robt. Gray, Port Hope; John Clark, Campbellford; Richard Hall, St. Paul's church, Peterborough; W. E. Roxburgh, Norwood.

The reading of the minutes of the previous meeting were dispensed with. Rev. Mr. McEwen drew the attention of the members to the matter of higher religious instruction and that contributions for this purpose be sent by all Sunday Schools in the Presbytery.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH PASTOR.

Rev. Mr. Carmichael moved, and Rev. Mr. McEwen seconded the following resolution: That this Presbtery hereby resolve to give expression to their sympathy for one of their number Rev. E. F. Torrance in the severe and protracted illness which has befallen him whilst in the discharge of his active pastoral duties, and while reverently and humbly submitting to the will of Him who guides and directs the lives of all His people, earnestly pray that our brother may be speedily restored to health and strength, and he may be long spared to attend and feed his attached and devoted flock. Moreover it is a source of great joy to the Presbytery to learn that this desired end is through the goodness of God likely to be reached. That the clerk forward a copy of this resolution to Mr. Torrance and to the congregation through the session.—Carried.

OTHER BUSINESS TRANSACTED

Rev. Messrs. Hay, Scott and Mr. Clark were appointed a committee to draft a resolution in reference to the death of the late Mr. Beattie.

The report in reference to the visitation of congregations, was received and discussed seriatim.

After other unimportant and routine business, the clerk read the report of the Home Mission Committee, which was adopted.

The session adjourned at one p. m. for dinner, and repaired to the Sunday school room up stairs, where the ladies of St. Paul's congregation with exquisite taste had prepared a bountiful repast for the visiting clergymen and elders.

The Presbytery is still in session this afternoon.

HOCKEY HAPPENINGS.

The Peterboroughs Play Their First Match of the Season With Lakefield and Win Easily.

The hockey season in Peterborough was formally opened at the rink last night, when the Lakefield hockey club played the Peterborough aggregation a game. The number of spectators was large and the interest exhibited in the affray was as keen as the cold weather outside. The visiting team were somewhat late in arriving, and it was about half past eight o'clock when the teams got in readiness for the struggle at the whistle call of the referee, Geo. Stenson. Following is the personnel:

LAKEFIELD.		PETERBOROUGH.
Bell	goal	T H Dumble
W Cox	point	Wm Bradburn
Mullen	cover point	G Sawers
W Reynolds	forwards	W Phelan
Capt Clarke		J Gemmel
T Ridpath		W B Carmichael
J. Ridpath		W J Montgomery

The game had hardly started before Montgomery by good stick handling and clever rushing shot the puck through the iron uprights. About five minutes afterwards Clarke scored for Lakefield by a fluke. From that out the visitors never captured a goal, while the home team kept on piling up goal after goal until at the end of an hour's play they had no less than seven to their credit. The passing of Montgomery and Phelan was a mighty factor and before the first half was up the latter had scored two more goals for Peterborough. The playing of Carmichael in his first game for Peterborough is worthy of special mention. He is an expert skater, a good stick handler and capital passer. He played with the old Cobourgs last year, and took two goals last night, one in each half. In the second half Phelan also scored another goal, and Gemmell likewise. The game was not very exciting, as the Peterborough boys had it nearly all their own way, and was a rather poor exhibition of hockey, being characterized by too many fouls and unprofessional stick handling. The Lakefielders were much smaller than their opponents, and were unable to keep their feet on skates. Reynolds, a coming hockeyist, though small in stature, did most of the effective work for them. Bell in goal made many brilliant stops, while Dumble had little or nothing to do. The home team did well, but might do better, and if they do not wish to be vanquished at Cobourg in the Union match with that town on Tuesday night next, they will have to do some tall practicing. In all probability Peterborough will go to Lindsay to-morrow night to play that town.

The attraction this week at the Montreal Clothing House is in men's and boys' overcoats and winter suits. To finish up what has proved a very good business season, sweeping reductions will continue to be made until the stock is well cleared out. "Come and see," is the old way, and the only way, to form any idea of the sacrifices we are making.

The High School has been presented with two large maps of the world by the officers of the C.P.R.

At the opening of the High School on Tuesday last there were 131 pupils present, the largest in the history of the school. Fourteen new pupils registered their names. The school will soon have to engage a fourth teacher as there is too much work for three. In the near future we expect to see the school emerge into a Collegiate Institute, and we can say without fear of contradiction that Norwood has one of the best schools in Ontario, and with its new building and excellent staff we see every prospect of a bright future before it. The staff at present is Mr. J. Davidson, M.A., LL.B., headmaster, Miss M. P. Campbell, teacher of science and commercial course, Miss Garrett, teacher of languages.

The last meeting of the Board of Education for 1892 took place last week. The only business of importance was the selection of a janitor, Mr. J. Chandler (re-appointed), and the receiving of tenders for the furnishing of wood—that of Mr. Burgess being accepted.

On Wednesday evening last Mr. and Mrs. James Cummings celebrated their crystal wedding anniversary. That they may celebrate many of these wedding "festivities" is the wish of their many friends.

Miss Aggie Fraser has been successful in securing the position of teacher in the junior department of the Warsaw public school.

Mr. W. Udy has secured the contract for carrying the mails to and from the station to the post-office. Mr. Udy is well suited for the position, and we wish him success.

Miss Minnie McLachlan of this place has been appointed teacher of the Farmsworth school near Tweed.

Messrs. Jory, Pearce, Ford, Spence, Truscott and Ross, who have been spending their holidays in Norwood, left for their halls of learning on Wednesday.

Miss Susie Gould, Castleton, and Miss Macklin, Acton, are the guests of Miss S. Paget.

Mrs. Appleby, of Longford Mills, is visiting her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Udy.

The funeral of Harry, youngest son of R. Elliott, took place on Monday, Rev. Mr. Buchanan officiating.

The services in the Methodist church on Sunday last were conducted by Rev. Jas. Thom, B.A., Ashburnham. His sermons were eloquent and impressive.

If any doubt exists in the mind of any suffer as to the curative properties of Dr. Butler's Golden Pills, let him or her try them and if not cured money will be refunded.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOUR COLUMN.

"FOR CHRIST AND THE CHURCH."

[All communications intended for this column must be marked "Christian Endeavour" and sent to Box 113, Peterborough, not later than Friday previous to date of issue.]

Topic for week beginning Jan. 15th: Strength for God's work — How to obtain it and how to use it. — Hag. ii, 4; Col. i, 9-11.

"Yet now be strong," Hag. ii, 4. Three times in this one verse does God say "Be Strong;" to Zerubbabel, to Joshua, to his people is the injunction given. Just returned from their long captivity, the first task given them is that of rebuilding the temple, and in this they feel greatly the need of Divine encouragement and help. With the command comes the assurance, "I am with you."

We need strength from God for God's work, strength of body for the loads we must bear for the years of activity. We need strength of mind — what planning, and persistence and patience are required! We need strength of soul—only by mighty faith and fervent zeal can the work be accomplished.

How to obtain strength, Col. 1, 4-9. The first part is faith. God has promised, He is standing by our side, and the moment we accept the strength is ours. We receive strength by prayer, not merely by telling God that we want power, but by seeking for power with our hearts willing to use the power when given.

How to use the strength (Col. 1, 9-11,) 1. Intelligently. God has promised wisdom as well as power—zeal without wisdom is often dangerous.

2. Lovingly, God does everything for love's sake and He expects the thought and wisdom given His children will be used in the spirit of love; when love fails, power vanishes.

3. Increasinly. Strength used will increase, God gives strength according as we have ability to use it. Strengthend leaves the soul stronger.

DAILY READINGS.

First day.—"The Lord is my Strength," Ps. 27, 1-6.

Second day.—"He will give strength," Ps. 29, 1-11.

Third day.—"The way of the Lord is Strength," Prov. 10, 27-32.

Fourth day.—"As thy days," Deut. 33, 24-29.

Fifth day.—"We that are strong ought," Rom. 15, 1-4.

Sixth day.—"Fruitful in good works," Col. 1, 1-12.

Seventh day.—"Strength in God's work, how to obtain it and how to use it," Hag. 2-4; Col. 1, 9-11.

MISSIONARY WORK.

Are you satisfied with the work of your Missionary Committee? I take it for granted you have one, as all well regulated societies should have. It is work that is very interesting, and will, if properly looked after, prove very instructive to your members. Why not follow Dr. Clark in his tour around the world? You will find programmes for these meetings in the "Golden Rule." This committee can help to forward the interests of your individual denomination by taking charge of some systematic way of raising missionary money—the two-cent-a-week plan or any other you think better. Remember that a number of small subscribers means large amounts in the aggregate. Thirty subscribers at 5 cents a week would give you $78.00. Your Mission Board will be glad of your help. Try it; you will find quite a number of your members who do not give to missionary work at present. This is wrong. Their education is being neglected. See that they are trained better in this regard.

Advertise Christian Endeavor.

(By George W. Coleman, Secretary of the Massachusetts Union.)

THREE PROPOSITIONS:

1. If you have a good thing others should have, advertise it.
2. If you want to make a vigorous campaign for Christ, go about it in a business-like manner.
3. If you want force from powder, use it.

THREE CONCLUSIONS:

1. The Endeavour movement is a good thing for others.
2. We ARE campaigning for Christ, and we mean business.
3. We can use printer's ink as our powder.

The Christian Endeavor movement can be gloriously benefited by the local application of printer's ink. The movement has now reached that stage where it is commanding the attention of all Christendom. Multitudes are hearing about it for the first time, and it is highly essential that they hear the right thing—the truth.

It is so easy to misrepresent a thing that we do not clearly understand. The newspapers inevitably and continually find themselves in this predicament. They are not slow to recognize a new demand on the part of the public, and they proceed forthwith and without ceremony to get that information in any way they can. It will not be long before we shall see them searching for news and facts about Christian Endeavor as eagerly as some of them now run after sporting and police news.

And who shall stand ready to give them this information? Who but the Christian Endeavourers themselves!

The great outside public will some day sit in judgement on this movement, and by its influence either hinder or help its progress. Let us make sure that the great public get correct impressions first, last, and all the time.

The success of a good article of merchandise now-a-days depends upon advertising, and keeping everlastingly at it is what brings success.

The time has come for Christian Endeavourers to take upon themselves the task of keeping the press informed about Christian Endeavour, and keeping everlastingly at it is the only effective course to pursue in this case also.

But how shall we do it? You may rightly say that we might as well try to roll back the waters of the Atlantic as to attempt to manipulate the press of the country. But it can be done on the principle that little things multiplied aggregate greatness. It can be done in the same way that the gigantic results of Christian Endeavour have already been obtained—by each one doing to the extent of his ability, and according to his love for Christ and the church.

The continual succession of boils, pimples, and eruptions from which many suffer, indicates an impure state of the blood. The most effective remedy is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It expels the poison harmlessly through the natural channels, and leaves the skin clean and clear.

A Cure for Dyspepsia.

In investigation the cause of this prevalent complaint it is found to rest principally in wrong action of the stomach and impurity of the blood. These exciting causes are easily removed by the regulating, purifying tonic and digestive effects of Burdock Blood Bitters, hence the success of B. B. B. in curing dyspepsia in any form, no matter of how long standing or how severe it may be.

Mrs Chas. Smith of Jimes, Ohio, writes: I have used every remedy for sick headache I could hear of for the fifteen years, but Carter's Little Liver Pills did me more good than all the rest.

HAMILTON, April 20, 1892.

I was doctoring for years with physicians for a scaly and scurvy affliction of the scalp, they told me it was eczema, but gave me no permanent relief. I was also troubled with excessive dandruff, which would drop from my head like snow flakes. Hearing of Anti-Dandruff I used it, and from the third application felt more relieved than for years; when half the bottle was used the eczema and scaly eruptions disappeared and have not returned since; dandruff was thoroughly removed, the itching of the scalp stopped, and for an elegant, clean and useful hair-dressing Anti-Dandruff has no equal.

ANNE REEVE ALDRICH.

Some Extracts from Her "Songs of Life, Love and Death."

An exquisite little volume of white, gold and pale green, recently issued, revives and deepens the interest in this gifted poet, who died but a few weeks ago, says the New York World. The book is called "Songs about Life, Love and Death," and is full of tender and beautiful poems with few exceptions on themes of melancholy interest.

Miss Aldrich was the only child of Mrs. Helen M. Reeve Aldrich. She lost her father when she was seven years of age and, being a preternaturally earnest and tender little soul, this loss made a deep impression upon her mind. She was educated in childhood almost entirely by her mother, spending her early youth partly in New York and partly at the old home on Long Island. She was a devout reader of classical English literature as a mere child, and has left in her diary, written as early as her twelfth year, the most original and surprisingly mature criticisms on the books she was reading.

Her mother's instruction was supplemented by tutors from Harvard and other colleges and she was well instructed also in music and art. For painting and music she evinced remarkable talent, but she always felt and said that her best work—her lifework—would be with the pen.

She lived as much in the country as in the city, but preferred city life. She loved the inlets and marshes and creeks of the seaside, but not the sea itself—it always seemed to oppress her. Her first printed work appeared in Lippincott's and the Century and later in Scribner's and Kate Field's Washington. She wrote New York letters for the Detroit Free Press, "Etchings" for Short Stories and articles for the Springfield Republican.

In 1890 she published her novel, "The Fest of Love," a sympathetic story of unhappy love. A year previously she had given to the reading world her collection of intense and passionate verse called "The Rose of Flame." She was a devoted lover of Keats, Browning, Heine and Swinburne—finding in these widely differing poets much that delighted and nourished her love of the beautiful. In this later volume, "Songs About Life, Love and Death,' are gathered her most artistic and mature verses. Here is a plaint of love and sorrow that will go to all hearts:

RECOLLECTION.

How can it be that I forget
The way he phrased my doom,
When I recall the arabesques
That carpeted the room?

How can it be that I forget,
His look and mien that hour,
When I recall I wore a rose,
And still can smell the flower?

How can it be that I forget
Those words that were the last,
When I recall the tune a man
Was whistling as he passed?

These things are what we keep from life's
Supremest joy or pain;
For memory locks her chaff in bins
And throws away the grain!

There seems to be in this girl's heart some indefinable and yet strong impression that her life would be short. All the arrangements for her latest book were made by her. The title is her own, for she said truly, "They are chiefly in a minor key." How strangely sweet is—

ANNE REEVE ALDRICH.

AT NIGHT TIME.

We soothe the child for some withholden pleasure,
Till sweet eyes smile that were so fain to weep,
"To-morrow—only wait until to-morrow,
After you sleep."

So we are soothed with solemn dreams of heaven,
When earthly days no longer solace keep.
Hope tells us there shall be a happy morrow
After we sleep.

The illustrations of her little book seem peculiarly appropriate and illustrative. They are in white with the roses and myrtles of love, the asphodels of death, and the amaranths of life. In her twenty-sixth year, on a bright summer morning, she died. A poem dictated during her illness seems sadly prophetic—for it was just as "the light comes in" that she closed her eyes.

DEATH AT DAYBREAK.

I shall go out when the light comes in—
There lie my cast-off form and face;
I shall pass Dawn on her way to earth,
As I seek for a path through space.

I shall go out when the light comes in;
Would I might take one ray with me!
It is blackest night between the worlds,
And how is a soul to see?

Mr. W. H. Hogaboom, Osgoode Station, Ont. writes:—"It is with pleasure that I add my testimony to the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My wife was run down and weak, and has been so for six years. I decided to get Pink Pills and must say they have given great satisfaction. My wife is able to go to church now for the first time in two years." Sold by all dealers, 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50. Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Outrivals all Others.

In curing coughs, colds, hoarseness, asthma, bronchitis, sore throat, and all diseases of the throat and lungs, there is one remedy which is unequalled by any other. We refer to Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup which has effected many remarkable cures this season.

A Pleasant Herb Drink.

The best cure we know of for Constipation and Headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs and is made for use by pouring boiling water on to the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders and is now the sovereign remedy with ladies for clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the package at 50c. and $1

Three Practical Points.

Three practical points: 1st. Burdock Blood Bitters cures dyspepsia by acting promptly on the stomach, liver and bowels. 2nd. Burdock Blood Bitters cures bad blood by the same specific action combined with its alterative and purifying powers. 3rd, Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases arising from the two first named, such as constipation, headache, biliousness, dizziness, scrofula, etc., by removing their cause as shown and proved in thousands of indisputably recorded cases.

VERY MANY SUCH.

RHEUMATISM.—Mr. DAVID SYLIE, Brockville, Ont., says: "I suffered intensely with rheumatism in my ankles. Could not stand; rubbed them with St. Jacobs Oil. In the morning I walked without pain."

NEURALGIA.—Mr. JAMES BONNER, 156 Yonge St., Toronto, Ont., writes: "St. Jacobs Oil is the only remedy that relieved me of neuralgia, and it effectually cured me."

BACKACHE.—"I can highly recommend St. Jacobs Oil as being the best medicine in existence; it promptly cured me of severe lumbago." G. H. BOYER, Carillon, Quebec.

SPRAINS.—"My mother received a very severe sprain and bruise by falling down stairs. St. Jacobs Oil cured her in a couple of days." E. BURNAND, 124 Tecumseth St., Toronto, Ont.

BRUISES.—Mr. A. TORRANCE, Hamilton, Ont., Fire Department, says he met with a serious accident and his back and shoulders were terribly bruised, but by the use of St. Jacobs Oil he was completely restored.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

ROYALISTS NOT FEARED

BUT SOCIALISTS MENACE THE PEACE OF FRANCE.

It is Believed that Young de Lesseps Has Told All He Knows About the Panama Canal Scandal—Explosion Dirbured to the Ministry of Public Works.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—The Government preparations to suppress disorder in Paris are not based upon any apprehensions of a Royalist outbreak, but upon the attempts of the extreme Socialists to arouse an insurrection. The Government does not view even the Socialist movement with serious apprehension, and is confident of its ability to maintain order. The mob of Paris no longer possesses the formidable character which it exhibited in the days of the Commune and of '48. The more dangerous leaders in popular agitations are under continual surveillance, and the Ministry of the Interior is kept informed accurately of any movement, no matter how slight, in the direction of disorderly demonstration. The espionage in this particular is far more thorough, although less obtrusive and offensive, than under the late empire. The police could paralyze an extreme Socialist demonstration at any moment by putting their hands upon the leaders, but it is thought best to wait for some open act of lawlessness before taking such a decisive course.

The Panama scandal continues to grow in magnitude. There is no doubt that Charles de Lesseps has told the Government everything he knows. It is said that when he completed his statement to M. Franqueville, the magistrate, he expressed himself as deeply relieved. He said he had felt for years he was bearing a burden of suspicion which ought to attach to others. The single desire of his father and of himself had been to bring the Panama Canal enterprise to a successful conclusion, but blackmailers had taken them by the throats, and the Panama Company had been compelled to buy the support and aid which, in the interest of the good name of France and for the benefit of thousands of French investors, ought to have been given freely and as a matter of public duty.

Marius Fontaine followed the example of Charles de Lesseps in making a frank and complete statement of Panama Canal affairs. According to The Matin to-day the arrest of M. Blondin was due to an avowal by M. Fontaine to the effect that Blondin had acted as a go-between in the corruption of Minister Baihut. Blondin, The Matin says, has confessed to having cashed four checks on Baihut's account, amounting to 1,000,000 francs. This confession of Blondin is confirmed by the statement of Fontaine. There is a strong feeling in favor of thorough investigation of the Ministry of Public Works, apart from the Panama scandal.

MM. Baihut, Blondin, Fontaine, Cottu and Charles de Lesseps were examined simultaneously by Magistrate Franqueville to-day in regard to the Panama scandal frauds. The confrontation of the men led to vehement altercations, the noise of which could be heard outside the court room. Magistrate Franqueville afterwards held a conference with the Procureur General. It it shall be decided to prosecute Ex-Minister Baihut, the Government will leave it to the Chamber to decide whether he shall be prosecuted before the Senate or before the assizes.

The members of the Right in the Chamber of Deputies have decided not to vote for M. Floquet as president of the Chamber.

Rathbone's Defection.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—William Rathbone, who is set down in the Parliamentary companion as a "decided Liberal" in politics, and who was elected by the Gladstonians to represent the North of Arfon division of Carnarvonshire in the House of Commons, has joined the Liberal Independents. Mr. Rathbone was elected on the theory that he would give a general support to Mr. Gladstone, and it is believed his defection is due to his determination not to support the Home Rule Bill that it is expected will be presented at the coming session of Parliament.

He is in favor, however, of complete church equality, and perhaps it may be his desire to secure as soon as possible the disestablishment of the State Church in Wales, in which his constituency is located, that has led him to join the Independents, who consider themselves free to pursue any policy they deem necessary. His defection has caused much adverse comment among the supporters of Mr. Gladstone.

We Should Live One Hundred Years.

We are century animals and have a perfect right to live out that period if we can. Many do so. Consumption has been killing off the flower of our youth through the centuries but it will do so no more. Why? Because "Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil," wherever used, cures consumption and the coughs and lung troubles which give rise to it. It will be like a suicide to die of consumption in future if "Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil" is within reach. In big bottles, 50c. and $1.00, at all Drug Stores.

VOTING FOR PRESIDENT.

THE OPERATION OF THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE IN THE U.S.

Conventions in 44 States—44 Messengers Take the Votes to Washington—The Mileage Costs $12,000—The Reports Placed in a Diminutive Steel Safe.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Yesterday the Electoral College convened in 44 States of the Union and cast their ballots for President and Vice-President. Perhaps no other supreme function under our system of government is so little understood or so lightly regarded as this electoral process that will then begin, to culminate in the glorifications of March 4; the people generally, on the principle that known and certain things are uninteresting, never grow excited over it except when there is a hot contest remaining undecided. And yet for all that, it is one of the most important transactions, if not the most important, that takes place in the Republic.

According to the laws the Governor of each state is required, as soon as practicable after the result of the Presidential election in his state is ascertained, to send to the Secretary of State in Washington a certificate setting forth the names of the chosen Electors and the number of votes cast for them, and also to deliver to them triple copies, under the great seal of the state, of a similar certificate. The certificates sent by the Governors to the State Department are now being filed in the Government archives there. This being done, the duly chosen electors of each state, obeying the mandate of the law, will perform their part in the great Constitutional drama. In most cases they will assemble at their state capitals.

The 44 true and trusty messengers who will bring the votes to Washington will receive for their trouble the sum of 25c per mile traveled one way by the ordinary route. The entire service will cost $12,000. No doubt this messenger business, duplicating as it does the registered mail service of Uncle Sam's post-offices, is far behind the age, and is not specially conducive to safety, speed or economy, but it has the advantage of ancient tradition and practice, dating back to the time of feudal pursuivants and couriers, and in many instances the individuals selected get a "fat thing" out of it. Before the last electoral count the true and trusty messenger from Florida turned up missing, and upon notification by the President pro-tem. of the Senate, Secretary Bayard dispatched a "special" messenger to bring up the missing budget from the district judge at Tallahassee. The messenger who will bring the votes from Olympia, Wash., will get the neat sum of $1000 as mileage, the one from Portland, Ore., will get $880, the one from San Francisco, $800; the one from Austin, Tex., $420; the one from Tallahassee, Fla., $275, and the one from Augusta, Me., $158. A messenger failing to perform the service required of him renders himself liable to a fine of $1000.

On delivery of each batch of certified votes, which are inclosed in official envelopes and stamped with sealing wax, Vice-President Morton will give the bearer a receipt.

Then Mr. Morton will turn the packages over to his private secretary, Mr. Robert S. Chilton, jr., who will carefully place them, unopened and with the seals intact, in a diminutive steel safe. There the votes and certificates will repose under strict watch and ward until Feb. 8 next.

On the morning of the notable day for counting the vote Vice-President Morton and Private Secretary Chilton will unlock the safe in the Vice-President's room, remove the packages therefrom and hand them over to Capt. Isaac Bassett, the 71-year-old assistant doorkeeper of the Senate, who will be an indispensable functionary at the count, as he was on the successive inaugurations of Presidents Van Buren, "Tippecanoe" Harrison, Polk, Taylor, Pierce, Buchanan, Lincoln, Grant, Hayes, Garfield, Cleveland and Benjamin Harrison heretofore. Capt. Bassett entered the service of the Senate 61 years ago as the protege of Daniel Webster, and used to tweak the juvenile ears of Senator Gorman of Maryland when that statesman was a frisky page boy under him in the Senate. He turns back the hands of the Senate clock regularly at the close of the short sessions of Congress on March 4, and he is the recognized and official custodian of the "electoral boxes."

At 12 55 the Senate will stop in the midst of its proceedings and, forming in a marching body, will move towards the House of Representatives. That august and reverend body will then slowly and impressively enter the hall, preceded by the Sergeant-at-Arms and headed by Vice-President Morton, arm-in-arm with Secretary McCook. The members and officers of the House will rise to receive them. Vice-President Morton will mount the Speaker's platform and take the chair as presiding officer, Speaker Crisp occupying the chair on his left, and Captain Bassett, with due formality and deliberation, will unlock the boxes and deposit them on the Speaker's table. The Senators will fill the space at the right of the Vice-President, and the representatives, according to the sarcastic phraseology of the law, will occupy "the body of the hall not provided for senators."

The certificates from all the states having been opened and read the tellers will deliver the result.

The people knew it before midnight on Nov. 8 last, but the fact will not be a legal and constitutional certainty until this declaration is made, nor can the inauguration take place without it.

ROBBED AND BURNED.

The Charred Remains of a Woman and Child Also Found.

COTTON PLANT, Ark., Jan. 10.—Reuben Atkinson, living two miles south of this place sold some cotton Saturday and returned home at night with some cotton pickers.

Yesterday his house was discovered in ashes, and in them were found the charred remains and also the bodies of a woman and child who lived with him. Atkinson was murdered and robbed and the house was burned to conceal evidence of the crime. Paul Stubbs has made a partial confession.

Wealth Wins Princes.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—It is announced here positively that Miss Virginia Fair, better known as Birdie, is engaged to be married soon to Prince Poniatowski, a descendant of the late King of Poland. Miss Fair is living with her sister, Mrs. Oelrichs.

She is not quite 19. She has $2500 a year income and in six years she will inherit $1,500,000. From her father, when he dies, she will also get not less than $5,000,000. She met the prince last summer at Newport.

A Brave Little Fellow.

OTTAWA, Jan. 10.—Mrs. O'Neil, wife of T. O'Neil, railway contractor, was so badly burned yesterday afternoon that she may die. She was opening the door of the kitchen stove when a coal flew out and set fire to her clothes.

She ran into the dining-room, and sitting on a chair, fainted. There, slowly burning to death, her little son found her a few moments later. Although barely 10 years of age, the little fellow had presence of mind to throw a pail of water over his mother before he called in assistance.

Pat Fenton sentenced.

TORONTO, Jan 10.—Pat Fenton, the young farm hand who shot and killed Minnie Davis near Highland Creek on Christmas morning and who was tried and convicted for manslaughter at the Assize Court last Thursday, was brought up before Judge Rose yesterday and sentenced to three months' imprisonment at the Central Prison.

TO CLEAR!
TO CLEAR!
TO CLEAR!

"Slaughter" is the word for this month. Stock-taking will be upon us in a few days, and, as we prefer to clear out many lines at a sacrifice for cash, rather than take them into stock again, a regular deluge of bargains awaits all shoppers at the GOLDEN LION. "A bird in the hand will be worth four in the bush" to us all this month, and the nimble quarter will buy as much as the slow dollar between now and stock-taking day.

QUARTERED.

The following lines are now offered at a sweeping reduction off original prices in order to clear them completely out—

1. Sealette Collars and Muffs.
2. Feather Boas.
3. Mantle Sealettes.
4. Ladies' Mantles.
5. Childrens' Mantles.

Our aim, as on previous occasions, is to clear out stock—not bad stock, but first-class lines—at big reductions.

RIVAL ARCHBISHOPS.

THEY HAVE A LIVELY CONTROVERSY IN THE U.S.

Two Archbishops in the United States Fall Out and the Pope Is Called Upon to Settle the Difficulty—Mgr. Satolli's Mission Is Proving Most Arduous.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Since Mgr. Satolli has arrived in the United States as a representative of the Vatican, and possessed with almost unlimited power to dispose of matters concerning the peace and welfare of the Roman Catholic Church in America, there has been brought before the public that which leads to suspicion that the sequel to Dr. McGlynn's restoration to his full rights as a priest, will be disastrous to one or more of his colleagues whose names are as well known as his own.

The discussion which followed the action of Mgr. Satolli in reinstating Dr. McGlynn disclosed to the press the probability of a conspiracy among some of the church leaders to represent the results of Mgr. Satolli's mission as likely to do more harm than good, with the alleged design of persuading the Pope to recall his special representative. To what extent the press has been mixed up in the matter can be seen by this excerpt from The Chicago Sunday Post.

"Formal charges of the gravest character have been preferred against the Most Rev. Michael Augustine Corrigan, the Roman Catholic Archbishop of New York, by a brother prelate. His Grace of New York is accused by the Most Rev. John Ireland, Archbishop of St. Paul, of having engaged in an unlawful conspiracy to weaken or undo the effect of the Pope's decisions in respect of church matters in America and of having had recourse to methods unbecoming a bishop, designed to discredit and disgrace Archbishop Ireland and Monsignor Satolli, the Papal delegate to America. These charges, duly formulated, are now on their way to Rome, where they will be presented to the highest tribunal in the Roman Catholic Church."

The Post avers that it has unearthed the alleged conspiracy through securing a letter from Archbishop Corrigan to a layman in Chicago, requesting the publication in a widely-circulated Western paper of an article in the form of an interview with a Catholic ecclesiastic at Philadelphia.

The substance of the article is that Archbishop Ireland is endeavoring to have Catholic children in his diocese gradually educated to the custom of attending State schools without considering themselves in anything but a natural position while there; and that the effect must be to wean these children from desire for combined religious and secular instruction, inasmuch as State laws prohibit the introduction of religious instruction in any form in the public schools.

As an offset to this charge it is known that Archbishop Ireland has arranged for special religious instruction for these children after and before regular school hours, and that he desires these children to be educated in the public schools because the schools are supported by the state, because they offer greater educational advantages and because teachers may be Roman Catholics as well as Protestants.

The Rev. Father M. J. Lavelle, rector of St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York, who was accused of being the chief of Archbishop Corrigan's alleged New York bureau for the dissemination through the west and elsewhere of newspaper literature hostile to Mgr. Satolli and Archbishop Ireland, says:

"Suppose that the archbishop had (which you must not take for granted; I do not believe that it is true) used the press for the purpose of upholding his side of the controversy, could it be possible our friends, with their broad American ideas, would find fault with him for doing what they themselves are reported to be practising every day and to have been practising for years?"

From this it is evident that the trouble between Archbishops Corrigan and Ireland is that the former distrusts the liberal views and actions of the latter in school matters, and that the disaffection may spread until the priesthood of the country becomes divided on the situation.

The promise is fair that Archbishop Ireland's position will be sustained by the Pope, inasmuch as the Pope is well in accord with the reinstating of Dr. McGlynn, whose views are and have been as liberal, possibly more so, as those of Archbishop Ireland.

The Vatican has caused an enquiry to be made into the motives and the extent of the opposition to the Satolli mission. The Pope holds absolutely to his policy that ecclesiastical affairs in the United States shall develop themselves along moderate lines and in a spirit of harmony with the institutions of the United States.

INDIAN SAVAGERY.

Cut Off the Heads of Three Whites and a Native.

VICTORIA, B.C., Jan. 11.—Information brought down from the North by passengers on the steamer Danube says that natives cut off the heads of three whites and an Indian near Cape Barry, then stuck them upon poles and danced around them in their revolting savagery.

Knights of Labor Headquarters.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 11.—Master Workman Dempsey of the Knights of Labor was asked last night whether there was any truth in the report that the general headquarters of the Knights are to be removed from Philadelphia to Canada.

He said no, but that they do expect to move to one of the three cities, Columbus, Niagara Falls or Baltimore, and that at present Columbus seems to be the favorite.

He denied that Judge Paxton's charge had anything to do with the move, but he was inclined to be a little reticent upon the subject of the moving cause, although he intimated that they were desirous of being more centrally located and where their rent would be cheaper.

Lord Stanley at Sarnia.

SARNIA, Jan. 11.—Lord Stanley was here yesterday and was given a splendid reception. The Mayor and Chief Jacob of the Chippewas read addresses. He left at 5.30 to go through the tunnel.

Blaine Yet Alive.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Up to 1 o'clock this morning Mr. Blaine was unusually bright and cheerful.

LAURIER AT HAMILTON.

HE STATES THE PLATFORM OF THE LIBERALS.

The Party's Purpose is to Begin Tariff Reform at Once—Thinks the Conservatives Will Steal Their Clothes—To Blot Out the Iron Duties.

HAMILTON, Jan. 11. — Hon. Wilfrid Laurier occupied the chief seat of honor at the eighth annual banquet of the Young Men's Liberal Club of this city, held last night in the Palace Rink.

He replied to the toast, "The Dominion Government," and enthusiastically was he received. He said that while Liberals had been kind enough to say that they are satisfied with the manner in which he had discharged his duties as leader, he must say that he was not satisfied with himself.

I cannot come before you with the prestige of victory. I am but leader of a defeated party. I can, however, claim that during the last general election we fought a gallant fight. We were very near winning, although in the bye-elections we have lost nearly, if not all, the ground we then wrested from our opponents. Indeed, of late we have had no victory to encourage our hearts except the victory of Tarte.

He was neither undaunted nor discouraged; on the contrary he was as certain of the ultimate triumphs of the policy as he was of his existence. All reforms had been of slow growth, and he cited the movement inaugurated by the Whigs for free trade in England and the success of the Democrats in the United States.

Let us be firm in the right, he continued, and I venture to assert that the third nation to adopt Free Trade will be the second daughter of the Empire, or the Dominion of Canada. [Applause.]

In the face of numerous defeats, it has been suggested by some members of the Liberal party that we should review our situation — whether we should not consider where we stood and whether it would not be better to take up another program. Well, sir, it has never been the doctrine of the Liberal party to trim its sails to catch every favorable breeze. [Applause.] The program of the Liberal party will ever be in keeping with the growth and the condition of the people. We believe in agitation and that we cannot remain idle; that there is always something to do, something to reform, and work to do for bettering the circumstances and lives of the people. [Applause.]

He did not accept as the voice and conscience of the people the result of the last general election. Their opponents had never met them on a fair field. Constituencies had been carried without the Liberal party being consulted, as was the practice in England.

The people are with us. The people are with the Liberal party from ocean to ocean, and when there are no advantages on the side of our opponents I predict an overwhelming victory for us. [Loud applause.]

I am of French origin, but I have this much British in me: when I know that I am in the right nothing can shake me from my purpose. [Renewed applause.] I don't say we should vary principles. I say we should stand firmly by them.

Proceeding, he pointed out that, notwithstanding that Canada was a much favored nation, there must be something rotten in the state of Denmark when it could not keep so many of its sons from crossing into the United States. There was a problem to be solved, and the Liberal party would not cease in its efforts until we can keep in Canada every son born in this country. He pleaded that they would enlist their sympathy in bringing this about.

Decreased taxation and increased markets. This is the policy of the Liberal party. It is our purpose to begin tariff reform at once. But I am told that the Conservative party will steal our clothes. I hope they will, for the Conservative party never had a decent suit of clothes unless they stole ours. [Laughter.]

I welcome them. But the only thing I am afraid of is that they will not do it. They will tinker the tariff. They will make a little alteration here and a little alteration there. They cannot reform the tariff because they are protectionists, whereas, we are the Reformers of this country, and we have every reason why we should continue in the good work towards the ultimate freedom of trade, towards that goal we shall approach gradually so as not to interfere with vested interests.

We promise as much as we can to lighten the burden of taxation of the consumers of this country. We also propose to lighten the duties imposed on the manufacturers. The present protective tariff is a great impediment to them. Can there be any reasons for the nefarious iron duties imposed by Sir Charles Tupper?

Our efforts next session will be to blot out these iron duties. He was sure that if Canada would adopt free trade it would be the very best thing for the country.

In advocating a reciprocity treaty the Liberal party believed it should be a mutual benefit to both countries. It did not matter to him whether American and Canadian cities grew larger. Restricted reciprocity, this is the policy of the Liberal party.

It had been charged by the Conservative party that unrestricted reciprocity would mean the adoption by Canada of the United States tariff. But if it does I don't think the Conservatives would object. The Conservative party surrendered the control of the tariff of this country ever since they adopted the National Policy.

The late Sir John had said at that time that in adopting that policy the object in view was to obtain entrance to the American market. This was adopting the American tariff with a vengeance. The Conservative party has handed over to the nation to the south of us the control of our financial affairs, because Sir John had said when the American tariff was raised he would raise the Canadian tariff to water it. If we had unrestricted reciprocity with the United States it would work a revolution. [Hear, hear.]

Unless we can obtain a treaty from the Americans which would be of long duration, I tell you I would have none of it when the good time has come, and I don't think it will be long, when we shall have a Liberal administration at Ottawa. [Applause.] If the American Government insists that this treaty be less than for 15 years we will come back to Canada and say that it is impossible to get a treaty of reciprocity and that we must look for an extended trade elsewhere; but I hope that free trade will have so far prevailed that there will be no need of looking for commercial treaties."

JANUARY WEATHER

The Cold Wave—Whence It Came and Where It Is Going.

Toronto, Jan. 11.—Jack Frost was king yesterday, and right royally did he wield his sceptre, freezing the restaurant of cars under way and otherwise showing his power over night. Few promenaders were out [illegible] King-street in the afternoon, and of those that were only their noses were visible, so much bundled were they.

The storm centre Sunday morning was located in the northern part of Manitoba. Moving quickly eastward, by evening it was over Lake Superior. During the night it moved to the Georgian Bay district, but being accompanied by a southwesterly gale the weather continued mild. As the storm centre moved eastward in the direction of Toronto the wind shifted around to the north suddenly and brought on this cold snap, which has caused so many maledictions to be hurled at the devoted head of Mr. Probabilities Stupart.

By 8 a.m. Tuesday the storm centre had moved to the Bay of Fundy, accompanied by heavy southwesterly gales and rain, the latter prevailing throughout Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

The centre last night was over the Bay of Chaleur, and as it moves eastward the cold wave will spread over the Maritime Provinces.

Strange to say the cold wave seemed to originate in Manitoba and move eastward only, as in Calgary and in fact in all Alberta and west reports have been coming in of the spring weather the residents are enjoying.

Mr. Probabilities Stupart prognosticates that their enjoyment will be short-lived, as he thinks a cold wave will strike the settlers and winter will start in for them in earnest.

A gradual change will set in here to-day and the temperature will become milder, followed by a fall of snow.

The average condition of the temperature yesterday was 5 degrees below zero, which is 26 degrees lower than the average for the last 10 years.

On Jan. 10 last year the lowest degree of temperature recorded was 2 above zero and the highest 18 degrees above zero. Yesterday the minimum was 13 below zero and the highest 3 below, the difference in the mean temperature being about 18 degrees.

The change in the temperature began to be noticed in the city at about 5 p.m. Sunday evening by midnight it was 5 degrees below zero. At 6 yesterday morning the mercury had dropped to 10 below and at 8 a.m. the thermometer registered 12 degrees below and in a few minutes the minimum of 13 degrees below was reached. Two o'clock saw the mercury at 3 below; at 4 o'clock there was no change, but at 10 o'clock it was much colder, being 9 degrees below zero, with no wind. At midnight the mercury had fallen about 5 degrees lower.

In case the wind rose before morning Observer Menzies thought that in all probability 18 or 20 degrees below zero might be registered, but if it stays calm it may gradually grow milder.

The appended table will show what kind of weather the residents of other cities in Canada are enjoying. The great differences in temperature are interesting to note.

Railway traffic is reported blocked in the neighborhood of Barrie. It has not been so cold in that region for years. The engines of the early trains over the G.T.R. were loaded down with snow when they pulled into Union Station yesterday morning.

At Sarnia the ferryboat was blocked in the ice all night with a load of passengers on board.

Reports came in from all stations of trains late on account of drifting snow.

Cruelly Tortured.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—A despatch from Constantinople brings additional particulars of the recent tragedy in the Sultan's herem. The eunuch who was suspected of poisoning several beautiful female slaves presented to the Sultan by the Khedive of Egypt died while under examination and without having confessed who it was that prompted the deed.

There is a suspicion that the eunuch was also poisoned, and that the person responsible for the poisoning is altogether too powerful to be brought to justice.

The eunuch was cruelly tortured in order to compel him to confess, but, it is said, died without giving a clue. The poisoned slaves were buried secretly, at night, by trusty servants of the palace.

$50,000 Worth of Timber.

TORONTO, Jan. 11.—Suckling & Co., auctioneers, sold two large parcels of land at their warerooms yesterday. Both limits are on the Wahnapitae River and sold for $10,000 and $40,000 respectively, the Holland and Emery Lumber Co. of Saginaw becoming the purchaser.

Over 50 American and Canadian buyers were present and the bidding was spirited.

The berths were owned by L. N. Timmins of Mattawa and Robert Gorman of Ottawa, and the difference in the price was owing to the quality of pine on the second parcel being of a better quality than that on the first.

Among the firms who had representatives at the sale were the Muskoka Milling and Lumber Co., Savage & Berrier and Charles Beck of Penetanguishene.

THE TWO-ROWED BARLEY FAKE.

There is no doubt of the fact that the two-rowed barley experiment has resulted disastrously for the farmer who was to be hurried on the road to wealth by its growth. The enactment of the McKinley tariff bill—an application of the principle of trade restriction made possible by a policy like our so-called "National Policy"—closed the American market to the Canadian barley, which had previously found a splendid market at our doors. Then it was the Canadian farmer, asking bread, got what has proved to be a stone from the Dominion Government. Hon. Mr. Carling told the farmers that the loss of the U. S. market was only a temporary inconvenience. Let the farmer grow two-rowed barley for the English market. The farmers clutched at the two-rowed barley straw, but it did not save them from being swamped. They went into the culture of this grain extensively in barley-growing districts, but the result has proved disastrous. Instead of the 80 cents a bushel, which Mr. Carling, on behalf of the Government, promised them, they find themselves loaded up with large stocks which they find trouble in disposing of at less than a third of 80 cents. The exportation of Canadian two-rowed barley to England has proved a losing speculation. But the Government has duped the farmer so long that it has come to think that he will accept a delusion and a snare at the hands of the Government and be thankful. The two-rowed barley fake was the Dominion Government's dream, the failure of it is the awakening of the farmers. What the latter really needs is the adoption of a common sense policy of conciliation and neighbourliness that will open to their products the large market with larger prices which lies at our doors. The farmers should be relieved of the burden that a protective tariff imposes upon them. The farmers require to be relieved of the tinkering with natural conditions that shuts them out from their nearest and best market. High taxes raise the price of raising a bushel of grain to the highest notch, while an absurd trade policy of isolation and restriction destroys our natural market. The farm furnishes more than one-third of the total exports of the country, and under proper conditions its tillers should be the most prosperous and the most wealthy class in the country. So they would be if they were not weighted down with tarriff burdens and shut out of their natural market, two-rowed barley and a 3000-mile-distant market to the contrary notwithstanding.

THE CENTRAL EXHIBITION

THE annual meeting of the West Riding Agricultural Society will be held in Peterborough, on Wednesday, January 18th. This will be a very important meeting and it is desirable that all members who can possibly do so, should come to the meeting. This is the last year of the currency of the present lease of the grounds, and of course the society will have to consider what course is to be taken and decide upon some policy in connection with the circumstances, to guide the new board of directors. The exhibition is a valuable educational force, and should be maintained, and its attractiveness increased. It is important, both to the county and the town, that the Central Exhibition should be of the high character which the large resources of the district make possible. It would be well for our town business men to take a more active interest in the exhibition, and, with an earnest and active co-operation between them and the farmers, an exhibition could be conducted which would be a credit as well as a source of profit to both town and county. It is to be hoped that there will be a large attendance of members at the meeting on January 9th.

WARSAW.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Prof. Crowe and family gave a concert in the town hall on Wednesday evening. This is the third time the Crowe family have visited our town. They surely like us.

Mr. Geo. Rose left on Monday for Queen's College for his third year in arts.

Miss Elliott, of Norwood, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Loughridge.

We regret to record the death, on Sunday morning at an early hour, of Wm. McIntosh, one of the earliest pioneers of Dummer. The deceased gentleman was over 80 years of age. He was a native of Glasgow, and came to this country in 1833—sixty years ago—and settled in the township of Dummer, where he carried on farming till about seven years ago, when he retired from active life and spent his declining years in Warsaw. His wife, who was a daughter of the late Michael Kennedy, survives him, as well as eleven of the fifteen children that were born to them. The surviving children are settled in many parts of this continent, three, however, residing in Warsaw. The deceased gentleman was in religion a Presbyterian, and in politics a Liberal. He took no active part in public matters, but by his exemplary life as a citizen won the high respect of the community, as was shown by the large concourse of neighbours that followed the remains on Monday last to the Dummer cemetery.

A Disturbance

Isn't what you want, if your stomach and bowels are irregular. That's about all you get, though, with the ordinary pill. It may relieve you for a moment, but you're usually in a worse state afterward than before.

This is just where Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do most good. They act in an easy and natural way, very different from the huge, old-fashioned pills. They're not only pleasanter, but there's no reaction afterward, and their help lasts. One little sugar-coated pellet for a gentle laxative or corrective—three for a cathartic. Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Dizziness, Sick and Bilious Headaches, are promptly relieved and cured.

They're the smallest, the easiest to take—and the cheapest pill you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.

You pay only for the good you get.

Do not be discouraged if other medicines have failed to give you relief. Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure acts on the "Kidneys" direct, combined, with a mild action on the "Liver" and bowels, thereby removing the cause of "Back Ache," sour stomach, dizziness, indigestion and constipation.

Do not suffer from sick headache a moment longer. It is not necessary. Carter's Little Liver Pills will cure you. Dose, one little pill. Small price. Small dose. Small pill.

Nothing More Pleasant.

THE BIGGEST DAY IN 7 YEARS!

Saturday, December 3rd was the biggest day MR. J. J. SHEEHY has had in seven years. Why is this? Surely not because there is less competition. Certainly not because inducements are not being held out by others. Most assuredly not because prices of farm products are showing an upward tendency. Then why??

Simply because the purchasing public of the town and surrounding country have read Mr. Sheehy's advertisements, have inwardly digested them and have conclude that cheap sale or no cheap sale Mr. Sheehy is bound not to be undersold

We want every day in December to be a big day. How are we to accomplish this? Simply by offering to the public better value for the money than can be had elsewhere. Just cast your eye over the following quotations:—

All Wool Flannels, 26 in. wide, - -	17½	Good Linen Towels each - - -	5½
9 lb. Wool Blankets, - - - - -	$3.75	Grey Wool Blankets, - - -	31c. a lb.
14 yds. Heavy Grey Canton Flannel,	$1.00	25 yards Factory Cotton, - -	$1.00

These few quotations will probably give an idea of what we are doing and a glance at our BARGAIN TABLE in the centre of our store will convince the most skeptical that when it comes to general bargains we certainly are very decidedly "in it."

FOOD VALUES.

The Right use of Food for Breed and Fattening Animals.

Careful study is required in using feed properly on the stock farm. The food of support for working animals must be adapted particularly to that end. Not only must the muscle of the work horse be replaced as it is worn away by labor, but it must be strengthened; otherwise there is a gradual and at times rapid decline in the condition of flesh. It must be observed however that other conditions need attention, that the digestion must be adequate and the food of the quality to meet the demands. There is a difference in animals. Two horses of apparently the same size and disposition will at times not be able to assimilate properly the same food. The difference in temperment will require for one in the Winter season more food which is rich in heating qualities. Often, too, one animal of a team will need a greater quantity of muscle restoring food. Each horse must have care in supplying its individual needs. The quality of strength of the foods used must be noted carefully. This season it is claimed that some of the corn is light weight for its bulk. This is also true in case of oats. The hay is often damaged by rain or dew in curing. Half the quantity of the bright article is worth more than the full amount which has been seriously damaged.

Somewhat the same rules for feeding must be observed, with breeding animals whether horses, cattle, sheep or swine. A too high condition of flesh is one of the dangers, but the reverse is even worse. Where breeding animals have been provided with a scant supply of food, the effect upon the progeny through several generations, is to diminish the flesh growing tendency. Such animals require particularly a great variety of sound food. Five pounds of bright rich hay or oats straw as a day's ration for a brood mare is preferable to three times this amount. Usually, however, if there is not access to blue grass or a moderate amount of ensilage, double this amount is desirable. Other farm animals as well as the brood mare need a moderate amount of corn with an equal or greater amount of oats as a grain ration daily, if a systematical growth and development of their produce is to be expected. Hay or fodder of good quality is also essential for cattle and sheep, and rich clover hay is of great advantage to hogs. However, ensilage, roots, or blue grass grazing in winter are good equivalents for the clover for hogs, as well as a substitute for a portion of the hay and fodder required for the other stock. Some such cooling food as is afforded by grazing, roots or ensilage, is just as essential for all the farm stock in winter as are vegetables and fruit for the human family.

For animals fattening for meat, the foods rich in meat producing qualities can be used to a full extent. A variety in such cases is desirable only to the extent of maintaining a vigorous appetite. The same course of furnishing all kinds of food mentioned in the case of breeding animals may be followed, but it must be uppermost in mind in every movement that the foods containing the highest amount of flesh producers must always be prominent. The demand of modern times is not for the greatest amount of fat possible. The more judiciously one can mix the foods that produce lean and fat conjointly, the more judiciously one can mix the foods that produce lean and fat conjointly, the more satisfactory as a rule will be the result. This is particularly true of beef and mutton. The rule of variety in fattening food is needed more also in the case of early maturity of all meat producing animals. There is particular demand in the finishing of animals intended for meat, that they be given the best and soundest food continuously. The one watch word of the feeder should ever be variety; next to this is a sufficient amount for the need of the hour whatever be the other requirements.—Orange Judd Farmer.

Spot Disease of the Cherry.

One of the most serious maladies of the cherry is the Leaf Spot Disease, sometimes called Cherry-Leaf Blight or Rust. It is caused by the fungus Cylindrosporium Padi, Karst., which also affects plums, peaches and apricots. The disease is most severe in the nursery, attacking all varieties. In early summer, reddish or somewhat pale spots make their appearance on the upper surface of the leaf. At first these spots are less than one-sixteenth of an inch across, but gradually increase to one-eighth of an inch. In severe cases a number of these spots become confluent, forming one large patch. Badly diseased leaves turn yellow and drop. An examination of the lower surface of the leaf immediately opposite the spot, will show a small elevated, yellowish and somewhat glistening body, which contains the numerous spores. In many cases the bodies holding the spores are broken, and the agglutinated spores have spread over the surface, forming a whitish pellicle. The disease is effectively treated by spraying with copper compounds.

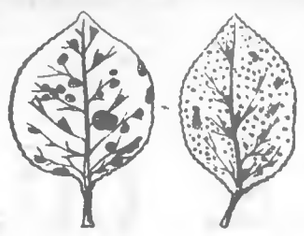

FIG. 1. FIG. 2.

Fig. 1 represents a leaf of the common cultivated cherry, the under surface of the leaf showing a collection of spores in the angles of the veins. In Fig. 2 is seen a Mahaleb cherry leaf, showing spots on the upper surface.—L. H. Pammel, Iowa Experiment Station.

Worth Considering.

Prof. Robertson says many good things. Here is something from him which is worth considering: One of the greatest and most fatal mistakes of the farmer is the doing of too much muscular work. My advice to my boys always is: "Don't work too much; plan constantly to save your strength." Make that lazy bull that is bellowing and exercising his muscles in tearing down his box stall, do as much of the work as you can force him to do. Do more work with machinery and less with your hands; the former costs less, and is more easily and cheaply replaced. Do not work the brain and muscles till both are tired out at the same time. You cannot draw from both ends of the barrel at once and have the contents continue running a great while; nor can you work sixteen hours out of every twenty-four, keep your farm accounts, and lie awake the other eight hours to plan next day's work. Take the proper time for all work, and begin now the work of improvement in everything on the farm. There is room for it in every department.

Best Cure For

All disorders of the Throat and Lungs is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has no equal as a cough-cure.

Bronchitis

"When I was a boy, I had a bronchial trouble of such a persistent and stubborn character, that the doctor pronounced it incurable with ordinary remedies, but recommended me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I did so, and one bottle cured me. For the last fifteen years, I have used this preparation with good effect whenever I take a bad cold, and I know of numbers of people who keep it in the house all the time, not considering it safe to be without it."—J. C. Woodson, P.M., Forest Hill, W. Va.

Cough

"For more than twenty-five years, I was a sufferer from lung trouble, attended with coughing so severe at times as to cause hemorrhage, the paroxysms frequently lasting three or four hours. I was induced to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and after taking four bottles, was thoroughly cured."—Franz Hoffman, Clay Centre, Kans.

La Grippe

"Last spring I was taken down with la grippe. At times I was completely prostrated, and so difficult was my breathing that my breast seemed as if confined in an iron cage. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and no sooner had I began taking it than relief followed. I could not believe that the effect would be so rapid and the cure so complete."—W. H. Williams, Cook City, S. Dak.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE "IN IT."

A Life Agent called at a friend's place one day.
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had seen "the boys" coming and had kept out the way
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had heard so much said, he was tired out sick
Of insurance and agents—'twas all a humbug trick,
When one's coil must be shuffled to win it,
HE WASN'T IN IT.

A bit of a draft blew o'er his bald head,
HE WAS IN IT;
Pneumonia sent him straightway to his bed,
HE STAYED IN IT;
His doctor made of it a "quite special" case,
To save him for running still more of life's race,
But the grave took some chances to win it,
AND HE'S IN IT.

When approached by a gent for insuring your life,
GET RIGHT IN IT;
It's the right thing to do for your children and wife,
THEN STAY IN IT.
Remember that fires take your goods "out of sight,"
And that accidents happen each day and each night.
While insurance protects every minute,
IF YOU'RE IN IT.

A Bank Manager's Opinion.

HE IS "IN IT."

The General Manager of one of the leading banks in Canada, writing to a personal friend, says:—"I have no hesitation in saying that I place the CANADA LIFE upon the highest platform. It is in my opinion carefully, economically and honestly managed; its Reserve Funds are well invested; its rates of Premiums are low, and its future is, I think better assured than a great majority of Companies. I have my own life insured in the Company for a round amount, and would not hesitate to increase the amount of my policies should I decide upon taking out further insurance."

A Government Insurance Actuary's Opinion

On the Relation between Ordinary and Tontine Service.

It is frequently assertedby Companies whose business is nearly all tontined, that although the CANADA LIFE may and does pay large ordinary profits, yet it cannot compare so favourably on a long term distribution or tontine period, and that in the end better results can be obtained on a tontine policy in a large American Co. than on an ordinary or tontine policy in the CANADA LIFE. To prove the absurdity of this statement, the following piece of common sense is quoted from Mervin Tabor, late Actuary of the Illinois Goverment Insurance Department. In his well known book, "The Three Systems of Life Insurance," he says: "A company that gives large dividends on the ordinary kind of policies, can give much larger on the same kinds when Tontined, and a company that pays but meagre dividends on the usual forms, adopting perhaps the Tontine system to "cover up" its small surpluses, cannot be relied on for large returns of surplus under the Tontine Forms of Insurance."

The CANADA LIFE does not "cover up" its Quinquennial profits as some Companies do, but publishes them throughout the country.

It can and does surpass other Companies on Quinquennial profits. It should and will surpass them on Tontine profits.

WHY TO BE "IN IT."

BISHOP HAWKE'S REASON:—"I claim that Life Insurance is not only a a humane, but I might say a Christian Institution."

LORD LYNDHURST'S REASON:—"A Policy of Life Insurance is always an evidence of prudent forethought. No man with a dependent family is free from reproach if not insured."

WHEN TO BE "IN IT."

The younger, the cheaper. Therefore insure when young. Besides by insuring in the CANADA LIFE now, you will share in three years' profits.

WHERE TO BE "IN IT."

The best place to be "in it" is in the Company that gives the best returns for the least money, consistent with absolute security. Therefore, in order to be "in it," choose the

Worst Case of Scrofula the Doctors Ever Saw

Completely Cured by HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

"When I was 4 or 5 years old I had a scrofulous sore on the middle finger of my left hand, which got so bad that the doctors cut the finger off, and later took off more than half my hand. Then the sore broke out on my arm, came out on my neck and face on both sides, nearly destroying the sight of one eye, also on my right arm. Doctors said it was the they ever saw. It was simply awful! Five years ago I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Gradually I found that the sores were beginning to heal. I kept on till I had taken ten bottles, ten dollars! Just think of what a return I got for that investment! A thousand per cent? Yes, many thousand. For the past 4 years I have had no sores. TWO MORNING FIRES.

The Dry Goods Stock of Mr. J. C. Turnbull Badly Damaged by Smoke and Water—A House on Cedar Street Receives a Scorching.

Early this morning, about 7.30 o'clock, as Alfred Wood, clerk in Mr. J. C. Turnbull's dry goods establishment, George street, was on his way to open out the shop for the day, he noticed dense volumes of smoke issuing from the grates in front of the cellar windows. The fire had evidently started below and Mr. Wood ran to the police station as fast as possible, where he caused an alarm to be sounded. The brigade with its customary activity, soon reached the spot, but the fire had originated in a dangerous quarter and in addition was very difficult for the firemen to get at. A large reserve stock of cotton batting was stored in the northern side of the cellar and it is supposed that the fire originated from this by means of spontaneous combustion. The smoke which rolled from the premises and made its way upstairs, was very dense, and forbade an entrance being made, so that the firemen had to grope in the dark. The fire, which smouldered more than burnt, was happily confined to the goods in the cellar and to the immense stock of dry goods on the ground floor. The finer part of the stock in this part of the business is, however, much damaged by smoke and water. A great quantity of laces, gloves, hosiery, ribbons, underclothing and cloths are badly ruined and rendered almost worthless.

The smoke escaped from the cellar upstairs through the stairways, and by means of a large hole burnt through the floor where the fire originated. Down stairs Mr. Turnbull, in anticipation of the raise in cottons, had stored away a gigantic stock of cottons for the spring and summer trade, as well as a large reserve stock of staple goods, cottonades, cotton batting, shirting, underwear, yarn, ducks, etc. The greater part of this has been rendered worthless. The millinery shop to the rear remained intact. In conversation with an EXAMINER reporter Mr. Turnbull stated that at present he was unable to properly estimate his loss which was very heavy, but would be covered by insurance in several companies. It will take about a week to properly arrange matters and remove the debris. There was no fire in the cellar during the night or the day previous or no furnace, as the store is heated by coal stoves, upstairs, and the only theory of the fire's origin is that it was caused by spontaneous combustion as aforesaid, in the large stock of cotton batting. The building is owned by the Toronto Trust and Loan Company. The loss on it is inconsequential. Smoke escaped between the walls and did some damage to the stocks of Mr. J. W. T. Fairweather on the south side, and to Mr. Thos. Kelly's dry goods stock on the north side.

A DWELLING HOUSE GUTTED.

Scarcely had the brigade returned to the station when a second alarm was sounded, and the hard-worked firemen were called to squelch a blaze on Cedar street, near Mr. J. J. Lynch's grocery store on the corner of Cedar and Park streets.

A one and a half story frame house owned by Mr. Sproule, who lives near the locks, and tenanted by Mr. Thos. Bullen was found to be on fire. The flames caught in the dining room from a defective chimney and rapidly ran up to the roof, which was seriously burned. The firemen threw one stream upon it and succeeded in extinguishing the flames before any very great damage was created. Mr. Bullen's loss will probably be two or three hundred dollars on household effects, etc., uninsured. Mr. Sproule's loss on the building will not be heavy, and, as far as can be learned, it is insured.

CRISP CURLING CHRONIQUES

What is Going on at the Rink Where Curlers Most do Congregate.

The Peterborough curlers had hard luck yesterday in their matches with four rinks of the Lindsay curlers. The two quartettes of the home team which played two rinks from Lindsay at the Charlotte street rink yesterday afternoon were defeated by 4 points. Skip Rutherford vanquished the almost indomitable skip J. D. Flavelle, in a 20 end match by 2 points, the score standing 15 to 13 in favour of Peterborough. The home broom wielders led their Lindsay antagonists from the start and some very brilliant shots were made. Skip Dr. Boucher did not fare so well, and was defeated by Skip W. MacLennan after a hard fought contest by six points. Both rinks were even until the last three ends, when Lindsay forged ahead. Following are the results of the two rink matches played here:

RINK NO. 1.

S Clegg,		T Sadler,
Geo Brown,		W Needler,
S Ray,		W H Simpson,
T Rutherford, sk	15	J D Flavelle, sk	13

RINK NO. 2.

E Rutherford,		T McConnell,
J H Connal,		H Ferguson,
G W Hatton,		J Mathie,
Dr Boucher, sk	13	W MacLennan, sk	13

The two rinks of the Peterboroughs, Skips Attrill and Ferguson, who went to Lindsay to play two rinks there, were badly defeated. They returned home last night at nine o'clock. The ice had only been recently made in the Lindsay rink and was rough and dirty. There were also many cracks in it, which, in a measure, will account for the large majority of points for Lindsay. Following are the results:—

RINK NO. 1.

R H Kells,		J C Harstone,
R S Davidson,		W Dundas,
C McGill,		Geo Little,
W G Ferguson, sk	15	J M Knowlson, sk	20

Twenty-two ends were played.

RINK NO. 2.

E B Edwards,		T Pratt,
W Salisbury,		Dr Simpson,
R M Dennistoun,		J Keith,
T P Attrill, sk	13	Jas Edwards, sk	26

Twenty-two ends were played.

The total majority for Lindsay in the four rinks was 31 points.

The Peterborough curlers will play the Granites of Toronto, in a few days. An interesting match is expected.

The Ontario Tankard Series comes off the last part of the month in Toronto. The date has not been definitely fixed yet.

The match yesterday with Lindsay was the beginning of the fourth annual competition between that town and Peterborough for the Peterborough-Lindsay challenge cup. Lindsay won the cup the first year, Peterborough held it the second year and last year. Two more matches have to be played this year to settle its ownership for 1893.

Wedding Bells.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The residence of Mr. Alex. Clark, Ennismore on Jan. 4th was the scene of a very happy event, being the marriage of his fourth daughter Elizabeth A. to Mr. George Milburn, son of Mr. Joseph Milburn, Smith. At the hour of five o'clock the cheerful strains of the wedding march ushered in the bridal party and in the presence of a large number of immediate friends the ceremony was performed by Rev. Wilson McCann, Omemee. The bride was assisted by her sister, Miss Sarah, while the groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Alfred, of McGill's College, Montreal. After the usual congratulations the joyous party proceeded to the dining hall where the tables were loaded with an ample supply of the good things of the festive season. The bride was the recipient of a large number of useful and handsome presents.

The road to ruin often looks as if it led to the land of plenty.

The fish that never eats flies is not apt to be caught on a hook.

Trying to keep cows fat that have no other protection from the winter's cold than the leeward side of a straw pile is like trying to warm up all out of door with a No. 7 heating stove.

Some men never practice economy except when they are buying for their wives.

Cut a hole in the pocket you carry your tobacco in, and after a while you will be glad you took my advice.

If you want to learn how to grow rich easily, go sit at the feet of some old codger who never made a cent in his life.—American Agriculturist.

Cleaning the Cow Stable.

There is no doubt that in a great many localities the methods which experience has shown to be economical in the older dairy regions are unknown. How to dispose of the droppings is a very important matter. We give the method which best suits the majority of cases. Make a long, stone boat and place upon it a box resembling a wagon box, though not so long. Have the boat with its box large enough to hold one day's droppings. Clean out every morning, throwing the droppings into the stone boat and haul directly to the field. This saves loss through leaching in the barn yard. Scatter as you unload. The person unloading can stand on the ground, so need not get soiled. The stone boat will run Winter, Summer, Spring, or Fall. It will go over snow, bare ground or mud. Any time the team can keep on top of the ground the stone boat can be used. For greatest convenience arrange the stable door so one horse or two can haul it inside and move it along behind the cows as fast as the droppings are scooped in. If there is not room to turn it around inside, it can be pulled in backwards with a single horse, then hitch him to the front end and let him haul it alone as far as the door, when his mate can be hitched on, if the door is too narrow to let a double team through. Of course the droppings are in a gutter so they are easily scooped into the boat, or the cows stand on a platform and the droppings lie in a line on the floor behind. This saves work and manure.—Orange Judd Farmer.

Remedy for Frosted Combs.

When the comb becomes frozen the tips turn black and finally they seem to be cut down to the base of the comb. It is the same as if a man had his fingers frozen and lost them. It is plain, then, that the birds suffer great pain and are in no condition for laying. If the comb of the male becomes frozen he is then useless, which accounts for the eggs from some yards not hatching. There is no remedy for healing the comb, but the pain may be alleviated by an application once a day of sweet oil well rubbed on the comb. The frosted birds must be kept in some place where the wind cannot reach them, or the difficulty will be increased.—Mirror and Farmer.

A Spraying Device.

We understand, says the Mirror and Farmer, that Prof. Goff of the Wisconsin experiment station has devised a pump and nozzle by which kerosene and water are mixed at the nozzle and thrown in a fine spray without any need of emulsification.

In Case of Poisoning.

Suck poisoned wounds, unless your mouth is sore; enlarge the wound, or, better, cut out the part without delay; hold the wounded part as long as can be born to a hot coal or end of a cigar.

The Advertising

Of Hood' Sarsaparilla is always within the bounds of reason because it is true; it always appeals to the sober common sense of thinking people because it is true; and it is always fully substantiated by endorsements which, in the financial world would be accepted without a moment's hesitation.

For a general family cathartic we confidently recommend Hood's Pills

National Pills are a mild purgative acting on the Stomach, Liver and Bowels, removing all obstructions.

A woman who is weak, nervous and sleepless, and who has cold hands and feet, cannot feel and act like a well person. Carter's Iron Pills equalize the circulation, remove biliousness, and give strength and rest.

About the Color of Walls.

There are a few general principles says the last number of the Decorator and Furnisher, in accordance with which the walls of a room may be treated so as to produce an artistic result. The chief factors in deciding the color are the size of the room and the amount of light it receives. In rooms which face the north, the north light, which is whitish to bluish in color, requires that the walls be decorated in luminous tints ranging from orange yellow to warm red.

Rooms with a southern exposure, conversely, should be papered or painted in tints ranging from greenish yellow to blue. Rooms facing east or west should be decorated in yellow, as east and west lights have yellow and purple in their composition.

The use to which rooms are put is another means of determining the color of their walls. A hall, for instance, should be done in strong, dark colors, while the rooms opening off it may range from the deep, rich tints suitable to a library to the pale ones of bedrooms and boudoirs. Pompeian or Damascus red is a good color in a hall, affording a direct and pleasing contrast, on entering the house, to the exterior colors. Russets, browns, dull yellows and tans are also suitable. For libraries rich colors are always desirable, as, for example, reds, browns, golden greens and orange. Goblin blue, sage green and shades varying from terra cotta to salmon pink and light tints are also suitable.

For dining-rooms soft reds and browns are good, as are also combinations of blue or green with silver in small figures. Bedrooms require the paler shades of all colors.

All walls on which pictures are to be hung should be in solid or almost solid color. No striking patterns should be used, for it will necessarily distract the eye from the picture. As a general rule pictures are most effective against a dark neutral-colored background.

The continual succession of boils, pimples, and eruptions from which many suffer, indicates an impure state of the blood. The most effective remedy is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It expels the poison harmlessly through the natural channels, and leaves the skin clean and clear.

A Cure for Dyspepsia.

In investigation the cause of this prevalent complaint it is found to rest principally in wrong action of the stomach and impurity of the blood. These exciting causes are easily removed by the regulating, purifying tonic and digestive effects of Burdock Blood Bitters, hence the success of B. B. B. in curing dyspepsia in any form, no matter of how long standing or how severe it may be.

Mrs Chas. Smith of Jimes, Ohio, writes: I have used every remedy for sick headache I could hear of for the fifteen years, but Carter's Little Liver Pills did me more good than all the rest.

HAMILTON, April 20, 1892.

I was doctoring for years with physicians for a scaly and scurvy affliction of the scalp, they told me it was eczema, but gave me no permanent relief. I was also troubled with excessive dandruff, which would drop from my head like snow flakes. Hearing of Anti-Dandruff I used it, and from the third application felt more relieved than for years; when half the bottle was used the eczema and scaly eruptions disappeared and have not returned since; dandruff was thoroughly removed, the itching of the scalp stopped, and for an elegant, clean and useful hair-dressing Anti-Dandruff has no equal.

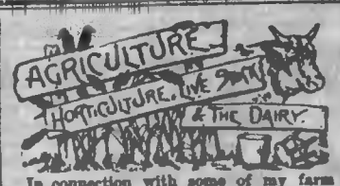
AGRICULTURE



In connection with some of my farm buildings I desire to have a place for butchering hogs, beeves and lambs for my own use, but I wish it arranged conveniently and with a view to labor-saving contrivances. I have steam heat. Can you put me in the way of getting some plans or suggestions for the inside arrangements, particularly for scalding hogs, etc.

V. A. W

We give in answer to the above inquiry says the Country Gentleman, a brief description of a contrivance which will doubtless answer the purpose of our correspondent, and which has been used many years by a person whose business is connected with an arrangement of this kind. He assures us that with its aid one person can do all the work alone of slinging up a beef weighing 2,000 pounds, without requiring great strength.

It requires a building 15 feet wide, and of such length as may suit the owner's convenience. Two timbers six inches square and 15 feet long extend across this building 12 feet high or overhead. They are parallel, 5 feet apart, and support the axle on which the rope winds for lifting the carcass. A hardwood stick is turned in a lathe 6 inches in diameter, with a hub at the end 8 inches in diameter, and with a gudgeon in each end. Boxes for the gudgeons are placed on the top of both beams. When this stick is in the lathe and before it is taken out, bore six mortices in the hub one by two inches to receive the spokes of the wheel, three at one end of the hub and four at the other. Go to a wagon shop and get steamed felloes, to form the circumference of the wheel thus made. The spokes are 3 feet 10 inches long, and are made out of one and a quarter inch stuff, three inches wide at one end and four at the other, the wider end outside, and each has a notch one and a quarter inches wide at the end for the felloe to fit in. The outer part of the wheel is furnished with a number of sockets to receive the endless rope. These sockets, ten in number, are made of nail rod, in the form represented by fig. 2, the rope dropping into the narrow part, where, by the pressure it is held from slipping. The sockets have a screw cut on the lower end, which holds them when inserted, without any nut. An inch rope, with the ends spliced together to make it endless, is handled by the operator in lifting the carcass, the difference in the size of the wheel and of the roller, giving him a large purchase. A wooden bar stops the wheel at any place, and holds the carcass at any height desired.

A vat for scalding hogs is made of 1½-inch plank, 20 inches deep, 30 inches wide, and 6 feet long—a hose from the steamer heats the water.

When killing hogs, put chain around one leg below the gambrel, make it a slip over the other leg.

The whole of this arrangement has the merit of both efficiency and cheapness, suited to moderate and private establishments. By making the wheel as directed, by procuring the steamed felloes, the wheel was made for $3; by purchasing, or ordering it made, it would have to cost $25.

PERSONALITIES.

The Baroness Burdett Coutts has resolved to go to the Chicago Fair; her husband will come with her. Age sets very lightly upon her brow and has not yet touched her vivacity. She is nearly eighty.

Ailas Craig, as Ellen Terry's clever young daughter calls herself, has definitely decided to adopt the stage as a profession. She has been engaged by Mr. Alexander, of St. James's Theatre, to take part in the production of the forthcoming comedy, "Liberty Hall."

The only man in the world who lives in a mansion built in the air is Mr. Fay, an American millionaire. The building in question is situated at Guanajnata. It is over 300 feet high and is supported by massive iron pillars. Access to the building is obtained by a gigantic elevator, and communication with the town is by telephone.

W. H. Hogaboom, Osgoode Station, Ont. writes:—"It is with pleasure that I add my testimony to the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My wife was run down and weak, and has been so for six years. I decided to get Pink Pills and must say they have given great satisfaction. My wife is able to go to church now for the first time in two years." Sold by all dealers, 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50. Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Expel the worms by using the safe and reliable anthelmintic Freeman's Worm Powders.

Outrivals all Others.

In curing coughs, colds, hoarseness, asthma, bronchitis, sore throat, and all diseases of the throat and lungs, there is one remedy which is unequalled by any other. We refer to Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup which has effected many remarkable cures this season.

A Pleasant Herb Drink.

The best cure we know of for Constipation and Headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs and is made for use by pouring boiling water on to the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders and is now the sovereign remedy with ladies for clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the packages at 50c. and $1

Three Practical Points.

Three practical points: 1st. Burdock Blood Bitters cures dyspepsia by acting promptly on the stomach, liver and bowels. 2nd. Burdock Blood Bitters cures bad blood by the same specific action combined with its alterative and purifying powers. 3rd, Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases arising from the two first named, such as constipation, headache, biliousness, dizziness, scrofula, etc., by removing their cause as shown and proved in thousands of indisputably recorded cases.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

THE SAAR STRIKE.

It Now Seems That the Miners Will Return to Work.

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—Notwithstanding the resolutions adopted at the miners' meeting held in Bochum Sunday, expressing sympathy with the Saar strikers and declaring in favor of a general strike in support of the Saar men, which was to begin yesterday, all miners in the Bochum district proceeded to their pits as usual yesterday and went to work. To judge from present indications, there is no danger of a strike at Bochum, though Socialists who were in full control of yesterday's meetings have not abandoned their intention to foment trouble, and are using every means in their power to induce the men to quit work. The miners, however, display no anxiety to follow the advice offered them.

At Gelsen-Kirchen, where many of the miners went on strike, three of the largest pits resumed work yesterday, and this is taken to be the beginning of the end of one of the most ill-advised strikes that has occurred in Germany of recent years.

Few, if any, of the men were in a condition to make a protracted struggle, and hunger and suffering from the cold worked together in the interests of mine owners in forcing the men back to work.

A dynamite bomb was exploded in Gelsen-Kirchen yesterday. Two small hotels which stand on each side of the alleyway in which the bomb was placed were shaken so that windows broke and plaster fell from the walls. Nobody was injured. The man who placed the bomb has not been caught. He is supposed to be an Anarchist emissary from the Saar district.

Numerous miners' meetings were held yesterday in the Westphalia and Rhenish coal districts. The Socialist element was well in evidence everywhere, and the resolutions favoring a general strike were passed. In most cases, however, the resolutions were without effect and the men continue to work.

A thousand men struck near Essen, and at Gelsenkirchen there was a partial cessation of work at nightfall. Reports from several other places show that a few hundred men here and there in Westphalian and the Dusseldorf districts have left the pits, but as yet there is nothing like a general strike.

Meetings now in progress at Dortmund, Essen, Bochum and Elberfeld may alter the situation completely, however, before morning. Men from the Saar district are present at most of the meetings to ask their comrades to support them by calling out all coal miners in Western Germany.

The provincial governor met and consulted yesterday with military officials at Saarbruck as to the best means of enforcing order, especially after the issuing of the Government's ultimatum, when many men will be rendered desperate by loss of all hope of employment.

VESSELS IDLE.

In Every Port in Great Britain—Startling Statistics.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The extreme depression into which the shipping industry of England and the Continent has fallen is shown by a startling array of statistics just made public.

There are numbers of idle steamers in every port in the kingdom. On the Tyne alone there are 150 laid up, with a total tonnage of 350,000; 17 vessels are laid up at London; at Liverpool there are 156 steamers idle, with a total tonnage of 150,000. The total number of vessels laid up at English and Scotch ports is 479 and the total tonnage 856,000. Besides these there are laid up in Continental ports 99 steamers, with a total tonnage of 100,000. As a result there are 5000 men idle, which means a loss of 50,000 pounds sterling in wages monthly.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The police raided last night the Corinthian Club, York-street, Pall Mall, and arrested the secretary and two officials. The raid was made under the law against disorderly houses. The club was the resort of mashers and fast women, who danced and caroused there until 3 or 4 o'clock every morning.

The Emperor's Thoughtfulness.

SIGMARINGEN, Jan. 10.—One of the honors conferred by Emperor William Monday was the appointment of the Duke of Edinburgh as Grand Admiral of the German Navy. To make certain that the Duke would be prepared to appear as such a high naval officer the Emperor brought with him in his luggage the uniform of a grand admiral, which he presented to the Duke.

We Should Live One Hundred Years.

We are century animals and have a perfect right to live out that period if we can. Many do so. Consumption has been killing off the flower of our youth through the centuries but it will do so no more. Why? Because "Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil," wherever used, cures consumption and the coughs and lung troubles which give rise to it. It will be like a suicide to die of consumption in future if "Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil" is within reach. In big bottles, 50c. and $1.00, at all Drug Stores.

Very Much Pleased.

SIRS,—I am very much pleased with the effects of Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Our family has been greatly troubled with severe colds, pains in the chest, etc., and have been promptly relieved by this valuable medicine which we willingly recommend.

CLARA A. MCKENZIE,

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give these who call for it a sample bottle Free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c. and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

Keep it on Hand.

SIRS,—I always keep a bottle of Hagyard's Yellow Oil for cuts, sprains and bruises. The folks at the house use it for almost everything. I know it to be a good medicine, it is an excellent mollifier for cracked or chapped hands.

Soft White Hands.

These desirable adjuncts to the beauty of the ladies, can be obtained by using Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses. Try it. Druggists keep it; W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal.

To be free from sick headache, biliousness, constipation, etc., use Carter's Little Liver Pills. Strictly vegetable. They gently stimulate the liver and free the stomach from bile.

News About Town.

It is the current report about town that Kemp's Balsam for the Throat and Lungs is making some remarkable cures with people who are troubled with Coughs, Sore Throat, Asthma Bronchitis and Consumption. Any druggist will give you a trial bottle free of cost. It is guaranteed to relieve and cure. The Large Bottles are 50c. and $1.

HE GAVE A BOGUS DRAFT

IN PAYMENT OF A HOTEL BILL AND MANY EXTRAS.

A Dashing Young Englishman With a Fondness for Champagne and Cigars Lives Like a Lord at the Arlington—Manager Matthews Goes in Pursuit.

TORONTO, Jan. 11.—Mr. E. M. Matthews, proprietor of the Arlington Hotel, went to Buffalo yesterday afternoon in pursuit of a young Englishman who wears the aristocratic name of Arthur Harcourt.

The young man came to the hotel on Dec. 31 and registered from Chicago. He was an attractive youth, with a boyish, innocent face and posed as an Englishman of distinguished family and boasted of having letters of credit for an unlimited amount. His baggage was light, but his boyish manners inspired confidence. He made many friends about the hotel; was lavish in his use of champagne, carriages, and altogether behaved himself like a young man of extravagant habits. He became very intimate with the members of the "Private Secretary" Company, who have been staying at the Arlington, and was very liberal in driving the ladies of the company all over the city and showed them the sights generally.

On Monday morning he announced his intention of going to Buffalo and his bill was found to be heavy; numerous libations of champagne and dozens of expensive cigars were included on it, but the young man handed over a draft covering the whole amount without a murmur.

The exact nature of that draft cannot be discovered, but Mr. Matthews felt confident enough to say before he left for Buffalo yesterday that he would bring back "Mr. Harcourt" or know the reason why. Mr. Matthews' brother was seen at the Arlington last night and refused to say more about the matter than that his brother had gone to Buffalo in pursuit of Harcourt and that the entire story would be made known later.

SECRETLY LAUGH.

And Applaud the Move to Make Hamilton Under Secretary for Ireland.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—Concurrently with the appointment of Sir Joseph West, Ridgeway formerly Under Secretary for Ireland, under the Salisbury-Balfour regime, to the Morocco mission, Sir Robert G. C. Hamilton, governor of Tasmania, has arrived in London. Hamilton, who is a Liberal and a man of large ability, was Under Secretary for Ireland in 1886.

Balfour wanted to get Hamilton out of the way on account of his knowledge of Irish affairs, which might prove embarrassing to the Tories, and had him appointed governor of Tasmania, while Ridgeway, a Conservative of Conservatives, was made Under Secretary.

The Unionist newspapers all praise the appointment of Ridgeway to the Morocco mission, being unable apparently to see that Chief Secretary Morley has merely shunted Ridgeway off in order to obtain the services of Hamilton, who will be of immense service to the Home Rule bill and will go to work immediately on that measure.

Hamilton will be a most valuable aid to Mr. Morley on all Irish questions, with which he is very familiar. The Irish members applaud the move, while grinning in their sleeves.

The mutterings of the coming session have already begun on both sides. Joseph Chamberlain and Sir Henry James are visiting the Duke of Devonshire at Chatsworth. A meeting of Unionists will shortly be summoned to decide where they will sit in the House of Commons. It is believed that Chamberlain has been engaged during the recess in preparing scorching speeches to greet the advent of the Home Rule bill.

ENGLAND'S POVERTY.

Indignation Over the Latest Financia Scandal There.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—When Dr. Parker declared the other day that hell was not hot enough for the punishment of some kinds of crime he did not exaggerate the growing indignation over the latest financial scandal in England. The more the collapse of the Liberator Building Society is investigated the more hopeless the situation appears for the impoverished victims. The stockholders will lose everything and the depositors cannot hope for a greater dividend than three shillings per pound. The absconding of Spencer Balfour, M.P., is not an unexpected sequel to the vast robbery.

The disappearance of $35,000,000 belonging to thousands of the lower middle classes is already followed by suffering more silent but more pitiful than that of the great armies of the unemployed. The old and the helpless are the most numerous class among the victims. A relief movement has accumulated a few thousand dollars for their assistance, but the silent hunger of hundreds will never be made known.

Many pitiful cases there have been in the coroners' courts within a few weeks, of poor women, formerly in comfort, who have died of destitution rather than make their wants known. The severe weather, the hard times, the wholesale and criminal thwarting of honest thrift combine to make these verily the darkest days England has known for many long years.

SIR JOHN ABBOTT.

Writes from Italy and Appears to be in Good Spirits.

OTTAWA, Jan. 11.—An order in council has been passed awarding contract for section 8, Soulanges Canal, to Charles J. R. Raynor of Syracuse, New York, whose tender was the lowest. The contracts for stations nine and ten will probably be taken by Messrs. Ronald McDonald of Toronto and Rogers & Taylor of Brockville, whose tenders are said to be the lowest.

His Excellency, in the advice of council, has decided that the law must take its course in the case of Dominic Tasagnolo, under sentence of death at Nanaimo, B.C., for the murder of his wife's paramour, and he will therefore be hanged on the 16th inst.

A letter was received here to-day from Sir John Abbott, dated Bordighera, Italy, Dec. 29. He made no mention of his health, but apparently wrote in good spirits.

Clings to Her Religion.

TANGIER, Jan. 11.—The widow of Mulai Sid Hahj-Eod-Es-Salaam, the great Shereef of Wazan, who died a few months ago, has been notified that she will not be allowed to succeed to the property left her by the Shereef unless she becomes a Mohammedan. The ex-Sherifa refuses to change her religious belief, and interesting complications are looked for.

The late Shereef of Wazan was the nearest descendant of the Prophet, being thirty-third in the male line from Ali, the nephew of Fatima, daughter of Mohammed. His authority in the Mohammedan world was absolute, and he wielded a power greater than that of any sultan. In 1873 he added an English wife to his harem, who had great influence over him and was regarded with bitter jealousy. He was over 60 when he died and almost a negro in color, his mother having been a black woman.

France and Morocco.

PARIS, Jan. 11.—The Matin says M. Waddington, French Ambassador to Great Britain, who is in France on leave of absence, will, when he returns to London, bear credentials to the British Government, couched in firm and unmistakable language, declaring that France will not tolerate foreign intervention in Morocco or the acquisition in that country of any privilege by another power.

"Slaughter" is the word for this month. 1. Sealette Collars and Muffs.
2. Feather Boas.
3. Mantle Sealettes.

BEN BUTLER DEAD.

He Was Attacked With a Fatal Fit of Coughing.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Benjamin F. Butler, the lawyer, statesman, politician and millionaire manufacturer, died at his Washington residence, No. 220 New Jersey-avenue, southeast, yesterday morning. The General had always to a greater or less extent made his residence in Washington, although many of the scenes of his successful ventures have been located elsewhere.

During the present winter a case which had been decided against him in the highest courts of the State of Massachusetts, and in which he took an appeal to the United States Supreme Court, has demanded his almost constant residence in this city.

Shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday a.m. the General was attacked with a fit of coughing, which awakened the man servant, who always occupied an adjoining room. He at once hastened to the General's bedside and asked him what the matter was. The General meanwhile had gone to the bathroom adjoining, whither his valet hastened and offered his assistance.

The General mentioned that his expectoration had been discolored with blood. He did not appear to think seriously of the matter, however, and after the valet had assisted him to his bed he said: "That's all right, West. You need do nothing more," and apparently went to sleep. He had lain on his bed but a few moments, however, when his heavy breathing again aroused alarm. Mr. Lanier Dunn, his nephew by marriage, who resided in the same house, started out in search of medical assistance.

It was fully 15 minutes before he could secure aid, and when he returned with Dr. Luce, the assistant of Dr. Bayne, the family physician, it was seen that the General was already in extremis. The doctor so informed his two nieces, Miss Stevens and Mrs. Dunn, who were at his bedside, and death ensued almost immediately.

The interment will take place at Lowell, Mass., in the family lot, where lie the remains of his wife and his son Benjamin, the latter of whom died in 1876. Gen. Butler's wealth is estimated at $7,000,000. He was born in 1818 at Deerfield, N.H. His father, Capt. John Butler, served under Jackson at the battle of New Orleans.

He received a collegiate education in Maine, studied law and became a member of the Massachusetts Legislature. His prominence in national politics began with the Charleston convention in 1860.

At the outbreak of the war he was Brigadier-General of the Massachusetts militia, and when Lincoln issued orders for troops Butler took command of the celebrated Eighth Massachusetts Regiment, which was the first organized to encounter the onslaught.

British Comment.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The Daily News says editorially of Gen. Butler: "His death removes a notable figure. He had great capacity but not one of a high order. He was certainly a patriot.

The Daily Chronicle contrasts at length Gen. Butler's good and bad qualities. "Silence may cover the atrocities committed by him against the women of New Orleans," it says editorially. "With all his great gifts he was a legacy of evil from the war. His death does not leave a gap in the ranks of good citizens."

SOCIALIST MANIFESTO.

Signed By Fifteen Members of the Chamber of Deputies.

PARIS, Jan. 12.—The Socialist Union has issued the following manifesto:

"Opportunism has become engulfed in the quagmire of bloodshed at Fourmies and the mud from the Panama scandals.

"As it sinks it threatens to drag the country and the republic to ruin. In this emergency safety can come only from the ranks of the nation's worker.

"The system of delivering up Parliament and Presidency to a handful of criminals must be abolished if the Republic is to be a Republic of honesty and to maintain the position it holds with so much glory in the vanguard of nations.

"The political constitution of the country must be revised at once by a constituent assembly with imperative mandates. We must organize a Government by the people, through the medium of universal suffrage."

The manifesto closes with a call for a great meeting in Paris on Saturday in order that the people may be enabled to ratify these demands. The manifesto is signed by 15 Socialist members of the Chamber.

A STARTLING DEATH.

While Having His Frost-Bitten Ears Rubbed With Snow.

HAMILTON, Jan. 12.—Last evening John Comerford, assistant storekeeper of the Hamilton Asylum for the Insane, hurried into the Mountainview Hotel, told John Clarke, the proprietor, that his ears were frost-bitten and asked Mr. Clarke for a handkerchief to wrap around them.

Mr. Clarke produced the handkerchief, but before giving it to Mr. Comerford he went and got a handful of snow and proceeded to rub the frost-bitten ears with it. While doing this Mr. Comerford suddenly fell with a groan into Mr. Clarke's arms and expired. The cause of his death was heart disease.

The deceased was 67 years of age. Before obtaining a position at the asylum he had carried on a grocery business at Brantford, where his family still resides.

A BOY KIDNAPPED.

Garcia and His Bandits Demand $2000 as Ransom.

HAVANA, Jan. 12.—Ignacio Herrera, son of Count Barreto Herrera, was kidnapped yesterday from a plantation near San Antonio de Las Vegas by four bandits, among them being Garcia and the notorious mulatto, Plascania.

The bandits refused an offer of $1000 ransom and declared that they would not release the captive until they received $2000. A detachment of troops has been sent in pursuit of the robbers.

NO CHOLERA IN CANADA

THE GOVERNMENT ARE MAKING EXTRAORDINARY PRECAUTIONS.

The Grosse Isle Quarantine Station to Be Placed in a State of Thorough Efficiency—Two Steam Tugs This Year for Disinfecting Travelers.

OTTAWA, Jan. 12.—Messrs. Andrew A. Allan and George Hanna, representing the Allan Line, and John Torrance and W. M. MacPherson, representing the Dominion Line of steamships, had an interview with Sir John Thompson, Hon. M. Bowell, Hon. A. R. Angers and Hon. T. M. Daly yesterday, with reference to immigration and quarantine matters.

With reference to the latter subject the deputation was informed that it was not at all likely that the trouble of last year as to the authority to be exercised by the Dominion and Provincial Governments would be renewed, as a conference would shortly take place between the two Governments, when it was expected that the matter would be amicably and satisfactorily settled.

The deputation was also informed that in view of the possibility of cholera making its appearance every possible precaution would be taken, and the Grosse Isle quarantine station placed in a state of thorough efficiency. The best disinfecting apparatus had been supplied and proper accommodation provided for all classes of passengers. A second steam tug would be employed next year so as to facilitate inspection and disinfection.

As to the deep water wharf asked for, it was pointed out to the deputation that it would cost a very large sum of money, at least $150,000, and that it could not possibly be completed before the end of the season, if then. The present pier afforded ample accommodation for the landing of passengers, and although the deep water wharf would be a convenience for vessels to lie alongside and be disinfected, still the disinfecting could be done as well from tugs.

With the exception of the wharf, the deputation was assured that on the opening of navigation, Grosse Isle quarantine station would be found thoroughly equipped in every respect, and it was also intended to improve the quarantine station at Halifax.

In conversation Mr. Allan expressed the opinion that immigration next year would not be materially affected by the cholera scare.

Mr. M. C. Upper's resignation of the County Judgeship of Haldimand has been accepted.

HOSPITAL HORROR

A Chinese Corpse and a Sick Chinee Lie Side by Side.

VICTORIA, B.C., Jan. 12.—Lee Gee Tang, aged 35, was brought to the Chinese hospital two days ago, died late last night and was buried this afternoon. The man was unattended and lay on a plain rough board which did service for a bed. Upon the same board was another sick Chinaman. Upon a separate board was an aged paralyzed Celestial. Tang died last night and the corpse lay for hours in the same room with the sick Celestial. It was all huddled in dirty, filthy quilts and left just as it had died. Several Chinese junk tapers were lighted and filled the room with repugnant fumes. No fire was in the place and light was furnished by a dirty, greasy candle in a more dirty-looking bottle.

This was the condition in which the city health officials found the hospital when visited last midnight. In another room was found the mad Chinaman, who had been again turned over to the tender mercies of the benevolent Chinese tyhees who support this institution. The crazy Celestial was seated on his board bed. He was laughing and grinning. There were several pictures of Chinese demigods. An oil lamp was burning in their honor. And a large supply of lighted junks were set close to the insane man. It is not known whether the junks were supposed to frighten away the insanity, but their proximity to the wretched Celestial suggested the idea. The only food found was a little boiled rice. The rice, the lighted junks and the ugly looking demigods constituted the hospital.

A BOY STABBED.

He Slapped a Schoolboy For Calling Him Dutchy.

HAMILTON, Jan. 12.—There came near being a tragedy at the Hess street School yesterday afternoon. For some time past the boys have been in the habit of teasing Willie Heibner, calling him "Dutchy." At recess yesterday Fred Jackman, a 10 year-old lad, was one of those who annoyed Heibner. The latter is 13 years old and is bigger than Jackman. Heibner determined to stop the boys from poking fun at him and slapped Jackman on the face.

With that Jackman pulled out a knife and stabbed him in the side, inflicting a deep and serious wound. Heibner was taken home and Dr. Philp was immediately summoned. He pronounced the wound serious, but did not apprehend that it would result fatally. The blade of the knife was a good-sized one and was very sharp.

Young Jackman was detained at the school and the police were telephoned for. Detective McKenzie answered the call and arrested the lad.

Jackman was released on bail furnished to-day, but the case was not proceeded with, as Dr. Philp said Heibner would not be able to appear for several days. The case was adjourned and the bail bond renewed. The young defendant claims that Heibner chased him and that he ran against the knife.

A CHATHAM SPEECH.

Lord Stanley Expresses His Opinion on the Trade Question.

CHATHAM, Jan. 12.—Lord Stanley was welcomed yesterday morning. In his address he said:

"He believed an undercurrent of warm feeling towards the United States existed in Canada, and that Canadians were anxious to cherish those feelings of friendliness and kenship and also extend trade relations with their neighbors within the lines of the constitution and having in mind the best interests of Canada, both present and future. [Applause.]

"A trade bargain could be a bad trade bargain; but he felt and believed that when the time came to make one, Canadians would be governed in arranging it by the highest and worthiest considerations and in accord with the truest and best sentiments of a loyal and patriotic people." [Applause.]

THE VATICAN'S MANDATE

OPINIONS ASKED ON SEPARATE SCHOOLS IN THE U.S.

Each Bishop to Send His Conscientious Opinion Upon the Question—More About the Alleged Conspiracy—A St. Paul Editor Uses Vigorous Language.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—Ecclesiastical secrecy has been broken by the publication of this authoritative statement:

"The Papal delegate, by order of the Holy Father, has sent out an important notice to the archbishops, to be communicated by them to the bishops of the United States. It is a mandate from the Pope that each bishop shall remit within the month of January in a sealed letter mailed to the Pope, either directly or through the intermediary of the legate, his personal conscientious opinion of the propositions on the school question, which Archbishop Satolli, in the Pope's name, laid before the New York conference of bishops in November last."

A despatch from Chicago says that Rev. Dr. John Conway, editor of The St. Paul Northwestern Chronicle, arrived in this city yesterday en route to Europe. Dr. Conway, speaking of what he terms Archbishop Corrigan's "letter of moral assassination," said to-day:

"I have read very carefully the astounding revelations made last Saturday. The whole country stands aghast at the shocking propagandism which was taking place from New York. For motive and for method it is as diabolical a piece of Machiavellism as has ever disgraced the pages of history. A man holding one of the highest positions in the Roman Catholic Church, ostensibly the friend of that Church and of its head, tries to discredit the Pope's own representative, and to reverse the policy of the Pope in reference to the Roman Catholic Church in this country.

"When Archbishop Corrigan's own letter, written to a Chicago layman, was photographed and published it took away all possibility of denial on the part of the New York conspirators."

KNIGHTS OF LABOR.

Archbishop Corrigan Did Not Vote for the Memorial.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—The Rev. Father Lavelle of the Cathedral has spoken for Archbishop Corrigan, who is out of town, in answer to published statements that suppressed disagreement between Archbishops Ireland and Corrigan was due to the latter's opposition to the K. of L. and his un-American support of Cahenesleyism. Father Lavelle said, "You may positively put down such statement as false. Archbishop Corrigan is an American of the Americans and a Catholic of the Catholics.

"For instances, on March 30, 1887, the papers printed a memorial presented by Cardinal Gibbons to the Pope regarding the K. of L. The statement was made in that memorial that but two out of the 12 archbishops voted to condemn the Knights. The two, whose names have frequently been mentioned, although I don't care to mention them, live over 1000 miles from New York.

"In regard to Cahenesleyism," continued Father Lavelle, "the Metropolitan of New York has always been a determined and active opponent of those principles and all efforts to introduce the system into this country."

GREEDY COALMEN.

The Reading Combine Has Broken Up Because of Disagreement

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.—The Herald editorially says:

The public is to be congratulated upon the dissolution of the Reading coal combine. This comes about not through any goodness of heart on the part of the coal barons, but because of a disagreement among over-reaching corporations.

The Jersey Central has withdrawn from the agreement because Mr. McLeod failed to carry out his provisions to guarantee to that company its allotted share of the coal tonnage. This was not from any purpose of slighting that company, but in the agreed to raise and maintain prices at ruinous rates the three companies of the combination all fell off from their allotted percentages. On the other hand, the companies outside of the pool yielded a little in prices and were big gainers in tonnage as well as revenue.

The Jersey Central is now in exactly the same position that it was before the agreement of last February. It has a right, of course, to agree with the Reading on prices, but there is reason to believe that it will pursue a more independent course.

HANLAN IN BUFFALO.

He Has Not Yet Arranged a Race With Ross.

TORONTO, Jan. 12.—Hanlan went to Buffalo on Monday and has met Wallace Ross, the Black Brunswicker, who avers that he is anxious to row the ex-world's champion. The Buffalo News interviewed Ross and asked him whether he was ready to row Hanlan. Ross said yes, at any time. Fox has put up a trophy for us to row for. "I am willing to row Hanlan anywhere for the prize offered and a purse. I will row him at Charlotte, Buffalo, or anywhere he cares to name. I, of course, will bet on myself, but I think a good purse may be got for the contest outside the bet and trophy. If Hanlan objects it is because he is a bluffer. I know I can defeat him."

This despatch was received from Buffalo last night: "An evening paper says Hanlan has arranged a race with Wallace Ross for $1200 a side, to be rowed next summer. Another evening paper says Ross disclaims any knowledge of such arrangement, and that although he has seen Hanlan repeatedly, the latter has not approached him personally in regard to a contest."

The fact of the matter is that Ross simply wants to advertise himself and his show. He is not in Hanlan's class and people will be surprised if it be announced that Ross has backed himself to row Hanlan. It is all right for Ross to show an inclination to scull for Fox's pewter. But Hanlan has declared that he will not go into a contest unless for the solid cash, and the chances are that this pair will hardly come together.

The Lion's Growl.

TANGIER, Jan. 12.—The Sultan has paid quick attention to the ultimatum sent him a few days ago by the British Government, demanding the arrest and punishment of the Moors who some time ago killed a British subject.

The three men who are accused of the crime were imprisoned yesterday and, upon conviction, their punishment will be speedy.

A Disturbance

Isn't what you want, if your stomach and bowels are irregular. That's about all you get, though, with the ordinary pill. It may relieve you for a moment, but you're usually in a worse state afterward than before.

This is just where Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do most good. They act in an easy and natural way, very different from the huge, old-fashioned pills. They're not only pleasanter, but there's no reaction afterward, and their help lasts. One little sugar-coated pellet for a gentle laxative or corrective—three for a cathartic. Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Dizziness, Sick and Bilious Headaches, are promptly relieved and cured.

They're the smallest, the easiest to take—and the cheapest pill you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.

You pay only for the good you get.

To invigorate both the body and the brain use the reliable tonic, Milburn's Aromatic Quinine Wine.

THE BIGGEST DAY IN 7 YEARS!

Saturday, December 3rd was the biggest day MR. J. J. SHEEHY has had in seven years. Why is this? Surely not because there is less competition. Certainly not because inducements are not being held out by others. Most assuredly not because prices of farm products are showing an upward tendency. Then why??

Simply because the purchasing public of the town and surrounding country have read Mr. Sheehy's advertisements, have inwardly digested them and have conclude that cheap sale or no cheap sale Mr. Sheehy is bound not to be undersold

We want every day in December to be a big day. How are we to accomplish this? Simply by offering to the public better value for the money than can be had elsewhere. Just cast your eye over the following quotations:—

All Wool Flannels, 26 in. wide,	17½	Good Linen Towels each	5½
9 lb. Wool Blankets,	$3.75	Grey Wool Blankets,	31c. a lb.
14 yds. Heavy Grey Canton Flannel,	$1.00	25 yards Factory Cotton,	$1.00

These few quotations will probably give an idea of what we are doing and a glance at our BARGAIN TABLE in the centre of our store will convince the most skeptical that when it comes to general bargains we certainly are very decidedly "in it."

WRINKLES, and hollow cheeks, and dull, sunken eyes, don't always mean that a woman's old. Half the time they only show that she's overworked or suffering. To such women, to every woman who is tired or afflicted, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription safely and certainly brings back health and strength. It's a legitimate medicine that corrects and cures; a tonic that invigorates and builds up; a nervine that soothes and strengthens. For all the derangements, irregularities and weaknesses peculiar to women, it is the only guaranteed remedy. If it doesn't benefit or cure, you have your money back.

A great many medicines "relieve" Catarrh in the Head. That means that it's driven from the head into the throat and lungs. But, by its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy perfectly and permanently cures.

Is What You'll Be If Gracefully Seated.

How much there is in being able to sit down gracefully! Some women go down all in a heap, and look as if they never could get up. Others go down as if in instalments, and when they are seated they look as if they had not all got there. Some seem to go down in sections, and badly put together sections at that. Then some women seem heavy in the chair, while others are just lightly poised. One woman is an uncomfortable heap, another is a graceful, restful looking series of curves. Some women sit down with no reference at all to the style of gown they are in, and they draw it tightly at the knees, or they show a lot of unintended stocking, or outline the hips awkwardly. I know women who just can't sit down without one's hearing something give somewhere. One can not give directions for sitting down. The motion should be easy, graceful and gentle. One should melt into the chair and simply be there with no apparent effort. One should make a picture of oneself, and yet seem quite unconscious of it. The figure should present only curves gracefully and lightly composed. There should be not only restfulness in the pose but a suggestion of equilibrium easily brought under control and therefore no suspicion that the whole thing has been an irrevocable slump. You are merely at rest for the moment. When you wish, you will rise as smoothly, as easily, as gracefully as a little while ago you sank into the chair. Study the pose here given. Note the graceful lines of the dress, the pose of the head, the disposal of the hands. Don't try to copy, but try to realize the trained grace of the woman who could make mere sitting down a lovely symphony like that.

A Cure for Dyspepsia.

In investigation the cause of this prevalent complaint it is found to rest principally in wrong action of the stomach and impurity of the blood. These exciting causes are easily removed by the regulating, purifying tonic and digestive effects of Burdock Blood Bitters, hence the success of B. B. The following returns as made by the Division Registrar gives the vital statistics for the past year: Births, 33; deaths, 12; marriages, 24.

There are quite a large number of cases of chicken pox reported among the younger members of the village and country.

At the evening meeting of the Farmers' Institute in the town hall last week several persons made an exhibit of themselves by loud talking and laughing, which annoyed both the audience and the speaker and drew forth a well merited rebuke from the latter. Pausing in his address he stated he wished to relate a story of an old darky who started on a journey on a mule that was affected with the spring halt. The farther he went on the worse became the jerk of the animal's leg, until finally it was lifted so high that the hoof was caught in the stirrup. Looking down at the assiduous member the old darkey observed, "If you want to come up I will get down." The story has an application, said the speaker. "If the persons who are making so much noise think the rest of the audience would prefer to hear them in place of me, they may come up to the platform and I will get down." The story and the laughter of the audience had a sedative effect for the balance of the evening.

The last meeting of the council of '92 was held in the town hall on Monday evening.

HAMILTON, April 20, 1892.

I was doctoring for years with physicians for a scaly and scurvy affliction of the scalp, they told me it was eczema, but gave me no permanent relief. I was also troubled with excessive dandruff, which would drop from my head like snow flakes. Hearing of Anti-Dandruff I used it, and from the third application felt more relieved than for years; when half the bottle was used the eczema and scaly eruptions disappeared and have not returned since; dandruff was thoroughly removed, the itching of the scalp stopped, and for an elegant, clean and useful hair-dressing Anti-Dandruff has no equal.

Best Cure For

All disorders of the Throat and Lungs is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has no equal as a cough-cure.

Bronchitis

"When I was a boy, I had a bronchial trouble of such a persistent and stubborn character, that the doctor pronounced it incurable with ordinary remedies, but recommended me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I did so, and one bottle cured me. For the last fifteen years, I have used this preparation with good effect whenever I take a bad cold, and I know of numbers of people who keep it in the house all the time, not considering it safe to be without it."—J. C. Woodson, P.M., Forest Hill, W. Va.

Cough

"For more than twenty-five years, I was a sufferer from lung trouble, attended with coughing so severe at times as to cause hemorrhage, the paroxysms frequently lasting three or four hours. I was induced to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and after taking four bottles, was thoroughly cured."—Franz Hoffman, Clay Centre, Kans.

La Grippe

"Last spring I was taken down with la grippe. At times I was completely prostrated, and so difficult was my breathing that my breast seemed as if confined in an iron cage. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and no sooner had I began taking it than relief followed. I could not believe that the effect would be so rapid and the cure so complete."—W. H. DAVID DOIG

TO BE OR NOT TO BE "IN IT."

A Life Agent called at a friend's place one day,
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had seen "the bore" coming and fled from his way
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had heard so much said, he was tired and sick
Of insurance and agents—'twas all a blank trick,
When one's coil must be shuffled to win it,
HE WASN'T IN IT.

A bit of a draft blew o'er his bald head,
HE WAS IN IT;
Pneumonia sent him straightway to his bed,
HE STAYED IN IT;
His doctor made of it a "quite special" case,
To save him for running still more of life's race,
But the grave took some chances to win it,
AND HE'S IN IT.

When approached by a gent for insuring your life,
GET RIGHT IN IT;
It's the right thing to do for your children and wife,
THEN STAY IN IT.
Remember that fires take your goods "out of sight,"
And that accidents happen each day and each night.
While insurance protects every minute,
IF YOU'RE IN IT.

A Bank Manager's Opinion.

HE IS "IN IT."

The General Manager of one of the leading banks in Canada, writing to a personal friend, says:—"I have no hesitation in saying that I place the CANADA LIFE upon the highest platform. It is in my opinion carefully, economically and honestly managed; its Reserve Funds are well invested; its rates of Premiums are low, and its future is, I think better assured than a great majority of Companies. I have my own life insured in the Company for a round amount, and would not hesitate to increase the amount of my policies should I decide upon taking out further insurance."

A Government Insurance Actuary's Opinion

On the Relation between Ordinary and Tontine Service.

It is frequently assertedby Companies whose business is nearly all tontined, that although the CANADA LIFE may and does pay large ordinary profits, yet it cannot compare so favourably on a long term distribution or tontine period, and that in the end better results can be obtained on a tontine policy in a large American Co. than on an ordinary or tontine policy in the CANADA LIFE. To prove the absurdity of this statement, the following piece of common sense is quoted from Mervin Tabor, late Actuary of the Illinois Goverment Insurance Department. In his well known book, "The Three Systems of Life Insurance," he says: "A company that gives large dividends on the ordinary kind of policies, can give much larger on the same kinds when Tontined, and a company that pays but meagre dividends on the usual forms, adopting perhaps the Tontine system to "cover up" its small surpluses, cannot be relied on for large returns of surplus under the Tontine Forms of Insurance."

The CANADA LIFE does not "cover up" its Quinquennial profits as some Companies do, but publishes them throughout the country.

It can and does surpass other Companies on Quinquennial profits. It should and will surpass them on Tontine profits.

WHY TO BE "IN IT."

BISHOP HAWKE'S REASON:—"I claim that Life Insurance is not only a humane, but I might say a Christian Institution."

LORD LYNDHURST'S REASON:—"A Policy of Life Insurance is always an evidence of prudent forethought. No man with a dependent family is free from reproach if not insured."

WHEN TO BE "IN IT."

The younger, the cheaper. Therefore insure when young. Besides by insuring in the CANADA LIFE now, you will share in three years' profits.

WHERE TO BE "IN IT."

The best place to be "in it" is in the Company that gives the best returns for the least money, consistent with absolute security. Therefore, in order to be "in it," choose the

NEW BAND INSTRUMENTS.

Beautiful Pieces Beautifully in Tune.

The new band instruments are, as stated yesterday, here, and have been put in hand, though of course owing to the shortness of time since their reception an opportunity has not been afforded for a thorough test. However the instruments are beauties to look at, of first class finish, and the appurtenances—cases, etc., are much better than expected. There are seventeen instruments in this consignment: five cornets—silver—two B flat clarinets, one E flat alto clarinet and one B flat bass clarinet with silver bells and mouthpieces; three brass alto horns, two B flat brass baritones, one B flat euphonium and two E flat brass bombardons (upright.) The clarinets, three of them, are of cocoa wood, and one of ebonite, (more expensive) guaranteed not to split or warp through extremes of heat or cold. Besides the above new instruments, the band had on hand good bass and snare drums, a good trombone, several clarinets and piccolos new last spring. All the new instruments are beautifully in tune and Bandmaster Miller will give subscribers to the fund an opportunity of hearing them to-morrow night. Any subscriber desiring to hear them is invited to be at the rooms to-morrow night. It is proposed also to give a special concert to subscribers at as early a date as possible.

POLICE COURT.

THURSDAY, January 12th.

At the police court this morning Edward Minnicola, an Italian youth, claimed from W. C. Kirk, tea blender, the sum of $8.50 wages under the Master and Servants Act. Young Minnicola said the defendant had made an agreement with his father and elder brother that he (witness) was to get a dollar a day for taking orders for tea, coffee, spices, etc., for Mr. Kirk; and that he worked eight and a half days taking orders during the Xmas holidays. Defendant refused to pay him the wages claimed but only offered him 76 cts. Mr. Kirk in his evidence stated the defendant's father must have misunderstood him. He hired the boy on commission, as he did all his men and told the parent if the boy worked hard enough he could earn a dollar a day. The boy's whole orders only totalled $5.15. His commission would be 76 cts on an order of this amount. The magistrate gave judgment in favour of the plaintiff for 76 cts, without costs.

Rev. Mr. Williams Heartily Endorses Hood's Sarsaparilla.

We are pleased to present this from Rev. A. A. Williams, of the Sillsbee street Christian Church, Lynn, Mass.:

"I see no reason why a clergyman, more than a layman, who knows whereof he speaks, should hesitate to approve an

Article of Merit

and worth, from which he or his family have been signally benefited, and whose commendation may serve to extend those benefits to others by increasing their confidence. My wife has for many years been a sufferer from severe for which she found little help. She has tried many things that promised well but performed little. Last fall a friend gave her a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It seems surprising what simply one bottle could and did do for her. The attacks of headache decreased in number and were less violent in their intensity, while her general health has been improved. Her appetite has also been better. From our experience with

Nervous Headache

Hood's Sarsaparilla

I have no hesitation in endorsing its merits."

PETERBOROUGH WORKINGMEN'S BUILDING AND SAVINGS SOCIETY.

The Fourth Annual Meeting Held Last Night—The Annual Statement Presented—A Satisfactory Standing—Officers Elected.

The fourth annual meeting of the above society was held in the office of Jas. Stevenson, Esq., M.P., last evening, the President, T. Cahill, Esq., in the chair.

In presenting the annual statement of the affairs of the society, the President reviewed its progress for the past four years and pointed out that from a small beginning the society had so prospered that its present shareholders comprised many of the prominent merchants, bankers and professional men of the town. When he assumed the office of President four years ago it was with the determination that the interests of the shareholders should be his first consideration; that the society should be conducted on sound business principles, and that all unnecessary expense should be avoided so that the whole earning power of the society would enure to the benefit of the shareholders and that if occasion should arise, he would strongly oppose any motion that would not be in accord with those views. He was happy to state that no such occasion had arisen or was likely to arise and to inform the shareholders that during the past four years the society had not lost a single cent, that all the investments made had been judicious, the properties having been carefully valued by able, experienced and disinterested valuators, who were themselves shareholders in the society, before any money had been advanced on loans. He congratulated the shareholders on the present statement showing that the profits had steadily risen from five per cent. at the close of the first year to seven and one-third per cent. the present year, and this rate of interest extended to all the moneys that had been paid in by the present shareholders since the commencement of the society. In conclusion he stated that he did not seek re-election and would be glad if the shareholders would elect another to fill the office of President.

The following is the annual statement referred to:

The officers for the ensuing year were then elected, all the retiring officers being re-elected, and E. H. D. Hall, Esq., being appointed in the place of one of the directors who had resigned during last year. The officers for the year 1893 are:—

President—Thos. Cahill.
Vice-President—John Lynch.
Treasurer—Wm. Rudkins.
Secretary—P. Henry.
Solicitor—C. J. Leonard.
Auditors—R. S. Davidson and John Corkery.

Directors—Jas. Stevenson, M.P., J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., R. Stevenson, J. P. Hurley, R. S. Davidson, J.J. Lynch, T. B. McGrath, John Corkery, F. Fairen, A. Gough, E. H. D. Hall, and W. C. Springer.

A vote of thanks was then moved to Mr. Stevenson for his kindness in giving his office for the use of the society and to the auditors, officers and directors for their faithful and efficient services during the past year.

In seconding the vote of thanks Mr. E. H. D. Hall said that it gave him a great deal of pleasure to second the motion, as in his opinion the interests of the society must have been well and carefully looked after to enable the officers to present such a statement as they did to-night, showing that the investments had been judicious inasmuch as there had been no loss. Before he became a shareholder or invested any money in the society he had looked carefully into its affairs and enquired who were the officers, and it was principally owing to the fact that the society had such men at its head, good careful level-headed men, just such as he would have chosen himself, that he was induced to become a shareholder.

The motion was then carried, and the vote of thanks tendered and suitably acknowledged.

The meeting then adjourned.

CANADA MUST BE INDEPENDENT.

So the Lindsay Orators Proved Last Night in Debate.

This was the decision arrived at in the debate at the rooms of the Peterborough Catholic Association last night, when the oratorical champions of Lindsay crossed swords with the champions of Peterborough. The occasion was the "return match" between the Catholic Literary Association of Lindsay and the Catholic Association of Peterborough. The debate was on the subject:

Resolved that Independence for Canada is preferable to annexation to the United States

At the Lindsay debate the decision was in favour of the annexation phase of the hypothesis, and last night the opposite was decided so, that we must for the present endure the status quo.

Last night the rooms of the Catholic Association were nicely decorated for the occasion; with Union Jacks, in deference to our present political relations, and with the "Stars and Stripes" in deference to the negative side of the debate, while out of respect for the visitors, a streamer adorned the wall over the chairman's place,—"Peterborough Welcomes Lindsay." There was not a very large attendance, the audience containing, however, a considerable number of young persons from Scugog City. Mr. George Leonard occupied the chair and in his opening remarks said that, while the Catholic Association of Peterborough did not favour either aspect of the subject, it was so generally discussed in the press and on the platform that it formed a legitimate theme for consideration, and in due course he introduced the speakers, Messrs Smith and Kenny, on behalf of Lindsay, and "Independence," and Dr. Brennan and Mr. Brick on behalf of Peterborough and "Annexation."

Mr. Smith began the debate in a lengthy and pointed speech, bristling with argument. He was followed by Mr. Brick, whose argumentative address was well ballasted with figures, mathematically demonstrating the beauties and benefits of Annexation Mr. Kenny, of Lindsay, a young but brilliant debater, followed. It was generally conceded that for eloquent periods, not lacking in argument either, he made the speech of the evening. He was warmly complimented and is not undeserving of the title of the "Laurier of Lindsay." Dr. Brennen succeeded him and spoke in his usual fluent vein. Though he does not claim to be a professional orator he treated the situation professionally. He probed the subject to the bottom, dissected the arguments of his opponents and oratorically amputated the bond that unites Canada to the body of the Empire. After Mr. Kenny's ten-minutes closing address the chairman summed up the arguments and delivered judgment in favour of the affirmative—Independence.

At the close of the debate Dr. Brennan announced that it was the intention of the Catholic Association to hold a series of debates amongst it members on Friday evenings, to which the public are invited. It is probable that the first debate will take place on Friday evening, Jan. 20th, and that the subject will be the relative merits of Napoleon and Wellington as statesmen and generals.

CRISP CURLING CHRONIQUES

What is Going on at the Rink Where Curlers Most do Congregate.

In the last of the 13 point games Mr. A. W. Strickland was pitted against Mr. W. E. Conway. The latter not coming to play, owing to indisposition, the game goes to Mr. Strickland by default.

A trio from the Bank of Montreal would like to play a trio from the Ontario Bank a curling match.

The long talked of and long thought of match between the grocers and hardware firm occurred at the skating rink last night and was witnessed by an interested crowd of spectators. The hardware men had a comparatively easy victory for at the first go-off they secured a two and a three. This put them on their pins and inspired them on to victory. Nevertheless the coffee dealers played a plucky game and at the close of fourteen ends had to yield to the inevitable. A return match may be played soon. The ice was simply "out of sight." Following are the scores:—

Grocers.		Hardware.
P Connal,	R B McKee,
A E Thompson,	W Hall,
J H Connal,	Thos Connal
W G Ferguson, skip	12	R S Davidson, skip 16

The houses represented in the contest were Messrs. Peter Connal & Co. and McKee and Davidson. The thirteen point game is the game which the curlers play in the afternoon. The results so far are: D. W. Dumble downed W. D. Parker, the latter being allowed a handicap of 3, by a score of 14 to 8. W. R. Billett vanquished J. S. Knapman by a majority of 10 points, 13 to 3. W. J. Montgomery subdued Geo. A. Schofield in a score of 13 to 10, the latter being allowed 2 points handicap.

W. G. Morrow succumbed to C. J. Leonard by a score of 8 to 13 points.

An interesting "make up" match occurred at the rink last night, and evoked considerable interest between Skips G. Sawers and John McKee. Sixteen ends were played. Following is the result:

W G Morrow,		J C Smith,
W H Robertson,		T E Beddy,
G Sawers, sk	12	E Rutherford, J McKee, sk	10

The Lakefield curlers may possibly play the return match here to-morrow afternoon.

A scratch match occurred at the rink again last night between rinks skipped by S. Ray and T. Rutherford. The former was again successful by 2 points.

The Ontario Bank clerks want to play the Bank of Montreal, or any other monetary institution in town, a curling match.

For that tired worn-out feeling and lack of ambition that so many women complain of, try Dr. Butler's Golden Pills. They act like magic. One box a cure.

Dehorning.

The accompanying illustration shows clearly the Leavitt shears for dehorning cattle. It is universally accepted that it is best, both for utility and safety that castration should be produced. We simply claim the same as to dehorning. As to its cruelty, we have by experience proved to our satisfaction that the ill effects are not so great as in castration. For benefit of others I will say that we have seen all the kinds of horns taken off, from those of calves eight months old to those of cows that need cobs on the ends of the horns for the wrinkles to grow out upon, and we never saw one crushed in using it, but a clean smooth cut was made.—Country Gentleman.

DEHORNING CLIPPER.

Which 100 Pounds Cost Most.

But when it comes to making a hog do its best from birth to market, it is an easy matter to know whether the first or last 100 pounds cost the most. Of course, the cost of feed consumed has an important part to play in the matter, but the most important fact for the farmer to know in this connection is the period of the hog's life that it will assimilate the most food and give the greatest gain for amount consumed. In the general practice of hog-growing, the farmer is apt to arrive at an incorrect as a correct one. Careful weighing of the pig at different ages, and also weighing feed consumed is the only way to arrive at facts relating to this matter. Now the general farmer is not an expert at this kind of work. It requires a painstaking that he does not care to undertake; hence he lets it go and jumps at conclusions.

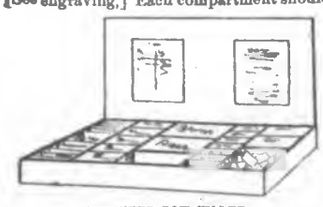
Trained experimenters must do this work, and wherever undertaken they show that when a pig is kept doing its best on proper food, it makes the first 100 lbs. the cheapest, and the second 100 lbs. cheaper than the third. Prof. Henry demonstrated that pork could be made cheaper through a high-fed dam, than after weaning.—Ohio Farmer.

A SEED BOX.

Why You Should Have a Well-Ordered One—An Example.

Every person, says Webb Donnell, in American Agriculturist, who cultivates a garden ought to very largely raise and improve his own seeds, and he ought to have a place where these seeds can be kept in safety, out of reach of mice and moisture, and where they can be kept in orderly manner, with each variety where one can put his hand on it at a moment's notice. One method is to tie seeds up in brown paper packages and then heap them promiscuously into a tin pan and put them on an upper shelf. Such a plan is eminently satisfactory to mice, but can hardly be considered satisfactory to the gardener.

An improvement in seed storing is a covered box to hold the packages of seeds until they are wanted, but here all the seeds have to be handled over and over, before one finds the package he desires. A covered box with well-arranged compartments will save seeds, patience and time. [See engraving.] Each compartment should be for envelopes of a uniform size, properly labeled and containing small seeds. Another compartment cantains smoothly fitting pasteboard boxes of uniform size, which can be obtained empty at dry goods stores. One can get a supply and make his compartments to accomodate the boxes. Larger compartments are for larger paste board or wooden boxes to hold bulky seeds, such as peas and beans. Compartments can be placed in the seed boxes to accomodate different varieties of peas or beans, if desired. Light wooden boxes of uniform size, and having sliding covers, can be had at grocery stores, and if too high for the seed box, they can have the lower part cut off, and the bottom piece put on again. A space is left in one corner for extra envelopes, twine, a lead pencil, thin strips of wood for using in marking seed rows, the name of the variety having been written on it, and other desired articles. On the inside of the cover are tacked some sheets of paper on which to make memoranda of anything one may desire to remember regarding the seeds in the box.



THE SEED BOX FILLED.

THE CANAL SCANDAL

Report of the Parliamentary Panama Committee Presented.

PARIS, Jan. 11.—The reports of the Parliamentary Panama Committee of 1888 and 1888 have been presented before the commission of enquiry. They show that President Carnot refused to support the Lottery Bill, and that M. Sarrien also disclaimed all responsibility in the matter. M. De Freycinet admitted that the money asked for would not finish the canal, and when reproached by a fellow-committeeman with being frightened by the responsibility which the Government would incur, explained that the Government granted merely facultative permission, without assuming any guarantee. M. Baihut, who introduced the bill in the Chamber, expressed the opinion that the Government had become involved in the matter through sending M. Rousseau to the Isthmus. He believed that the canal could be completed, and he thought it would be most reprehensible to thwart a plan so far advanced.

The indictment against Gustave Eiffel states that he secured 90,000,000 francs of Panama Canal money. Heretofore it was supposed he had obtained but 62,000,000 francs. It is now regarded as improbable that M. Baihut will be tried by the Senate. The Senate undoubtedly will vote in favor of his being taken before a criminal court. The absurdity of his being judged by a body containing men interested in Eiffel's contract work is too apparent to be seriously contemplated by anybody. The fact that President Carnot signed his name to the Lottery bill will not help Baihut, although he and his friends have counted upon his finding some exculpation in it.

The Parliamentary commission of enquiry has discovered a break in sequence of the canal company's check stubs. More than 250 stubs are missing, and in every case a large sum was involved. One of the checks in question was for 100,000 francs; others for sums between 40,000 and 70,000. If the stubs of these checks are found Felix Cottu and Marius Fontaine, as directors of the canal company, will be liable to imprisonment for three years each. They are suspected of having destroyed the stubs so as to protect their reactionist friends.

Rev. Sylvanus Lane,

Of the Cincinnati M. E. Conference, makes a good point when he says: "We have for years used Hood's Sarsaparilla in our family of five, and find it fully equal to all that is claimed for it. Some people are greatly prejuiced against patent medicines, but how the patent can hurt a medicine and not a machine is a mystery of mysteries to me."

WAYS OF DRAINING.

REASONS WHY THE LAND REQUIRES DRAINING.

Prof. Maldon on the Treatment of Different Soils—How to Obtain Thorough Under-Drainage—General Principles of Drainage—Points to be Observed.

The kind of drainage for any particular land depends entirely on its natural consistency, and also on the nature of the subsoil. If the soil and subsoil are both free and open, it is not necessary to have the drains very close together, as water will flow out freely if the pipes are laid a considerable distance apart. If the soil is stiff clay, resting on an impervious subsoil, it is necessary to place them closer together. In all land which drains freely the water does not fall into tile from above, but rises up from below, entering the bottom. This is because there is in most land a level, below which all the spaces between the particles of soil are filled in with water, and this top, of which is known as the level of supersaturation says Prof. J. Maldon in Tillage; and it is this which must be kept from rising near to the surface. Above this level of supersaturation there may be an excess of moisture, which is held by capillary attraction, but the amount diminishes as it nears the surface. It is necessary to keep the level of supersaturation far enough from the surface to allow room for roots of plants to grow without having to come in contact with it. As the water is held up by capillarity, that which is far above the drains does not sink so quickly as that near to them; so, to make the drainage complete and rapid in its action, the drains should be laid lower than would be otherwise desired to keep the water level. To obtain thorough underdrainage the tiles must be laid at considerable depth. There is one point very commonly missed by those who follow drainage by theoretical teachings, which practice refutes, and it occurs when dealing with some classes of very heavy land. Any soil with a subsoil which is at all porous may be benefitted by deep under-drainage, but there are subsoils so impervious that water does not sink into them, as may be proved by digging a deep trench and leaving it open, when it will be seen that little water finds its way in; and as this is the case, it is obviously useless to open up frequent channels to become the graves of tile through which no water passes. It would be no less foolish to drain thin soils resting on rocks by means of tiles four feet deep. But there is no land which suffers more from the effects of water, for, beyond evaporation, there is no outlet, unless it is conducted away by shallow channels, and the forms that these channels can most conveniently take are water gutters and shallow drains. It must not be forgotten that the general principles of drainage do not apply, and are not intended to apply to relieving the undrainable clays which are under consideration. The water must be got off the surface, and for this reason the land is laid up in ridge and furrows; so that the water can run into the mould-furrows, and on into the water gutters. The common signs of wetness are: Water standing on the land after rain; difficult working of the land as compared with the surrounding soil which is properly drained; poor crops when it is known that the land is otherwise in good condition; yellowness of the crops, especially in Spring; presence on grass land of rushes, sedges, water-grasses, hassock-grass, and other weeds and of willow weed, coltsfoot, etc., on arable land; frequent presence of insect-eating birds, such as plovers. Some very important practical points to bear in mind are: That tiles ought to be carted in slack times but on heavy land injury is done by hauling when it is wet; therefore take advantage of cold weather; discard all bad tiles; the fall must not be less than 1 foot in 220; place main drains three inches lower than the furrow drains; turn the outlets slightly down-stream and brick-face them, with a grating over the mouth to prevent rats entering; see that ditches are cleaned out properly; the top furrow may be plowed out; make drains nearly straight, and only wide enough to allow men working room; springs must be drained a few inches lower than the rest of the field; in large systems provide main drains with settling tanks; work from the outlets, laying the main drains first; do the work by the piece; allow no filling-up until engineer or yourself sees the tiles properly laid; fill in the drains carefully at first, so as not to dislodge the tiles; avoid accumulation of sediment; the side drains should never enter central main ones opposite each other; avoid hedge rows and trees where possible; have a plan of the farm, with every outlet marked, so that if they are lost sight of they may be found again.

W. H. Hogaboom, Osgoode Station, Ont. writes:—"It is with pleasure that I add my testimony to the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My wife was run down and weak, and has been so for six years. I decided to get Pink Pills and must say they have given great satisfaction. My wife is able to go to church now for the first time in two years." The best cure we know of for Constipation and Headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs and is made for use by pouring boiling water on to the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders and is now the sovereign remedy with ladies for clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the packages at 50c. and $1

Three Practical Points.
Three practical points: 1st. Burdock Blood Bitters cures dyspepsia by acting promptly on the stomach, liver and bowels. 2nd. Burdock Blood Bitters cures bad blood by the same specific action combined with its alterative and purifying powers. 3rd, Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases arising from the two first named, such as constipation, headache, biliousness, dizziness, scrofula, etc., by removing their cause as shown and proved in thousands of indisputably recorded cases.

FRENCH MINISTRY RESIGNS.

A New Chapter Will Now Be Given to the Canal Scandal.

PARIS, Jan. 11.—The French Ministry has resigned owing to differences in the Cabinet on the arrest of ex-Minister of Public Works Baihaut and other matters.

President Carnot has charged M. Ribot with the duty of reconstructing the Ministry.

It is openly charged that the President and M. Ribot are not in earnest in the Panama prosecutions, and that they have no intention of bringing the bribe takers to trial, and that the prosecution of De Lesseps, Fontaine, Cotton and Eiffel will be nothing more to postpone the exposure of certain guilty parties until the law of prescription will have taken effect.

Although the resignation of the ministry caused widespread excitement, there was no attempt to create disorder. The order that is prevailing throughout the city is due to the fact that the lawless element well knows that any disturbance will be put down with a strong hand by the military.

The recess of the Chamber of Deputies ended to-day and the House resumed its sittings. There was a large attendance of members and the galleries were crowded, interest being centered on the election of a new President of the Chamber.

The Chamber was called to order by M. Pierre Blanc, member for Savoie and Doyen of the House.

The name of M. Floquet as a candidate for re-election to the presidency of the Chamber was presented. This evoked a somewhat unexpected and vehement opposition, and in the course of the speeches made against M. Floquet particular stress was laid upon his own admission that he had used some of the funds of the Panama Company, not for his personal benefit, but for his campaign against the Boulangists and to secure the election of a Republican Chamber in 1889.

The vote that usually follows the presentation of a candidate's name did not take place, though M. La Martiniere demanded that it be taken by roll call and by ballot.

M. Floquet, seeing that the members of the right were determined to oppose his re-election by every means in their power and knowing that without their support he could not secure a majority, he withdrew his candidacy. The Republican group then nominated M. Casimir Perier for the office. A vote by the usual method was taken and he was elected by a majority of 155, the vote standing 408 for him and 253 against him. During the proceedings in the Chamber a group of 13 men, who proclaimed themselves Anarchists, gathered in front of the building. They were ordered to move on by the police, but refused to do so. They were thereupon placed under arrest.

The new Cabinet organized by M. Ribot is as follows: M. Ribot, Prime and Minister of the Interior; M. Develle, Foreign Affairs; M. Tirard, Finance; M. Bourgeois, Justice; Gen. Loizillon, War; M. Burdeau, Colonies and Marine; M. Dupuy, Instruction; M. Viger, Agriculture; M. Siegfried, Commerce; M. Viette, Works.

DISASTER AT SEA.

The Captain and Two Sailors Lost Overboard.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The British bark Navarch was abandoned at sea while on a voyage from Philadelphia for Dunkirk. Part of her crew, who were taken off by a passing vessel, have arrived at Havre.

Capt. Hilton, master of the Navarch, died at sea. The first officer of the bark and two seamen were lost overboard before assistance reached the distressed vessel.

The Pope's Successor.

ROME, Jan. 10.—A sensation has been caused here by the letter of Pope Leo to the people of Bologne in which the pontiff states that in nominating Cardinal Serafino Vannutelli to the Archbishop of Bologne he had obeyed the divine inspiration. The unusual declaration on the part of the Pope is regarded as tantamount to designating Cardinal Vannutelli as his successor in the pontificate. The Pope is also reported to have remarked, "Vannutelli goes to Bologne a cardinal and will return a pope."

Miners In Session.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Eighty-four delegates, representing the 270,000 miners who are members of the Miners' Federation, met in session at Birmingham yesterday. They are discussing the question of eight hours and of employers' liability for accident.

AN OSWEGO JAILER.

Slashed With a Knife by a Big, Burly Prisoner.

OSWEGO, N.Y., Jan. 12.—Last night while the prisoners at the county jail were eating their supper in the jail corridor they induced William Wright, the turnkey, to enter the apartment on some pretext, and as he closed the door a big, burly prisoner named Michael Hennessy assaulted him with a knife.

A large gash was cut in the back of his head. Hennessy then knocked him down, and with two other prisoners, Walter Butler and W. B. Rhohr, pounded and kicked him until he became insensible. They quickly took away his keys and, making their way to the yard, scaled the fence and fled.

An alarm was sent to the city police and Hennessy and Butler were recaptured after a search of several hours. Hennessy resisted arrest and was severely clubbed by the officers. After they got him inside the jail he assaulted Officer Reid and got another clubbing. Wright, the turnkey, is in a serious condition.

A RECIPROCITY DEAL.

CARACAS, Venezuela, Jan. 12.—American residents are excited over events which occurred in connection with the New Year's ball, which General Crespo gave at Casa, Amarilla. It was a grand affair, and was attended by 2000 persons.

United States Consul Hanna, at La Guayerra, was the only representative of a foreign Government not invited. Commander A. S. Crowninshield of the United States cruiser Kearsarge, upon learning of the slight to Consul Hanna, took the Kearsarge away from La Guayerra, so that none of the officers invited could attend Gen. Crespo's ball.

A Dust Explosion.

DENVER, Col., Jan. 12.—Particulars of one of the worst mining accidents in this state have been received. The Union Pacific own and operate coal mines at King, four miles from Como, where they employed 200 miners. Yesterday afternoon a premature explosion occurred in one of the chambers where 28 miners were at work. A terrific explosion occurred, or as the miners call it, "a dust explosion."

The shock killed 27 of the men, only one escaping, he being nearly at the entrance. The bodies were not recovered until midnight, and on account of their blackened condition only 11 of the 27 are recognizable.

A Convict Riot.

LARAMIE, Wyo., Jan. 12.—There was a riot in the Wyoming State Penitentiary last night. Six desperate characters were being taken to their cell rooms when Tom Madden, a seven-year man, attacked Warden Briggs. The rest of the convicts joined in the assault and badly beat the warden. Two jail guards came to the warden's relief with Winchesters. They opened fire on the convicts, mortally wounding Madden and shooting another convict named Alcher in the leg. The four remaining convicts returned to their cells subdued.

An Interesting Indiscretion.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The Times' despatch from Berlin says: "The Hamberger Nachrectaten, on denying that Moltke and Bismarck quarrelled over Belfort, commits the interesting indiscretion of admitting that Moltke was so convinced of the strength of the forts on Germany's western frontier that he considered it feasible, in the event of a double attack from France and Russia, to remain on the defensive against France until Russia had been crushed by a vigorous offensive."

PLATFORM OF LIBERALS

STATED BY HON. WILFRID LAURIER AND COLLEAGUES.

Repudiation of Annexation and of Imperial Federation — Free Trade and Independence for Canada — What Liberal Members Said.

TORONTO, Jan. 13.—The Rossin House last night was a scene of great enthusiasm on the occasion of the ninth annual banquet of the Young Men's Liberal Club. Above 300 guests partook of the recherche fare provided by mine host. After the repast the proceedings were graced with the presence of many ladies and agreeably varied by vocal and instrumental music.

Mr. J. A. Macintosh, president of the club, presided. He was supported at the chief table by Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, Mayor Fleming, J. D. Edgar, M.P., James Conmee, M.L.A., William Mulock, M.P., R. Armstrong, President Y.M.L.C.A.; Sir Oliver Mowat, Hon. R. Harcourt, Hon. S. C. Biggs, Winnipeg; Robert Jaffray, George A. Cox, Joseph Tait, M.L.A. Of ex-presidents there were present: Frank Yeigh, Neil McCrimmon, J. S. Willison, H. H. Dewart, J. M. Clark, W. D. Gregory. Other prominent Liberals were: Hugh Miller, Alexander Wheeler, J. H. Coyne, St. Thomas; N. Awrey, M.L.A., Jas. Sutherland, M.P., Ex-Ald. Hill, J. McCabe and a large representation of the trades and professions of the city.

The health of the Queen having been enthusiastically drunk, Mr. C. N. Smith, first vice-president, proposed "Canada." He acquitted himself admirably and did full justice to the toast.

Mr. W. A. Lewis, in responding, said that nowadays when a possible change of status for Canada was being discussed, Canadians should speak out their loyal sentiments with no uncertain sound. Having referred to Canada's wonderful resources, both mineral and agricultural, and urged that the most should be made of them, the speaker launched into a plea for independence. En passant he paid generous tributes to the work of the late Hon. Alexander Mackenzie and to the missionary work which Hon. Edward Blake is doing in England, "who sought Canadian brains to solve an Imperial question." Mr. Lewis' peroration was an anticipation of the time when "the restrictionists" should be hurled from power, to be succeeded by a government which would not drive population from Canada.

"The Liberal Party" was proposed by Mr. Frank Pedley, who said that the badge of history was bright with the achievements of the Liberal party. First and foremost among Liberal leaders was Alfred "the Grit," and among moderns was William Ewart Gladstone. Coupled with the toast were the names of James Sutherland, M.P., John McMillan, M.P., William Mulock, M.P., J. D. Edgar, M.P., Sir Oliver Mowat, Hon. Wilfrid Laurier.

Mr. James Sutherland was the first speaker. He said it was his duty, as whip, to make others do the speaking and, therefore, he did not propose going beyond his duty. He was pleased to know that the Young Liberal Club was prospering and was proud to know that it had done and was doing good work for the party. He paid a tribute to Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, whom to know was not only to respect but love. "Canada first, Canada last and Canada always," was his closing sentence uttered amid much applause.

Mr. John McMillan thanked them on behalf of himself and the farmers whom he represented for coupling his name with the toast. He hoped that Hon. Mr. Laurier would stand at the head of the Liberal party until the shackles had been removed from the agricultural interests.

Mr. William Mulock was received with loud applause when he arose to speak. He said we in Canada boasted of having obtained representative institutions. It was true we had them on paper, but have we them in the fullest sense of the word. When we find that a small minority has been enabled to capture the agricultural majority, truly there is work to be done by the Liberal party. We find commerce shackled and Canada being sidetracked, we find work in store for the Liberal party. [Applause.] And if our country is so full of promise, as I believe it to be—and I believe that there is a future for this country—with such a cause as we have and such a leader as we have, the Liberal party is destined to be of vast service to this Dominion. [Applause.] I think I can lift up the veil and anticipate almost with certainty that the Liberal party will at a very early date be called upon to discharge the duties they are destined for. [Cheers.] Before long the country will awaken to a true sense of its position, and Mr. Laurier will then have a majority of the people at his back. Then will every man have a full reward for his labor. [Loud applause.]

Mr. J. D. Edgar followed. He said that in the two leaders present were embodied "all that is best" in the Liberal party in Canada. They are our ideal Liberal leaders, both of them. [Applause.] One has shown us how to lead a great Opposition, and although he has had brilliant predecessors in that work, none have been more brilliant or more beloved by his followers than Hon. Wilfrid Laurier. [Loud applause.]

He touched a popular key when he referred to Sir Oliver Mowat as the man who had steadily held power for 20 years. "Why, 20 years for any party to be in power is a severe test, and the Liberal party has stood this test in Ontario." [Cheers.]

"I think we have the popular approval of the Provincial Liberal party at any rate, and I have very little to despair of the future of the Liberal party of the Dominion. I think the assaults we have made during the last 13 years on the citadel of the National Policy are beginning to tell. The breaches are getting wider. Take this city of Toronto, which can by no means be called a Grit hive, and look at your daily press. There are seven daily newspapers in Toronto reflecting, fairly well, I think, the sentiments of the people. And out of these seven journals there are only two which support the N.P. in their columns to-day. [Hear, hear.] And, Mr. Mayor, it is a curious coincidence that it was only these two dailies that supported your opponent, Mr. Sheppard. [Laughter and cheers.] Why, these two papers have become so frantic because of the dangers that are threatening their much-beloved N.P. that one is disciplining Mr. McCarthy while the other is taking Mr. Cockburn to task." [Laughter.]

Referring to the destiny of the Dominion he said, in Canada we have some men who tell us we should hasten to change our colonial position and become in fact, what we are already in name, a part of the Empire; share its burdens and its responsibilities and partake of its glories. Others were telling us that we should change our colonial position in order that we may become part of the United States.

Voice: Never! Never!

Mr. Edgar: You will observe that both [illegible] recognize the fact that the colonial status is not satisfactory, and that it is at most but a temporary and transitionary condition. [Hear, hear.] I don't think that the colonial position is a very flattering one. Still, we must remember that Canada is to-day ruled by Canadians. [Applause.] I would like to know why we should not be satisfied to be Canadians. Why should we seek to be dissolved in the imperial soup or crushed in the Yankee cider mill? [Laughter.] As a public man I have no desire to assist Downing-street to govern the Burmese or the Hottentots—[renewed laughter]—and I don't want to assist the Washington Congress to solve their problem of negro population in the South.

Canadian Liberals have fought hard to introduce English Liberal principles into this country, and we are now burnishing our weapons, and I hope the time is not far distant for us to introduce these principles into this country. [Loud applause.]

Sir Oliver Mowat was loudly cheered when he arose to speak. He said the achievements of the Liberal party in the past had been very great, and it was the knowledge of these achievements—the knowledge of what Liberals had done, what struggles they had engaged in, and their success—that made him in the first instance a member of the Liberal party.

"My early home was Conservative, but a home in which the obligations of religion and moral duties were regarded as supreme. [Loud applause.] The town in which I spent my earliest manhood was Conservative. My associates were Conservative. My leaders were Conservative. I had, therefore, a good deal to overcome in order to become a Liberal.

"My earliest recollections had taught me the lesson that I was not to take on trust the opinions of others on any subject on which I was capable of thinking for myself. [Applause.] Early I applied that principle to political matters. And what I studied regarding Canada brought me to the conclusion that in all past issues upon which Liberals had agreed Liberals were in the right and their opponents in the wrong. And thus I perceived they were right in reference to Downing-street interfering in local affairs. Now, no one suggests that Downing-street rule would be tolerable to us.

They were right also in demanding that municipal institutions should be given to the whole Province of Ontario, notwithstanding the objection that these institutions would make us mere republics. They were right in their demand that in this country, divided as its population was, there should be no established church and that the clergy or laity of no one church should have privileges that the other did not enjoy. And in regard to these and other questions the Liberal party had not struggled in vain. All those measures that they contended for are in accordance with their conviction, and although not always carried by the Liberal party, they were by a Conservative party that had adopted Liberal principles. [Hear, hear.]

Canadian Liberalism means what it always did. Canadian Liberalism does not now and has never meant annexation, nor does it mean anarchy or Socialism? Canadian Liberalism has always meant and still means economical government, pure administration and free trade with all the world—[tremendous applause]—as far as the necessities of revenue will permit and compatible with the interests of all classes of Canadians. [Renewed applause.] The spirit of Liberalism is the same in the old land as in the new. It is the spirit that animated Pitt, Burke, Bright, and which now animates the great and glorious Gladstone—[applause]—and his supporters, English, Irish and Scotch, God bless them! It is the spirit which animated Baldwin, Dorion, Brown, Alexander Mackenzie, and which animates our honored leader in Dominion affairs. [Tremendous applause].

Dealing with the future of the country and the various destinies proposed, he said that no one had yet suggested a workable scheme of Imperial Federation. "Some have come to the conclusion that annexation is the proper thing. [Applause.] I don't think that many have taken that view. I don't share it." [Tremendous applause.]

Others look forward to Canada some day becoming a separate and individual nation. [Loud applause.] There is no desire in regard to our future stronger in the hearts of Canadians than that desire, and I apprehend that it is the possible destiny of this country unless we allow ourselves to be absorbed by the United States.

Voice: Never! [Applause.]

Sir Oliver: I don't think we ever shall. The time has not come for entering upon that condition. We need preparing for it. And so grand an object is worth all the care and all the thoughtfulness possible. We should add something to our strength; we should add something to our population. [Laughter and cheers.]

The independence that we want, the independence that is safe for us, is the one that may grow out of British connection, that shall not be the result of a quarrel or irritation. The independence that shall be given to us as confederation was given to us—by our own request, and as the Northwest Territory was given to us, unconditionally.

And I now call upon you Liberals all to stand by this grand Canada of ours; that you will remain Canadians forever—[hear, hear]—that Canada shall always be Canadian. As a Canadian I hope our motto shall be 'No Surrender.' I hope that our aim and determination shall be Canada for the Canadians, for Canadians by birth, for Canadians by adoption, and for all persons whatever their origin who settle amongst us, as good citizens keeping our institutions and remaining faithful to our autonomy.

Warm was the applause that was meted out to the hon. gentleman as he took his seat.

Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, who was greeted with loud cheering, said:

I have every reason to be proud of the reception given me by the Liberals of Ontario. It has been above my deserts. I shall endeavor to discharge my duties in the light of the brilliant examples of Liberals of this and former generations, whose names have been rehearsed to us to-night.

Of all the signs which I have found in Ontario which make me return with gratitude and hope unbounded the greatest is that the young men, both Liberal and Conservative, are agreed to do their best for their native country as their ancestors have done. [Applause.]

It is a most hopeful sign to see young men determined to do their best for this country, which, spite of all said to the contrary, is a suffering country.

A week ago the Ministers of the Crown piled up statistics in the vain endeavor to convince the people of this country that they are happy and prosperous. O, what a delusion! What an insult to common sense! [Applause.] To tell us that this country is prosperous when out of five millions of population one-fifth of our countrymen have left our country! To tell us that this country is prosperous in such a state of things—when Canada can give shelter and food and happy homes to one hundred millions and cannot keep within its bounds a paltry five millions! It is, I repeat, a shame, an insolence to common sense; it is trash to tell us this!

I do not like to use strong words, but we have a duty to perform to our country and must protest. In the presence of facts like these we are told we are prosperous and have nothing to do but to fold our arms and see what Providence will do for us. The men who say this are not deserving the confidence of the people of Canada. [Applause.]

The time has come when the people of Canada should never cease their efforts till we have such a state of affairs that every child born in Canada shall remain here as a citizen. Till we have attained this result there must be no peace for the Liberals of Canada, but constant warfare. This must be our duty in season and out of season.

After stating that he would not repeat his Hamilton speech, the honorable gentleman said he believed there was a remedy: Decreased taxation and increased markets. [Applause.]

We must have greater freedom of trade, such as is known in England. [Renewed applause.] Of course in our present condition it is not possible to have free trade such as exists in England; but we must remember that free trade was not adopted at one fell swoop, but gradually.

This should be the policy of the Liberal party in Canada. As far as I have anything to do in shaping this line of policy it is upon this we shall proceed now and forever. [Applause.]

On this topic Mr. Laurier said: I endorse every word which fell from the Nestor of Ontario, Sir Oliver Mowat. Canada cannot always remain a colony. I say that if it were dependent upon a single wave of my hand to hasten separation from the Mother Country I would not do it. If severed at all it must be severed as the ripened fruit from the tree, or as the young man leaves the home of his father to become the head of a family. So will Canada become a nation—not severed from England by war, but in amity and peace. [Applause.]

But this severance need not be absolute. In this great city of Toronto there is a movement—at all events the cherishing of a hope—that Canada shall not be separated from England, but that there be a federation of the Empire. Now, of Imperial Federation I have never seen an exact definition. I am sure of one thing—that to those of you who are of British origin, in whose blood runs that of England, Ireland, Scotland, it would be a blessing if you could have independence for Canada coupled with union to the Empire at large.

To myself, of French origin, the very idea of Imperial Federation has a most alluring fascination. It opens the flood-gates of history. Then the honorable gentleman, with flushing eyes and general animation, recounted the story of the conquest of England by France, and traced the story down to the landing of French troops on the banks of the St. Lawrence and English on the shores of New England. His reference to the final settlement on the Plains of Abraham was loudly cheered. Thus the hon. gentleman showed his appreciation of deeds of valor in days gone by; "but," said he, "I am sorry to say that those who propose Imperial Federation have placed it on the most narrow basis possible. The chief advocate of the project in your city has based his argument on the military defences of the Empire. I know enough of the history of England to know that she can settle her battles singly. [Loud applause.] I know Canada's little army could not help her much. [Laughter.] Your ancestors and my ancestors filled Europe with the blood of their armies. Thank Heaven, and God be ever praised for it, it has been left for this generation to see the banners of England and France floating side by side on the ramparts of Alma, Balaklava and the smoking ruins of Sebastopol." [Cheers.]

In answering this self-imposed question Mr. Laurier said: Perhaps at some indefinite period England and Russia may be in conflict on the frontier of India.

But for such a contingency we do not need Imperial Federation. If the day ever comes when England is in danger there is not a Canadian, whatever his race, who would not give his money and his blood for the security of the Empire. [Renewed cheering.]

When the apostles of Imperial Federation lay the basis of their claims upon the military defence of the Old Country I tell them they are behind the times; the age is past for this.

We look to nobler aspirations. The great agent of civilization in this century—both in this country and in England—is trade. Give me a union which will be based upon the laws of trade, which will make the peoples more prosperous not only here, but in the Old Sod as well; and if such a union can be achieved, I am for it every day of my life. [Cheers.]

The principles for which Cobden and Bright fought are being adopted all over the world. England has adopted them, and America has proclaimed them. Therein I see a possibility of a union, not only of empire, but a union to include all countries issuing from England. The Anglo-Saxon is the greatest commercial race the world has ever seen.

A moment ago I mentioned the name of John Bright, and there was certainly no man who stood higher for breadth of thought and purity of motive than he. In 1876 when the American Union was celebrating the one hundredth anniversary of its independence, John Bright wrote to friends in New York, speaking of England and the United States: "Two Nations, One People." Why should not we enlarge the thought of John Bright and say, "Three Nations, One People"? [Loud cheering.]

This is the policy which, in my humble position as a member of the Liberal party, I would advocate. I have received no mandate to speak in the name of the Liberal party on this question. But this is the policy I have in view and which I believe to be possible for this Canada of ours.

In 1863, M. Rouher, First Minister of the Emperor Napoleon, speaking of the development of civilization, said: "The equilibrium of the world no longer rests on the Alps and the Pyrenees, but the equilibrium of the world rests upon two hemispheres—Europe and America."

These words impressed me as full of meaning. The only distinction to be made is this: that the world is steadily progressing, and the progress of the world no longer rests upon military considerations, but upon the progress of mankind.

If the principles of free trade were adopted, as I hope they will be some day between the United States and Canada, such a procedure would create such a revolution that the example would be followed by other nations. I certainly believe France would follow in our steps.

As to the future of Canada I say that she shall open in the book of history the brightest page in the universe, and then shall be realized the words spoken 1800 years ago:

Glory to God in heaven,
Peace on earth to men.

The honorable gentleman resumed his seat amid loud cheering.

The toast "Sister Organizations" was responded to by Mr. Richard Armstrong, president of the Young Conservative Association. He thought the greatest evil Canada had to contend with was the press. Most people had to hustle to earn their three meals and so couldn't afford to take time to think. He thought the reason why the Liberals had not been successful was that they had relied upon questions and events of no present value. Alfred the Great and Hampden were good men, but they couldn't help Canada. Hon. Wilfrid took the trouble to go over and shake hands with the aspiring politician.

"The Young Men's Liberal Club" was responded to by Hon. Richard Harcourt. He stated a number of the achievements of the Young Liberals. The largest and most successful political gathering ever held in Hamilton was held a week ago by the Young Liberals. He also enumerated a number of other cities in Ontario where Young Liberals had achieved much through organization, and he expressed the hope that all the clubs in Ontario might be federated with a head organization in Toronto.

Mr. Macintosh, the president of the Toronto Club, responded in a brief and appropriate manner.

Mr. J. S. Willison spoke for the press. He desired to take issue with Mr. Armstrong as regards an editor's duties. No intelligent editor pretended to know all about any subject. If he wished to deal with a commercial subject he consulted the merchant. No editor of any newspaper worthy of the name would refuse to publish any signed communication dealing with public questions, especially if it differed from his own ideas. The press encouraged independent thought.

The meeting closed with cheers for the Queen and Laurier.

It was nearly 1 a.m. when the banquet, which had been most successful, broke up.

Will Define His Political Position On Jan. 25 At Stayner.

OTTAWA, Jan. 13.—H. M. Whitney of Boston, who represents the American syndicate which is endeavoring to get control of the Cape Breton mines, is urging the Government to give an immediate decision on the petition presented some time ago by a large number of Nova Scotia coal miners praying for the disallowance of the Mining Act passed by the Local Legislature of Nova Scotia at its last session.

This act increases the royalty on coal, and changes the present Mining Act in other respects, and a number of the coal miners hold that in it the local Government has exceeded its powers, and therefore the act should be disallowed.

Chief Justice Strong gave his first official dinner, since his promotion, at Rideau Club to-night, about 50 guests being present. Amongst them were Sir John Thompson, Sir A. P. Caron, Hon. John Haggart and other Ministers; Hon. C. H. Mackintosh, M.P.; Mr. Sidgwick, Deputy Minister of Justice, the judges of the Supreme Court and a number of other leading officials and prominent citizens.

An exhibition of the Woodward electrical storage battery system was made at the works in Sparks-street this afternoon before a number of local electricians and others, and was pronounced to be very satisfactory.

C. H. Mackintosh, M.P., is interested in the patents covering the system, and has made several trips to England in connection with them.

By far the best immigration pamphlet ever got up by the Government has just been issued by the Department of the Interior in the shape of an "Official Hand-book of information relating to the Dominion of Canada." The pamphlet consists of 88 pages of carefully prepared matter, giving in a short space a great deal of useful information. It is very tastily got up and has several illustrations and a good map.

It is said that the License Commissioner will make very sweeping reforms this year, greatly reducing the number of liquor licenses, and no saloon licenses, of which there were seven last year, will be issued.

D'Alton McCarthy, M.P., who is here on business, declined to be interviewed on political matters, but said that he would define his position at the meeting of the Simcoe Liberal-Conservative Association to be held at Stayner on the 25th inst.

Sir John Thompson and nearly all his colleagues, with the exception of Hon. Messrs. Foster and Ouimet, left to-night by special train for Toronto to attend to-morrow night's meeting.

George Taylor, D. McKeen and Major McLennan, M.P.'s, were here to-day on departmental business.

A Disturbance

Isn't what you want, if your stomach and bowels are irregular. That's about all you get, though, with the ordinary pill. It may relieve you for a moment, but you're usually in a worse state afterward than before.

This is just where Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do most good. They act in an easy and natural way, very different from the huge, old-fashioned pills. They're not only pleasanter, but there's no reaction afterward, and their help lasts. One little sugar-coated pellet for a gentle laxative or corrective—three for a cathartic. Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Dizziness, Sick and Bilious Headaches, are promptly relieved and cured.

They're the smallest, the easiest to take—and the cheapest pill you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.

You pay only for the good you get.

Impaired digestion repaired by BEECHAM'S PILLS.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 13, 1893

THE Hamilton Spectator paid the following deserving tribute to Mr. Laurier, on the occasion of the visit of that gentleman to the Ambitious City:

The Reform leader is an amiable and honourable gentleman, for whom his friends, irrespective of party, entertain the highest esteem. He is a graceful and able speaker, a man of the highest personal integrity, and one who is a credit to his province and his country.

The EXAMINER does not often agree on political subjects with the Spectator but in this it is in full accord with it. In these degenerate days, a statesman may be proud of the possession of qualities that extort praise from his political opponents. Hon. Mr. Laurier has no royally bestowed title, but he is, by virtue of an irreproachable personal and political character, and of a fearless standing by the right, worthy of the title of chevalier sans et sans reproche.

TORONTO'S assessment for the year 1893 shows a decrease of half a million dollars compared with the figures for last year. This is evidence of benefits produced by the policy of trade restriction which Mr. Foster, suggests the Ottawa Free Press, seems to have entirely overlooked when preparing statistics for the information of the members of the Toronto Board of Trade.

A FINE PORK-PACKING ESTABLISHMENT.

Erected by Mr. George Carton to Meet the Demands of His Business—Capable of Handling 10,000 Hogs.

An EXAMINER man yesterday afternoon paid a visit to Mr. Geo. Carton's large and commodious pork-packing establishment which he has recently erected on Lansdowne street, near the railway bridge at the locks, in North Monaghan. The structure exteriorally s a handsome brick building, on a splendid site, and is in dimensions 50 x 90 feet, a story and a half high with cellar. On the southern side of the main building is an annex, used as the boiler room, size 18x35. Abutting the pork packing house at the eastern end is a large two story ice house, well ventilated, 43x50. To the left hand at the entrance is a cosy office. The large main floor is used for storing and cutting up the hundreds of dressed hogs. To the rear of this, at the south-east corner of the building, is an admirable refrigerator for smoked meats, ham, bacon, etc., in area 10x20 feet. At this end also is the cooling room 40x20. This department will be used for cutting up and cooling hogs in the summer, and in colder seasons will be utilized for thawing purposes. The spacious main floor which as before mentioned is used for storing and cutting up, will in the summer months be occupied as the general packing and shipping room. On the south side in a very convenient quarter near the cooling room is the killing department with all the latest improved machinery and appliances and connected by a runway with the cooling room. The smoke house, contiguous, (where all meats are smoked) is 10x16, and capable of having 900 pieces placed in it at once. The engine and sausage room, 18x20, is adjacent to this and is well equipped, being provided with a Waterous engine, Brantford, of 8-horse power, and one of Westman's sausage making machines, said to be the completest of its kind. Passing he big boiler room supplied with a 12-horse power boiler manufactured by the well known firm of N. Currie, Toronto. The lard is also rendered here by means of large "jacket kettles" and coolers. Beneath the whole establishment are two capacious cellars, known as the pickling and bacon cellars, in size 50x50 and 40x50 respectively. The immense quantities of bacon which the firm handle are cured in the bacon cellar. The roomy pickling cellar is laid with a flooring of Portland cement and is stored with numerous huge vats for pickling purposes. The cellars are well lighted and ventilated and all refuse thoroughly drained away, so that no nauseous smell can possibly permeate the atmosphere. The top flat is used for storing supplies, etc. The capacity of the porking house is 10,000 hogs in all. Mr. Carton gives every detail of the curing, packing, and other parts of the business his personal attention and employs none but first-class, competent workmen in all departments. He has had ten years of successful practical experience as a pork packer, three of which have been spent in Peterborough, where the increasing demands of his business have compelled him to go into his present adequate premises.

THROUGH THIS THE VISITOR ENTERS

The Independent utters a timely warning regarding the pronunciation of the new words cocain and ptomain. They are usually pronounced as if composed of two syllables, but they have three syllables. Do not say co-cain, but co-ca-in. It is formed like protein and olein. It is derived from the name of the plant coca, and has the termination which is used for alkaloids. So with pto'-ma-in, and we may add leu-co-ma-in. Medical and pharmaceutical journals please copy.

Among the many encouraging signs that the world is really growing better we must rank the alleged conversion of the English sparrow. Dr. Thomas L. Hazzard at the last meeting of the Pennsylvania Ornithological association cited many interesting facts to prove that this sparrow is becoming much more considerate and much less aggressive than it has had the credit heretofore of being; robins, woodpeckers, orioles, flickers, yellow warblers, blue birds and indeed most representative birds of sweet song and bright plumage are yearly returning in increasing numbers to the haunts from which they were said to have been driven by their impudent and upstart English cousins. If the little "toughs" have really reformed, all will be forgiven. If they have really turned over a new leaf we hope they will find lots of better grub than hard coal under it.

Provide yourself with a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and so have the means at hand for contending successfully with a sudden cold. As an emergency medicine, it has no equal, and leading physicians everywhere recommend it.

THE BIGGEST DAY IN 7 YEARS!

Saturday, December 3rd was the biggest day MR. J. J. SHEEHY has had in seven years. Why is this? Surely not because there is less competition. Certainly not because inducements are not being held out by others. Most assuredly not because prices of farm products are showing an upward tendency. Then why??

Simply because the purchasing public of the town and surrounding country have read Mr. Sheehy's advertisements, have inwardly digested them and have conclude that cheap sale or no cheap sale Mr. Sheehy is bound not to be undersold

We want every day in December to be a big day. How are we to accomplish this? Simply by offering to the public better value for the money than can be had elsewhere. Just cast your eye over the following quotations:—

All Wool Flannels, 26 in. wide, - -	17½	Good Linen Towels each - - -	5½
9 lb. Wool Blankets, - - - - -	$3.75	Grey Wool Blankets, - - -	31c. a lb.
14 yds. Heavy Grey Canton Flannel,	$1.00	25 yards Factory Cotton, - -	$1.00

These few quotations will probably give an idea of what we are doing and a glance at our BARGAIN TABLE in the centre of our store will convince the most skeptical that when it comes to general bargains we certainly are very decidedly "in it."

HOW DO YOU DO

when you buy shoes or clothing? Don't you go to the place (if you can find it) where they tell you that you may wear the articles out, and then, if you're not satisfied, they'll refund the money? Why not do the same when you buy medicine?

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is sold on that plan. It's the only blood-purifier so certain and effective that it can be guaranteed to benefit or cure, in every case, or you have your money back.

It's not like the ordinary spring medicines or sarsaparillas. All the year round, it cleanses, builds up, and invigorates the system. If you're bilious, run-down, or dyspeptic, or have any blood-taint, nothing can equal it as a remedy.

The worst cases of Chronic Catarrh in the Head, yield to Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. So certain is it that its makers offer $500 reward for an incurable case.

DAYS OF SUFFERING

AT AN END.

A LADY'S

Tortures and Pains are Banished!

A CURE FOUND

After the best Doctors Failed

Paine's Celery Compound

DOES THE WORK!

A LADY SAYS:

"I Am Perfectly Well To-Day."

It is well known that physicians often—very often—fail in relieving suffering and curing disease. Incurable! This is a terrible verdict when it comes from the physician to the diseased one.

These incurable cases are always met by that never failing remedy, Paine's Celery Compound, and the invariable result is new life, health and strength.

The following letter of testimony from Mrs. Allen Outhouse, of Tiverton, Digby Co., N. S,, will cheer every despondent and fainting soul who suffers:

MRS. ALLEN OUTHOUSE.

TIVERTON, Digby Co., N.S., December 3rd, 1892.

WELLS & RICHARDSON CO.

DEAR SIRS.—I have great pleasure in testifying to the merits of Paine's Celery Compound. I suffered for about four years with indigestion and liver complaint, and applied to two of our best physicians, but derived no benefit. I kept growing worse, and came to the conclusion that there was no help for me. At times my stomach would swell till I would have to loosen my clothes, at which times there would be severe pains which would run from the stomach and side to my shoulder, and so distress me, that often my family thought I was dying.

Less than a year ago I heard of Paine's Celery Compound, and have since given it a fair trial, and have taken five bottles, and I am perfectly well to-day as the result. I can heartily recommend its use to any one suffering with like troubles.

With best wishes for the future success of your most excellent remedy,

I remain yours respectfully,
MRS. ALLEN OUTHOUSE.

I can testify to the above statements being true in every particular.

Pastor "Church of Christ," Tiverton.

HAMILTON, April 20, 1892.

I was doctoring for years with physicians for a scaly and scurvy affliction of the scalp, they told me it was eczema, but gave me no permanent relief. I was also troubled with excessive dandruff, which would drop from my head like snow flakes. Hearing of Anti-Dandruff I used it, and from the third application felt more relieved than for years; when half the bottle was used the eczema and scaly eruptions disappeared and have not returned since; dandruff was thoroughly removed, the itching of the scalp stopped, and for an elegant, clean and useful hair-dressing Anti-Dandruff has no equal.

BRIDGENORTH.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A Teachers Institute Meeting—An Association Organized.

An institute was held at Bridgenorth on Monday, Jan. 9th, for the teachers of the neighborhood conducted by Mr. J. C. Brown, P.S.I. Although the attendance was not so large as could be desired, still a very successful meeting was held. The morning session lasted from 10 until 12. Mr. Brown took a few minutes with the teachers present in discussion of the proper way of keeping the register.

After this Mr. Brown took up the subject of "Primary Reading," putting particular stress upon a thorough knowledge of the alphabet, and phrasing properly. He also emphasized the importance of introducing the children to the best authors at an early stage.

THE AFTERNOON SESSION

began at 1.30 and lasted until 4. The subject was "Elementary Arithmetic" which was handled in an interesting manner by Mr. Brown. At the suggestion of Mr. Brown an association was formed including the teachers of the western and southern parts of the township of Smith and the township of Ennismore. The following officers were elected: Mr. Tapscott, president; Mr. Tighe, secretary; to act on executive committee with president, and secretary Miss Udy and Mr. Mann.

It is intended that the association shall meet every 3 or 4 months.

W. B. TIGHE, Secretary.

A Cure for Dyspepsia.

In investigation the cause of this prevalent complaint it is found to rest principally in wrong action of the stomach and impurity of the blood. These exciting causes are easily removed by the regulating, purifying tonic and digestive effects of Burdock Blood Bitters, hence the success of B. B. B. in curing dyspepsia in any form, no matter of how long standing or how severe it may be.

Altogether Disappeared

Best Cure For

All disorders of the Throat and Lungs is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has no equal as a cough-cure.

Bronchitis

"When I was a boy, I had a bronchial trouble of such a persistent and stubborn character, that the doctor pronounced it incurable with ordinary remedies, but recommended me to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. I did so, and one bottle cured me. For the last fifteen years, I have used this preparation with good effect whenever I take a bad cold, and I know of numbers of people who keep it in the house all the time, not considering it safe to be without it."—J. C. Woodson, P.M., Forest Hill, W. Va.

Cough

"For more than twenty-five years, I was a sufferer from lung trouble, attended with coughing so severe at times as to cause hemorrhage, the paroxysms frequently lasting three or four hours. I was induced to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and after taking four bottles, was thoroughly cured."—Franz Hoffman, Clay Centre, Kans.

La Grippe

"Last spring I was taken down with la grippe. At times I was completely prostrated, and so difficult was my breathing that my breast seemed as if confined in an iron cage. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and no sooner had I began taking it than relief followed. I could not believe that the effect would be so rapid and the cure so complete."—W. H. TO BE OR NOT TO BE "IN IT."

A Life Agent called at a friend's place one day,
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had seen "the bore" coming and fled from his way
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had heard so much said, he was tired and sick
Of insurance and agents—'twas all a blank trick,
When one's coil must be shuffled to win it,
HE WASN'T IN IT.

A bit of a draft blew o'er his bald head,
HE WAS IN IT;
Pneumonia sent him straightway to his bed,
HE STAYED IN IT;
His doctor made of it a "quite special" case,
To save him for running still more of life's race,
But the grave took some chances to win it,
AND HE'S IN IT.

When approached by a gent for insuring your life,
GET RIGHT IN IT;
It's the right thing to do for your children and wife,
THEN STAY IN IT.
Remember that fires take your goods "out of sight,"
And that accidents happen each day and each night.
While insurance protects every minute,
IF YOU'RE IN IT.

A Bank Manager's Opinion.

HE IS "IN IT."

The General Manager of one of the leading banks in Canada, writing to a personal friend, says:—"I have no hesitation in saying that I place the CANADA LIFE upon the highest platform. It is in my opinion carefully, economically and honestly managed; its Reserve Funds are well invested; its rates of Premiums are low, and its future is, I think better assured than a great majority of Companies. I have my own life insured in the Company for a round amount, and would not hesitate to increase the amount of my policies should I decide upon taking out further insurance."

A Government Insurance Actuary's Opinion

On the Relation between Ordinary and Tontine Service.

It is frequently assertedby Companies whose business is nearly all tontined, that although the CANADA LIFE may and does pay large ordinary profits, yet it cannot compare so favourably on a long term distribution or tontine period, and that in the end better results can be obtained on a tontine policy in a large American Co. than on an ordinary or tontine policy in the CANADA LIFE. To prove the absurdity of this statement, the following piece of common sense is quoted from Mervin Tabor, late Actuary of the Illinois Goverment Insurance Department. In his well known book, "The Three Systems of Life Insurance," he says: "A company that gives large dividends on the ordinary kind of policies, can give much larger on the same kinds when Tontined, and a company that pays but meagre dividends on the usual forms, adopting perhaps the Tontine system to "cover up" its small surpluses, cannot be relied on for large returns of surplus under the Tontine Forms of Insurance."

The CANADA LIFE does not "cover up" its Quinquennial profits as some Companies do, but publishes them throughout the country.

It can and does surpass other Companies on Quinquennial profits. It should and will surpass them on Tontine profits.

WHY TO BE "IN IT."

BISHOP HAWKE'S REASON:—"I claim that Life Insurance is not only a humane, but I might say a Christian Institution."

LORD LYNDHURST'S REASON:—"A Policy of Life Insurance is always an evidence of prudent forethought. No man with a dependent family is free from reproach if not insured."

WHEN TO BE "IN IT."

The younger, the cheaper. Therefore insure when young. Besides by insuring in the CANADA LIFE now, you will share in three years' profits.

WHERE TO BE "IN IT."

The best place to be "in it" is in the Company that gives the best returns for the least money, consistent with absolute security. Therefore, in order to be "in it," choose the

GRAND CONCERT

Correction.

In an item taken from the New Year's number of the Horseman, Chicago, and published in yesterday's EXAMINER, a clerical omission occurred, which is corrected below. The article should have read as follows: "The black stallion Boxer, 10,481, by Jefferson Prince, dam Lady Emerson, by Consternation, died recently at Springville, Ont., and to replace him Mr. Jas. Baptie purchased in Kentucky the bay stallion Almont Champion 5522, by Almont 33, dam Stella Champion, by Mambrino Champion 5130.

IN THE OPERA HOUSE.

They are Milkers in Very Truth.

Mr. James Whitton, cheesebuyer of Wellman's Corners, near the boundary line between Seymour and Rawdon townships, says the Campbellford Herald, is the owner of a herd of eight magnificent cows that gave an extraordinary flow of milk during the factory season of last year, surpassing the record of Mr. John Crosby's herd reported in last week's Herald. During six months, Mr. Whitton sent to the factory from this herd 54,000 pounds of milk, and realized therefrom an average of $57.55 per cow. Perhaps there is not a dairyman in this or adjoining townships who can boast of a better record.

THE BEST OF THE Annual Business Meeting.

The annual business meeting of the Murray street Baptist church was held last night with a good attendance. The pastor, Rev. J. E. Trotter, occupied the chair. Mr. T. F. Matthews was elected treasurer. Two new deacons, Messrs. E. Elcombe and Louis Croly, were elected in conformity with a change made in the constitution, increasing the number of deacons to six. Mrs. Hunter was elected clerk, and Mr. Geo. Cochrane trustee in the place of Mr. R. J. Kidd, recently removed. All the reports were adopted, showing the different branches of the church and its work to be in a healthy condition. The officers of the Park street Baptist mission were confirmed.

Mr. Wm. Snowden, of the Snowden House, who has been confined to his room the past week with sciatica, is able to be around again.

Mr. Jas. Fax, the well known comic singer and impersonator, Toronto, was in town yesterday, on his way to Ottawa, where had an engagement in a grand concert given in the Capital city last evening. Mr. Fax is well acquainted in Peterborough, having appeared here quite often in many entertainments.

Mr. F. L. Somerville, late of the engineering architectural branch of the Grand Trunk Railway at Peterborough has decided to locate permanently in Lindsay. He comes well recommended and will be a very valuable acquisition as a citizen. Mr. Somerville will immediately open an office in town, and will remove his family very shortly—Lindsay Post.

Mr. Wm. Hillier, third son of Mr. Wm. Hillier, sr., Peterborough, has been elected senator for Welsh county, Dakota. The platform on which he found popular favour was free trade and prohibition. Mr. Hillier left Peterborough for Dakota ten years ago. He was a candidate for the same position four years ago but was defeated by 50 majority. This time his majority was over 100. THE EXAMINER gives Senator Hillier its congratulations. He comes of good Reform stock, and stands with both feet on that good, old, imperishable, all-oak Liberal platform—Free Trade. If Peterborough boys and Canadians can compete successfully in politics with the Yankees, why not in manufactures, or any other branch, as well?

Capt. E. F. Mason, of No. 1 company, to-day received from the militia department official notice of having passed the examination at the Royal School of Infantry, Toronto, entitling him to a first-class certificate, the highest that can be conferred in the Canadian Militia. Captain Mason has now three certificates. In July 1886 he secured a certificate at the School of Infantry, Toronto, and in July, 1889, one from the Royal School of Infantry, London, the third being that mentioned above. He is one of the very few volunteer officers who hold three certificates. Capt. Mason's numerous friends will heartily congratulate him upon his success, and wish that, as he is mentally and morally equipped to serve his country, he may speedily be restored to physical fitness for the same duty—he is still doomed to "mufti," as he has been for some time, through an accident that happened to his knee during his last examinations.

County Police Magistrate Edmison held a session of the county police court this morning and disposed of three charges which were laid by John Nurse, of Ennismore township, against his son, Robt. S. Nurse, blacksmith, of Fowler's Corners and Jas. MacCarroll, of Emily township, and Robt. Curtis, of Smith township, respectively. The charge against the son was that of wrongfully and maliciously trying to deprive the father of a cow which the complainant alleged belonged to him, by producing a revolver and threatening to shoot the animal, thus depriving the owner of his rightful property. The charges against the other two persons was that of aiding and assisting the defendant in the act. All the complaints were withdrawn by the plaintiff, on payment of the costs.

Another Spoiled Sensation.

The police received a call from the Montreal Hotel, J. B. Laroque, proprietor, last evening shortly before eight o'clock. A man who, as it afterwards turned out, was pretty well under the influence of intoxicants entered the hotel with a woman, whom he said was his wife, in a frenzied state of excitement. He told the police that a howling mob were surrounding the hotel thirsting to wreak vengeance upon him and for what he did not know. An officer responded and saw the fancied persecuted man and the woman off safely on the 8.41 train for Cobourg, where they were bound. The husband has of late been employed in one of the town hotels. No persons were found trying to molest him at all.

SEVEN GOALS TO TWO.

That Was the Number by Which Peterborough Discomfited Lindsay at Hockey.

There was a fair gathering of spectators at the rink last night to witness Peterborough hockeyists play their second match of the season with Lindsay last evening. The visitors reached here at 9 o'clock, and about 9.15 the puck was "faced" and the game began with the following teams:

LINDSAY.		PETERBOROUGH.
C Ritchie	goal	T H Dumble
Geo Elliott	point	G Sawers
H Knowlson	cover point	W B Carmichael
F Walters		Wonham
F McBurney	forwards	Parsons
A Knowlson	forwards	Montgomery
V Keenan	forwards	Phelan
F Shannon	goal umpires	E B Loucks
Referee		W H Bradburn

The game was a very fast one and quite lively throughout, the playing, stick handling, dodging, etc, being much better exhibited by the home boys than in their match with Lakefield. However, Peterborough had what might be called a walk over both in the number of goals scored and the advantages of all good playing done during the contest. There were six goals taken the first half, two of them by Lindsay. Wonham who played for the first time with the home team took the first game in a few minutes A. Knowlson scored the next for Lindsay in a scrimmage. Montgomery and Parsons increased Peterborough's figures to 3 a few seconds later, and then the reliable Phelan scored another goal making the number four. Lindsay added another to her credit by the clever forward work of Walters. In the second half Lindsay failed to get the puck through the uprights. Parsons, Wonham and Phelan made three more for Peterborough in this half, and thus the affray terminated, seven to two, in favour of Peterborough. Walters and A. Knowlson wrought splendidly for Lindsay, while all the home boys did effective work. Wonham and Parsons, new men, played in capital form for Peterborough, and created a favourable impression. The next game will be played at Cobourg in the Union series on Thursday night next. The Collegiate Institute team will probably play the Peterborough's to-morrow afternoon.

"Frost Bites" are ugly things; a nose or ear swollen to twice its usual size is no more beautiful than it is comfortable. After trying many "cures" we come back and award the palm to Perry Davis' PAIN KILLER, "the old reliable," which affords relief quicker than any other thing we know of. Big Bottle, popular price, 25 cents.

THE "CHEEK" OF THE "FIN DE SIECLE" YOUTH.

A staid and steady bachelor millionaire citizen had an experience a day or two ago which opened his eyes as to the "cheek" of the rising generation—the coming man. He dropped into a barber shop for a shave. He put his fur gauntlets into his overcoat pocket and laid the coat on a table with the belonging's of other patrons of the establishment present. When he was ready to depart he put on his coat and not thinking that he had put his gauntlets in his pocket picked up another pair which he saw lying on the table, and took his leave. Presently a young man—a mear lad—was released from the nominal manipulation of the tonsorial artist and naturally looked for his fur gauntlets that he had left on the table. Not finding them, of course, he stated his loss to the proprietor, who, on learning the circumstances, assumed that the millionaire bachelor had taken the gauntlets by mistake and went with the young man to the office of the capitalist. Then the matter was investigated and rectified, the millionaire returning the gauntlets with the explanation—"The gloves very much resembled my own, and I took them by mistake."

The young hopeful with an air of impudence that would do credit to a Bowery boy, replied:

"What yer givin' us? It's all very well to say it's a mistake, but manys a man is serving his six months in the Central for just such mistakes."

The capitalist was dumbfounded at the idea of the young cub having the assurance to make such a remark to him. If the rising generation is generally at all like his "cheeky" young friend, he says he is heartily glad that he is a bachelor and has no boys to vex his serene soul. In telling the incident to a friend, our capitalist celebes laughed till the tears came at the idea of the adamantine cheek and gigantic gall of the guantleted gossoon aforesaid.

CRISP CURLING CHRONIQUES

What is Going on at the Rink Where Curlers Most do Congregate.

There was very little curling going on at the rink last night, the interest of the knights of the broom flagging because of the hockey match, which claimed their attention. A scratch match, however, took place between skips Attrill and Edwards, and fourteen ends were played with the following result:

C. J. Leonard,	S. Belcher,
A. L. Davis,	E. H. D. Hall,
D. W. Dumble,	W. Salisbury,
T. P. Attrill, skip...13.	E. B. Edwards, skip...11.

Lakefield curlers, who were expected to play the return match with the Peterboroughs, were to arrive in town this morning, playing the Thistles at 10 o'clock, and the Granite division this afternoon. The visitors, however, did not arrive until noon. They are playing the Granites this afternoon a three rink match with Skips Judge Weller, G. W. Hatton, and Geo. Edmison. The Lakefielders will play the Thistles this evening. Skips Rutherford, Pentland and McGill will probably do battle for the Thistles.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Properly speaking, a drinking song should be gurgled.—Philadelphia Times.

Mr. Labouchere got $450,000 for his share in the London Daily News.

Pasteur is said to have been affected to tears by the grand reception given him at the Paris Institute on his seventieth birthday.

Oct. 1 is moving day in Berlin. On that day this year 39,197 families moved. In 5,081 cases rent was reduced and in 4,894 it was increased.

M. Stambuloff, prime minister of Bulgaria, is a crack shot with stones and rarely fails to hit a moving object at a distance of over fifty yards.

The true test of civilization is not the wealth or the size of cities nor the crops, but the kind of men that the fulness of the country turns out.—Emerson.

There is a tribe in Central Africa among whom speakers in public debates are required to stand on one leg while speaking, and to speak only as long as they can so stand.

One of the attractions at an industrial exhibition recently held in Metz was the chaise in which Napolean traveled from Paris to Moscow in 1812. It was bequeathed to Baron de Hunolstein, who sold it to a man in Metz upon the condition that it should never be considered as an article of commerce.

The English traveler, Mr. Rockhill, has again passed into Thibet from China, disguised as a Lama. He has a good mastery of the languages of the country into which he has penetrated once more, and it is believed that he will fare better this time than on the former occasion, when a diet of tsamba and buttered tea for three weeks reduced him almost to a skeleton.

Mustapha ben el hadj Otman, commander of the Second Battalion of Algerian Tirailleurs and a soldier of considerable renown, died recently at Setif, Algeria. He was one of the few native Algerians who were graduated from the military academy at St. Cyr, and rose rapidly to a high place in the French army. He took an active part in the Franco-Prussian war, participating in all important battles, from that of Froeschwiller to that of Sedan. He was a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor.

The German Emperor, it is said, is a stanch believer in "Planchette" since it predicted that his next child would be a girl. Planchette is still somewhat in vogue in England and on the continent, and of late there has been rather a marked increase in this desultory popularity. Its sway in this country was brief, but violent. It is doubtful if one of the little, heart shaped toys could be bought to-day in New York. People liked to believe in it for a while, but it became too palpably under the sway of trembling fingers, and its queer hieroglyphics admitted of too many renderings to be valuable as prophecies.—New York Times.

The Boston Transcript notes the fact that the word "silence" is enjoying a big boom among the poets. "One can scarcely pick up a poem on any topic nowadays," it says, "without stumbling over the word silence or silent. Occasionally 'tis silentio, which is much like calling hash rechauffe—it tastes the same. All of the poets who have written on Tennyson and Whittier and the other great ones gone have fairly revelled in the fashionable poetic word; it came naturally and easily. But when one poet makes 'old silence settle back upon the sea,' it seems a grain too much. Yet on the whole, this prevalence of the word silence is such a relief from the familiar rhymes of 'breeze and trees,' 'heart and part,' that it seems pleasant by comparison. It is a hard word to find a rhyme for, so it is usually put at the begining of a line. Walt Whitman, who could make milk-wagon rhyme with Hubbard squash, could have given silence a good chance at the end of a line, to rhyme with, say, politics. It was a Boston poet, by the way, who made pterodactyl rhyme with cocktail."

Charles Dickens' old house at No. 23 Wellington street, Strand, in London, will soon be a thing of the past, as it is to be remodeled for business purposes. It was there that the novelist lived while he edited All the Year Round and Household Words, and while he wrote many of his novels.

"I have got to get up and get," said the burglar, as he started to climb a ladder to reach an upstairs window.—Rochester Democrat.

"There's one wise thing about having only one leg," said the veteran. "A pair of socks last twice as long as they would otherwise."—Elmira Echo.

Whenever a man who knows how to beat the bass drum goes to a new town he complains that the place is not "musical."—Atchison Globe.

It is authoritatively asserted that "time will tell," and yet hardly a day passes that you don't hear some one ask you to tell what time it is.—Yonkers Statesman.

Cholera at Hamburg

HAMBURG, Jan. 12.—The two sailors of the Spanish steamer Marciano who were taken down with cholera, were ill for several days before they were taken to the hospital. They are supposed to have got the infection from the Elbe water. The river is lower than ever before.

At Magdeburg it registers only 24 inches. The general conditions are believed to be more favorable for an epidemic than they were last year. An English seaman who was discharged from a cholera hospital last Saturday says he was seized with diarrhœa and cramps after having drunk Elbe water in Altona.

Three more members of the crew of the steamer Murciano, from New Orleans, have been attacked by cholera. Cholera has also appeared among the crew of the ships Laborer and Newcomer at Hamburg, from Bargteheide.

A visitor to Amsterdam, from Utrecht, died to-day of cholera.

FUR!

What It Is For and How to Wear it.

Why do you have fur on your jacket, to keep you warm? What an odd idea: as the girl said when her friend wished her a happy married life. When have you seen fur worn to add to the wearer's warmth? Oh, of course, sometimes, but you see it mostly on the edges of skirts, jackets and hats. Not every jacket that has fur on it has fur inside. Many have fur cuffs and broad fur collars, and some even have an edge of fur a little way back and nearly all the way around, but all of that is for show and not for warmth. Even gloves have fur on the edge of the wrists, but few have fur inside. Likewise the garments that are fur-lined—is the fur made use of for warmth? Well, not if the girl can possibly live with her jacket open. Most of them are made so that the collar rolls over all the way down to the edge of the cloak or jacket.

That shows the fur so nicely, and when the wind blows it makes the thing spread out and show the fur more. It is almost as nice as taking it off publicly and lay it, lining out, on the chair in front of you. Comfort is distinctly a secondary consideration to the average woman. Of course, she is cold with tight gloves on, but loose ones are so ugly; her little pink ears are cold, but who could wear ear muffs and look so horrid: leggings are ever so comfortable, but they are so clumsy, and so on. It is only because her good looks are as dear as herself that she should be more careful. If she gets a cold, she will have a red nose, and she will get a cold if she doesn't wear her cloak shut up, even if it has fur lining.

FLORETTE.

Some of the native women of Australia have a queer idea of beauty. They cut themselves with shells, keep the wounds open for a long time and when they heal huge scars are the result. These scars are deemed highly ornamental.

It is said that $1,500 is now quite a common price for bulldogs, and an even higher figure was given by Count Potocki for a splendid bull dog which he made a present to the Grand Duke Alexis just before he left Paris for St. Petersburg.

A small but fine painting of Marie Antoinette, which was taken from St. Cloud Palace at the time of the Commune by a German officer, is offered for sale in Dusseldorf for $5,000 dollars. Its present owner is Herr Schwnchow, editor in chief of the Dusseldorf Gazette.

When the Count and Countess of Paris, who are now wintering in Spain, go to and from their English residence to the Iberian Peninsula, they travel by water and not across France. It is necessary, in order to do the latter, to ask permission from the French authorities. Leave would of course be granted, but Orleanist pride cannot condescend so far.

The Castle of Circy, where Voltaire spent so much time in the society of his blue-stocking friend, the Marchioness du Chatelet, has just been sold for $500,000. The buyer is a rich French manufacturer, M. Viellard-Migeon. The Pall Mall Gazett remarks: "The bedroom and study used by the author of the 'Henriade,' and familiar from the piquant description left us by Mme. de Graffigny, still exist. In the library and picture gallery are several inscriptions in verse, composed by Voltaire, extolling the pleasures of study and seclusion."

W. H. Hogaboom, Osgoode Station, Ont. writes:—"It is with pleasure that I add my testimony to the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My wife was run down and weak, and has been so for six years. I decided to get Pink Pills and must say they have given great satisfaction. My wife is able to go to church now for the first time in two years." Sold by all dealers, 50c, a box or six boxes for $2.50. Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Outrivals all Others.

In curing coughs, colds, hoarseness, asthma, bronchitis, sore throat, and all diseases of the throat and lungs, there is one remedy which is unequalled by any other. We refer to Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup which has effected many remarkable cures this season.

A Pleasant Herb Drink.

The best cure we know of for Constipation and Headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs and is made for use by pouring boiling water on to the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders and is now the sovereign remedy with ladies for clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the pack. ages at 30c. and $1

Victoria Carbolic Salve is a great aid to internal medicine in the treatment of scrofulous sores, ulcers and abscesses of all kinds.

Mrs Chas. Smith of Jimes, Ohio, writes: I have used every remedy for sick headache I could hear of for the fifteen years, but Carter's Little Liver Pills did me more good than all the rest.

Three Practical Points.

Three practical points: 1st. Burdock Blood Bitters cures dyspepsia by acting promptly on the stomach, liver and bowels. 2nd. Burdock Blood Bitters cures bad blood by the same specific action combined with its alterative and purifying powers. 3rd, Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases arising from the two first named, such as constipation, headache, biliousness, dizziness, scrofula, etc., by removing their cause as shown and proved in thousands of indisputably recorded cases.

INTENSE SUFFERING!

Mr. William Buchanan, 24 years engineer in the Cunard Steamship Company's service, 8 St. John's Road, Kirkdale, Liverpool, Eng., writes: "I suffered two years of agony from an affection in the head which six physicians pronounced incurable.

They were divided in opinion as to whether it was acute neuralgia of the head or rheumatic affection of the brain, but all agreed that I could never recover. In my paroxysms of pain it needed two and sometimes three men to hold me down in bed. When at death's door, was applied to my head. It acted like magic. It saved my life. I am well and hearty, and have had no return of the trouble."

ST. JACOBS OIL

ENQUIRY INTO THE RACEY PANAMA CANAL SCANDAL

The Manager of Press Affairs Resigned Because He Had to Pay Too Many Bribes — A Contractor's Enormous Profits.

PARIS, Jan. 12.—There is a strong feeling in the Chamber of Deputies, as well as among the general public, that M. Ribot has not yet sufficiently purged the ministry of those, whether innocent or guilty, who have been under suspicion in connection with the Panama scandal. The public demand is strongly for a thorough investigation, without any hampering influences, and for a ministry free from the breath of scandal.

If M. Ribot should fail to explain to the satisfaction of the Chamber the reasons for the changes which have been made in the ministry, the Royalists will interpellate him on the subject. Leaders of the Royalist party in the Chamber of Deputies came to this decision at a meeting held last evening. They will also take occasion to ask why the reconstruction of the ministry was not more thorough.

The Royalists have shown greatly increased activity within the past 24 hours and the authorities appear to be in possession of some new and important information as to their designs. There has been considerable telegraphing between Madrid and the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, and enough is known to make it certain that the French legation in Spain is keeping a most careful watch on Royalist intrigues beyond the Pyrenees and in Paris.

The moderate Republican organs accept the new ministry with good will, while the radicals are dissatisfied and urge an appeal to the country. The Monarchists assert that the new Cabinet is powerless to dominate the situation.

M. Ribot's decision to accept M. Burdeau's declination of the Ministry of Marine has caused a decided improvement in the situation. With Burdeau removed from the Cabinet it is believed there will be no difficulty in the new ministry securing the support of the Chamber, especially should such an acceptable person as Admiral Gervais take the place.

The trial of Charles de Lesseps, Marius Fontane, Baron Cottu and M. Eiffel was continued yesterday.

M. Fontane said that shortly after the formation of the Panama Canal Company he was placed in charge of the company's business with the press. He gave much information regarding the bribery of newspapers to prevent hostile attacks upon the company and also to prevent the publication of matter that would have shown the true condition of affairs on the Isthmus of Panama. Fontane stated that he held his position as manager of the company's affairs until 1885, when the exactions of newspapers became so heavy that he was compelled to abandon the post.

Interest in the proceedings was centered in the examination of M. Eiffel, the contractor. He admitted that he had cashed checks for 12,000,000 francs, which had ostensibly been drawn to pay for machinery, while he had actually expended only 1,500,000 francs for that purpose. He had given 2,000,000 francs to M. Hebrard to secure the contracts with the company and 2,000,000 francs to Baron de Reinach in order to secure the latter's influence in his favor with the Government.

M. Flory, the Government accountant, who recently examined the accounts of the Canal company, stated that M. Eiffel had been paid 69,000,000 francs on his contract and that his profit was 33,000,000 francs.

It required considerable questioning to bring M. Eiffel to the admission that besides the two million francs given to M. Hebrard and the two million francs given to Baron de Reinech two million had been paid by him to a certain contractor whose favor, like that of Hebrard and Reinech, was indispensable to success.

Presiding Judge Perivier then asked: "What did you do with the six million received by you for taking to pieces and shipping to the isthmus and there reconstructing machinery which, as a matter of fact, you never even supplied in this country?"

"I kept that sum," replied M. Eiffel, lamely, "because it formed part of my remuneration for the risk I was taking."

"But your contract provided that you receive 30 per cent. to be paid to you within 30 days of the date of sending the orders. Now, you took 2,885,000 francs from the Forges et Chanterade Mediterranee as a percentage, although the order was never executed. Do you think that this sum belonged to you?"

"It was not my fault that the order was not delivered. I myself have often paid on contracts which were never executed. Besides this contingency was contemplated by the general candidates of the transaction."

"I consider such a transaction void," replied Judge Perivier, severely, "since it was the result of an error, to call it nothing more. The prosecutor-general will tell you more about this to-morrow and at the subsequent sittings of this court."

M. Eiffel quailed visibly under these words and the audience rose from their seats to get a better view of the manner in which he bore the reproof.

We Should Live One Hundred Years.

We are century animals and have a perfect right to live out that period if we can. Many do so. Consumption has been killing off the flower of our youth through the centuries but it will do so no more. Why? Because "Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil," wherever used, cures consumption and the coughs and lung troubles which give rise to it. It will be like a suicide to die of consumption in future if "Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil" is within reach. In big bottles, 50c. and $1.00, at all Drug Stores.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle Free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c. and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

Keep it on Hand.

SIRS,—I always keep a bottle of Hagyard's Yellow Oil for cuts, sprains and bruises. The folks at the house use it for almost everything. I know it to be a good medicine, it is an excellent mollifier for cracked or chapped hands.

NEW SENATOR HONORED

HE IS GIVEN A PRESENT OF A SILVER SERVICE.

Members of the Dominion Ministry and Other Prominent Men Assemble at Niagara Falls to Do Honor to Senator Ferguson.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Jan. 13.—The complimentary banquet tendered Dr. John Ferguson of this town in honor of his elevation to the Senate of Canada took place last evening and was a grand success in every particular. The Canadian Government car "Ottawa" arrived on the 11 a.m. G.T.R. train, containing Hon Mackenzie Bowell and Secretary Payne, Mr. J. F. Wood, Hon. Mr. Angers. Mr. N. Clarke Wallace, Hon. J. C. Patterson, Dr. Montague, M.P., Haldimand; Mr. J. C. Boyle, M.P., Monck; William McCleary, M.L.A., Welland, arrived on M.C.R. evening train.

The occupants of the "Ottawa" were met at the depot by a committee of local Conservatives and shown the fairyland winter scenery of Niagara. The Town Hall where the banquet was held was elaborately decorated with bunting, Union Jacks and potted plants. The four large tables, with covers for 150, were laden with the richest and finest of viands.

About 200 attended the banquet. Seated at the table of honor were Chairman William McCleary, M.L.A.; at his right, Hon. Dr. J. Ferguson, Hon. Mackenzie Bowell at his left and the following grouped about the table: Hon. Mr. Angers, Hon. J. C. Patterson, N. Clarke Wallace, J. F. Wood, Dr. Montague, M.P., Col. Tisdale, M.P., Simcoe, and Mr. Boyle, M.P., of Monck, and Mayor S. K. Binkley of Niagara Falls and others.

The gallery was well filled with the fair sex. An orchestra was located at the rear of the banquet hall and furnished enlivening music during the evening.

After justice was done to the sumptuous spread Chairman McCleary called those assembled to order and introduced the toast list as follows:

The Queen, the Governor General, the Army and Navy—this coupled with the names of Hon. J. C. Patterson and Col. Tisdale of Simcoe; the Guest of the Evening, Hon. Dr. Ferguson, to whom the chairman read an address, and made a presentation.

The presentation consisted of a sterling silver tea service of six pieces, being tea, coffee and water pots, sugar bowl and creamery, with salver, with cabinet for same. The whole number was engraved with the Ferguson crest—a Scotch thistle, topped with a bee, and the family motto: "Dulcius ex Asperis;" on the other side the monogram "J. F.," with this inscription on the pitcher:

"Presented to Hon. John Ferguson by his Conservative friends in the Niagara District on his elevation to the Senate of Canada, Jan. 12, 1893." The cost of same was $500.

When the honored guest arose the cheers and applause were tumultuous. The ladies in the gallery waved their handkerchiefs and the men cheered until they were hoarse. When the enthusiasm closed, Dr. Ferguson said:

This is the most embarrassing moment of my whole public life. How shall I thank you for all this kindness, all this hospitality? If some of you can suggest how I can thank you to-night I would take it as a kindness. My knowledge of the English language does not supply me with words adequate to express to you my gratitude for all this generosity and all this kindness. It requires a stouter heart than I possess to witness this grand banquet and to look upon this grand service of silver that you have presented to me. It is far more than I deserve. [Cries of No! No!] It is far more than my political service deserves.

Continuing he said he had always the greatest pleasure in representing this grand old historic County of Welland. This was a historical county, because in this county our forefathers had shed their blood and had sacrificed their lives that they might enjoy British liberty, British freedom and British protection on this continent. [Cheers.]

You all know what British liberty and British protection mean. Even the humblest British subject was protected. [Cheers.] This county, therefore, on account of its historical association deserved to be well represented in the councils of this country. [Loud cheers.]

While in Parliament he had served them not without error, but certainly with fidelity and according to his best judgments. It was impossible that in a country like this, made up of men of strong and intelligent opinions, he could give perfect satisfaction. It seemed sometimes to be forgotten that in national as in domestic affairs compromises were necessary and that charity and toleration were required in judging of parliamentary measures. Passion and prejudice listened, however, to no compromises, and public men had to often deal with angry elements. Politicians should be peace-makers, and it had been his aim to teach patience and mutual forbearance as between all warring factions.

He was gratified to have so many Cabinet Ministers present with him on this occasion and join in doing him honor. He would never be able to repay the debt of gratitude under which they placed him, and he assured his hearers it would be his aim in the new position to which he had been elevated to their confidence and continued friendship.

He spoke feelingly of his long experience in fighting the battles of the Conservative party in Welland, and concluding said he should never forget the kindness that had been shown him nor the magnificent demonstration and testimonial they had tendered to him. The evening would be a monument by the wayside from which he would date future events in his political career, and would hand the beautiful service down to the keeping of his children and grandchildren. [Continued cheers.]

Hon. Mr. Angers replied to the toast of the Dominion Cabinet. He said this was his first visit to Ontario and he brought with him the good-will and friendship of the people of Quebec.

Speeches were also made by N. Clarke Wallace, Hon. M. Bowell, Dr. Montague and Mr. Boyle.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 14, 1893.

MINISTERS IN TORONTO.

NO LESS THAN THIRTEEN DELIVER ADDRESSES.

The Policy of the Past is to be Maintained—The Premier Has No Desire for Tariff Reform if That Means Reduction.

TORONTO, Jan. 14.—One of the largest and most enthusiastic meetings ever held in Toronto was that which last night welcomed Sir John Thompson and his colleagues of the Conservative Government. The Auditorium was densely packed.

President Armstrong said: On behalf of the Young Men's Conservative Association I thank you, ladies and gentlemen, for this magnificent turnout in honor of our Prime Minister and his able colleagues. There are more Ministers with us in Toronto to-night than for many, many years, and I am sure you will enjoy the intellectual treat few, in a quarter of a century, have enjoyed. There are no less than thirteen members of the Government here to-night. At many earnest requests we desire to hear from them all, and I ask from you a hearty welcome for them all. Sir John Thompson will alone speak at length. Our other guests will give short, pithy speeches, and in that way we will hear from all. Seven or eight years ago Sir John Thompson entered the House of Parliament, and we can say with safety that he has no superior in that arena of debate. He has met and vanquished all—[applause and cheers]—even such an intellectual giant as the Hon. Edward Blake. I am sure that under the leadership of our First Minister there is a great future for the Conservative party in this country. We all feel certain that he will not only legislate for the demands of the hour, but for the demands of the future. [Loud applause]. I will now introduce to you Sir John Thompson, Prime Minister of Canada. [Cheers and tremendous applause.]

Sir John Thompson on rising was greeted with another outburst of applause and cheers. He said: Mr. President, ladies and gentlemen,—I am most grateful to you for the kind reception just extended to me, and I am grateful to the Young Conservative Association for this great opportunity to address a large body of the people of Toronto. We heard that you had a great many young men in the association, and we have brought a number of our young men from Ottawa to greet you and to make your acquaintance this evening. I agree with what the President said on the occasion of his inaugural address to the effect that it is to associations like these that the future of the party and the future of the country must depend. I was amused to see in one of the Opposition papers that it was high time the Toronto association had a minister of its own. [Laughter.] Ladies and gentlemen, I recognize the importance of the association. This association of nearly 5000 members is worthy of its minister, and until it can get a better one I want to be understood as being a candidate for the place. [Cheers and applause.] I need not tell you, as I have often told the people of my own province, that the people of Toronto, awake and active and alive as they are to public questions, send the pulse-beats of public opinion throughout the land whenever our great electoral struggles come on.

I cannot help stating at this early part of my address the existing desirability as a means of influencing public opinion of the establishment of a permanent home for the Conservative associations of this city. A home for the Conservative associations, where all could be accommodated and the work of all combined, would be the most fitting tribute to the memory of the great statesman who for nearly a quarter of a century was at the head of this great party. I hope this will be the Macdonald memorial in this city. [Loud applause.] I hope that the idea thus put forward with a view of giving not only accommodation but of establishing headquarters for the organization of the party will be taken up, and that it will result in a substantial monument to our departed chieftain.

You have lately been addressed by the leader of the Opposition, as have also the people of Hamilton. You have heard of the lingering, fluttering hope the Opposition entertains of coming into power. The worthy leader of the Opposition quoted a parallel, namely, that the Whigs of England were once nearly 50 years out of power—[laughter]—fifty years sojourning in the wilderness of opposition. [Renewed laughter.] He had forgotten to state that while the Whigs were in opposition Conservative statesmen were laying broad and deep the foundations of the greatest Empire the sun had ever shone on. [Cheers and loud applause.] Thus the necessity of a permanent home for your association is emphasized. We have been in power for fifteen years, and if we are to remain in power for the other 35 years you will surely be in need of a permanent home. [Laughter and applause.]

Mr Chairman, our coming before you as a new administration has been heralded in such a way that I fear we must disappoint you this evening. We have been heralded as having a new story to tell you. The party to which I belong obtained power nearly 15 years ago. We told you then what we proposed to do, and we stand now upon the same platform. We gained power on our platform then and we have held it with the approval of the Canadian people ever since. The great ambition of that party has been to establish and uphuild Canada. That was the object of the National Policy—a policy that has been travestied in a hundred ways. The lines of that policy were laid in such a way as to mean far more than a mere tariff arrangement. It meant the opening up of the great Northwestern Territory, where a home was awaiting our farmers who had been till then attracted to the Western States. It meant the development of the country going forward with the extension of lines of railway which were to reach not only the principal points in the older provinces but the desolate lands of the Northwest, and which were to forge links connecting the far, remote Province of British Columbia, with her sister provinces on the Atlantic. It was a policy that took into account whatever concerned the advancement and progress of Canada. We have expended large amounts of money in promoting the objects of this policy—too much, it is said. We have expended money freely to complete the railway and canal schemes of the country, which had such a potent influence in consolidating the country and in making Canada a great nationality. I have to tell you to-night, as the unworthy successor to the great statesman who followed our late chieftain, and who has only withdrawn from active political life on account of the heavy hand of affliction, I have to tell you we will continue the policy of the past and will make Canada a nation if the earnest, patriotic efforts of young Canadians can do it. [Cheers.] We have been addressed on the position of Canada from time to time. We have been told that the country is not prosperous. We have, during the last two or three weeks—during the last week in fact—had placed before us from the mouths of responsible men facts touching the progress of the country, which dealing with the railway and canal system, the accumulated savings of the people, the business of life insurance companies, or any other mode of investment, or with the aggregate trade and commerce of the country—we have had facts placed before us, I say, which show that no five millions of people on the globe are more active and more alive and more progressive than the five millions of Canadians to-day. [Cheers and applause.] I ask you to note two important facts. We have been told, notwithstanding all evidences of business activity, that nearly a million Canadians have fled from our prosperity. [Hear, hear.] Ladies and gentlemen, have our opponents up to this moment controverted a single item in that array of statistics which prove beyond a doubt the prosperity and business activity of the people? Have they attempted to wrestle with one set of these figures or dispute their conclusions? No; for an answer to all these evidences of national prosperity they talk of the exodus. You will see that I am not going to shirk that question.

Sir John then proceeded to a comparison of the methods of the two parties in dealing with this question of the exodus, and argued conclusively and clearly that, while the Liberals when in power did practically nothing to this end, the Conservative party had effectively checked the exodus. The difference between the two parties had been that 15 years ago the Liberal statesmen were asked to deal with the question and keep Canadians in Canada; but they had denied the right and power to avert the evil either by legislation or governmental effort. Sir John Macdonald on the other hand, as soon as he held the reins of power, together with his colleagues, created a market in Canada for Canadian products, and in this and other ways grappled successfully with the difficulty, and proved that it was possible to at least partially check the exodus and give employment to a large number of those who were seeking it in the United States. No one supposed that the exodus could be completely stopped, for it was partly a result of Canadian enterprise to go across the border and there try their fortune. By the methods adopted by Sir John A. Macdonald's Government removals from Canada to the United States no longer existed as a matter of necessity. One of the steps considered essential was that the great and fruitful lands of Manitoba and the Northwest should be opened up to the young farmers of Ontario, and another was by keeping the home market for minerals and other resources for Canadians. Both had been done. He still admitted the exodus, but there were exoduses of different kinds. For instance, we had the Cartwright exodus—[laughter]—which reached the figure of a million and a half. Someone, however, turned round Sir Richard's calculations, applied it to the United States, and showed that there had been an exodus from the Republic of no less than six millions and a half. [Applause.] The Liberal party's leader had claimed that Canada's exodus had been so great that we were unable to keep even our "beggarly" five millions of people we have in it. While the population had grown in the last decade 17 per cent. it had never quite reached that mark yet, and such talk on the part of the Liberals was what their great orator had characterized as trash and buncombe.

"What is the exodus?" asked Sir John. Facts had been ascertained from the United States records which showed that the whole population of the United States, Canadian born, is 930,000. How many of those have we lost in the last decade and how many in the decade before? We have lost in the last ten years 265,000 people, but the loss in the decade before that was far greater, though not in numbers, in percentage. In the decade before that we increased the population 50 per cent., which had been pulled down in the next to 36 per cent. The exodus had been ascribed to the National Policy by its enemies. What is in the National Policy that has created an exodus? asked the speaker. Is it that the number of our working people is less than before the adoption of the National Policy? Let us take the figures of the census.

Altogether we find that, apart from the increase of minors in the country, the pay roll of persons employed in industries has increased in the last ten years by 112,000 operatives. [Applause.] Is it that capital has been flowing from the country under the National Policy? These same disagreeable figures we are challenged to look at show that the capital on this side has increased by $190,000,000 during the last ten years. Again, we find that in wages $41,000,000 more were paid at the end of the decennial period than were paid at the beginning of the decennial period when the operation of the National Policy was just beginning. One hundred and sixty millions had been added to the products, as compared with that of 10 years before. We were told that, if our opponents could get into power, as a contrast to the results of the National Policy, Canada would experience greater prosperity. The Liberals were in power and the prosperity was not visible even by the aid of a microscope. [Applause and laughter.] What had the Conservative party on the other hand practically done? As regarded the people of the Province of Quebec who were emigrating to the United States, and the people of the Maritime Provinces, let us remember the fact that we have given to the people of these districts in wages and are giving for wages now two millions of dollars a year more for the employment of labor in cotton and leather manufactures which had hitherto drawn the principal part of the population who had emigrated from Quebec and the Maritime Provinces to the United States. This had been one of the results and achievements of the National Policy.

The speaker then reviewed the history of the Liberal-Conservative party in the past, to show what it would be in the future. "And," he continued, "the National Policy, as I have described it to you as a means of developing the resources of Canada and welding its people together, is the policy we intend to follow." [Applause.] "What advantage," continued Sir John, "would it be to have our exodus to the United States swollen by operators who would be thrown out of the factories of Canada and added to the pay roll of the United States; what advantage would it be to have our young farmers instead of living in Manitoba and the Northwest to have been still plodding on in the State of Michigan?" Sir John told his audience that the Liberal-Conservative party of to-day stood for such national development as would make this country a great country, a united country and a nationality in itself. [Prolonged applause.]

Three years ago, said Sir John, we threw off $12,000,000 of tariff duties. We will continue the work. Where we can reduce taxation we shall do so—and do so in the early future. [Cheers.]

We have been taunted with looking to Washington, with waiting on the United States. Well, what would you think of a Minister of Trade and Commerce if he shut his eyes to the commercial movements of other countries, if he cared nothing about their taxation, but went on an iron-bound tariff which, like the laws of the Medes and Persians, was never to be altered. The best Minister of Trade and Commerce is the one who keeps the keenest look out. It is only in that way we can see where is the need of legislation either to build up or pull down.

Let me ask you to consider what is the policy we are asked to adopt instead of this. What is the proposition of the leaders of the Opposition to increase our trade, workmen's wages and increase employment that will bring more capital into the country? It is free trade. That policy, I humbly think, would take more operatives out of Canada in one year than had gone in the last ten years. [Cheers.] To test their policy read their own words. According to Mr. Laurier they propose to have absolute free trade as in England, they propose to give you at the same time a tariff of 60 or 80 per cent. as against England and all the world except the United States. [Cheers.]

Is that the kind of free trade they have in England? [Voices: "No."] What would the apostles of free trade, Richard Cobden and John Bright, think of a proposition of free trade with the neighboring country and the famous McKinleyism against the world. English Liberals would not know a man in whose mouth such sentiments found an echo. [Cheers.]

Sir John then said: You might have got unrestricted reciprocity last February. Why did we not get it? Because it was an American policy against Britain. There was to be a common tariff against all the world except the United States, and are we to be obliged distinctly to discriminate against the Mother Country?

On these terms we could have got unrestricted reciprocity. On those terms we shall never get it. [Loud cheering.] And I say further, that on these terms the Canadian people will never let the Liberals take it. [Renewed cheering.]

Sir John then gave an additional illustration that this is an American policy. Those who heard Mr. Blaine and Mr. Foster discuss this question at Washington, saw that if their proposals had been adopted this country would be at the mercy of the United States. The tariff would be made at Washington, and our trade be practically cut off from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Sir John expressed himself to the same effect on this question as at the Board of Trade banquet. "We were willing," said he, "to make a bargain on the fairest terms. But no; the American ministers said the question must be settled on the ground of unrestricted reciprocity. In such circumstances our fisheries would have been exhausted and depleted, as were the American fisheries several years ago.

These are the terms that the Canadian people do not want, and never will have, and if the leaders of any political party attempt to make the people believe that they can have free trade and McKinleyism, it is like riding two horses at the same time. [Cheers and laughter.]

Amid loud cheering Sir John said: "We will adhere to the principles and traditions that have made the Conservative party what it is, and made Canada what it is. Still we are glad to welcome the sentiments of adhesion to British nationality which have been made by statesmen on the other side.

The welfare of this country, its union, yea its existence, depend on the hearty cooperation of both political parties—[cheers]—in establishing British institutions here, and developing the great resources Canada has, and which will make her, as we are all proud to repeat whenever we think of her, the brightest possession that Britain has. [Loud cheering.] Please God, in the future the ties of affection and ties of mutual interest will not only be upheld, but strengthened and the alliance with the Empire be cemented. [Renewed cheers.]

My friend Mr. Maclean reminds me that I have not yet referred to one important question, viz., the Manitoba school matter Sir John was very explicit. Said he: I have nothing to conceal. It is a question which has raised the warmest feelings of the people of Canada on both sides of politics. The one solution of this question, so far as we are concerned, will be directly by what the constitution provides. An appeal has been presented asking the Governor-General to interfere with the existing system of education in Manitoba, as it was established years ago. Our right to interfere is challenged by those on the other side. Well, within the next 10 days we shall all hear that question discussed as to our power and obligations to deal with it.

Let not any man or woman suppose that lurking in the breasts of any Minister there lies a secret desire to interfere with the legitimate rights and powers of the province. [Tremendous cheering.]

We will not interfere with the rights and powers of any province, nor will we desert any duty which is imposed upon us by the constitution, no matter how painful to our feelings or obnoxious to us. [Cheers.]

Candidly and honestly we intend to be guided simply by the constitution, and the constitution as it will be expounded by the highest authorities that can be got to expound it, and not by the private opinion of anybody.

I repeat, we intend to stand by the constitution. I am not equivocating and not concealing. The whole question will be argued in the presence of the whole people of Canada. You will be able to see the arguments on both sides and to estimate the value of the testimony and the weight that should be attached to it.

In conclusion Sir John said, You will be satisfied that we have simply done our duty according to the law, whether it agrees with our own inclination or is against it. You will not ask me to say more. [Loud cheering, during which the Prime Minister resumed his seat.]

Hon. Mackenzie Bowell explained that the growth of Canada of late years had been so great that the varied interests of manufacture, commerce and agriculture had made his department an absolute necessity. He then enumerated some of the details of his duties, and stated that they were almost identical with those of the chairman of the Board of Trade in England. One reform he hoped to effect was the settlement of commercial disputes by arbitration and without going to the courts.

Sir Adolphe Caron, the next speaker, was glad of the opportunity he had of addressing such a large gathering of Toronto Conservatives. The Conservative party, the speaker said, had made Canada what it is to-day. The Conservatives of Quebec had been fighting the battles of the party under the old flag, which was loved in Quebec as in Ontario. The Conservative cause had been triumphant ever since the union of Sir John Macdonald and George E. Cartier, because that meant the union of the two races. The Conservative party was the party of union, the broad-minded party which allowed independent opinions to prevail, but which respects every opinion.

Hon. Charles H. Tupper was the next speaker. He was received with loud cheers. After expressing his pleasure at addressing a Toronto audience, he said:

The history of the Conservative party is the history of Canada, and the result is that Canada stands at the head of the list in the money exchanges of the world. [Applause.] This spoke more eloquently than he could.

The reason why we read of so many efforts being made to interfere with Canada was because our progress had been so marked. "Do you think the United States would interfere with us if it were not for the fact that during the last few years we have not only jumped into the foreground, but we are tackling in first-class fashion the very commerce of our neighbors and our rivals themselves." [Loud applause.]

Their opponents had told them when Sir John Macdonald proposed to build the Canadian Pacific Railway that the burden would crush them to the earth, and that nothing but desolation would overspread the country. At the Board of Trade banquet the other day it was not necessary for Mr. Van Horne to refer to the success of the road. But he told of what they were going to do in the future, namely, create a fast Atlantic service. [Hear, hear.] And with a fast Atlantic service and a fast Pacific service and a vast continental railway, it will take something more than a straddle-bug policy to shake the faith of the people of this country in the policy of the Conservative party. [Tremendous applause.]

He concluded amid much applause by saying that he relied upon the young men of the city of Toronto to assist in crushing the leaders of the Opposition to the wall until they are consistent and Canadian.

The Hon. Mr. Haggart was then introduced. In his section of the country, he said, they always looked to Toronto for the support of the Conservative party. Toronto, the centre of intelligence, was always true to Conservatism. [Applause.]

Dealing with his own department Mr Haggart spoke of the difficulty as to navigating the Welland Canal. We would have a waterway of our own, he assured his hearers, superior to any on the continent, and three years from 1894 we would have a 14-foot navigation from Lake Superior down to the Atlantic. Referring to the Intercolonial Railway he was gratified to be able to assure the people that there would shortly be no deficit in the management of that railway. Instead of being a deficit there would be a surplus. For the current year ending in July instead of a deficit of $500,000 there had been a deficit of only $7000. [Applause.] And at the end of this year there would be no deficit at all. [Renewed applause.] The per mileage rate for running this railway now was less than that of any of the great roads of Canada carrying freight and passengers. In connection with his department Mr. Haggart promised still greater improvements in the canal system of Canada, and of a fast line of steamships in connection with our great railway system.

Hon. J. C. Patterson paid a high tribute to the leadership of Sir John Thompson and the Young Liberal-Conservative Associations of Western Ontario for the increase of the Conservative majority at Ottawa from 4 in 1891 to 28 in 1892. He gave some good advice to the earnest workers in the cause of Conservatism. "You have heard," said he, "your leader's enunciation of his policy. Is there any Canadian who is not proud, whatever his politics, of the manly, patriotic, Canadian, British ring of every sentence of his magnificent speech? [Cheers.] And let me say further that when that speech is read in other countries every monetary interest in which Canada is interested will be firmer in the markets of the world."

Hon. T. M. Daly, was introduced as "an old Toronto boy, who went to the west some 10 years ago and made himself famous." "I speak," said he, "for the people who populate the great west.

"We want to uphold a Government that will maintain this Canada of ours for Canadians." Then he told of the deep pulse of loyalty in those vast western provinces. Instead of emigration to the United States people from the eastern provinces are settling down and doing well in the Northwest. They are happy, prosperous and loyal. [Cheers.]

Hon. Mr. Angers, late Lieut.-Governor of Quebec, met with a most cordial reception.

The gallant gentleman gave amongst other statistics the following pertinent fact: There were 25,000 evictions last year in New York, against 5000 in the whole of Ireland. No less than 148 families had returned to Quebec after trying in vain to better themselves in the States.

Hon. Mr. Ives referred to the exodus from the Province of Quebec, which he said had been greatly magnified, and could be explained without political reference. But for the National Policy several thousands would be unable to earn their livelihood. Nobody leaves the Province of Quebec to go into the New England States to farm. Such a farmer would be a very rare bird indeed. Farmers in Quebec are better off under the National Policy than they could possibly be in the United States. "When Mr. Laurier attributes to the National Policy the exodus of his countrymen from Quebec, I say the exodus would have been trebled but for the National Policy. [Cheers.]

Mr. N. Clarke Wallace, in a short but effective speech, gave the thanks of the people of Toronto to the Prime Minister and his colleagues for their visit and their magnificent speeches.

Mr. Wallace entered into a number of statistics to show that there is no foundation for the alleged decadence of Canadian prosperity. The Customs receipts at Toronto were one-quarter of a million dollars larger last year than ever before. The same was true of the Dominion exports ending June last.

THE COUNCIL OF 1892 PASSES PEACEFULLY AWAY.

A Tribute Paid to Departing Members—They Reciprocate the Kindness—The Mayor's Eulogium—An Agreeable Year of Municipal Government—Reports and Communications—The Curtain Falls on 1892.

The last meeting of the old council for the past year was held in the council chamber last night. The session was characterized by very little business, but the most kindly feelings and sentiments were exchanged between the members before parting, and the curtain of time fell pleasantly upon the civic stage of the year 1892. The members present were His Worship Mayor Kendry and Councillors Cahill, Best, Winch, Kelly, Bradburn, Dawson, Wilson, Meldrum, McElwaine and Dennistoun.

After routine the following

PANTS FOR THE POLICE.

Mr. Kelly presented the following report:

To the Mayor and Council:

GENTLEMEN,—Your Committee on Supervision of Police beg leave to report that they have asked for tenders for supply of pants required by police, and would recommend that the tender of H. LeBrun & Co. for the supply of four pairs of pants at $5.75 each, be accepted.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
THOS. KELLY,
Chairman.

The report was adopted.

THE CORPORATION'S WORTHY POOR

Mr. Winch presented the following report:

To His Worship the Mayor and Council:

Your Charity Committee beg leave to report that the amount of relief disbursed during the month of December, 1892, amounts to the sum of $173, divided as follows: No's. one and Two Wards, 110.82; Ward No. Three, $35.50; Ward No. Four, $32.35.

The persons receiving relief and the amount received appears by the statements hereunto annexed.

All of which is respectfully submitted.
H. C. WINCH,
Chairman.

Mr. Winch stated that in the amount of $110.82 for No. 1 and 2 wards, it included other parts of the town as well.

The report was adopted.

Mr. Dawson thought a large supply of wood should be bought by the town for charity purposes and drawn by the town teams—not pay an outsider for drawing it.

Mr. Winch explained that this was always done in the past. The council had purchased good tamarac from Mr. Hazlitt at $2.50 per cord, because the farmers were not offering any for sale on the market at the time. The new council, however, would advertise for tenders for a supply of wood which would be drawn by the town teams.

PETERBOROUGH TO BE MADE KNOWN ABROAD.

Mr. Cahill stated he would like to see a move made to make known the advantages Peterborough possessed in view of the World's Fair this year. Manufacturers would be visiting this continent and he thought the matter should receive attention as it would do no harm to the town any way to place its excellent advantages before the public. The Board of Trade might take up the question and do something along this line. He did not think it necessary to move a resolution but merely wished to mention the matter.

TRIBUTE TO THE DEPARTING MEMBERS.

Mr. Cahill moved, seconded by Mr. Winch, that this council before dispersing this evening desires to place on record their deep regret at the loss to the town of the service of Messrs. Best, Young and Meldrum, who retire from the council for the ensuing year, each of whom has rendered valuable services to the corporation during their term of office.

The resolution was carried unanimously by a standing vote.

THE GOING OUT COUNCILLORS REPLY

Mr. Meldrum thanked the council for their kind treatment during the past year. The body had worked agreeably and harmoniously together this year, more so, in his opinion, than ever before. He thanked them all individually and collectively for their courteous and for their kind treatment. He would always remember the pleasant associations spent there, which would ever remain green in his memory.

Mr. Best spoke in a similar strain, and paid a deserved and grateful tribute to the services of town clerk Cobb, who was methodical, orderly and obliging. The speaker was like his friend Mr. Meldrum—out in the cold shade.

A voice—Not very deeply.

Mr. Best again thanked them for their kindness, and resumed his seat amid applause.

THE MAYOR'S CONSIDERATE SPEECH.

Mayor Kendry, in closing the proceedings, spoke as follows:

Gentlemen,—I can endorse all that Mr. Best has said in regard to Mr. Cobb, who has rendered me great assistance during the year. Without wishing to flatter him I will say Mr. Cobb is the best clerk the town ever had. Before adjourning I cannot allow this opportunity to pass without returning to you my sincere thanks for the consideration and courtesy I have received at your hands throughout the year. I believe I am safe in saying that in no previous council had the members worked more in unison or done better work in the interests of the town than the council of 1892, certainly in my experience the committees have never been better attended, or more careful thoughtful and considerate, given to the question under discussion. I looked up to-day and found that the council has had twenty-four meetings during the year, and this fact reminds me of how much we are indebted to the reporters for the full and complete reports they have given for the benefit of our citizens. I am glad to see that their services have been in some measure rewarded. The sentiments as voiced in the resolution passed to the retiring members, Messrs. Meldrum and Best, I heartily concur in. The town has lost the services of two of the ablest councillors that sat at this board during 1892, and I exceedingly regret that the town is to be deprived of their services during the present year. (Applause.)

The council then adjourned sine die.

A Disturbance

Isn't what you want, if your stomach and bowels are irregular. That's about all you get, though, with the ordinary pill. It may relieve you for a moment, but you're usually in a worse state afterward than before.

This is just where Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do most good. They act in an easy and natural way, very different from the huge, old-fashioned pills. They're not only pleasanter, but there's no reaction afterward, and their help lasts. One little sugar-coated pellet for a gentle laxative or corrective—three for a cathartic. Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Dizziness, Sick and Bilious Headaches, are promptly relieved and cured.

They're the smallest, the easiest to take—and the cheapest pill you can buy, for they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You pay only for the good you get.

Do not suffer from sick headache a moment longer. It is not necessary. Carter's Little Liver Pills will cure you. Dose, one little pill. Small price. Small dose. Small pill.

Keep it on Hand.

SIRS,—I always keep a bottle of Hagyard's Yellow Oil for cuts, sprains and bruises. The folks at the house use it for almost everything. I know it to be a good medicine, it is an excellent mollifier for cracked or chapped hands.

THE BIGGEST DAY IN 7 YEARS!

Saturday, December 3rd was the biggest day MR. J. J. SHEEHY has had in seven years. Why is this? Surely not because there is less competition. Certainly not because inducements are not being held out by others. Most assuredly not because prices of farm products are showing an upward tendency. Then why??

Simply because the purchasing public of the town and surrounding country have read Mr. Sheehy's advertisements, have inwardly digested them and have conclude that cheap sale or no cheap sale Mr. Sheehy is bound not to be undersold

We want every day in December to be a big day. How are we to accomplish this? Simply by offering to the public better value for the money than can be had elsewhere. Just cast your eye over the following quotations:—

All Wool Flannels, 26 in. wide, - -	17½	Good Linen Towels each - - -	5½
9 lb. Wool Blankets, - - - - -	$3.75	Grey Wool Blankets, - - -	31c. a lb.
14 yds. Heavy Grey Canton Flannel,	$1.00	25 yards Factory Cotton, - -	$1.00

These few quotations will probably give an idea of what we are doing and a glance at our BARGAIN TABLE in the centre of our store will convince the most skeptical that when it comes to general bargains we certainly are very decidedly "in it."

HARD ON CANADA.

The Montreal Witness says:—"France is denounced as an atheistic country: yet in what Christian country have we seen, in a time of the exposure of political corruption, fifteen members of parliament calling the whole country to prayer for political purification. Quebec had recently equally damaging exposures; was this done then? Canada had also equally damaging exposures; was it done with regard to these by the votaries of either belief? The Panama exposures have shaken France to her very centre and the guilty parties are calling on the rocks to cover them. Canada accepts equal infamies as customary episodes and the performers in the scandals continue to hold officially the confidence of the people or in opposition pose successfully as popular idols."

The Witness might have pointed out that the exposures of political corruption in Quebec were followed by population condemnation of the perpetrators at the polls, while in virtuous Ontario the exposures of Dominion Government corruption were followed by the people patting the perpetrators on the back and renewing the license to plunder.

ANOTHER LITTLE ONE SAVED.

"My darling girl was saved from death a short time ago by Lactated Food. One doctor was of opinion that the child had consumption of the bowels, and therefore did not give us much hope. At the time when baby was so ill, my sister came on to help me in my trouble. When she found our baby's condition she recommended me to try your Lactated Food. I procured a supply, and at once fed it to baby, giving up all other foods as well as medicines. In less than a week I could see a happy change; my darling gained strength and could sleep well. She is now bright and strong; she was saved to us by your great and wonderful food."

Such letters as the above are often sent in by thankful mothers who have had their infants made healthy and vigourous by Lactated Food. The claim that Lactated Food "saves babies lives" is a true and just one. We urge every mother to give this magnificent food a trial, if she is unable to nurse her baby. Its use means health, life and strength.

Lyntick refused, whereupon Irwin tried to make him do so. An altercation ensued, and Mr. Irwin was rather roughly handled. He was "hauled up," before Col. Deacon, on Monday last, and his fine and costs amounted to $6.90. He will probably not again try to force Mr. Lyntick to ride.

CAPRIVI'S ARMY BILL.

His Argument Now is That Germany Must Be On the Offensive

BERLIN, Jan. 13.—Chancellor Von Caprivi last night attended a meeting of the Reichstag Committee of 28 appointed to consider the Army Bill, and made an important speech, setting forth the necessity for the adoption of the bill without change or modification.

Referring to the relations existing between Germany and Russia the Chancellor declared there was no enmity between the Emperor and the Czar and neither was there any enmity between the two Governments.

With regard to the relations between France and Russia, Chancellor Von Caprivi said that probably an entente in regard to the military arrangements existed between those two countries.

He then referred to the possibility of an attack being made upon the nations composing the triple alliance—Germany, Austria and Italy—and said if such an attack was made the chief onslaught of the attacking forces would doubtless be directed against Germany as the strongest member of the triple alliance. Experience had shown that when war threatened it was best for Germany to take the offensive.

To do that would require that the armies of the triple alliance have a considerable numerical superiority. As matter of fact the triple alliance was in the minority in point of numbers. Germany's long eastern frontier especially could only be protected by employing offensive tactics. An offensive policy was a good policy. It meant short wars with quick victories and lasting results.

All this could be obtained only by assuming the offensive. Germany's present forces would no longer suffice against the increased strength of their might-be opponents. The Government, therefore, would not be able to take the responsibility of the future defence of the country unless the armaments were increased.

In the course of his speech Chancellor von Caprivi made extended reference to the internal condition of France. That country, he said, was in a state of ferment. Though there was no statesman in that country at the present moment of such prominence as to be likely to seize power the probability of a dictatorship was not to be excluded from German calculations.

Speaking of the renewal of the triple alliance upon the expiration of the present treaty the Chancellor said that a renewal, though hoped for, was not absolutely certain.

A Cure for Dyspepsia.

In investigation the cause of this prevalent complaint it is found to rest principally in wrong action of the stomach and impurity of the blood. These exciting causes are easily removed by the regulating, purifying tonic and digestive effects of Burdock Blood Bitters, hence the success of B. B. B. in curing dyspepsia in any form, no matter of how long standing or how severe it may be.

Altogether Disappeared

DEAR SIRS,—About three months ago I was nearly wild with headaches I started taking B. B. B. and took two bottles and my headaches have disappeared altogether now. I think it a grand medicine.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

Is superior to all other preparations claiming to be blood-purifiers. First of all, because the principal ingredient used in it is the extract of genuine Honduras sarsaparilla root, the variety richest in medicinal properties. Also, because Cures Catarrh the yellow dock, being raised expressly for the Company, is always fresh and of the very best kind. TO BE OR NOT TO BE "IN IT."

A Life Agent called at a friend's place one day,
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had seen "the bore" coming and fled from his way
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had heard so much said, he was tired and sick
Of insurance and agents—'twas all a blank trick,
When one's coil must be shuffled to win it,
HE WASN'T IN IT.

A bit of a draft blew o'er his bald head,
HE WAS IN IT;
Pneumonia sent him straightway to his bed,
HE STAYED IN IT;
His doctor made of it a "quite special" case,
To save him for running still more of life's race,
But the grave took some chances to win it,
AND HE'S IN IT.

When approached by a gent for insuring your life,
GET RIGHT IN IT;
It's the right thing to do for your children and wife,
THEN STAY IN IT.
Remember that fires take your goods "out of sight,"
And that accidents happen each day and each night.
While insurance protects every minute,
IF YOU'RE IN IT.

A Bank Manager's Opinion.

HE IS "IN IT."

The General Manager of one of the leading banks in Canada, writing to a personal friend, says:—"I have no hesitation in saying that I place the CANADA LIFE upon the highest platform. It is in my opinion carefully, economically and honestly managed; its Reserve Funds are well invested; its rates of Premiums are low, and its future is, I think better assured than a great majority of Companies. I have my own life insured in the Company for a round amount, and would not hesitate to increase the amount of my policies should I decide upon taking out further insurance."

A Government Insurance Actuary's Opinion

On the Relation between Ordinary and Tontine Service.

It is frequently assertedby Companies whose business is nearly all tontined, that although the CANADA LIFE may and does pay large ordinary profits, yet it cannot compare so favourably on a long term distribution or tontine period, and that in the end better results can be obtained on a tontine policy in a large American Co. than on an ordinary or tontine policy in the CANADA LIFE. To prove the absurdity of this statement, the following piece of common sense is quoted from Mervin Tabor, late Actuary of the Illinois Goverment Insurance Department. In his well known book, "The Three Systems of Life Insurance," he says: "A company that gives large dividends on the ordinary kind of policies, can give much larger on the same kinds when Tontined, and a company that pays but meagre dividends on the usual forms, adopting perhaps the Tontine system to "cover up" its small surpluses, cannot be relied on for large returns of surplus under the Tontine Forms of Insurance."

The CANADA LIFE does not "cover up" its Quinquennial profits as some Companies do, but publishes them throughout the country.

It can and does surpass other Companies on Quinquennial profits. It should and will surpass them on Tontine profits.

WHY TO BE "IN IT."

BISHOP HAWKE'S REASON:—"I claim that Life Insurance is not only a humane, but I might say a Christian Institution."

LORD LYNDHURST'S REASON:—"A Policy of Life Insurance is always an evidence of prudent forethought. No man with a dependent family is free from reproach if not insured."

WHEN TO BE "IN IT."

The younger, the cheaper. Therefore insure when young. Besides by insuring in the CANADA LIFE now, you will share in three years' profits.

WHERE TO BE "IN IT."

The best place to be "in it" is in the Company that gives the best returns for the least money, consistent with absolute security. Therefore, in order to be "in it," choose the River Anchor Ice Causes Difficulty.

The anchor ice is giving manufacturers along the river bank considerable difficulty at present, and some of them have had to shut down on account of the immense quantities of this ice which has gathered in the race. The Dickson Company keep several men working at their dam all the time in order to prevent a blockade. Meldrum & Davidson have been unable to use their water power for the last three days and consequently had to shut down. In fact all manufacturers along the race have had to shut down the last day or two.

A Tree Fall on a Wood Chopper.

Mr. Alex. Clysdale, son of Mr. S. Clysdale, of Dummer, met with an accident last Thursday which will incapacitate him for the balance of the winter. While Mr. Clysdale was engaged in felling a tree against which another had lodged, the latter fell, grazing his arm and shoulder, fracturing his right leg above the ankle joint and severely bruising his foot. The most painful part of the mishap, however, however, was that the young man had to lie in agony while the tree was being cut, this having to be done before he could be released. Then after being freed he had to be carried three-quarters of a mile to a conveyance, and driven some distance to his father's residence. Dr. Ford, Norwood, attended the sufferer, who is doing as well as can be expected under the circumstances.—Register.

Real Merit

Is the characteristic of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it is manifested every day in the remarkable cures this medicine accomplishes. Druggists say: When we sell a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla to a new customer we are sure to see him back in a few weeks after more,—proving that the good results from a trial bottle warrant continuing its use. This positive merit Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses by virtue of the Peculiar Combination, Proportion and Process used in its preparation, and by which all the remedial value of the ingredients used is retained. Hood's Sarsaparilla is thus Peculiar to Itself and absolutely unequalled in its power as a blood purifier, and as a tonic for building up the weak and weary, and giving nerve strength.

LAST NIGHT'S CONCERT.

A Fairly Good Good House—A Good Programme Well Presented.

There was a fair-sized audience assembled in the opera house last night to enjoy the concert and elocutionary recital, but those who were present were prevented from the full enjoyment of the concert by the cold state of the hall—several ladies being quite ill from the effects of the low temperature. The stage was very tastefully degorated for the occasion.

The concert opened with a glee by the Octette Club—"Softly the Shadows Fall." The octette is composed of Mrs. W. A. Sanderson and Miss Jennie Rose, soprani; Miss Fawcett and Mrs. Stapleton, contralti; Mr. Manning and Mr. Crane, tenori; and Mr. Drope and Mr. Nelson, bassi. They sang their opening number very effectively — the harmony, balance of parts, shading, etc., receiving judicious consideration. Their second glee, "The Chough and Crow," was also well sung, Mrs. Sanderson, Miss Fawcett and Mr. Drope taking soli in excellent style. Very sweetly and cleanly they sang the sweet old, "Come Where my Love Lies Dreaming." Their rendering of the final number, the "Good Night" from "Ermine," was very creditable for a new organization with limited opportunites for rehearsal of so difficult a number. Altogether the club did excellently and with the facility which practice brings, the organization has a very useful musical future. The elocutionary feature of the evening was supplied by Mr. Kleiser, a rising Toronto reader. He gave several numbers and was received with much enthusiasm and very cordially recalled. Mr. Kleiser has a good voice and personal presence, good dramatic instinct and ability. He is a very effective reciter, especially in the lighter class of selections, though, in the only serious number he gave—Poe's "Raven"—he showed himself to excellent advantage. It must be said that he was unfortunate in the selection of his numbers. It is not a very high compliment to a Peterborough audience to "work off" on them the imbecile abominations of the "Spoopendyke" school of alleged humour. His reading of the funny domestic tiff of the newly wad lovers was, however, exquisitely done and doubtless his best number. Miss Minnie Gould, of Toronto sang two numbers—the first the "Daisy" and the second the English version of Tacea la Notte Placida from "Il Trovatore," which won for her an encore and she responded by singing very sweetly, "Dreams." Miss Gould's voice is inclined to be thin in the lower notes but is clear and sweet, though not strong, in the upper, and shows excellent cultivation. Miss Bustin, of Uxbridge played her accompaniments with sympathy and taste. Mr. J. Churchill Arlidge rendered two flute solos in his usual artistic and brilliant style. He was enthusiastically re-called in his first number, and played in response with moving sweetness "The Last Rose of Summer." The vocal side of the entertainment was seriously affected by the regrettable illness of Miss Vair, who was put down for the delightful "Mia Picirella" of Goure's. No little disppointment was felt at not having an opportunity of hearing her. Great credit is due Mr. Fred Clarke for the excellent accompaniments he furnished. He is the true accompanist—with a just idea of the musical subordination of the accompanist to the soloist. He played the accompaniments of Mr. Arlidge's difficult numbers practically at sight and practically without fault—Mr. Arlidge only arriving in town from Toronto a short time before the concert opened. The piano used on this occasion was an Evans furnished by Messrs. Jackson & Co.

A YOUNG BUT PROSPEROUS INSTITUTION.

The First Annual Meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association Held—Sound Financially—Bright Prospects and Tokens of Promise for the Future.

The first annual meeting of the directors of the Young Women's Christian Association was held in the cosy and attractive rooms of the organization on George street on Thursday night last. There was a fair attendance, Mrs. Fairbairn, the efficient president of the association, occupying the chair. The opening devotional exercises were very fervent and sincere and were led by Miss Code.

AN ENCOURAGING REPORT.

Mrs. John McKee, secretary of the Board meetings, presented the annual report which was full of hope, promise and thankfulness. The directors had asked the blessing of the Almighty to guide and direct them in all their actions during the past year, and he had abundantly blessed them and crowned their labours with success, for which the organization returned their devout thanks unto Him for his goodness and mercy. The work was new and the directors new to the work, but they had triumphed splendidly and many good results had followed. The association was beginning its second year free from debt.

The board of 18 members had held, the report stated, 26 very successful meetings during the past year. The work of looking after the rooms had been found to be too much for the board, and it was felt that the services of a general secretary were required to foster the good work being carried on, and accordingly Miss L. Barker was engaged about two months ago. Classes had been started in sewing, music, physical culture, etc., with beneficial effects. Miss Code's Bible class had been well attended, and the directors thanked her for the deep interest and hearty co-operation in the Y.W.C.A. The report closed by thanking especially the ladies of the Barnardo Home for their help in the work, and also the many warm friends of the Association, who had taken an interest and lent a sustaining hand to its success during the past year

THE GENERAL SECRETARY'S REPORT.

Miss Barker, the energetic secretary, next presented her report, stating that as she had been identified with the Association and its work for only some two months, it would be impossible to give an explicit and complete report. The Y. W. C. A. had 171 members in all, including 40 honorary and 54 sustaining members. The splendid work and refreshing spiritual benefit received by the members from the largely attend gospel meetings and the weekly Bible class were next dwelt upon. During the year classes had been started in sewing, physical culture, painting, etc, but were dropped owing to the small attendance. The association hoped instructions in these would soon be recommenced and would be grateful to any one who would gratuitously offer their services in teaching any useful branches of study. The secretary's report spoke hopefully for the future and expressed thankfulness to God for his many blessings in the past. They were free from debt. The object of the Young Women's Christian Association movement was to win all young ladies for Christ and to instil into God's people a higher and more consecrated zeal and devotion for the Christian life, duty work. The secretary hoped that heaven might bless all their efforts in this direction.

All spoke encouragingly and showed these various departments of Y.W.C.A. work to be in a healthy condition. The active members of the Association then elected by ballot the following ladies as Directors: Mrs. Fairbairn, Mrs. (Dr.) Bell, Mrs. Walsh, Mrs. (Rev.) Thom, Miss Nicholls, Miss Armstrong, Miss Hope, Miss Moore, Miss Hodgson, Mrs. J. McKee, Mrs. Green, Mrs. Mann, Mrs Mulholland, Mrs. Pearse, Mrs. Morrow, Mrs. (Dr.) Burnham, Mrs. (Dr.) Scott. The Board of Directors will meet and elect the officers and committees for the ensuing year in a few days.

DASH IN HATS.

How This Hat is Trimmed Perkily.

The superlative stand-up-and-outness of the trimming on the hat sketched leads me to wonder how we ever trimmed hats before wire and all the dash it made possible came in. It is too awful to think of! Starkness has held its own, and its own has been everything, for a long while. It suits the Canadian style of girl, every bit as well as it does the French girl and that in all one needs to know of a fashion. If it suits the French and the Canadian it will last, and the German and English may make up their own styles, and be hideous if they like. There is a steady level to the eyes of the American girl and an alert gleam about them that just goes with a bow on her hat that is all on end in a perfectly self possessed way. You see there is nothing rakish or unintended about even the wildest of these bows. They are all wired and meant to be just where and what they are. That is the way with some of our girls; they may appear daring but they are not. They never dare their own restrictions, but they make those restrictions for themselves, and they set them without fear. The very shape of the modern hat shows that, for it is up here and down there. It is lightly poised, but it is on to stay, and it knows its place. Every turn of it is meant to be just there, and carries conviction with it, no matter if it is in the most impossible place in the world for a turn on a hat to be. There is not a bit of fly-away about it; there is nothing irresponsible about it. The funny narrow ribbon and the little butter-fly bow may not be big enough to police a mosquito into place, but they have a determined and capable air. It is on almost every hat you see, and it is one of the outward and visible signs of the Canadian girl.

FLORETTE.

TEA TABLE TALK.

Lord Chief Justice Coleridge, of England, was as bright and witty as ever on his seventy-first birthday, which occurred not long ago.

One of the last official acts of the Emperor of Germany before the dawn of the new year was to sign the death sentence of a woman convicted of murder.

Two new novels, by distinguished authors, are soon to be published in France. One is by Francois Coppee, and will be entitled "Rivals." The other is by Victorien Sardou, who appears very fond of his revolutionary studies. It will be called "The Terror," and, of course, deals with the passions and politics of 1793.

In Mexico you can hire a street car and ride all over town in it a whole day by yourself for $3.50, and you can stop at any one place for two hours without extra charge. Not only that, your friends can hire a whole train of these street cars for your funeral at low rates. There is no other city in the world where you can have such a big funeral with a great deal of show for so little money as in the City of Mexico.

Captain de Place, of the First French Cuirassiers, has invented a very ingenious contrivance to which he gives the name of Schlseophone. The instrument is intended to indicate the presence of flaws in masses of metal. It consists of a microphone, to which a mechanical striker is attached, in conjunction with a Hughes's Sonometer, and comes to the aid of the human ear, enabling it to detect by the tone of the hammer stroke whether the particles of metal are in correct contact, or if interruptions occur in their connection. Thus by its aid it will be possible to decide whether an armor-piercing shell is capable of effecting penetration, or likely to break upon impact.

A correspondent in the Boston Transcript thinks that type-writers ought to write the names of the persons to whom they write letters in capital letters. To use ordinary letters, he says, "shows lack of consideration and good taste. No printer of any standing would issue a letter printed in this way. His training in his art has distinctly taught him not to do it. Manufacturers of type-writers claim that their machines are educators—that the operators must necessarily become proficient in spelling, punctuation and the proper use of capitals; but somehow this little matter of propriety and good taste in address and signature has thus far been greatly overlooked."

Everybody has a fairly correct idea of the meaning of the French phrase, coup d'etat. But one might know the French language and French history pretty well without appreciating how absurd it sounds to a Frenchman to hear a foreigner say, for example, that "the royalists are planning a coup d'etat against the republic." The Courrier des Etats Unis makes a remark or two on this head that many of our readers will thank us for reproducing. It says: "A coup d'etat can only be made by an established Government. It is a violent measure to which the Chief of State has recourse when he wishes, for example, to get rid of a troublesome Legislature, as in the case of Louis Napoleon on the 2nd of December. At the present time in France President Carnot alone can make a coup d'etat; but the republic has nothing to fear from the grandson of the organizer of victory. As to a pretender like the Duc d'Orleans, all that he could attempt against the republic would be a coup de main similar to those which threw ridicule upon the future Napoleon III. at Strasbourg and Boulogne."

The Directors, who are now the owners of the entire Capital stock, have decided, at the request of numerous friends of the Company throughout Canada, to enlarge the proprietorship of its stock, and to offer for sale, at par, ten thousand shares, of one hundred dollars each, fully paid and non-assessable.

Payments are to be made as follows:—Five per cent. on application; fifteen per cent. on allotment, twenty per cent. each in one, two, three and four months from the date of allotment. Applicants have the right to pay in full on allotment.

Applications for shares will be received until February 15th, 1893, at any of the offices of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, at the offices of the Union Bank of Halifax, and at the head office of the company, N. Y. Life Building, Montreal.

Forms of application for shares may be obtained at any of the above places, or they will be sent by mail on request.

Should no allotment of stock be made to any applicant for shares, the amount paid will be returned in full, and in the event of the Directors finding it impossible to allot the full number of shares applied for, the surplus of the deposit will be credited toward the amount payable on allotment.

The right is reserved of withdrawing the offer in whole or part at any time before allotment, and of allotting to any applicant any less number of shares than the number applied for.

As the dividends of the Company are payable quarterly, beginning with the first day of March next, allottees of stock will be entitled to receive a proportion of the quarterly dividend as declared, corresponding to the amount paid upon their subscription.

It is proposed to apply to the Stock Exchanges of Montreal and Toronto for official quotations of the shares of the Company.

The Consumers Cordage Company was organized in June, 1890, with a Capital of one million dollars, to operate several of the largest Cordage and Binder Twine Factories in Canada. It, at first, operated these under leases, but its operations having been successful, the Capital stock was subsequently increased to Three Million Dollars, and the leased properties were purchased.

The Company has no mortgage indebtedness; and, according to the law under which it was incorporated, none can be created without the consent of two-thirds of the shares holders, represented at a meeting called for the purpose.

The Company has placed in the hands of its Bankers:—

(a) Full statements of its affairs, certified to by Messrs. Caldwell, Tait & Wilks, Chartered Accountants.

(b) The following letter from Messrs. Abbotts, Campbell & Meredith, advocates, Montreal, upon the legality of its incorporation, and the issue of its stock:—

MONTREAL, January 5, 1893.

Consumers Cordage Co., Ltd., Montreal:—

GENTLEMEN,—We have examined the books and documents connected with the organization of the Consumers Cordage Company, Limited, and are of opinion that it has been properly incorporated, and that its capital stock of $3,000,000, as issued, is fully paid up and non-assessable, according to the provisions of the "Companies Act."

We are, yours truly,

(Signed), ABBOTTS, CAMPBELL & MEREDITH.

(c) A report from Messrs. Macmaster and McGibbon, Solicitors of the Company, that the titles to its Mills have been duly examined, and that no encumbrances exist.

Applicants for shares may examine these documents, copies of which may be seen at the Company's offices, and at the various offices of the Banks mentioned above.

The Consumers Cordage Company is probably the second largest Manufacturer of Cordage and Binder Twine in the world, and claims the following very material advantages over its competitors:—

1st. Ample capital to conduct its business which enables it:—

(a) To buy its raw material in larger quantities, and at lower prices.

(b) To use only the latest and most improved machinery, thus keeping its mills in the highest state of efficiency.

2nd. Economy in selling and distributing its manufactured product.

3rd. The business covers so wide a territory (its manufactured goods go to almost every civilised country in the world) that it cannot be seriously injured by local troubles; and its Manufacturing establishments are so scattered that the danger of severe loss by fire is very slight.

4th. Lower cost of production.

(a). By maintaining the sharpest competition between its several mills, it is enabled to introduce in all the best methods found in each.

(b). By spreading its commercial expenses over a larger output.

(c) By placing in one hand the purchasing of the Raw Materials and Manufacturing Supplies for the several Mills, thus securing lowest prices.

(d). By manufacturing for themselves many of their supplies.

The Company has always found it in its interest to divide the economies effected in production and distribution with the Consumer, and since its existence the Consumer has, upon the average, had a better article at a lower price than previously.

The Company does not claim to have any monopoly, or to earn monopoly profits; in fact, it has not done so. Since its organization it has been able, owing to the advantages above referred to, to earn a net return on its present capital of not less than 10 per cent. per annum (as statements in their Bankers' hands will show), and the Directors believe that these profits will be maintained in the future, as the cost of production and distribution shows each year a marked decrease.

The Dividend for the year ending 31st October, 1892, was at the rate of 8½ percent. per annum. The past record of the Company and its present position justify the Directors in believing that quarterly dividends of one and three-quarters per cent. can be paid, and should the profits for the present year be as large as the outlook promises, the final quarter's dividend might be increased.

Any further information may be had at the head office of the Company at Montreal

HAIRDRESSING.

Florette Gives a Hint and Complete Directions.

We read beautiful descriptions in novels about the girls who just tie their hair in a loose knot and let it fall, who thrust a single rare old dagger through their coils and are all right, or whose locks sweep unconfined, and it all sounds lovely, but such a girl as the one pictured has to expend lots of hairpins and a good deal of time. Her effects are brought about, not by wholesale simplicity, but by devious details and curlicues and little ends—a feather here, a pin there or a bit of lace cocked up somewhere quite unexpectedly. She simply must have her hair in varying lengths. There must be some cut a bit short for the front, and the side pieces had better be a little shorter than the full length, though the present fashion dictates that they be taken in with the regular coil. Then she must have some short locks at the nape of the neck, not by any means the ugly fringe that used to be worn there, but a length that will curl prettily and draw up to make a finish to the bask of the coiling. Contour is everything, and as the merest little twirl will effect a modification of contour, that is why all these little twirls must be studied. Hairdressers of old used to say that there is just one way the most becoming to each woman, and that each woman should find out and stick to that one way; but modern beauty is so much a fleeting matter of expression and piquancy that the modern girl may make herself lovely in any of a dozen ways. Everyone however must have the hair in perfect condition. It must be clean as silk to be soft, and its cleanliness must not be all due to soap and water, or whatever you use, but largely to the constant and patient use of the brush. Granted this, and you may choose a new way to fix your locks each day and be lovely in each one.

TEA TABLE TALK.

It is the icemen now who take the cake.—Lowell Courier.

The barber can hold another man's jaw when he can't hold his own.—Philadelphia Times.

One of the oldest of British noblemen is the Duke of Northumberland, who is nearly ninety. He has been a member of five Cabinets and sat in Parliament for twenty years before he succeeded to his title.

Uiccio Cappuccio, the King of the Neapolitan "Camorra," died the other day. For twenty years he and his band of a few hundred conspirators paralyzed the movements of the law and the police whenever they chose to do so.

"See, Bridget, I can write my name in the dust!" Servant (admiringly)—"Oh! mum, that's more than I can do. There's nothin' like eddication, after all, is there, mum?"—Wonder.

The Empress of Austria (now residing at her palace in Corfu, on which, from first to last, quite $2,500,000 has been expended), has ordered her steam yacht, the Miramare, to be prepared for a cruise to Madeira, the Canary Islands, and the West Indies.

Lieutenant Peary will probably take his wife with him when he goes to Europe next April on a lecturing tour; but it is now reported that he will leave her behind when he undertakes the journey to the Arctic regions now in contemplation.

Mrs. Robert Louis Stevenson is about to publish something again. Mrs. Stevenson, her friends think, has only less remarkable powers as a writer than her present husband. Before her marriage to him she was a welcome contributor to some of the leading American magazines.

W. H. Hogaboom, Osgoode Station, Ont. writes:—"It is with pleasure that I add my testimony to the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. My wife was run down and weak, and has been so for six years. I decided to get Pink Pills and must say they have given great satisfaction. My wife is able to go to church now for the first time in two years." Sold by all dealers, 50c. a box or six boxes for $2.50. Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

To invigorate both the body and the brain use the reliable tonic, Milburn's Aromatic Quinine Wine.

Outrivals all Others.
In curing coughs, colds, hoarseness, asthma, bronchitis, sore throat, and all diseases of the throat and lungs, there is one remedy which is unequalled by any other. We refer to Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup which has effected many remarkable cures this season.

A Pleasant Herb Drink.
The best cure we know of for Constipation and Headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs and is made for use by pouring boiling water on to the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders and is now the sovereign remedy with ladies for clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the packages at 50c. and $1

Victoria Carbolic Salve is a great aid to internal medicine in the treatment of scrofulous sores, ulcers and abscesses of all kinds.

Mrs Chas. Smith of Jimes, Ohio, writes: I have used every remedy for sick headache I could hear of for the fifteen years, but Carter's Little Liver Pills did me more good than all the rest.

Three Practical Points.
Three practical points: 1st. Burdock Blood Bitters cures dyspepsia by acting promptly on the stomach, liver and bowels. 2nd. Burdock Blood Bitters cures bad blood by the same specific action combined with its alterative and purifying powers. 3rd, Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases arising from the two first named, such as constipation, headache, biliousness, dizziness, scrofula, etc., by removing their cause as shown and proved in thousands of indisputably recorded cases.

VERY MANY SUCH.

RHEUMATISM.—Col. DAVID WYLIE, Brockville, Ont., says: "I suffered intensely with rheumatism in my shoulders. Could not stand; rubbed them with St. Jacobs Oil. In the morning I walked without pain."
NEURALGIA.—Mr. JAMES BONNER, 156 Yonge St., Toronto, Ont., writes: "St. Jacobs Oil is the only remedy that relieved me of neuralgia, and it effectually cured me."
BACKACHE.—"I can highly recommend St. Jacobs Oil as being the best medicine in existence; it promptly cured me of severe lumbago." C. N. BOYER, Carillon, Quebec.
SPRAINS.—"My mother received a very severe sprain and bruise by falling down stairs. St. Jacobs Oil cured her in a couple of days." R. BURNAND, 124 Tecumseth St., Toronto, Ont.
BRUISES.—Mr. AITCHISON, Hamilton, Ont., Fire Department, says he met with a serious accident and his back and shoulders were terribly bruised, but by the use of St. Jacobs Oil he was completely restored.

The demand for scrubs is not lively.
Adopt a system for rotation of crops.
Give your cows a good bed to lie on.
Give a cow her own time to get around.
Whatever is lost in flesh is so much dead loss.
A lath will cover a crack and stop a draft.
Keep dry dust where your hens can get at it.
It is all wrong to make a scavenger of the hog.
Your pigs should be kept not only warm but dry.
There are no heavier milkers than the Friesians.
There is no more prepotent breed than the Devon.
There is no better beef breed than the Shorthorns.
The barn owl is death on rats. Give him a roost.
The poorest butter fat is that which separates last.
You must be judge of the quality of your feed stuffs.

Much nonsense is written about the economy of creameries.
A good pedigree is valuable when a good animal is attached to it.
There are no richer milkers than the Jerseys and Guernseys.

Pork as much as milk is effected by the food of which it is made.
How about that wood pile? Is it well filled with seasoned wood?
Good animals command the best prices and are the first in demand.
The back of the seat of the buggy is not the place for hens to roost.
The larger the herd the less is likely to be the average yield per cow.
Go through your cellar frequently and remove all decaying vegetables.
Do not be afraid to give your sheep a moderate amount of corn silage.
A manure pile makes a bad bed for hogs It breeds rheumatism and colds.
Where dairy goods are the main object, beef and veal must be incidental.
Generally the per cent. of fat is greater than that of the casein, but not always.
Build up your herd for some definite purpose—beef, butter, cheese or milk for market.
We need some means of balancing the quality as well as the weight of the ration.
When cold winds blow through the stable, they take fat and milk right out of the cows.
It does not pay to abuse a cow because she continues to give milk until she calves again.
Have you planned for spending the winter evenings pleasantly and advantageously?
The effects of a fertilizer depend upon the condition as well as the composition of the soil.
Sometimes the driving of a single nail in the right place will exclude a large amount of cold.

We Should Live One Hundred Years.
We are century animals and have a perfect right to live out that period if we can. Many do so. Consumption has been killing off the flower of our youth through the centuries but it will do so no more. Why? Because "Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil," wherever used, cures consumption and the coughs and lung troubles which give rise to it. It will be like a suicide to die of consumption in future if "Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil" is within reach. In big bottles, 50c. and $1.00, at all Drug Stores.

Very Much Pleased.
SIRS,—I am very much pleased with the effects of Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. Our family has been greatly troubled with severe colds, pains in the chest, etc., and have been promptly relieved by this valuable medicine which we willingly recommend.
CLARA A. MCKENZIE,

Interested People.
Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c. and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

HAMILTON, April 20, 1892
I was doctoring for years with physicians for a scaly and scurvy affliction of the scalp, they told me it was eczema, but gave me no permanent relief. I was also troubled with excessive dandruff, which would drop from my head like snow flakes. Hearing of Anti-Dandruff I used it, and from the third application felt more relieved than for years; when half the bottle was used the eczema and scaly eruptions disappeared and have not returned since; dandruff was thoroughly removed, the itching of the scalp stopped, and for an elegant, clean and useful hair-dressing Anti-Dandruff has no equal.

TWO RAILWAY WRECKS

TERRIBLE FALL OF A PASSENGE COACH.

Two People Killed—A Suburban Accommodation Train Telescoped — Ther Were Three Filled Coaches—Fifteo People Injured—150 or More Bruised.

BURLINGTON, Ia., Jan. 14.—It is reported from Morning Sun, Ia., that a bad wreck occurred last evening on the Iowa Central road.

An eastbound passenger train was derailed while on a crossing 60 feet above ground.

The rear coach fell from the track, turning completely over in its fall, and struck the ground upon its roof.

Eight passengers were in the coach. Two were killed, and two others sustained injuries that will probably prove fatal.

A Train Telescoped.

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—The Crete accommodation on the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad leaving Dearborn station at 7.20 o'clock last evening, was telescoped at Fifty-fifth-street by a Chicago and Erie through train to New York.

The accommodation train consisted of three coaches filled with suburban residents on their way to their homes.

Fifteen people were severely injured in the wreck, and scarcely anyone of the 150 or more passengers escaped some bruises or minor injuries.

To add to the horror of the scene the centre coach of the accommodation then caught fire from the upturned stove, while three passengers, two women and one man, were caught in the wreckage close to the flames and were taken away from their perilous position by the heroic efforts of their fellow-passengers.

CAPRIVI'S SPEECH.

He Discussed the Probabilities of a European War.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—The Standard's Berlin correspondent says of Count Caprivi's appearance before the Parliamentary Commission on the Military bill: "Chancellor Caprivi prefaced his speech by remarking that he would leave it to the judgment and patriotism of his hearers to decide how much of the speech they would publish. His desired only that certain military details be kept secret. Hence the published reports are unofficial and inaccurate."

The Berlin correspondent of The Daily News thinks it would have been better if the speech had been kept altogether secret. He learns, he says, from competent authority, that the speech had no aggressive tendency, although it was very serious and plain. Russia, Count Caprivi said, had an historic craving for Constantinople.

Russian statesmen believed it would be necessary to defeat both Germany and Austria-Hungary before arriving there. Germany, therefore, must be prepared for a war in this quarter. Denmark also was not to be forgotten, for although the King was Germany's friend, the Danish court was the centre of many intrigues of foreign policy. Germany was safe as far as her seaboard was concerned, but Italy must ever be uneasy while France kept up such a formidable fleet in the Mediterranean.

The German navy could keep the Russian navy in check. How far France could help Russia with her navy was an important question, and this depended upon how much of the French navy could be kept busy by the Italian navy. Italy undoubtedly must rely to a great extent upon English assistance, hence Bismarck aimed at an Anglo-Italian understanding.

To add force to the arguments advanced in support of the measure the Chancellor read memoranda made in 1889 by the late Field Marshall Count von Moltke, in which that great authority compared the military strength of Germany and France. The Chancellor laid much stress upon a passage occurring in the memoranda in which Von Moltke said:

"We are able to ward any attack from France, otherwise the German Empire could not exist. Even if we lose the first battle we have the Rhine defences, which are not equalled in the world, besides Metz and Strasburg. If, however, two of our neighbors united and attacked us we would require the assistance of another power."

ROME, Jan. 14.—The Pope has appointed Rev. F. Z. Rooker of Albany, N.Y., secretary to the Mission of Monsignor Satolli, the Papal Ablegate to the United States. Father Rooker is vice-rector of the American College in Rome. He has already started for New York.

Spain's Foreign Policy.

MADRID, Jan. 14. The Government has decided to reorganize the commission on commercial treaties. The president will be the Duke of Almodovar De Drio, a free trader. In the future Spain will not insert in any treaties the "most favored nation" clause.

CANADIAN RAILWAYS.

Antagonistic Measure Discussed By Harrison and His Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—The Cabinet meeting yesterday discussed at some length the question of suspending the operation of the consular seal system on Canadian railroads.

The Attorney-General gave his views as to the power of the President in the premises, and, it is understood, held to the conclusion formerly advanced by him that the President could not suspend its operations, that power being reposed in Congress.

There were others who differed with him, the argument being advanced that goods from Japan and China which come in under the consular seal system were clearly not from contiguous foreign countries and therefore not entitled to the privilege. It was also pointed out that these goods on entry were classified as foreign importations.

TO CLEAR!
TO CLEAR!
TO CLEAR!

"Slaughter" is the word for this month. Stock-taking will be upon us in a few days, and, as we prefer to clear out many lines at a sacrifice for cash, rather than take them into stock again, a regular deluge of bargains awaits all shoppers at the GOLDEN LION. "A bird in the hand will be worth four in the bush" to us all this month, and the nimble quarter will buy as much as the slow dollar between now and stock-taking day.

QUARTERED.

The following lines are now offered at a sweeping reduction off original prices in order to clear them completely out—

1. Sealette Collars and Muffs.
2. Feather Boas.
3. Mantle Sealettes.
4. Ladies' Mantles.
5. Childrens' Mantles.

Our aim, as on previous occasions, is clear out stock—not bad stock, but first-class lines—at big reductions.

All who have patronised our January sales in the past, know that we mean business, and carry out, to the letter, our agreement.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

WHAT THE POPE DESIRES IN THE UNITED STATES.

Archbishop Satolli's Mandate as Published to the American Bishops—What Is Good Doctrine in the States Ought to Apply to Canada.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The following is Mgr. Satolli's mandate re public school question:

All care must be taken to erect Catholic schools, to enlarge and improve those already established, and to make them equal to the public schools in teaching and discipline.—Conc. Plen. Balt. III., No. 197, p. 101.

II.

When there is no Catholic school at all, or when the one that is available is little fitted for giving the children an education in keeping with their condition, then the public schools may be attended with a safe conscience, the danger of perversion being rendered remote by opportune remedial and precautionary measures; a matter that is to be left to the conscience and judgment of the Ordinaries.—Ibid, No. 198, p. 103.

III.

We enact and command that no one shall be allowed to teach in a parochial school who has not proven his fitness for the position by previous examination. No priest shall have the right to employ any teacher, male or female, in his school without a certificate of ability, or diploma from the Diocesan Board of Examiners.—Ibid, No. 203, p. 108.

IV.

Normal schools, as they are called, are to be established where they are wanting and are evidently necessary.—Ibid, No. 205, p. 110.

V.

We strictly forbid anyone, whether Bishop or Priest, and this is the express prohibition of the Sovereign Pontiff through the Sacred Congregation, either by act or by threat to exclude from the Sacraments as unworthy, parents who choose to send their children to the public schools). As regards the children themselves, this enactment applies with still greater force.—Ibid, No. 198, p. 104. Conf. Tit. VI., Cap. I., II.; Tit. VII.

VI.

To the Catholic Church belongs the duty and the divine right of teaching all nations to believe the truth of the Gospel and to observe whatsoever Christ commanded (Matth. xxviii., 19); in her likewise is vested the divine right of instructing the young in so far as theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven (Mark x., 14) (Conf. Conc., Balt. Pt., III., No. 194); that is to say, she holds for herself the right of teaching the truths of faith and the law of morals in order to bring up youth in the habits of a Christian life. Hence, absolutely and universally speaking, there is no repugnance in their learning the first elements and the higher branches of the arts and the natural sciences in public schools controlled by the state, whose office it is to provide, maintain and protect everything by which its citizens are formed to moral goodness, while they live peaceably together, with a sufficiency of temporal goods, under laws promulgated by civil authority.

For the rest, the provisions of the Council of Baltimore are yet in force, and, in a general way, will remain so; to wit: "Not only out of our paternal love do we exhort Catholic parents, but we command them by all the authority we possess, to procure a truly Christian and Catholic education for the beloved offspring given them of God, born again in baptism unto Christ and destined for Heaven, to shield and secure them throughout childhood and youth from the dangers of a merely worldly education, and therefore to send them to parochial or other truly Catholic schools." United with this duty are the rights of parents, which no civil law or authority can violate or weaken.

VII.

The Catholic Church in general, and especially the Holy See, far from condemning or treating with indifference the public schools, desires rather that, by the joint action of civil and ecclesiastical authorities, there should be public schools in every State, according as the circumstances of the people require, for the cultivation of the useful arts and natural sciences; but the Catholic Church shrinks from those features of public schools which are opposed to the truth of Christianity and to morality; and since, in the interest of society itself, these objectionable features are removable, therefore, not only the Bishops, but the citizens at large should labor to remove them, in virtue of their own right and in the cause of morality.

VIII.

It is long since the Holy See, after consultation with the Bishops of the United States of America, decreed that parish schools and other institutions under the direction of the Bishops, each according to the conditions of its own diocese, were opportune and necessary for Catholic youth, from the fact that it was held for certain that the public schools bore within themselves a proximate danger to faith and morals, for various reasons (Conc. Pl. Balt. III., No. 194, seq.; App., p. 279); viz.: because in the public schools a purely secular education is given—inasmuch as it excludes all teaching of religion—because teachers are chosen indiscriminately from every sect, and no law prevents them from working the ruin of youth, so that they are at liberty to instil errors and germs of vice in tender minds. Likewise certain corruption seemed to impend from the fact that in these schools, or at least in many of them, children of both sexes are brought together for their lessons in the same room.

Wherefore, if it be clear that in a given locality, owing to the wiser dispositions of public authorities or the watchful prudence of School Board, teachers and parents, the above-named dangers to faith and morals disappear, then it is lawful for Catholic parents to send their children to these schools to acquire the elements of letters and arts, provided the parents themselves do not neglect their most serious duty, and the pastors of souls put forth every effort to instruct the children and train them in all that pertains to Catholic worship and life.

IX.

It is left to the judgment and the wisdom of the Ordinaries to decide whether, in a certain part of their respective dioceses, a parochial school can be built and kept up in a fitting condition, not inferior to the public schools, taking into consideration the temporal condition of the parents, while graver needs for procuring their spiritual welfare and the decent support of the church are pressing. It will be well, therefore, as was the wont of our forefathers, and as was done in the early days of the church to establish weekly classes of catechism, which all the children of the parish should attend; for the better success of this measure let the zeal of pastors in fulfilling their duty and the love of Catholic parents leave no effort unpraised. (Cf. Conc. Pl. Balt. I'd., No. 198.)

X.

No reproach, either in public or in private, shall be cast upon Catholic parents who send their children to private schools or academies where a better education is given under the direction of religious or approved of and Catholic persons. If they make sufficient provision for the religious training of their children, let them be free to secure in other ways that education which the position of their family requires.

XI.

It is greatly to be desired, and will be a most happy arrangement, if the bishop agree with the civil authorities or with the members of the school board, to conduct the school with mutual attention and due consideration for their respective rights.

While there are teachers of any description for the secular branches, who are legally inhibited from offending Catholic religion and morality, let the right and duty of the church obtain of teaching the children catechism, in order to remove danger to their faith and morals from any quarter whatsoever.

It seems well to quote here the words of our Holy Father Leo XIII. (See the Pope's letter to the Archbishop of New York and to the bishops of the province): "We further desire you to strive earnestly that the various local authorities, firmly convinced that nothing is more conducive to the welfare of the commonwealth than religion, should by wise legislation provide that the system of education which is maintained at the public expense, and to which therefore Catholics also contribute their share, be in no way prejudicial to their conscience or religion. For we are persuaded that even our fellow citizens who differ from us in belief, with their characteristic intelligence and prudence, will readily set aside all suspicions and all views unfavorable to the Catholic Church and willingly acknowledge her merit, as the one that dispelled the darkness of paganism by the light of the Gospel, and created a new society distinguished by the lustre of Christian virtues and by the cultivation of all that refines. We do not think that anyone there, after looking into these things clearly, will let Catholic parents be forced to erect and support schools which they cannot use for the instruction of their children."

XII.

As for those Catholic children that in great numbers are educated in the public schools, where now, not without danger, they receive no religious instruction at all, strenuous efforts should be made not to leave them without sufficient and seasonable instruction in Catholic faith and practice. We know by experience that not all our Catholic children are found in our Catholic schools. Statistics show that hundreds of thousands of Catholic children in the United States of America attend schools which are under the control of state boards, and in which, for that reason, teachers of every denomination are engaged. Beyond all doubt the one thing necessary, i.e., religious and moral education according to Catholic principles, is not to be treated either lightly or with delay, but on the contrary with all earnestness and energy.

The adoption of one of three plans is recommended, the choice to be made according to local circumstances in the different states and various personal relations.

The first consists in an agreement between the bishop and the members of the School Board, whereby they, in a spirit of fairness and good will allow the Catholic children to be assembled during free time and taught the catechism; it would also be of the greatest advantage if this plan were not confined to the primary schools, but were extended likewise to the high schools and colleges, in the form of a free lecture.

The second: to have a catechism class outside the public school building, and also classes of higher Christian doctrine, where, at fixed times, the Catholic children would assemble with diligence and pleasure, induced thereto by the authority of their parents, the persuasion of their pastors, and the hope of praise and rewards.

The third plan does not seem at first sight so suitable, but is bound up more intimately with the duty of both parents and pastors. Pastors should unceasingly urge upon parents that most important duty, imposed both by natural and divine law, of bringing up their children in sound morality and Catholic faith. Besides, the instruction of children appertains to the very essence of the pastoral charge; let the pastor of souls say to them with the Apostle: "My little children, of whom I am in labor again until Christ be formed in you." (Gal., IV., 19.) Let him have classes of children in the parish such as have been established in Rome and many other places, and even in churches in this country with very happy results.

Nor let him with little prudence show less love for the children that attend the public schools than for those that attend the parochial; on the contrary, stronger marks of loving solicitude are to be shown them; the Sunday school and the hour for catechism should be devoted to them in a special manner. And to cultivate this field let the pastor call to his aid other priests, religious and even suitable members of the laity, in order that what is supremely necessary be wanting to no child.

XIII.

For the standing and growth of Catholic schools, it seems that care should be taken that the teachers prove themselves qualified, not only by previous examination before the Diocesan Board and by a certificate or diploma from the School Board of the State, awarded after successful examination. This is urged, first, so as not to appear regardless, without reason, of what public authority requires for teaching. Secondly, a better opinion of Catholic schools will be created. Thirdly, greater assurance will be given to parents that in Catholic schools there is no deficiency to render them inferior to public schools; that, on the contrary, everything is done to make Catholic schools equal to public schools, or even superior. Fourthly, and lastly, we think that this plan would prepare the way for the State to see, along with the recognized and tested fitness of the teachers, that the laws are observed in all matters pertaining to the arts and sciences, to method and pedagogics, and to whatever is ordinarily required to promote the stability and usefulness of the schools.

XIV.

It is necessary that what are called Normal Schools should reach such efficiency in preparing teachers of letters, arts and sciences, that their graduates shall not fail to obtain the diploma of the State. For the sake of the Catholic cause, let there be among laymen a growing rivalry to take the diploma and doctorate, so that possessed of the knowledge and qualifications requisite for teaching, they may compete for and honorably obtain positions in the public Gymnasia, Lyceums and scientific institutions.

The knowledge of truth of every kind, straightforward justice united with charity, the affluence and appreciation of the liberal arts—these are the bulwarks of the Church.

REDUCED TO DOLL RAGS.

A U. S. Senator Says His Colleagues Have Thus Treated the Monroe Doctrine.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—In the Senate Saturday there was discussion over the expense of the Nicaragua Canal Company up to date. Mr. Morgan of Alabama inquired what advantages would accrue to the United States by the project, and then stated that if the canal company would ask Great Britain to furnish the money for construction purposes and Great Britain should accept the offer the United States would have but one paltry plea (he would not call it paltry)—one emasculated plea, and that was the worn and torn Monroe doctrine which the states of the United States had succeeded in kicking literally into doll rags.

He Rescues An Old Lady From Impending Death On the Track.

TORONTO, Jan. 16.—Conductor Snider, an evangelist well known here, was the hero of an adventure at New Hamburg station on Saturday. While he was waiting for his train the 4.30 express came in. As it rushed up to the station a lady, who did not see or hear it, attempted to cross the track. A shout of warning caused her to look around. Seeing the rapidly approaching train she lost her presence of mind and would have been struck by the engine had not Mr. Snider dashed across the track, snatching the bewildered lady from her peril just as the train swept up. The lady and her preserver were both unconscious for some minutes afterwards. The affair caused a great sensation in the little town.

SOUTH MONAGHAN BANQUETTERS.

The Council-Elect Give a Banquet to Their Friends—A Fine Spread—Speeches by Representative Men.

In compliance with an understanding arrived at at the municipal nominations of South Monaghan, the old council, on being elected by acclamation, gave a banquet to their friends, the details of the affair being left to a committee appointed by them. The splendid and successful repast of Friday night took place in the Agricultural Hall, Centreville, at which about one hundred and fifty were present. After the tables were cleared Mr. Alfred Maycock, of Baillieboro, took the chair and after expressing regret at the absence of the reeve, Mr. Morrison, who was detained at home by illness, introduced

THE TOAST LIST.

The first toast was, of course, "The Queen," which was duly and loyally honoured.

The chairman, in proposing the next toast, "The Council of South Monaghan," took occasion to recount the circumstances that gave rise to the gathering, and passed a high eulogy upon the council whose careful management of the affairs of the township had secured their re-election.

Senior Councillor Fisher acknowledged the honour and thanked the ratepayers for the confidence reposed in the council, and gave his personal thanks.

Councillor Greer followed, and made a very neat little speech. He re regretted the absence of the reeve who would doubtless have been able to do fuller justice to the toast. The council, he said, had only held six meetings during the year, but he thought that they should be urged to the coming year so that they would be able to charge back to the ratepayers the cost of the present banquet. (Laughter) He had heard complaints of the council having too much money in the treasury. This was accounted for this year by some work that had been undertaken and not completed; but it was much more satisfactory to have a surplus than a $6,000 deficit like the town of Peterborough on a single year's business. The surplus would be the means of lowering the taxes for the coming year. He did not think it advisable to run the treasury too close—better to have a little cash on hand. Small as the municipality was the expenses were considerable. When the councillors, the assessors, the collector, the clerk and the treasurer received their pay, and the schools their proportion, a comparatively small sum was left in the treasury for controllable expenditure. He believed the council deserved credit—they had not been extravagant, yet they had tried to see that all parts of the township were properly looked after. If there were any bad roads or culverts the council would be glad to know of them, as well as any other defects that existed. He thanked the ratepayers for the confidence they had always reposed in him.

Councillor Hutchison also briefly acknowledged the toast, thanking the ratepayers for returning the council by acclamation. He was glad to meet so many of them that evening, and he hoped the present banquet would be regarded by coming councils as a precedent.

Mr. J. W. Dawson followed in a similar strain, and hoped the ratepayers would always have as good an opinion of the council as they seemed to have this year. For his part he would continue to do his duty as faithfully as he had tried to do in the past.

Mr. Alf. Dawson, the genial and efficient clerk, on whom rests so large a burden of responsibility, referred to this responsibility, and the necessity of very careful dealing with municipal affairs coming within his province, as in some cases the slightest error on his part might subject the ratepayers to considerable annoyance and expense. He believed the council had done well. It was not a sectional council but was willing to do justice to every part of the township. Having carefully watched, as was his duty, he did not know of any wrong expenditures that had been made.

THE PETERBOROUGH GUESTS.

"The Parliamentary Representatives, the House of Commons, and Local Legislature," was the next toast, coupled with the names of Mr. Jas. Stevenson, M.P., and Mr. J. R. Stratton, M. P.P., and was very warmly received, the audience singing lustily, "For they are jolly good fellows."

Mr. Stevenson in rising to respond thanked the council for their invitation to be present. He regretted the absence of the ladies, who were an absolute necessity to make any occasion, from a bridal to a banquet, a complete success. He believed the township had been favoured with a good council, a condition which he hoped would continue. He was glad the township had a surplus as in Peterborough, with an assessment of nearly five million the town had a large deficit. Yet Peterborough had large expenses which a township did not have. In towns the councils were not favoured like township councils—all the reward they got was the honour and the street improvements which their influence could attract to their own doors. He did not consider it much of an honour to be in the town council—he had spent twenty-four years in the council and was glad to get out of it. He was glad to meet the South Monaghan people that night. He would like to visit them oftener, but the demands of a large personal business and the discharge of his Parliamentary duties deprived him of that pleasure. He was sorry that wheat was not a better price, not only on the farmers' account, but his own, as he had a large quantity of last year's wheat on hand, bought at 85 and 86c. However, he had not given up hope that better prices would soon prevail. Pork brought a good price, but it was to be regretted that some other products of the farm were not as profitable as he would like to see them. The prosperity of the country was the prosperity of the town. The town had tried to attract the farmers. Manufacturing establishments were now paying out large sums in wages, and compared with neighbouring towns. Peterborough was a city. Every time he went down to Port Hope he got the blues and was glad to get out of a town whose citizens were afraid to invest their money in any thing that would permanently benefit the town. He also dealt generally with other agricultural matters and closed by thanking the electors for the honour they had done him in electing him at the last election; but in the present state of his feelings, nothing could induce him to go to Ottawa again.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., replied on behalf of the Local Legislature branch of the toast. After returning his thanks for the invitation to be present amongst the citizens of a township he respected so highly, he said the banquet of the evening was a practical application of the peace and good will that should characterize the citizens of a good and moral township like South Monaghan—a spirit of conciliation that wiped out the bitterness of sectional civic politics in municipal matters. It was a common political saying in Uncle Sam's settlement, "To the victors belong the spoils," but this occasion was a happy reversal of this saying. The victors in this case have turned over the spoil to others, as will be testified by the appearance of the tables they had just laid waste. He was sure his worthy friend Mr. Stevenson could appreciate this occasion—he could rejoice with them—he could sympathize with them in the burying of the hatchet which they celebrated to-night. They perhaps knew that the town school board had been for the past year burying the hatchet—in each other's heads—but at the last meeting they smoked the pipe of peace, which his friend Mr. Stevenson filled and lit, and, he hoped, buried the hatchet forever. He said he did not profess to be able to talk to a body of intelligent farmers, and tell them what was the best course of farming to pursue, but from the little agricultural knowledge he had, he knew that farming was nothing now to what it was a few years ago. The world moved rapidly and, as far advanced methods went, with it. Now as much brain as muscle entered into successful farming. The successful farmer of the day was a reading, thinking man, and the average farmer is as well informed in respect of his profession as the average citizen of any other class, and is able to cope with any other man in carrying off the big end of a bargain. Farming was not the slavish, back-breaking work it once was. The farmer could now ride his plough, land roller, hay rake, reaper, as well as enjoy the advantages of the other improvements inventive genius had placed at his disposal. The farmers owned seven-tenths of the earth, and were justified in taking it as easy as their circumstances would permit. It was not safe now for the farmer to depend upon any one product. He should cultivate a diversity of crops, so that he could make good a shortage in any one crop by the surplus of another. A good wheat crop a quarter of a century ago meant money, but dairying and stock-raising—especially pigs at present prices—paid better to-day. Instead of having one or the successful farmer had several. If he could not succeed with two rows to his barley he could make money with six rows—especially if he could get a market. Peterborough was the best local market in the district but what the farmer wanted was a broader market where keener competition meant better prices. Mr. Stratton closed by congratulating the council (and township) upon their re-election as a practical recognition of the faithful services they had given, and he saw no reason why it should not be so—so long as the council did well, the township would lose nothing by retaining their services.

FARMING HAD KEPT PACE

TWO STRINGS TO HIS BOW,

Mr. Stratton proposed the toast of "Canada our Home," which was responded to in happy and brief speeches by Messrs. T. M. Willan and Wm Rutherford.

Mr. W. McAllister proposed the "Trade of Peterborough," and "The Guests of the Evening"; the latter was responded to by Councillor W. T. Donaldson, of Cavan, and Mr. Geo. I. Fair.

"The Ladies" found a zealous champion in Mr. Graham, who made a good speech, considering that according to his own admission he never did it before.

During the evening Mr. Jos. Clark gave a recitation, "The Farmer's Life," and Mr. George Berry sang several songs.

Taking it altogether the evening was an enjoyable one. It gave the people an opportunity of meeting each other in a social manner, and in rural localities such occasions are not of very frequent occurrence.

The gathering dispersed after singing "Auld Lang Syne" and "God Save the Queen."

"I don't feel like Eating breakfast this morning." This is a common remark and is proof positive that the Kidneys and Liver are out of order, and nature calls out for relief. A bottle of Membrays Kidney and Liver Cure will remove the cause of all this trouble. Try it.

THE BIGGEST DAY IN 7 YEARS!

Saturday, December 3rd was the biggest day MR. J. J. SHEEHY has had in seven years. Why is this? Surely not because there is less competition. Certainly not because inducements are not being held out by others. Most assuredly not because prices of farm products are showing an upward tendency. Then why??

Simply because the purchasing public of the town and surrounding country have read Mr. Sheehy's advertisements, have inwardly digested them and have conclude that cheap sale or no cheap sale Mr. Sheehy is bound not to be undersold

We want every day in December to be a big day. How are we to accomplish this? Simply by offering to the public better value for the money than can be had elsewhere. Just cast your eye over the following quotations:—

All Wool Flannels, 28 in. wide, - -	17½	Good Linen Towels each - - -	5½
9 lb. Wool Blankets, - - - - -	$3.75	Grey Wool Blankets, - - -	31c. a lb.
14 yds. Heavy Grey Canton Flannel,	$1.00	25 yards Factory Cotton, - -	$1.00

These few quotations will probably give an idea of what we are doing and a glance at our BARGAIN TABLE in the centre of our store will convince the most skeptical that when it comes to general bargains we certainly are very decidedly "in it."

THE GETTING IT DOWN

is bad enough, with the ordinary pill. But the having it down is worse. And, after all the disturbance, there's only a little temporary good.

From beginning to end, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are better. They're the smallest and easiest to take—tiny, sugar-coated granules that any child is ready for. Then they do their work so easily and so naturally that it lasts. They absolutely and permanently cure Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, Sick and Bilious Headaches, and all derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels.

They don't shock and weaken the system, like the huge, old-fashioned pills. And they're more effective. One little Pellet for a corrective or laxative—three for a cathartic.

They're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned.

The MAKERS of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy say: "If we can't cure your Catarrh, no matter what your case is, we'll pay you $500 in cash." Now you can see what is said of other remedies, and decide which is most likely to cure you. Costs only 50 cents.

SPRINGVILLE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The Royal Templars of Springville held an open meeting on Friday night, the 12th inst. at their hall here. There was a large number present, including many visitors from the R. T. of T. lodge Millbrook. Bro. F. E. Wilson, S.C., presided in an affable manner. After routine business an interesting and pleasing programme was successfully carried out. The following contributed in good style:

Speech	Mr. Wilson, chairman
Song	Miss D. Fowler
Song	Geo. McBain
Reading	Wm. Whitfield
Song	Miss McIlroberts
Reading	Miss Foster
Speech	T. M. Hunter

A short intermission then took place when the company present partook of a nice lunch supplied by the ladies. The remainder of the programme was then carried out as follows:—

Selection	Glee Club
Instrumental	W Lang
Reading	Bro. Goodfellow
Selection	W. W. Gillott
Dialogue	Mr. W. W. Gillott, Mrs. W. W. (Gillott, Miss Gillott, Mr. W. Coombe, Chas. [Gillott
Duet	Miss Bateson and W. W. Gillott
Song	Thos. Crowley
Instrumental	Wm. Lang
Selection	Glee Club

The entertainment closed at 11 o'clock by singing the National Anthem. A vote of thanks was moved to the Millbrook visitors who kindly provided the second part of the programme. The chairman, Mr. Wilson was also tendered a vote of thanks for ably presiding, when all repaired to their respective homes, thoroughly satisfied with the night's proceedings.

HAVELOCK.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The council elect of the village of Havelock meet on Monday, the 16th inst. for the transaction of business, of appointing the necessary officers for this year. There has been, in certain quarters a good deal of talk about the election being illegal, but there could not have been much wrong with it as every one of the candidates at the election was satisfied and sanctioned what was done by not objecting to a single vote on that day except asking two to take the oath. The unsuccessful candidates and electors are satisfied with the selection and it is believed by people of the village that if the persons who are troubling themselves about the election would look out for their own business a little more, it would be better for them in the end.

The Havelock school house had a narrow escape from being burned to the ground on Wednesday last. The alarm was sounded at 11 a.m., and very soon there was at the place over one hundred men with the waterworks—pails, and the fire was soon extinguished, but not until about $50 damages was done. The school will be closed about two weeks.

"Now is the winter of our discontent made glorious summer" by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This wonderful medicine so invigorates the system and enriches the blood that cold weather becomes positively enjoyable. Arctic explorers would do well to make a note of this.

Bordering on Consumption.

When a cold is neglected it frequently develops a condition bordering on consumption. No other remedy will so quickly relieve and cure cases of this dangerous kind as Dr. Woods Norway Pine Syrup, because no other remedy possesses such perfect curative powers as does this prince of pectoral remedies.

Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. per package. dw

INSURED THE LIBERAL LEADER.

The Hamilton Times of Jan. 12th says: Hon. Wilfred Laurier, when in Hamilton, was shown through the office of the Canada Life Assurance Company. He has been for many years a policy holder in the company, and he was so pleased with the magnificent establishment that he expressed his desire to enlarge his insurance. Mr. Ramsay received his application. Dr. Macdonald made the medical examination then and there, and the leader of Her Majesty's Loyal Opposition was placed "upon the list" in the most expeditious manner. Who will say after this that Mr. Laurier does not know a good thing when he sees it? If Sir John Thompson expects to keep up his end of the stick he will have to take a pointer from Mr. Laurier. The Canada Life is a non-political institution, but its mantle is wide enough to cover politicians of each and every school, and the Board of Directors thoroughly appreciate such voluntary compliments as are implied in unsolicited applications for insurance. Canadians generally will join in the hope that it may be many a long year before Mr. Laurier's policy shall become a claim.

The Seal Question.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—In the Senate yesterday Mr. Sherman from Committee on Foreign Relations, reported back Senate bill (introduced by him on Dec. 20), to extend to the North Pacific Ocean the provisions of the statutes for the protection of seals and other fur-bearing animals, and after a brief explanation the bill was passed.

Cut His Throat.

WOODBURN, Ont., Jan. 14.—Samuel McAllister, a laborer of this place, cut his throat with a razor. A doctor sewed the lengthy gash, and the would-be suicide is doing well. He is the father of a family, and is supposed to have been temporarily insane.

No Thought for Children.

TARA, Ont., Jan. 14.—Amabel had a sensation recently in the alleged elopement of C. Theaker with a lady named Smith. The occurrence is the more regrettable as the gentleman left a good wife and nine children in very straightened circumstances, and the lady eight little children.

"I am convinced of the merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla, after having taken but a few doses"—this is what many people say.

National Pills are a mild purgative acting on the Stomach, Liver and Bowels, removing all obstructions.

Prisoners Liberated.

Many who have been confined to their beds for years by rheumatism, lame back and kidney complaints, have been liberated from their sad prisons by the wonderful regulating and purifying action of Burdock Blood Bitters which drives out the acrid poison from the blood and restores health to the afflicted.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

Is superior to all other preparations claiming to be blood-purifiers. First of all, because the principal ingredient used in it is the extract of genuine Honduras sarsaparilla root, the variety richest in medicinal properties. Also, because Cures Catarrh the yellow dock, being raised expressly for the Company, is always fresh and of the very best kind. With equal discrimination and care, each of the other ingredients are selected and compounded. It is because it is always the same in appearance, flavor, and effect, and, being highly concentrated, only small doses are needed. It is, therefore, the most economical blood-purifier in existence. It Cures SCROFULA makes food nourishing, work pleasant, sleep refreshing, and life enjoyable. It searches out all impurities in the system and expels them harmlessly by the natural channels. AYER'S Sarsaparilla gives elasticity to the step, and imparts to the aged and infirm, renewed health, strength, and vitality.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE "IN IT."

A Life Agent called at a friend's place one day,
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had seen "the bore" coming and fled from his way
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had heard so much said, he was tired and sick
Of insurance and agents—'twas all a blank trick,
When one's coil must be shuffled to win it,
HE WASN'T IN IT.

A bit of a draft blew o'er his bald head,
HE WAS IN IT;
Pneumonia sent him straightway to his bed,
HE STAYED IN IT;
His doctor made of it a "quite special" case,
To save him for running still more of life's race,
But the grave took some chances to win it,
AND HE'S IN IT.

When approached by a gent for insuring your life,
GET RIGHT IN IT;
It's the right thing to do for your children and wife,
THEN STAY IN IT.
Remember that fires take your goods "out of sight,"
And that accidents happen each day and each night.
While insurance protects every minute,
IF YOU'RE IN IT.

A Bank Manager's Opinion.

HE IS "IN IT."

The General Manager of one of the leading banks in Canada, writing to a personal friend, says:—"I have no hesitation in saying that I place the CANADA LIFE upon the highest platform. It is in my opinion carefully, economically and honestly managed; its Reserve Funds are well invested; its rates of Premiums are low, and its future is, I think better assured than a great majority of Companies. I have my own life insured in the Company for a round amount, and would not hesitate to increase the amount of my policies should I decide upon taking out further insurance."

A Government Insurance Actuary's Opinion

On the Relation between Ordinary and Tontine Service.

It is frequently asserted by Companies whose business is nearly all tontine, that although the CANADA LIFE may and does pay large ordinary profits, yet it cannot compare so favourably on a long term distribution or tontine period, and that in the end better results can be obtained on a tontine policy in a large American Co. than on an ordinary or tontine policy in the CANADA LIFE. To prove the absurdity of this statement, the following piece of common sense is quoted from Mervin Tabor, late Actuary of the Illinois Goverment Insurance Department. In his well known book, "The Three Systems of Life Insurance," he says: "A company that gives large dividends on the ordinary kind of policies, can give much larger on the same kinds when Tontined, and a company that pays but meagre dividends on the usual forms, adopting perhaps the Tontine system to "cover up" its small surpluses, cannot be relied on for large returns of surplus under the Tontine forms of insurance."

The CANADA LIFE does not "cover up" its Quinquennial profits as some Companies do, but publishes them throughout the country.

It can and does surpass other Companies on Quinquennial profits. It should and will surpass them on Tontine profits.

WHY TO BE "IN IT."

BISHOP HAWKE'S REASON:—"I claim that Life Insurance is not only a humane, but I might say a Christian Institution."

LORD LYNDHURST'S REASON:—"A Policy of Life Insurance is always an evidence of prudent forethought. No man with a dependent family is free from reproach if not insured."

WHEN TO BE "IN IT."

The younger, the cheaper. Therefore insure when young. Besides by insuring in the CANADA LIFE now, you will share in three years' profits.

WHERE TO BE "IN IT."

The best place to be "in it" is in the Company that gives the best returns for the least money, consistent with absolute security. Therefore, in order to be "in it," choose the Employment of Children During School Hours.

The Chief of Police desires the EXAMINER to publish the following extract from the Ontario School Act relating to the employment of children under the age of fourteen years during school hours, for the benefit of parents and guardians. The law reads as follows:

"No child under the age of fourteen shall be employed by any person during school hours while the public school of the section or municipality in which the child resides is in session, and any person employing any child contrary to the provisions of this section shall be liable to the penalty of $20 for each offence."

It Was a Huge Canard.

Some few days ago there was published in the EXAMINER'S telegraph despatches an account of the unaccounted for suicide of Mr. W. J. Summerby, the respected school inspector of Prescott and Russell Counties at his home in Duncanville. No reason could be given for the rash act as Mr. Summerby was one of the most widely known educationalists in the province and vey highly thought of. The despatch was dated Ottawa and was telegraphed all over the Dominion. The report now turns out to be nothing more or less than a huge cancard. A letter received by Mr. J. W. Bennett, barrister, town, from his brother in Ottawa contains the information that such an occurence is absolutely untrue, as he has seen Mr. Summerby several times since the paragraph relating to the suicide first appeared in print. The school inspector feels very keenly the sad position in which such a state of affairs has placed him.

—If all citizens who are telling their friends that they are going to take in the World's Fair at Chicago this year, carry out their migratory intentions, Peterborough will be a deserted village with grass growing luxuriantly on George street during the months of July and August.

—The remains of Mr. James Breckenridge were interred yesterday in the Little Lake Cemetery, which was largely attended. The cortege, which was largely attended, was headed by the Iron Moulders Union, who marched out in a body, the deceased being a member of that fraternity. Rev. A. MacWilliams conducted the funeral ceremonies.

—A chimney between the photograph gallery of Mr. Green, and Rev. C. B. Kenrick's rooms, on Hunter street caught fire this afternoon, it is supposed from a defective stove pipe leading from one of the down stairs offices. The fire brigade was called out but no water was thrown. The Babcocks, however, were brought into play. The damage will be very slight.

—Street Inspector Pope has caused a snow plough to be run around the sides of Central Park and banked the snow up to a great height along the sidewalks. This has been done to prevent drifting and stop large quantities of snow settling on the side walk. The streeet inspector has done a good job and will receive the thanks of pedestrians.

A private C.P.R. coach was run up the Grand Trunk line to the hospital and the reverend gentleman was carried on board. He went to Montreal to-day on a protracted visit to his brother. Mr. Goldsmith of Toronto will still fulfil the duties of acting pastor of St. Paul's church.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY, Jan. 16th.

At the police court this morning two vagrants, Jas. White and Jas. Burns, occupied seats in the prisoner's box. They asked for two months in gaol as they had been working on the Bancroft and Irondale railroad, but had become afflicted with rheumatism and were compelled to lay off work. The spokesman of the duet said they would feel very much obliged to His Worship if he would give them two months in gaol. They expected to get work in Renfrew about March 1st. The court sentenced them to two months each in the county gaol at hard labour.

Mr. Wm. Clancy, proprietor of the City Hotel, was charged with immoderate driving at the north end of George street on Jan. 12th. Mr. Clancy explained that he was breaking in a spirited horse which had attempted to run away with him. He denied that he ever drove at a fast rate about the streets and he had driven trotting horses ever since he came to Peterborough. Chief Roszel and Officer Stewart gave testimony regarding fast driving at the upper end of George street. The Magistrate dismissed the charge against Mr. Clancy, but wished to emphasize the fact that on the next complaint which was laid before him, he would impose upon the offender the heaviest fine possible.

MEASURING THE TOWN WOOD

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—During the recent municipal election in No. 1 Ward I had occasion to meet a large number of the ratepayers of the Ward, and they desired me to explain why the council did not see to it that the quantity of each load of wood was not marked on the load by the market clerk so that the public could not be deceived. I promised to interview the council at its first meeting, and I intend doing so this evening, and I would be glad to have those interested attend the council meeting to-night.

By giving space to the above you will oblige those concerned and

Yours very truly,

The services will be conducted alternately each Sunday by these gentlemen.

Rev. S. T. Bartlett, of Lakefield, officiated in the George street Methodist church yesterday in an acceptable manner. Mr. Bartlett is a rising young man in the Methodist ministry, full of hope and promise. His addresses yesterday were pithy in argument, stirring in thought, and replete with sound truths and advice. In the evening he preached a capital sermon on the value and importance of life, directing his remarks particularly to the young people. The text was from the "pistle of James, 4th chapter and 14th verse, "For what is your life?"

Yesterday morning the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was dispensed to a large number in St. Andrew's church. The pastor, Rev. A. MacWilliams, preached an appropriate and able sermon from Isaiah 28-17: "Behold I lay in Zion for a foundation a stone, etc." At the close of the sermon Mrs. H. Jones sang with fine effect the hymn "The Foundation Stone." Twenty-four new members were received. In the evening Rev. Dr. Caven, Principal of Knox College, preached an able and instructive sermon on the work of the Holy Spirit as a comforter. His text was St. John 14:16. He showed that the Spirit comforted by teaching, by assisting in prayer, by sanctifying and by strengthening the children to endure persecutions and sorrows. It is needless to say that every word was listened to with great interest and close attention. Intense earnestness and simplicity characterizes the delivery of the distinguished Principal. We hope to hear him soon again.

gradually growing worse. Three years ago I got down so low that I could scarcely walk. I looked more like a corpse than a living being. I had no appetite and for five weeks I ate nothing but gruel. I was badly emaciated and had no more color than a marble statue. Hood's Sarsaparilla was recommended and I thought I would try it. Before I had finished the first bottle I noticed that I felt better, suffered less, the inflammation of the bladder had subsided, the color began to return to my face, and I began to feel hungry. After I had taken three bottles I could eat anything without hurting me. Why, I got so hungry that I had to eat 5 times a day. I have now fully recovered, thanks to

THE TOWN ACCOUNTS AND THE DEFICIT.

THE wind-up meeting of the town council on Friday night resolved itself into a mutual admiration society, each member vieing with another in giving each other certificates of moral excellence and administrative ability, which, as expressions of courtesy are not to be gainsaid. But Mayor Kendry did not improve the occasion by giving the ratepayers an explanation of the over $6,000 deficit which exists on the financial operations of the past year. The ratepayers know all about the moral, municipal and administrative virtues of the Town Council, but they would like to hear from the mayor and council where the money was expended that represents the $6,000, and over, deficit. The financial statement of the 15th of December for lack of the information it should contain, is, perhaps, the most brilliant deliverance ever made by a local representative body. In addition to its many other errors of omission, it estimates the amount of accounts and salaries due 31st December, 1892, at $2,983.13; yet everybody knows that there were over $2,000 due in salaries alone, not to mention the $1,400 odd due the Water Company, and $1,200 odd due the Light and Power Company. Besides, a glance at the report of the council meeting shows that there were about $1,000 ordered to be paid, in addition to bills sent in for payment, and the latter did not include the law costs in Mason vs. Peterborough and doubtless a large number of other accounts yet to be presented. Instead, therefore, of the deficit being over $6,000, it is far more, and no one will know the exact amount till all outstanding accounts for which the town is liable on the past year's operation, are presented.

It is to be noticed in the last council report that the chairman of the Charity Committee, stated that the amount of $110.82 for charity dispensed in Nos. 1 and 2 wards, contained sums that had been paid for charity in other wards. The intention was that the charity accounts should be kept separate for the several wards and Mr. Winch will be serving the public interests by not allowing the ward charity accounts to overlap—it is not fair to No. 1 Ward to be charged with the charity expenditure on Nos. 3 and 4 wards.

The council of '93 enters upon the work of the year with the public eye upon them, wide open, and they will be expected to keep within the estimates. If they require more money let them take the ratepayers into their confidence and tell them what it is for. If it is for necessary purposes, the people will doubtless sanction its expenditure.

At the organization meeting of the council held this morning Mr. Dennistoun, chairman of the Finance Committee, severely denounced the EXAMINER for a "cowardly mean attack"—meaning its discussion of the financial affairs of the town. Where does the real cowardice lie? The members may denounce, abuse and vilify the EXAMINER? but Mr. Dennistoun and the Mayor fight shy of discussing the merits of a question that involves over $6,000 of the people's good money. Instead of Mr. Dennistoun taking advantage of the occasion to show the ratepayers where the deficiency existed, he forgets his responsibility to the people and attacks the EXAMINER, which, as a ratepayer, speaking on behalf of the ratepayers, only did its duty to the public, by discussing a subject in which all are interested. Mr. Dennistoun, not content with getting the financial cart before the horse, reverses the representative situation also, and talks as though the ratepayers were responsible to him and not he to the ratepayers. The finances will make a proper subject of discussion when the auditors report is published.

DR. CAVEN IN THE PULPIT.

The Moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly Preached Two Impressive and Spirited Sermons in Peterborough Yesterday.

There was an unusually large number of worshippers at St. Paul's church yesterday morning, the service being a communion one, and Rev. Dr. Caven, Principal of Knox College, Toronto, occupying the pulpit. The reverend gentleman is one of the most eminent Presbyterians of his day, and one of the most known and highly respected clergymen of that church in the world. At the last meeting of the General Assembly Dr. Caven was elected Moderator. Probably in this body there is no man whose utterances are listened to with greater attention and interest, and whose opinions are recognized more profoundly than that of the venerable Principal of Knox College, Toronto. He spoke from the words found in St. John, 1st chapter and 29th verse, "Behold the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world." The speaker's voice is weak, and he utters his sentences in a low tone, which makes it exceedingly difficult for his auditors in all parts of the building to hear him distinctly.

He said these words were understood to be used by John, referring to the meekness, gentleness and love of Christ by which he might be likened unto a lamb. The reverend gentlemen then went on to explain how these qualities shone out with peculiar lustre in our dear Redeemer, especially when in the hands of His enemies. John was pointing to Him as the long expected and long promised Messiah. He came to put away sin by the sacrifice of Himself. John was thinking of sacrifice when he referred to the Lamb as taking away the sins of the world. The text led us to talk about Christ's acts under two heads. There was the work which the Lamb of God was sent to accomplish in taking away the sin of the world, and we were commanded to look to God, who took away the sin of the world. The Lamb of God took away by sacrifice the sin of the world. This was the work which the Lord came to accomplish, and what he did accomplish. The preacher next dwelt upon the ceremony of sacrifice, its history and associations. Almost all things are by the ancient law purged with blood, but it was impossible to take away the sin or reach the conscience. All sacrifices were a demonstration pointing to Christ and were types of that coming Deliverer. Sin could only be removed by sacrifice, and all were thankful that Christ made that the central figure of his work. Some of the churches of the present day wanted this doctrine of the sacrifice left out of its ordinances. We might as well turn away from Christ Himself as to turn away from that which he has commanded us to do in commemoration of his death and resurrection. It was a thing to be commemorated until He came again, His sacrificial death. This was not theological dogma but the teaching of Christ all through the Bible and the central point in the doctrine of Christianity. Christ died for our offences and rose again for our justification. Sin and its consequences were next amplified upon by Dr. Cavan, and how all sin could be washed away in the blood of the lamb. All who believed in Him might have eternal life. Grace reigned thro..gh righteousness unto eternal life through Jesus Christ, our Saviour. John says, Behold the Lamb of God. He is astonished and asks desciples to share in that astonishment. The words were an invitation to trust God and to look to Him. All should come, the sinner thirsting after Christ and the Christian in order to gain strength. The church all over the world was saying "Behold the Lamb of God."

At the close the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was dispensed to a large number.

THE INAUGURAL MEETING

Of the Town Council Held This Morning—A Lively Discussion Over the Appointment of Auditors—The Striking of the Standing Committees.

At the first statutory meeting of the town council for 1893, held in the council chamber this morning, there were present His Worship Mayor Kendry, and Councillors Cahill, Best, Kelly, Bradburn, Dawson, Wilson, McElwaine, Dennistoun and Mulhern of the old council, and the newly-elected councillors, Wm. White, No. 1 Ward; George Stevenson, No. 2 Ward, and J. D. Collins, No. 3 Ward.

Town Clerk Cobb said it being the first statutory meeting of the year, it was his duty to state who had been elected at the late contest. After reading the names he said all the gentlemen had duly taken their declarations and qualifications of office and were allowed to take their seats.

THE CHIEF MAGISTRATE SPEAKS.

Mayor Kendry said that he did not purpose taking up time making a lengthened address, but welcomed the new members of the council. The meeting this morning, being a statutory one, was chiefly for organization purposes. The only matters that would engage attention were the appointment of auditors and a committee to strike the standing committees. The only matters of importance which it is expected would engage attention at this evening's session would be the appointment of the members to compose the Board of Health and the selection of High School trustees. The retiring members of the Board of Health were Messrs. Pearse, Lech, Denne, Fife, Brennan, Hughes, Shortly and Hall, and the retiring School Trustees, Dr. Boucher and John McKee.

The minutes of previous meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Dennistoun introduced a bylaw to appoint auditors.

Mr. Cahill was called to the chair in committee on second reading.

The mayor appointed Mr. James A. Hall as his auditor.

Moved by Mr. Winch, seconded by Mr. Dawson that Mr. E. A. Peck be appointed the councillors' auditor, the salary to be $75.

Mr. McIlwain moved, seconed by Mr. White, that Mr. Frank Adams be appointed auditor.

Mr. Dennistoun said the appointment of auditors was an important matter. Only accountants of good ability should be appointed. He said the EXAMINER had several times severely criticised the town's finances, and he had been asked to reply. It was not a question of deficit or overdraft, it was simply one of audit. The EXAMINER acted in a cowardly, mean manner in repeating each occasion, "Where had the money gone?" The best auditors should be selected, and he moved that Mr. Manson be appointed.

The mayor said that Mr. Manson could not accept the position.

Mr. Mulhern suggested the appointment of Mr. Budden.

Mr. Dennistoun said that inasmuch as Mr. Manson could not act, he would second the appointment of Mr. Budden.

Mr. Winch said that Mr. Budden would not accept the position at less than $150.

Mr. Dawson favoured Mr. Peck's appointment. Other places only paid $75, which he thought was sufficient for Peterborough.

Mr. McIlwaine urged the appointment of Mr. Adams. With him the work would be promptly done, and he was an experienced auditor.

Mr. Bradburn favoured the appointment of Mr. Budden, but not at the increased amount.

Mr. Cahill favoured appointment of one of last year's auditors. All the names submitted were good men. The books being in an improved condition the less labour would be involved in the work.

Mr. Kelly urged Mr. Budden's appointment. There had been no published audit from 1885 until last year, and the audit this year should be a good one.

Mr. Stevenson said Mr. A. Hall was an old auditor of the town.

Messrs. Dennistoun, Mulhern and Kelly voted for Mr. Budden.

Messrs. McIlwaine and White voted for Mr. Adams.

The remainder of the council voted for Mr. E. A. Peck, who received the appointment with Mr. J. A. Hall, at a salary of $75 each.

The whole council on motion of Mr. Cahill were appointed a committee to strike the standing committees for the year.

A RELIEF OFFICER.

Councillor Dennistoun said that he believed a saving could be effected in the charity account of the town by the appointment of a relief officer at a salary of, say, $100 per annum. Brantford paid this amount to one and he believed it worked well, and a town the size of Peterborough should be able to save between six and seven hundred dollars with such an officer. He made this suggestion now with a view to having the committee of the whole council consider this matter when arranging the standing committees.

The council then adjourned.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

Rev. Mr. Goldsmith addressed the Gospel meeting last evening.

THE HIRED MAN.

How He Should Be Treated to Get His Best Work.

The supply of farm hands is not equal to the demand, notwithstanding the fact that improvements in the equipment of a farm have made it possible to dispense with a part of the force carried by a well-to-do farmer of 20 years ago. The men are attracted by the wages and the daily excitement of the towns and cities, and farmers are finding it difficult to pay sufficiently high wages to keep good men. The young men, especially, want to go where attractions are great and where "chores" are a thing unknown. No one is inclined to blame them, but we are reaching a point where some change in our course is necessary, or crops will suffer from neglect, as is not infrequently the case in some sections already.

It is not a question of numbers only. The best young men, the most energetic and valuable as workers, are the ones that are leaving us, and the quality of farm help is being impaired. Very many of those who remain are not desirous of working regularly, nor do they care much whether their services are valuable to their employers or not. They can be characterized only as thriftless, doing little for themselves or others. Not all, nor perhaps half, belong to this class, but their number is considerable and the proportion of them is growing greater. Especially do they lack any interest in their work, and the consequence is that they often bring loss to their employers. I take it that faithfulness and direct interest are worth even more in an employe than experience and knowledge. With modern implements and modes of cultivation it is an easy matter for a careless fellow to reduce the farmer's chance for a good yield, before the employer knows it, unless he can be in the field all the time. If one can secure faithful service he can well afford to take plenty of time in explaining the object of his particular way of tilling a field or doing another piece of work, and in giving careful instructions. It is faithfulness that any farmer must have when he seeks to make his fields do as well as possible.

After a number of years' experience and observation I am led to believe that this interest can be secured only by a manifestation on the part of the employer of an equal interest in the hand's welfare. I have now one regular hand who has been on the farm for seven years, and my neighbors often tell me that I should be thankful for such help—such interest and faithful performance of his duty. I answer that I am; but there is a reason for this man's careful watching of my interests that all do not see. He soon proved that he wanted to earn his wages, and it did not take long to become convinced that he was worth more than the wage at which he contracted. If he was earning more, he deserved more, and the amount was increased without request on his part. He is given an acre of good potato land with his house at a very low rental. When this lot needs tilling more than the farm fields, he is told to run through it with the cultivator, and as this work comes often in an odd quarter of a day, no time is deducted from the week's account. In all ways he is shown that he is to have a fair deal, and that his interests are to me only second to my own, and given an equal chance. He raised $70 worth of potatoes this year, a sum sufficient to finish furnishing a new tenant house just erected for him—one that is plain, but just as comfortable as any home. These matters are not mentioned as any mark of generosity on the part of his employer, for they are not. It pays me in hard cash to do these things—and more than that, he earns all he gets. Seeing that I want him to thrive, he is led to take nearly as deep an interest in my stock and crops as I do. When his cultivator is running an inch deeper then he thinks safe for the potatoes or corn roots, although I may have set it in the morning, he will want his work examined before he goes further. He is almost a part of the farm, but it is due to the fact that his worth is recognized, and as he earns more than any other hand in my immediate neighborhood, he is paid more. I am none the poorer by it and he is the richer.

The family circle is the reliance of the country home for enjoyment in the evening, and any outsider with other tastes and thoughts can hardly find himself other than an intruder. As one would not want to board the minister or a school-teacher, neither does he want to board any other one as a permanent resident in the house except the family and the house help. For this reason I like the tenant-house plan. The married man enjoys his meals and his evenings in his own home, and is better satisfied than single men. The farmer's wife should not be a boarding-house keeper. The care of a household is sufficient without the presence of any more hands than are necessary. The day should pass when the farmer must keep a hot stove in his kitchen from early morn to late night summer and winter, in order to make his farm work successful. If we can give young men comfortable homes, take an interest in their welfare, and get them interested in ours, then can farm work be prosecuted with pleasure and a chance of success. If we lose our best workers, farming cannot be placed on any scientific basis, or be made to yield a profit.—Rural Age, in Country Gentleman.

Barrel Hoop Nests.

The illustration shows a cheap and useful form of nest used by many breeders. It is made of a barrel hoop shaped about 12 inches in diameter. To this either muslin or other cloth is tacked, making the sack deep enough for a nest. Secure it to the side of the building by nails, or better, by hooks, so it can be taken out, shaken and fumigated once a month. It should not be over three feet from the floor of building. It is practical and cheap.—J. W. C., in Ohio Farmer.

Why There Are Weeds.

The Rural New Norker observes: When there's little or none of feed in the soil where the roots all run, then the ugly and selfish weed eats its fill and has all the fun. When food's plenty, the useful crop plucks up courage and makes a fight—soon goes sailing away up top, leaving the weeds quite out of sight.

Not Good for Animals.

Gluten meal is deficient in mineral element, or ash, and therefore not good for growing animals. The horse that goes so far in a day that he cannot get back in a week is not the one that you want.

Catarrh in the Head

Is undoubtedly a disease of the blood, and as such only a reliable blood purifier can effect a perfect cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood-purifier, and it has cured many very severe cases of catarrh. It gives an appetite and builds up the whole system.

Hood's Pills act especially upon the liver rousing it from torpidity to its natural duties, cure constipation and assist digestion.

War well Waged.

What greater enemy of mankind than disease, and what nobler work than to fight against this death dealing enemy of humanity. The most successful war against disease is being steadily carried on by Burdock Blood Bitters for dyspepsia, constipation, bad blood, biliousness, etc., cannot resist its powers.

BEAVER COSTUME.

With Blouse Waist and Eton Jacket.

Here is a costume of beaver-colored cloth, with small diagonal stripes, having arabesques sewn on with fine silk thread of a similar shade. The blouse is of Scotch plaid surah, the colors being red, pink and green. The girdle and the turn-back cuffs are of green velvet. The skirt is of the fashionable bell shape, and is lined with silk or satin. The placket-hole is in the middle of the back, and is provided with a broad under-piece and fastened with two or three safety-hooks. The girdle, which is lined with organdie or other soft muslin, is fastened to the waist behind, and in front is simply crossed, leaving two short ends. The edge of the skirt is surrounded with slender silk cords, as seen in the engraving, the first two cords being laid on flat, while the third is surmounted by the arabesques, in the form of leaves, which must first be carefully drawn and sewn on with stitching silk. In order that the sewing on of these cords and arabesques may not pucker the skirt, the latter is partly lined with muslin, before it is fully lined. The blouse waist has a tightly fitting lining, which closes in the centre with hooks and eyes. The front and back of the blouse are cut on the bias and fastens under either arm. The front forms small straight folds, which are drawn in at the waist and fastened down to the lining. The back is seamless and forms a slight fold at the waist. The fastenings at the armholes, shoulders and sides must be provided with wide under pieces of the same material in case the opening should be disarranged, when the blouse is worn without the Eton jacket. The Eton jacket is shorter at back than in front, is embroidered with silk cord, and is lined with silk. The sleeves, very much puffed and rather loose all the way down, have cuffs standing out from the sleeve, as in the engraving and lined with very stiff muslin. The stiff collar is high in the neck, but turned down.

ISSUER OF MARRIAGE LICENSES.

ONLY A COMMON MAN.

The German emperor and I
Within the self-same year were born,
Beneath the self-same sky.
Upon the self-same morn;
A kaiser he, of high estate,
And I, the usual chance of fate.

His father was a prince, and mine—
Why, just a farmer—that is all.
Stars still are stars, although some shine,
And some fall hid in midnight's pall;
But argue, cavil all you can,
My sire was just as good a man.

The German emperor and I
Eat, drink and sleep the self-same way;
For bread is bread, and pie is pie,
And kings can eat but thrice a day;
And sleep will only come to those Whose mouths and stomachs are not foes.

I rise at six and go to work,
And he at five and does the same.
We both have cares we cannot shirk;
Mine for loved ones, his for fame.
He may live best, I cannot tell;
I'm sure I wish the Kaiser well.

I have a wife, and so has he;
And yet, if pictures do not err,
As far as human sight can see
Mine is by long odds twice as fair.
Say, would I trade those eyes, dark brown?
Not for an empress and her crown.

And so the emperor and I
On this one point could ne'er agree;
Moreover, we will never try;
His frau suits him and mine suits me.
And though his sons may one day rule,
Mine stand A1 in the public school.

So let the kaiser have his sway,
Bid kings and nations tumble down,
I have my freedom and my say,
And fear no ruler and his crown;
For I, unknown to fame or war,
Live where each man is emperor.

CHEAP HAY FRAME.

A Very Durable One Which Any One Can Make.

The illustration represents a hay frame easily constructed but when completed it is one of the best. It is 14 feet long by 6½ or 7 feet wide. The two main timbers are pine 2x8 inches, the four cross pieces 2x4 pine. The bows over hind wheels can be made from old tires of the back wheels of a wagon. Forward wheel tires answer but are a little short. The boards over the front wheels extending from first cross piece to the third are ordinary 1x6 fencing material and should be both bolted and nailed on. Use eight half inch bolts, 12 inches long to secure the cross pieces to the main timber. The roller in front to which the ladder itself is attached is of oak to make it perfectly secure when a man climbs onto the load. The stakes at the back end are fastened with one bolt so that they may be turned down after the wagon is unloaded. They also should be made of oak or other hard wood.

CHEAP HAY FRAME.

The materials for a rack of this kind, says the Orange Judd Farmer, not including the iron bows, cost at retail in the ordinary country town about $2.50. Old wagon tires are found on nearly every farm or can be purchased for 25 to 50c. A good hand-saw, a brace with several sizes of bits, a hatchet, a chisel and a square are all the tools necessary and these should be on every farm. A blacksmith will make the tires into bows for a trifle, or a farmer may do this himself if he has an iron drill for his brace. The constructing can be done in winter or early spring at times when the weather prevents other work, so the labor practically amounts to nothing. Thus a first-class hay frame can be made at home at the very small cost of $3.00 to $3.75 at the outside. The frame is more easily painted, if made of smooth lumber; the undressed is probably a little stronger. If kept painted and under shelter when unused, it will last many years.

In his inaugural lecture at Oxford, as regius professor of modern history, Mr. Froude uttered many trenchant sentences, among the rest this concerning the treatment of history as a science: "In science, properly so-called, the individual is nothing, the species is everything. The individual is an accidental phenomenon, existing for a few days or years in space and time, and then swept away to make room for others of a similar kind. But with man, so far as he is an object of interest, it is the type which is nothing, and the individual which is everything. Take away from Ulysses or Hamlet their individual personality, and leave only what belongs to the race, would you say that you had preserved the immortal part and thrown away the unimportant? The immortal part of a man is not that which he shares with the rest of his race, but that which he possesses of his own."

They Got It At Last.

For many years scientists tried to concentrate the blood, flesh and bone making qualities contained in the oil of the Norwegian cod. They only partially succeeded. But by new chemical processes, rendered feasible by electrical forces, the life giving properties of the oil have all been captured, and are safely imprisoned within that famous remedy which is being talked about all over the country, known as "Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil." Physicians acknowledge that this is the greatest discovery, or rather the perfection of a discovery, ever given to the world. To say that it cures consumption by making blood, flesh and bone for the patient is quite enough. It is a remedy that positively needs no puffing. Many young people have been saved by its use. In big bottles, 50c. and $1.00, at all Drug Stores.

CHEAP COAL PROMISED

TO BE TAKEN FROM THE NOVA SCOTIA MINES.

Larger Capital and Better Transportation To Work the Much-Needed Change — Cargoes To Be Sent To the West Indies and South America

MONTREAL, Jan. 16.—Messrs. H. M. Whitney and his partner, Mr. Pearson, have gone to Boston to make arrangements for the completion of the big Nova Scotia coal deal referred to in the Canadian press for the last few days. Speaking to a reporter, Mr. Whitney said:

"I am connected with a number of men—some Canadians and some Americans—who intend to take over a number of these mining properties. The underlying idea of the whole scheme is to bring into one large organization with ample capital a considerable number of these properties, no one of which operated separately has been able to make the large expenditure necessary to the most economical production and transportation of coal.

"Ours having superiority over the old and imperfect methods now in vogue, simply by the adoption of the best-known processes and appliances by a large and systematic manner of working, will enable us to extend the coal trade of the country enormously. We contemplate the extension of the coal trade to the West Indies and part of South America, and I believe that the enterprise will have an important bearing on the extension of the general trade of Canada in that direction. One of the largest savings will be in the improved transportation facilities in the Gulf and River St. Lawrence.

For instance, the steamers now in use for bringing Cape Breton coal to Montreal are mostly tramp steamers, built with no special reference to this work and having a carrying capacity of 2000 tons or thereabouts. Now, a steamer carrying 3000 or 4000 tons can be run nearly as cheaply as one carrying 2000 tons, and if such a steamer had the power and necessary equipments for towing one or two barges of equal capacity, as is the custom in the States and on the lakes, it is easy to see that a good business can be done without at least any increase in the present cost of coal to the people of Montreal.

"By means of the best and most simple facilities for transferring coal at this port, we expect to be able to distribute Cape Breton coal through the country west of Montreal far beyond any point it has reached in the past. The methods now in use in Canada for handling and transporting coal are very much behind the times as compared with those in use elsewhere. This is partly due to the small output of the individual mines, which is again in part due to the fact that the present mining leases leave it to the discretion of the provincial Government to change the royalty from year to year and impose new conditions. This of course has effectually prevented the development of these properties."

SOFT COAL MERCHANTS.

Nova Scotia Coal May Ruin Their New England Trade.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The soft coal men are much concerned over the program which the ambitious Reading president and the operators who are backing him have laid out for soft coal dealings. Despite no end of vigorous denials it is generally acknowledged that the Reading people, with help from Prince, Whitney and others of the Boston financial circle, have been making heavy purchases in Nova Scotia coal properties. They have figured the cost of haulage from those mines and see a probable market in New England over the territory covered by the Boston and Maine and the New York and New England roads.

The Canadian Pacific is to do the feeding of the product to these companies from the mines to the border, and it is claimed that even with the soft coal duty of 50 cents per ton there still would be a profit against the Western Pennsylvania and Virginia soft coal brought to Hampton Roads and other shipping seaboard points, sent by water to New England ports and there reshipped by rail to the consumers.

A big effort will be made to have the duty thrown off soft coal. The offers of cheap coal to New England factories will be relied upon to bring a strong pressure from that section of the new Congress. There is now a large and established trade up the coast.

One objection to the plan is that much of the Nova Scotia coal is of inferior quality as compared with the Pocahontas and other coals from the Virginia section. Still, there are very good coal outputs from Cape Breton and other provincial fields, and if the syndicate has secured these the plan may work. The opposition will come from the water carriers, both Canadian and American, while the Norfolk and Western, Baltimore and Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroad will suffer largely. It will be a particularly sharp blow by the Reading at its old foe, the Pennsylvania road, and the Reading shouters are making much ado over the outlook.

Prices steadier.

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—Prices on the bourse during the past week were steadier. Domestic funds are gradually rising, but international funds show little movement.

STORMS IN ENGLAND.

A Heavy Head Gale Down—Over 80 Passengers Safely Landed

LONDON, Jan. 16.—A heavy snowstorm from the northeast is sweeping over England. Snow, sleet and a high wind prevail along the coast. Many small accidents to shipping along the coast are reported.

The steamer Brighton, plying between New Haven and Dieppe, left port in a gale Sunday morning. A deckhouse and the smoke-stack were washed away, one of her boats was smashed and part of her port rail was torn away by a heavy piece of baggage while her deck was awash.

When she approached the pier at Dieppe the storm was so blinding that the pilot could not see beyond her bow. The wind was blowing 60 miles an hour, and the seas were breaking over her deck so rapidly that none of the 80 passengers were allowed on deck.

Without any warning the steamship crashed into the pier. A large hole was stove in her bow and for a minute she stuck fast. Ropes were got aboard and were made fast before she was driven more than 20 feet from the pier.

She began filling rapidly. A long gangway was improvised, and the passengers were hurried ashore. There was little panic.

Half of the baggage had been gotten off, when the captain ordered the men to leave the ship, which was sinking rapidly. He had hardly followed the last man to the pier when the vessel went under.

Off Dartmouth five pilots were drowned while trying to put a man aboard a cutter. The cutter was pitching heavily, when the gig approached her. The bowsprit caught the gig and lifted it out of the water. All seven occupants of the gig were thrown out.

Refuses to Buy Gold.

PARIS, Jan. 16.—The Bourse was excited at the beginning of the week but afterwards became somewhat steadier. International stocks generally advanced. The decision of the Bank of France not to buy gold is important as indicating the existence of general distrust in the French financial world. The bank's note issue has increased 8000 francs since the middle of November, due to large demands made by credit and other financial institutions, which are strengthening their position in view of a possible political and financial cataclysm.

PANAMA CANAL AFFAIR.

AN EARLY REPORT TO BE SUBMITTED TO THE DEPUTIES.

France Will Not Allow Foreigners to Intrigue in Her Country Against Other Powers—Foreign Newspaper Correspondents to Be Held in Check.

PARIS, Jan. 17.—It is stated that secret orders have been sent to the commanders of the several army corps, enjoining them to be ready to co-operate in case of necessity with the civil authority, and to deal promptly and thoroughly with any symptoms of insubordination in the army itself. There is no reason to suppose, however, that any insubordination exists. The army, from the commanding generals to the soldiers in the ranks, is contented with its treatment, and system of promotion has never been more fairly carried out than under the administration of President Carnot.

M. Alt, correspondent of The Courriere di Napoli, and probably M. Brundes, correspondent of The Berlin Tageblatt, will be expelled from the country to-day.

The Figaro says M. Camaha will replace M. Waddington as France Ambassador at London.

M. Develle, Minister of Foreign Affairs, has written to Signor Reseman, the Italian ambassador, stating that Charles de Lesseps and his associates under accusation of frauds and bribery in connection with the Panama enterprise, formally declared before Magistrate Franqueville, that no money had been given to General Menabra, formerly ambassador from Italy.

Immediately after the opening of the chamber to-day M. Levy, Socialist deputy for the Seine, interpellated the Government as to the expulsion of four Nihilists from France on Jan. 13, at the instance of Baron Mohrenheim, Russian Ambassador.

M. Ribot replied at length to the interpolation. Since the discovery of a Nihilist bomb factory in Paris in 1889 he said the police had watched with unremitting vigilance all dangerous persons. France would never permit foreigners to intrigue on her soil against other powers. The Government would not hesitate to expel persons who come to the country for the purpose of plotting there the overthrow of governments. Cries of "Oh, oh," from the Socialist deputies.

Antoinette Jarde, Socialist deputy for the Girende, moved, amid much confusion, that the decision of the expulsion be allowed to proceed, as vital interests were at stake. If the Government had the right to expel all who disagreed with its opinions in domestic or foreign politics, he said, it might as well proclaim a despotism at once.

A committee from the deputies who devote themselves to questions of parliamentary business procedure urged M. Ribot to finish the Panama enquiry with all possible speed lest the other business of the Chamber be delayed.

M. Ribot replied that the magistrate's examination had been almost completed and that the report would be submitted to the Chamber shortly. The Government would ignore all questions during the discussion of the estimates.

To-morrow he would introduce a bill providing for such an amendment of the Press law that persons libelling ambassadors or the sovereigns whom these ambassadors represent in Paris could be prosecuted.

In the parliamentary commission of inquiry M. Souvoride and M. Tatischeff testified as to the charges of corruption against the Russian press. M. Souvoride, who introduced himself as editor of The Novoe Vremya, protested that Mr. Delahayes charges as to the receipt of 500,000 francs by that newspaper from the Panama people were unqualified falsehoods.

M. Tatischeff made a similar denial. After giving his testimony he made a short speech to the commission to the effect that the friendship of Russia and France was imperilled by "this rising tide of calumny." Unless the commission would defend Russia against palpable slanders, such as had been bandied about recently, the most deplorable results might be expected.

STRUCK BY 500 POUNDS.

Fatal Accident to a Young Man in a Colborne-street Warehouse.

TORONTO, Jan. 17. — A bookkeeper for the Toronto Warehouse Company named William Wells was instantly killed on the premises of the company yesterday noon by a falling elevator weight, which struck him on the head. Besides being bookkeeper for the company, Mr. Wells was general overseer of the building. At the time of the accident he was making some repairs at the foot of the old-fashioned freight hoist shaft. The weight that balanced the hoist and which weighed 500 pounds became unhooked and fell from the third story directly upon the head of the young man in the cellar. When picked up by Mr. H. P. Hime, one of the members of the firm, the left side of the deceased's head was crushed in, showing that he must have heard the falling weight and glanced up before it struck him. Dr. E. E. King was summoned and pronounced death instantaneous. Coroner Pickering considered no one to blame and decided not to hold an inquest.

William Wells was 22 years of age and lived with Mr. Aylesworth, his brother-in-law, at 213 Mutual street. He had been working for the company several years and was a universal favorite.

Steamers Collide and Sink.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The Italian steamer San Marco and the French steamer Agesian were in collision last night in the Strait of Messina. Both vessels were so badly damaged that they sank a short time after the collision. All on board both steamers were rescued, except three men from the Agesian.

An Actress Dead.

LONDON, Jan 17.—Frances Ann Kemble (Mrs. Pierce Butler), the well-known actress, died Monday. Mrs. Butler was the daughter of Charles Kemble and niece of Mrs. Siddons. She was born in London Nov. 27, 1809.

TO BE EUROPE'S BIGGEST

THAT IS CAPRIVI'S PLAN FOR THE GERMAN ARMY.

But He Knows the Tax Payers Can Not Support Him Fully—He Does Not Want a Home Guard By Conquering Legions.

BERLIN, Jan. 17.—At a meeting of the Military Committee of the Reichstag Monday Dr. Komierosky declared that the Polish members of the Reichstag would abstain for the present from adopting any definite position in regard to the Army Bill.

Herr Beremberg said that his attitude would largely depend on the popular feeling in regard to the measure. Should the people show approval of the bill he would approve it, otherwise he would be inclined to oppose it. Herr Beremberg went on to say that popular approval of the Army bill was far from being secured. The aversion to the bill displayed by the masses of the population was explicable, in view of the uneasiness which the fears of fresh taxation created. The more favorable aspects had only been known since the bill was introduced.

Confidence in the military authorities was also shaken. Vernois had declared the two years' service a crime, whereas all the authorities now declared the adoption of the system was only a question of compensations. He would not refuse to grant means to increase and rejuvenate the army, provided taxes to be imposed would not affect agriculturists.

Chancellor Caprivi declared that the demands of the Government were in harmony with an increase in population and of the tax-bearing capacity of the people. The object of the bill was to enable Germany, if necessary, to take the offensive and to prevent war from being carried on on our own land. The Government had abstained through consideration of economy from proposing far more extensive reforms.

Herr Bennigseir said that the popular feeling was gradually growing more favorable to the bill. The existing order of things in France had received a severe shock and the maintenance of tranquility in that country was more doubtful. The scope of the bill, however, should be confined to securing 40,000 recruits. The committee was not disposed to enter upon a conflict with the Government. If suitable concessions were made an entente would be arrived at.

Chancellor von Caprivi remarked that the Government would probably be satisfied with 50,000 instead of 60,000 new recruits yearly.

WHAT THE DANES THINK.

That Country Wishes to Maintain Absolute Neutrality.

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 17.—In the Reichstag Monday the subject of Chancellor Caprivi's alleged remarks before the committee on the Army bill, implying that Denmark must be regarded as an enemy of Germany in event of a European conflict, was brought up for discussion.

The reported statement of the German Chancellor has caused much surprise in Denmark and was promptly seized upon by Radicals as ground for criticising the increase of military expenditures. When the part of the budget relating to foreign affairs was before the Rigsdag, Deputy Holme asked whether the Government had made any enquiry regarding the authenticity of the reports about the Chancellor's utterances.

Baron de Reedtz-Thott, Minister of Foreign Affairs, replied that the German Ambassador had assured him on the authority of the German Government that the reports of Chancellor Caprivi's speech before the Army Committee were distorted and misleading. Baron Reedtz-Thott declared that the relations between Germany and Denmark were cordial and that one of the chief objects of the Danish Government was to maintain absolute neutrality in European conflicts.

CANADA'S COAL.

Developments of the Syndicate's Scheme in Nova Scotia.

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—The Herald says: "Great interest has been excited in Boston and throughout New England by the announcement that Henry Whitney and a syndicate of Boston capitalists have obtained control of the coal mines of Cape Breton. From information gleaned it is probable that the deal consummated is of even more gigantic dimensions than this, and embraces not only the coal mines but a large area of undeveloped mineral properties, and the railways connecting the mines with navigations. Many millions of Boston capital will, it is said, be invested in this enterprise, which is understood to include a great extension in the output of coal in that island, the construction of a railway from Sydney, where it will connect with the Intercolonial system to Louisburg, a port on the seaboard open all the year round, the opening up of iron, copper and gypsum mines and the establishment of smelting furnaces and other industries."

C. P. R. Accident.

OTTAWA, Jan. 17.—A few days ago it was rumored that an accident had happened on the C. P. R., between Schrieber and Fort William. To-day a passenger stated that a baggage, colonist and tourist car had tumbled over a low embankment caused by a broken coupler. No one seriously injured.

Lost Feet and Hands.

OTTAWA, Jan. 17.—John Burns, the unfortunate shanty man, who had both hands amputated on Thursday, had both feet cut off on Saturday. He, however, is doing well, and there is every prospect of his ultimate recovery.

Canada's Champion Matched.

MONTREAL, Jan. 17.—A five-style wrestling match was arranged yesterday between W. H. Quinn, champion of Canada, and Charles McNeil of Ogdensburg, to take place on Jan. 31 in the Ogdensburg Opera House. The match is for $250 a side.

Who Are They?

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The Pall Mall Gazette yesterday said that the enquiry into the recent dynamite explosion in Dublin has revealed the fact that two men were concerned in the outrage. The identity of these men, the paper adds, is proved beyond conjecture.

A Double Execution.

NANAIMO, B.C., Jan. 17.—A double execution took place here yesterday morning. Domineo Tarsgnello, an Italian, murdered another Italian. Sing Kee, a Chinaman, murdered a fellow countryman. For these crimes they were hanged.

SATOLLI'S MISSION.

The Apostolic Delegation Said to Be Similar to a Foreign Legation.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—A Washington special to The Sun gives an interview had with Bishop Keane relative to the appointment of Archbishop Satolli as Apostolic Delegate for America. In reply to questions as to the duties and powers of Satolli, Bishop Keane said: "[illegible] will hardly know the scope of his [illegible] until he receives his instructions from the Holy See. We may presume that his duties will be of a purely ecclesiastical nature.

"Will not the establishment of the Apostolic delegation be similar to that of a foreign legation?"

"To a certain extent it will. Bishop Satolli will be the recognized representative of the Holy Father, and he may establish his headquarters in Washington or in Baltimore. The establishment of the Apostolic delegation has been in contemplation for some time, and Leo XIII. has not taken the step without careful consideration. Some of the American bishops have undoubtedly objected to it because they prefer to correspond directly with the Holy Father at Rome. Mgr. Satolli will confine himself to matters relating to the church."

Bishop Keane brought the interview to a close with the remark that the pending controversy will be settled without any friction.

STRIKERS' POWDERS.

Broke Down a Street Car Company's Fight in Three Days.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 17.—Interest in the Homestead poisoning case increases. The principal witness was Patrick Gallagher, the cook, upon whose confession the charges of poisoning were made. Gallagher's testimony did not materially differ from his previous story which implicated the cooks Beatty and Davidson and Hugh Dempsey, master workman of K. of L. The witness said Dempsey gave him powders to place in the coffee and tea that was to be given to non-unionists.

Dempsey said the strike of State-street Car Company of Chicago had been broken in three days by the use of these powders. They would make the men sick, but would not endanger life.

Eight or ten other witnesses who worked at the mill during the strike, and who were victims of the mysterious disease, were examined, but nothing new elicited.

BEHRING SEA AFFAIR.

Uncle Sam's Rockers Getting Into Shape for the Arbitration.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Secretary J. W. Foster, Ex-Minister Phelps and Senator Morgan had a conference with President Harrison at the White House this morning in regard to the Behring Sea case. Secretary Foster is agent, Mr. Phelps the leading counsel and Senator Morgan one of the arbitrators on the part of the United States.

The arbitrators are to meet in Paris, Feb. 23, and it is nearly time for the submission of the counter case by Great Britain and the United States.

Justice Harlan, the other American arbitrator, and Mr. Williams of counsel are already in Paris. The others connected with the case will leave here for Paris in the course of a few weeks.

Secretary Foster will probably be the last to go, as he has arranged to retain his present position in the State Department until Feb. 15.

COKE WORKERS.

Threatening to Strike and Secure Aid From Other Miners.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 17.—Reports from the Westmoreland and Fayette coke region indicate that the thousands of coke workers are not discouraged by the great defeat which they suffered in the spring of 1891 at the hands of Mr. Frick, but are preparing for a more desperate attempt to force their employer to give higher wages and easier regulations.

The coming strike will be operated by a more thorough organization of the workmen than existed two years ago, and it is not unlikely that they will be supported by a simultaneous strike of the miners [illegible] the railroad pits in that section whence coal is drawn to supply the coke ovens.

A similar organization among the miners in the anthracite region is undoubtedly working in harmony with the coke workers here and the Monogahela Valley miners.

A Hard Position to Fill.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—A Washington special says: The Chinese Government is having some difficulty in getting anyone to come to the United States to act as Minister to Washington. The present Minister, Tsui Kuo Kivin, will soon return to China.

He has been involved in several transactions in this country, chief of which was his relations with a visionary scheme for commercial concessions on the part of the Chinese Empire and which have been represented to the home Government as calculated to injure the standing of the Mongolian Empire in the eyes of the United States. For this he has been reprimanded by Li Hung Chang, the Prime Minister of China.

Wrestling Match.

ELMIRA, N.Y., Jan 17.—A Graeco-Roman wrestling match occurred in this city last night between Mervine Thompson and Martin Muldoon. The men wrestled for one hour and 23 minutes before the first fall was secured by Thompson.

Muldoon then announced that he would not wrestle another bout and the match was awarded to Thompson.

Fatal Collapse of a Building.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 17.—About 5.45 yesterday the four-story brick building at 517 Commerce-street, occupied as a salesroom and warehouse by the Nixon Brothers Paper Company, collapsed.

Seven men were in the building. Three were buried in the ruins and killed, one was badly hurt and three escaped uninjured.

Fire in Albany.

ALBANY, N.Y., Jan. 17.—A fierce fire broke out in Broadway at midnight within 100 feet of the newspaper offices and gained much headway before water was thrown on it. J. H. Simmons, auctioneer, and Moses Dodge, shoe manufacturer, occupied the building, which is now completely gutted.

Had the Jim-Jams.

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—The steamer Coventina, from Palermo, which arrived yesterday morning, reports having encountered heavy storms. Yesterday, when off Cape Cod, Capt. William Robertson committed suicide by jumping overboard. He was suffering from an attack of delirium tremens.

LITTLE LAKE CEMETERY CO.

THE SHAREHOLDERS HOLD THEIR ANNUAL MEETING.

The Directors, Superintendent, and Auditors Reports are all Creditable—The Newly Elected Directors—The old Officers Re-elected—Rev. V. Clementi's Retirement From the Directorate—The Revision of the Scale of Prices of Lots—Other Business Done

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Little Lake Cemetery Company was held in the council chamber yesterday afternoon. There was an unusually small attendance and the business was disposed of rapidly. Those present were Henry Denne, (president), E. A. Peck, (secretary), and the following shareholders Jas. Stevenson, W. H. Moore, B. Shortley, Chas. Stapleton, Adam Dawson, J. J. Lundy, Robt. Kingan, T. Telford, Thos. Brown, C. W. Sawers, Jas. L. Hughes, W. H. Ford, (superintendent), and R. M. Dennistoun.

The minutes of the last annual meeting were read and confirmed.

THE DIRECTORS REPORT

was read by the secretary as follows:

To the Shareholders of the Little Lake Cemetery Company:

The Directors beg leave to submit the following report:

The annual statement of receipts and expenditure, which have been duly audited, is presented to you as usual in a separate report.

An examination of it will show that the receipts have exceeded the expenditure for the year by $395.68. This amount is somewhat less than in the former year, when the balance was $521, but the difference is explained by the fact that the sum realized from the sale of lots and graves was less than in the former year by $400. This is, of course, not a matter for regret, as the land must ultimately be sold, and besides its sale is but a conversion of capital to the general purpose of the company. It is pleasing to notice that the revenue from other sources (not including investments) is increasing. In 1890 this was $1053, in 1891 it was $1255, and last year it was $1415. A portion of the cash in hand has been applied in the purchase of a debenture of the town of Peterborough for $1,500 payable in twenty years with interest at 4½ per cent. per annum. This, with another debenture also held by the company, makes the amount now invested in this manner $3,500. Of this sum thus invested $650 was received by the company in consideration of their undertaking to maintain and care for certain lots in perpetuity. The directors would again suggest to the shareholders the desirability of each as far as possible, also endeavouring to make similar arrangements for the care of their respective lots when they themselves may have passed away. The Board have received notice that the late Mr. Henry Pethick has by his will set aside $200 for such a purpose.

The directors considered an application from the superintendent for an increase of salary and re-engaged him from March last at $550. The Board are glad to bear testimony to the excellent manner in which he has performed his duties.

The drainage of a portion of the cemetery lying north-east and east of the pump house has this year engaged the attention of the directors. Tile drains were laid along several paths running easterly, and connected with one placed along Hayne Avenue, from whence the drain is carried to the river. The drain was very much required. It is so constructed as to admit of extension if deemed necessary, as probably will be.

Other improvements effected during the year will be particularly mentioned in the superintendent's report.

HENRY E. DENNE, Chairman.

Peterborough, Jan. 16th, 1893.

Moved by Mr. Stevenson, seconded by Mr. Stapleton, that the report be received and adopted.

SHAREHOLDERS VOTING.

Mr. Kingan referred to the question which was was brought up at the previous meeting, viz. obtaining legislation by which a shareholder should be entitled to one vote. At present the company being a joint stock company a shareholder held as many votes as he owned lots.

Mr. Moore pointed out that in order to do this it would be necessary to amend the Cemetery Act.

Mr. Kingan, in view of this, considered it would not be an easy thing to do so, and he would not press the matter.

THE REPORT OF THE AUDITORS.

The auditors report was then read by the secretary as follows:—

JOHN J. HALL, JAS. A. HALL, } Auditors.

Peterborough, January 16th, 1893.

Moved by Mr. Stevenson, seconded Mr. Stapleton that the auditors report be received and adopted.—Carried.

THE SUPERINTENDENT'S ANNUAL REPORT was then presented as follows:—

To the President, Directors and Shareholders of Little Lake Cemetery Company:

GENTLEMEN,—I beg to submit the following report of the improvements made at the cemetery for the year ending Dec. 31st, 1892.

In the spring about 150 trees and shrubs were planted and are thriving well.

The gates at the south entrance being out of repair, was replaced by a pair of new ones.

Several of the terraces on the east side of the cemetery have been re-sodded. All refuse earth has been put on the east side of Hillside Avenue, making a good, wide road.

The windmill and tower were overhauled and repaired. 125 feet of watermains have been laid, and five hydrants placed at convenient places in the grounds.

In the part of cemetery where water was sometimes found in the graves, 1,176 feet of deep drains have been made averaging 6 ft. 3 in deep and laid with tiles as follows: On Ravine side 376 feet across, 11 ranges with intersecting points at each walk; in Section C also two traps for taking away surface water in the spring or during a thunder storm. In Section C in the walks 380 feet have been laid on Ravine Avenue running east; also 414 feet have been laid. I would recommend that additional drains be laid on the paths in Section C to intersect the drain on Ravine avenue the coming season.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

W. H. FOORD, Superintendent.

The report of the cemetery record of deaths, cause of death, residence, religion, etc., prepared by Supt. Foord, which has already been published in the EXAMINER, was also presented.

Moved by Mr. Shortly, seconded by Mr. Stapleton, that the superintendent's report be adopted.

Mr. Stevenson objected so far as that portion of the report referring to the expenditure was concerned which he believed should be referred to the shareholders, otherwise he favoured the adoption of the report.

Mr. Shortly's motion carried, and the report was adopted, except as to the recommendations contained therein, which was left to be dealt with by the directors.

THE AUDITORS APPOINTED.

Mr. Stevenson moved, seconded by Mr. Lundy, that Messrs. J. J. Hall and J. A. Hall be re-appointed auditors for the ensuing year.—Carried.

THE ELECTION OF DIRECTORS.

The election of Directors being the next order of business, was then proceeded with, Messrs. Dawson and Robt. Pope being elected scrutineers. Nominations were then called for. Before proceeding, however, with the election the secretary read the following letter from Rev. V. Clementi, a long-time director of the company:

REV MR. CLEMENTI RETIRES.

Mr. E. A. Peck, Secretary Little Lake Cemetery Company:

DEAR SIR,—Owing to my advanced age and failing health I have to request that my name be not placed upon the list of candidates for re-election as a member of the Board of Directors of the Cemetery Company for the current year.

V. CLEMENTI.

—Received.

The following motion was moved by W. H. Moore, seconded by R. M. Dennistoun, that it be a recommendation to the directors of the company that they revise the scale of prices of lots in the cemetery with a view to increasing same and of providing a larger income and so if possible forming a larger reserve fund for future maintenance.

Mr. Kingan moved in amendment that the directors simply fix a scale of prices of lots and report at the next annual meeting of the company.

Mr. Moore's motion carried, Mr. Kingan's resolution obtaining no seconder.

The election of directors was then proceeded with by ballot, resulting in favour of Messrs. Denne, Stevenson, Lundy, Sawers, Dennistoun, Moore, Shortly, John Burnham and Stapleton.

A vote of thanks was tendered the scrutineers for their kindness.

HIS SERVICES NOT IN VAIN.

Mr. Stevenson moved the following resolution, seconded by Mr. Lundy:—That the directors and shareholders of the Little Lake Cemetery Co. have received with regret to-day the letter of Rev. V. Clementi, requesting that his name be omitted from the list of candidates for the directorate. The company most sincerely regrets the reasons which have made this retirement necessary, after years of valued services as a director. We would express the appreciation of these services always cheerfully given and express a heartfelt wish that the reverend gentleman may be spared for years to come to take an interest, if not as a director, as a shareholder in the Company—Carried.

OFFICERS ELECT FOR 1893.

A meeting of the newly-elected shareholders was held afterwards for the purpose of organization, when the following officers werd elected:

President—Henry Denne (re-elected.)
Sec.-Treas—E. A. Peck (re-elected.)
Superintendent—W. H. Foord (re-elected.)

Managing Committee—Messrs. Shortly, Lundy, Stapleton and the President.

The President returned thanks in a neat speech for the honour done him in electing him for the third time to the important position of President. During his recent illness he had received great assistance in his duties as President by the energetic Secretary and Board of Managers, for whose kindness he thanked them one and all.

After the transaction of some minor matters, the meeting adjourned to meet on the first Monday in February of next year.

Something To Remember.

If you're a weak or ailing woman:—that there's only one medicine so sure to help you that it can be guaranteed. It's Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. In building up overworked, feeble, delicate women, or in any "female complaint" or weakness, if it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back. It's an invigorating, restorative tonic, a soothing and strengthening nervine, and a safe and certain remedy for woman's ills and ailments. It regulates and promotes all the proper functions, improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and strength.

Nothing else can be as cheap. With this, you pay only for the good you get.

THE BIGGEST DAY IN 7 YEARS!

Saturday, December 3rd was the biggest day MR. J. J. SHEEHY has had in seven years. Why is this? Surely not because there is less competition. Certainly not because inducements are not being held out by others. Most assuredly not because prices of farm products are showing an upward tendency. Then why??

Simply because the purchasing public of the town and surrounding country have read Mr. Sheehy's advertisements, have inwardly digested them and have conclude that cheap sale or no cheap sale Mr. Sheehy is bound not to be undersold

We want every day in December to be a big day. How are we to accomplish this? Simply by offering to the public better value for the money than can be had elsewhere. Just cast your eye over the following quotations:—

All Wool Flannels, 26 in. wide, - -	17½	Good Linen Towels each - - -	5½
9 lb. Wool Blankets, - - - - -	$3.75	Grey Wool Blankets, - - -	31c. a lb.
14 yds. Heavy Grey Canton Flannel,	$1.00	25 yards Factory Cotton, - -	$1.00

These few quotations will probably give an idea of what we are doing and a glance at our BARGAIN TABLE in the centre of our store will convince the most skeptical that when it comes to general bargains we certainly are very decidedly "in it."

THE LATE JAMES McEWAN.

The following from the Souris, (Man.) Plaindealer refers to the death of a former highly respected citizen of Smith:—"Mr. Jas. McEwan, Sr., died on Monday last at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. Jas. Bowie, 10-7-21. He had been spending a few days with his daughters Mrs. Bowie and Mrs. Knott and was taken with illness that ended fatally. Mr. McEwan was seventy-four years of age and had been in the province about five years, living with his sons, James and William, about twelve miles south of town. Mr. McEwan was born in Scotland and came to Ontario in 1832. He resided at Peterborough before coming to Manitoba. The funeral which took place on Tuesday to Glenwood cemetery was largely attended as the old gentleman and his family have a wide circle of acquaintances in this district." Mr. McEwan lived on lot 8, concession 3 of Smith, and the family left for Manitoba about six years ago. Mr. McEwan was a staunch Liberal in politics and very highly respected in the community in which he spent so many years of his life, and the sad news of his death will be received with general regret.

ONTARIO AND EDUCATION.

The Governor-General, speaking at London on Friday last, said: "With regard to the immediate purpose of the moment, I have much pleasure in addressing the Collegiate Institute pupils, to whom I am about to present diplomas. I am glad you have these institutions, which give as thorough an education as any in any part of the globe. Without fear of comparison Ontario may hold its own among the nations of the world in the perfection of its system of school teaching, and in the practical nature in which it is carried on. It was no small step made a few years ago in providing for the equipment of collegiate institutes pupils for the universities without a further examination. It binds the university and the school system more together, so that those who wish to obtain university degrees in science, literature or other branches, may enter one of the public schools, and by their own efforts work up to the highest positions in the academic world through three successive stages. I am quite sure that it is in London one that is taken advantage of."

Generally caused by exposure to cold, wet feet, sitting in a draught, coming from hot and crowded places, in thin dress, or wearing damp clothes, stockings, or any other cause tending to check suddenly the perspiration. The Directors, who are now the owners of the entire Capital stock, have decided, at the request of numerous friends of the Company throughout Canada, to enlarge the proprietorship of its stock, and to offer for sale, at par, ten thousand shares, of one hundred dollars each, fully paid and non-assessable.

Payments are to be made as follows:—Five per cent. on application; fifteen per cent. on allotment, twenty per cent. each in one, two, three and four months from the date of allotment. Applicants have the right to pay in full on allotment.

Applications for shares will be received until February 15th, 1893, at any of the offices of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, at the offices of the Union Bank of Halifax, and at the head office of the company, N. Y. Life Building, Montreal.

Forms of application for shares may be obtained at any of the above places, or they will be sent by mail on request.

Should no allotment of stock be made to any applicant for shares, the amount paid will be returned in full, and in the event of the Directors finding it impossible to allot the full number of shares applied for, the surplus of the deposit will be credited toward the amount payable on allotment.

The right is reserved of withdrawing the offer in whole or part at any time before allotment, and of allotting to any applicant any less number of shares than the number applied for.

As the dividends of the Company are payable quarterly, beginning with the first day of March next, allottees of stock will be entitled to receive a proportion of the quarterly dividend as declared, corresponding to the amount paid upon their subscription.

It is proposed to apply to the Stock Exchanges of Montreal and Toronto for official quotations of the shares of the Company.

The Consumers Cordage Company was organized in June, 1890, with a Capital of one million dollars, to operate several of the largest Cordage and Binder Twine Factories in Canada. It, at first, operated these under leases, but its operations having been successful, the Capital Stock was subsequently increased to Three Million Dollars, and the leased properties were purchased.

The Company has no mortgage indebtedness; and, according to the law under which it was incorporated, none can be created without the consent of two-thirds of the shares holders, represented at a meeting called for the purpose.

The Company has placed in the hands of its Bankers:—

(a) Full statements of its affairs, certified to by Messrs. Caldwell, Tait & Wilks, Chartered Accountants.

(b) The following letter from Messrs. Abbotts, Campbell & Meredith, advocates, Montreal, upon the legality of its incorporation, and the issue of its stock:—

MONTREAL, January 5, 1893.

Consumers Cordage Co., Ltd., Montreal:—

GENTLEMEN,—We have examined the books and documents connected with the organization of the Consumers Cordage Company, Limited, and are of opinion that it has been properly incorporated, and that its capital stock of $3,000,000, as issued, is fully paid up and non-assessable, according to the provisions of the "Companies Act."

We are, yours truly,

(signed), ABBOTTS, CAMPBELL & MEREDITH.

(c). A report from Messrs. Macmaster and McGibbon, Solicitors of the Company, that the titles to its Mills have been duly examined, and that no encumbrances exist.

Applicants for shares may examine these documents, copies of which may be seen at the Company's offices, and at the various offices of the Banks mentioned above.

The Consumers Cordage Company is probably the second largest Manufacturer of Cordage and Binder Twine in the world, and claims the following very material advantages over its competitors:—

1st. Ample capital to conduct its business which enables it:—

(a) To buy its raw material in larger quantities, and at lower prices.

(b) To use only the latest and most improved machinery, thus keeping its mills in the highest state of efficiency.

2nd. Economy in selling and distributing its manufactured product.

3rd. The business covers so wide a territory (its manufactured goods go to almost every civilized country in the world) that it cannot be seriously injured by local troubles; and its Manufacturing establishments are so scattered that the danger of severe loss by fire is very slight.

4th. Lower cost of production.

(a). By maintaining the sharpest competition between its several mills, it is enabled to introduce in all the best methods found in each.

(b). By spreading its commercial expenses over a larger output.

(c) By placing in one hand the purchasing of the Raw Materials and Manufacturing supplies for the several Mills, thus securing lowest prices.

(d). By manufacturing for themselves many of their supplies.

The Company has always found it in its interest to divide the economies effected in production and distribution with the Consumer, and since its existence the Consumer has, upon the average, had a better article at a lower price than previously.

The Company does not claim to have any monopoly, or to earn monopoly profits; in fact, it has not done so. Since its organization it has been able, owing to the advantages above referred to, to earn a net return on its present capital of not less than 10 per cent. per annum (as statements in their Bankers' hands will show), and the Directors believe that these profits will be maintained in the future, as the cost of production and distribution shows each year a marked decrease.

The Dividend for the year ending 31st October, 1892, was at the rate of 8½ percent. per annum. The past record of the Company and its present position justify the Directors in believing that quarterly dividends of one and three-quarters per cent. can be paid [and should the profits for the present year be as large as the outlook promises, the final quarter's dividend might be increased.

Any further information may be had at the head office of the Company at Montreal

SCAVENGING.

THE undersigned is prepared to do scavenger work promptly and on most reasonable terms. Jobs of all sizes estimated before done. Holes dug and boxes put in. Orders may be addressed to P.O. Box 609, Peterborough. Letter will receive prompt attention

GEORGE STEVENS.

TO BE OR NOT TO BE "IN IT."

A Life Agent called at a friend's place one day,
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had seen "the bore" coming and fled from his way
HE WASN'T IN IT;
He had heard so much said, he was tired and sick
Of insurance and agents—'twas all a blank stick,
When one's exit must be shuffled to win it,
HE WASN'T IN IT.

A bit of a draft blew o'er his bald head,
HE WAS IN IT;
Pneumonia sent him straightway to his bed,
HE STAYED IN IT;
His doctor made of it a "quite special" case,
To save him for running still more of life's race,
But the grave took some chances to win it,
AND HE'S IN IT.

When approached by a gent for insuring your life,
GET RIGHT IN IT;
It's the right thing to do for your children and wife,
THEN STAY IN IT.
Remember that fires take your goods "out of sight,"
And that accidents happen each day and each night.
While insurance protects every minute,
IF YOU'RE IN IT.

A Bank Manager's Opinion.

HE IS "IN IT."

The General Manager of one of the leading banks in Canada, writing to a personal friend, says:—"I have no hesitation in saying that I place the CANADA LIFE upon the highest platform. It is in my opinion carefully, economically and honestly managed; its Reserve Funds are well invested; its rates of Premiums are low, and its future is, I think better assured than a great majority of Companies. I have my own life insured in the Company for a round amount, and would not hesitate to increase the amount of my policies should I decide upon taking out further insurance."

A Government Insurance Actuary's Opinion

On the Relation between Ordinary and Tontine Service.

It is frequently asserted by Companies whose business is nearly all tontined, that although the CANADA LIFE may and does pay large ordinary profits, yet it cannot compare so favourably on a long term distribution or tontine period, and that in the end better results can be obtained on a tontine policy in a large American Co. than on an ordinary or tontine policy in the CANADA LIFE. To prove the absurdity of this statement, the following piece of common sense is quoted from Mervin Tabor, late Actuary of the Illinois Goverment Insurance Department. In his well known book, "The Three Systems of Life Insurance," he says: "A company that gives large dividends on the ordinary kind of policies, can give much larger on the same kinds when Tontined, and a company that pays but meagre dividends on the usual forms, adopting perhaps the Tontine system to "cover up" its small surpluses, cannot be relied on for large returns of surplus under the Tontine forms of insurance."

The CANADA LIFE does not "cover up" its Quinquennial profits as some Companies do, but publishes them throughout the country.

It can and does surpass other Companies on Quinquennial profits. It should and will surpass them on Tontine profits.

WHY TO BE "IN IT."

BISHOP HAWKE'S REASON:—"I claim that Life Insurance is not only a humane, but I might say a Christian Institution."

LORD LYNDHURST'S REASON:—"A Policy of Life Insurance is always an evidence of prudent forethought. No man with a dependent family is free from reproach if not insured."

WHEN TO BE "IN IT."

The younger, the cheaper. Therefore insure when young. Besides by insuring in the CANADA LIFE now, you will share in three years' profits.

WHERE TO BE "IN IT."

The best place to be "in it" is in the Company that gives the best returns for the least money, consistent with absolute security. Therefore, in order to be "in it," choose the

DINED BY MAYOR KENDRY.

The New Council Partake of a Choice Banquet at the Grand Central Hotel Last Night—Toasts Drunk and Excellent Post Prandial Speeches.

In compliance with a precedent established by the chief magistrate of the town some years ago, Mayor Kendry, for the second time in his official capacity, entertained the members of the newly elected council to a tasty spread, provided by mine host Lackie in the spacious dining room of the Grand Central Hotel last night, after the deliberations of the municipal body. The oysters were relisheble and in season, the toasts many and highly honoured, the post prandial speeches natty and felicitous, while a thoroughly delightful and pleasant time was enjoyed by the small company of guests, notwithstanding a mixture of municipal palaver at times. Those present were His Worship the Mayor, Councillor Cahill, who fulfilled in his customary entertaining style the duties of chairman, Councillors Dennistoun, Bradburn, Kelly, Dawson, Winch, Wilson, Collins, Stevenson, Town Clerk Cobb, Chief of Police Ruzel, Street and Bridge Inspector Pope, W. A. Horkins, Mr. Cross, of Montreal, F. D. Mackay, Review, and Geo. VanBlaricom, EXAMINER. Although but an impromptu affair, the whole proceedings passed off in a manner that left nothing to be desired and the banquetters dispersed at a late hour after partaking of Mayor Kendry's hospitality, sorry to part, but hoping to meet around the festive board sometime again.

THE PRINCIPAL PICTURES PALESTINE.

Two Hours in the Holy Land—Interesting Details of the Centre of Sacred History.

Last night a fair-sized audience met in St. Paul's church to hear a very pleasant instructive and entertaining talk on Palestine, from Rev. Principal Caven. In plain, simple, conversational style he told how he went by steamer to Ismalia on the Red Sea, thence across country through the land of Goshen to Cairo, Egypt, thence down the Nile to Alexandria and by steamer to Joppa. En passant Principal Grant said he hoped the British occupation of Egypt would continue, for it was a a blessing to the country. From Jaffa to Jerusalem. From this centre of Palestine to different parts of the Holy Land—the Dead Sea, Valley of the Jordan, the region round about the Sea of Galilee, the centre of the gospel history and the scene of many of our Lord's miracles and of much of his teaching. The speaker graphically described the several scenes he saw and made interesting deductions. Palestine is largely Mahommedan and the most corrupt form of Christianity is infinitely better than the barbarous ferocity and impurity of Mahommedanism. The speaker spoke movingly of the certainly identified spots associated with the earthly pilgrimage of our blessed Lord—Bethlehem, Lake of Galilee, Nazareth and Calvary, places which could not be visited with out a feeling of sacred awe. For nearly two hours the reverand Principal held the attention of his audience by his interesting details of a visit to a land of which every acre has hallowed and familiar associations.

For St. Vitus dance, and all nerve diseases, Dr. Butler's Golden Pills are a specific. If a speedy cure is not effected money refunded.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

THOS. CAHILL,
Chairman.

The report was, on motion of Messrs. Cahill and Dawson, adopted.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH FOR 1893.

A bylaw, introduced by Mr. White, was passed appointing the following eight members (the retiring members being Messrs. Pearse, Hall, (Dr.) Fife, (Dr.) Brennan, Hughes, Denne, Shortly and Lech.)

Dr. Brennan, J. L. Hughes, moved by Mr. Denne, seconded by Mr. Winch.

Messrs. Lech, (Dr.) Fife and Denne, moved by Mr. McIlwain, seconded by Mr. Dennistoun.

Messrs. J. J. Hartley, Dr. Boucher and Robt. Innes, moved by Mr. Kendry seconded by Mr. Winch.

The Mayor is ex-officio a member of the board.

THE PAST CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH

Mr. Cahill paid a tribute to Mr. Pearse as chairman of the Board of Health during last year. Although he disagreed with some of the members of the Board, he felt that Mr. Pearse did what he believed to be his duty. He thought that the utmost sanitary precaution should be taken in Peterborough to prevent disease. The citizens were two unthinking in this matter. If Mr. Pearse had any fault, it was a fault of being in advance of the times regarding sanitary measures and precautions. The town should do its share to prevent disease entering here. This was a serious question and every dollar's worth in this town would be affected by even one case of cholera or smallpox. He hoped to see the incoming board do its duty as fearlessly as Mr. Pearse had done. (Applause.)

HIGH SCHOOL TRUSTEES APPOINTED.

The matter of appointing school trustees next came up.

Mr. Bradburn moved, seconded by Mr. Winch, that Messrs. J. McKee and Dr. Boucher be re-appointed for the ensuing year as High School trustees, (the term of office extending over two years) —Carried.

WOOD FOR CHARITY PURPOSES.

Moved by Mr. Winch, seconded by Mr. Stevenson, that the chairman of the charity committee be authorized to ask for tenders for 100 cords of mixed wood and 50 cords of tamarac for charity and report to this council—Carried.

THE NICHOLLS BEQUEST FOR PARKS.

Mr. Dennistoun said when in last year's council he had moved a resolution regarding Mrs. Nicholls bequest for parks, and appointed a committee to enquire, but it was difficult to get committees to act in the latter part of the year. He would move a new committee be appointed to confer with thee xecutors of the late Mrs. Nicholls estate, who had expressed their willingness for a consultation regarding the matter to enquire whether it was necessary for the town to obtain special legislation before it could receive the bequest for the purchasing and maintenance of public parks. The speaker had consulted the town solicitor and he had said it was impossible to receive this grant without special legislation except under the Public Parks Act. He moved, seconded by Mr. McIlwaine, the following resolution:

That Councillors Bradburn, Collins, Wilson, the mover and seconder be a committee to meet the executors of the Nicholls Hospital Estate for the purpose of discussing the ne essity of special legislation to enable the town to accept the grant for parks made under the will of the late Mr. Nicholls.—Carried.

MEASURING OF WOOD ON THE MARKET.

Mr. John McNaughton addressed the council at considerable length. He referred to the imperfect system of street watering carried out by the town, where the watering cart passed the door of the rich man, but the dust was never sprinkled before the cottage of the workingman. He suggested a reform by which all might have the streets in front of their residences watered on an equal basis in the way of a frontage tax. Continuing Mr. McNaughton dwelt, with considerable force upon the fact that a by-law should be passed making it the duty for the market clerk to measure every load of wood offered for sale on the market, and also label each load with the kind of wood it was. In 1891 every load was measured, but in 1892 not one cord had been measured by Mr. Green. There were 30 families in No. 1 ward whose heads could not spare the time to come on the market to buy wood, and their wives and daughters had to do so, and they had a right to know what kind of wood it was, and how much they were buying. The market clerk should do this the same as he weighed live stock, pork, etc., on the market scales and gave out statements of the weight. He hoped the market committee would take the matter in hand, and act as he suggested. The speaker said he had addressed the council under an obligation made to 452 families in the late election campaign in No. 1 ward.

Mr. Bradburn was of the opinion that the market committee when it met should give attention to Mr. McNaughton's grievance.

SUPPLIES FOR THE PUBLIC WORKS.

Moved by Mr. Bradburn, seconded by Mr. Stevenson, that the Street and Bridge Committee be authorized to ask for tenders for the necessary supplies for street and bridges for 1893 and report.—Carried.

DISPOSING OF MR. M'NAUGHTON'S REQUEST.

Mr. Cahill thought that the matter of the measuring of wood referred to by Mr. McNaughton should be referred to the Market Committee and the street watering question to the Fire, Water and Light Committee. He thought the only satisfactory way of street watering was to have it done by frontage tax, and he would move a resolution to that effect at the next meeting of the council.

Mr. Dawson favoured the measuring of the wood, and he felt sure that Mr. Green had only overlooked this matter and would give the right care to this detail if asked to.

Mr. Dennistoun seconded Mr. Cahill's motion which was carried.

WHO WILL BE THE TOWN ASSESSORS?

Mr. Kelly said there were only four applications for assessors and he would like to know if the Committee on Appointments had power to receive applications for the position after this meeting, until Feb. 1st.

REGULAR MONTHLY MEETINGS.

Mayor Kendry said the meeting of each month was to be held the first Monday in that month, and he would like to see a resolution moved to that effect.

Moved by Mr. Wilson, seconded by Mr. Collins, that the meeting of the council be the first Monday in each month—Carried.

THE AUDITORS AGAIN.

Moved by Mr. Kelly, seconded by Mr. Bradburn, that the Committee on Appointments be authorized to receive applications for position of town assessors until next meeting of the council, and report.—Carried.

QUESTION OF THE FIRE BRIGADE'S RESIGNATION.

Mr. Cahill touched upon the matter in reference to the fire brigade which was left over for the new council to deal with. He asked the firemen to make no change until the committee had time to consider the matter and report. He felt certain that the firemen had the same interest as the councillors in the welfare of the town, and a special meeting of the council might have to be called within a week or ten days to deal with the question.

This concluded the evening's business, and the council adjourned at 9 o'clock.

THE POPE'S DELEGATION

Is Permanently Established in the United States.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Mgr. Satolli, the Papal Ablegate, received at the Catholic University the following cable message from Dr. O'Connell, the American Secretary of the Propaganda, who accompanied Mgr. Satolli to this country and recently returned to Rome:

ROME, Jan. 14, 1893.

Mgr. Satolli,—The Apostolic delegation is permanently established in the United States, and you are confirmed as the first delegate.

[Signed] O'CONNELL.

Information was also received here confirming the announcement that the Rev. F. Z. Rooker of Albany, N.Y., had been formally appointed Secretary of the Apostolic Delegation, and stating further that he had left Rome for New York, and was no doubt the bearer of the Papal Bull creating the delegation and confirming all the powers of Mgr. Satolli

Archbishops Ireland and Corrigan have stated that the permanent establishment of the Apostolic Delegation in the United States will have the effect of settling all church controversies, and of educating the nation to the liberal views and measures of the Holy See.

Mgr. Satolli has published a statement in regard to the Pope's action in reinstating Dr. McGlynn. An extract says:

"Dr. McGlynn had presented a brief statement of his opinions on moral and economic matters, and it was judged not contrary to the doctrine constantly taught by the Church and as recently confirmed by the Holy Father in the encyclical Rerum Novarum. Also it is hereby publicly made known that Dr. McGlynn, besides professing his adherence to all the doctrines and teachings of the Catholic Church, has expressed his regret) saying that he would be the first to regret it) for any word or act of his that may have seemed lacking in the respect due to ecclesiastical authority, and he thereby intends to repair as far as he can any offence which may have been given to Catholics.

"Finally, Dr. McGlynn has of his own free will declared and promised that within the limits of a not long period of time he will go to Rome in the spirit and intention becoming to a good Catholic and a priest."

FRANCE'S SCANDAL.

She is Driving Out Foreign Correspondents To Lessen Publicity.

PARIS, Jan. 16.—At a meeting Saturday of 50 Republican deputies it was decided to represent to Premier Ribot that although the fullest light on the Panama scandal was necessary, yet the interest of the republic demanded that the affair be brought to a speedy settlement.

Mme. Joseph Reinach, with her husband's approval, has relinquished all claims upon the estate of the late Baron de Reinach.

Four hundred holders of bonds and shares in the Panama Canal met to-day and passed resolutions in favor of recognizing the company on a purely commercial basis. Count Keratry was the principal speaker and his suggestion that an appeal be made to American capitalists in the interests of the enterprise was approved unanimously by the meeting.

The Government has began a campaign against foreign newspaper correspondents in this city. The ministers have been seriously annoyed from the first by the attacks of English and German newspapers upon the men besmirched by the Panama scandal.

Several Paris dailies have suggested that both England and Germany had sufficient dishonesty at home to prevent them from casting stones were they not so self-righteous.

The Paris correspondent of the London Morning Post says that the Socialist meeting Saturday night at the Tivoli Vauxhall ended between 1 and 2 o'clock ended in a general row.

Water bottles and chairs were hurled from the platform at the heads of the people below and many were wounded. The proprietor turned off the gas and 100 police cleared the hall.

Gendarmes dispersed an anti-semitic meeting at Lyons Sunday after an exciting struggle.

Sore Throat. The best cure we now of for sore throat is a gargle of Pain-Killer and water—it acts like magic. Big Bottles twice the quanity in the old style.

CAPRIVI AND BISMARCK.

THE FORMER IS SAID TO BE THE GREATER MAN.

The German Army Bill Will Probably Be Passed with a Good Majority—Russia Is Uneasy Over the Chancellor's Speech and Shows Favor to Germany.

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—The Opposition is now beginning to admit that the Army Bill has a fair chance of passing the Reichstag. It is generally conceded that Chancellor von Caprivi's speech before the Reichstag Committee on Wednesday last was a most powerful and skilful plea for united action on the part of all the German parties on a matter that involves the safety of the Fatherland. In the official circle the question now is not whether the Government will get a majority, but how large the majority will be.

The effect of the Chancellor's speech abroad is eagerly watched here. Telegrams from St. Petersburg received to-day state that the Chancellor's words made the worst sort of an impression there owing to the want of accord between his utterances before the committee and his previous pacific declarations which were recently received through the German Embassy. The tenor of these latter remarks influenced the Czar's decision to send the Czarewitch as his representative to the marriage of Princess Margaret. The revulsion of the friendly feeling entertained for the German Government will be intense unless Chancellor Von Caprivi officially explains his remarks regarding Russia and Denmark.

The speech is hailed at Vienna and Buda-Pesth as establishing greater confidence on the part of the Austrian Government in Caprivi than was ever felt in Prince Bismarck. The Pesther Lloyd in an article to-day commenting on the speech alludes to Bismarck's double dealing and his tendency towards intriguing with Russia, even after the triple alliance was formed and says that Caprivi has shown himself to be a sincere ally who recognized the solidarity of the interests of the allied powers.

The Neue Freie Presse also contrasts the mistrust of Bismarck and the confidence in Caprivi, and congratulates Austria that the alliance with Germany now means complete accord in the protection of Constantinople and the Balkans, while it says Italy's interests are strengthened by the recognition that they are synonymous with those of England and Germany in the Mediterranean.

There was a lively debate in the Budget Committee of the Reichstag to-day on the Southwest African estimates. Herren Scipio and Hammacher, prominent National Liberals, assailed the Government for surrendering German to British interests in Damaraland.

Freiherr Marschall Bieberstein, Imperial Foreign Minister, in reply said that no German capital was invested there, yet the Government would not abandon the colony. Germany, he added, had obtained a renunciation from Great Britain of all claims to the territory in question. No scheme existed for ceding any portion of German Southwest Africa to England. The committee finally passed the estimates.

As the first step toward a Russian-German commercial entente, the St. Petersburg Government is about to cancel the decree prohibiting Russian railway companies from buying material abroad. The iron and steel trades of Germany expect to immediately benefit from the revocation of the decree. The cancellation of the decree is now before the Imperial Council awaiting signature, but the turn in Russian Court feeling because of Chancellor von Caprivi's speech may alter the position.

SMALL WAISTS.

The Girl Who Has One Will Not Hide It.

The girl with a small waist is not going to hide it, no matter how loudly fashion screams "Empire." And why should she when there are lots of ways of submitting to the Empire and showing her little waist, too? It is only necessary to effect a fall of something from the bust line down to the waist or below. This fall may be the dress itself, or it may be merely part of the trimming of the dress. Your gown may be made as conventionally as you like and have a very tight waistline. Then you can hang a sort of curtain of lace from the bust line, or make a fringe effect of narrow ribbon that hangs from a line even with under the arms to the waistline, or much farther, as you like. This idea can be modified in a dozen ways, and any one will give the desired Empire characteristics to the dress. Take the Zouave jacket notion; it only makes a small waist seem smaller. Let the Zouave be gathered over the bust as in the picture, and be fastened just in front. Then on the lower edge of it put a handsome fringe of irridescent beading and jewels that shall hang to the waist and irregularly below it. Through its glimmer the tiny round of the rest of the bodice will seem all the more slender and yet you can feel comfortable in the fact that your dress is according to the mode. Big soft sleeves in puffs at the shoulder, and a plain skirt complete the dress shown, and, if your bead work is very fine, let a band of it edge the Zouave all around, and wear a ribbon worked with jewels to match, as a necklace. The important thing, however, is to show that waist and be in style.

Men sometimes affect to deny the depravity of our race; but it is as clearly taught in the lawyer's office, and in the court of justice, as in the Bible itself.—Edwards.

We can never see this world in its true light unless we consider our life in it as a state of discipline—a condition through which we are passing to prepare us for another.—J. W. Alexander.

Do ye not laugh, O listening friends, when men praise those dead whose virtues they discovered not when living. It takes much marble to build the sepulcher. How little of lath and plaster would have repaired the garret!—Bulwer.

'Tis a fine saying of I. G. Holland that labor, calling, profession, scholarship and artificial and arbitrary distinctions of all sorts are incidents and accidents of life, as pass away. It is only manhood that remains, and it is only by manhood that man is to be measured.

We are entitled neither to honor nor dispraise by virtue of our birth. The dispraise or honor is due to the life we lead. Why, Pope knew this away back in the reign of Queen Anne, and sang:

Pink Pills for Pale People are the only Scientific and Rational, and therefore the only Perfect Remedy ever discovered for the cure of diseases depending upon a depraved and watery state of the blood. As they supply in a condensed form, the substances actually needed to enrich the blood and restore the nerves, they remove the cause and so cure the disease. Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. per package. dw

CHURCH AND CLERGY.

During the last ten years the number of Christians in Bengal has grown from 123,000 to 249,000.

The Episcopal Church in the United States has 72 bishops, 3,865 ministers, and 649,260 church members.

It is said that there is not an infidel book published in the Welsh language. The Welsh are greater Bible readers than any other race of people.

A wooden building costing $5,000 and accommodating 6,000 people was built expressly for the meetings held by Mr. Moody in Dublin, Ireland.

The Unitarian church at Plymouth, Mass., was burned last Tuesday night. In the belfry was a bell cast by Paul Revere in 1801, and which rang the curfew for many years.

The Rev. Thomas Drury of the Church of Emmanuel, Lawrence, Mass., in the presence of 1,000 spectators, baptized a man and woman Sunday in the pond of the Common in a space broken through the ice for the purpose.

The Rev. Isaac H. Tuttle, the oldest rector in New York in point of service, who preached his farewell sermon in old St. Luke's church recently, and is to become rector emeritus of new St. Luke's. Dr. Tuttle is 83 years of age, and has held one rectorship for forty-three years.

A papyrus manuscript found in the den of an old hermit in a cave near Jerusalem in the year 1890, and which experts have all along believed to have been the handiwork of St. Peter, "the friend of Christ," was submitted to a committee of the Biblical Society in London in 1890. They have arrived at the conclusion that the work is in reality exactly what it purports to be, the last literary work of the great apostle. It has not been ascertained exactly who has charge of the relic, but it is said that a "society of British literary voluptuaries" has offered $100,000 for the document.

Health is a duty; its more, it is an indispensable condition of right living. As the body is the temple of the Holy Ghost, so any sin against the body is an act of sacrilege. The pulpit, the press, the school should alike preach up health and preach down dyspepsia and nervous prostration. Let us have more air, more exercise, better food, better digestion, then we shall live longer, be happier and do better work.

A legal separation has been pronounced between Maurice Bernhardt and his wife, the Princess Jablonowski. In her demand for this separation Mme. Maurice Bernhardt declared that her personal fortune was endangered by the prodigality of her husband.

A physician whose rooms are always crowded by patients on Sundays as well as week days was asked why he did not rest one day in seven. With an air of compassion he replied: "I cannot; Sunday, you know, is the only day on which the poor have a right to be sick."

Gen. Piquant, a Haytian exile in Jamaica, has published a volume of reflections, economical, social and political, relating to the past, present and future of that unhappy Republic. He believes that he is the Moses whom the Haytians have long been looking for. The reflections are not written in classical English, but they are forcibly expressed and of creditable substance. One of his strong points is disarmament and the establishment of good schools and religious institutions throughout the country.

As was to be anticipated, Baron Hirsch has not only been the most successful owner of race horses in England this season, but he stands far in advance of all the rest, thanks mainly to La Fleche, Watercress and Windgall, won over $165,000, or nearly double the amount standing to the credit of Sir J. Blundell Maple, who comes second, with a total of about $85,000, while Colonel North, who last year almost ran a dead heat for first place with Mr. Noel Fenwick, each of them having won about $100,000, is now only third, with about $75,000, or a thousand pounds more than the Duke of Westminster has secured, mainly by means of the sensational Orme.

The Margarine Act in England seems to be wholly powerless to effect its purpose, which was to prevent the sale of that material as butter. It appears that no less than 3,000,000 pounds of the compound were imported during the week ending on the 3d of December, and the amount for the first eleven months of the year was 132,000 pounds. Of course it is quite plain that there must be a brisk demand to justify so liberal a supply, and there is no reasonable doubt that the greater part of it is disposed of as butter. The cheaper class of coffee houses dispose of enormous quantities of this material. Eighty-eight per cent. of this "butter" seized in one of those establishments the other day proved to be margarine.

They Got It At Last.

For many years scientists tried to concentrate the blood, flesh and bone making qualities contained in the oil of the Norwegian cod. They only partially succeeded. But by new chemical processes, rendered feasible by electrical forces, the life giving properties of the oil have all been captured, and are safely imprisoned within that famous remedy which is being talked about all over the country, known as "Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil." Physicians acknowledge that this is the greatest discovery, or rather perfection of a discovery, ever given the world. To say that it cures consumption by making blood, flesh and bone for the patient is quite enough. It is a remedy that positively needs no puffing. Many young people have been saved by its use. In big bottles, 50c. and $1.00, at all Drug Stores.

Perfect Satisfaction.

Gentlemen, I have found B.B.B. an excellent remedy, both as a blood purifier and general family medicine. I was for a long time troubled with sick headache and heartburn, and tried a bottle, which gave me such perfect satisfaction that I have since then used it as our family medicine.

Back-Ache!

Back-ache is caused by sick kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills will remove it. By their peculiar action on the kidneys, they impart activity and benefit the system by purifying the blood. You cannot have pure blood with disordered kidneys; health's existence depends upon their natural condition; they are the governors of the system, continued disorder results in kidney consumption which is Bright's disease.

BIG STORM IN AUSTRIA.

THE WIND PUTS TRIESTE IN AN UPROAR.

Steer Tram Cars Blown From Tracks—An Italian Bark Wrecked With All on Board—An English Bark Ashore—Fear of the Crew Drowned.

TRIESTE, Jan. 17.—A terrific storm has swept this city since 10 o'clock yesterday. Sleet or snow has fallen incessantly. The wind has blown a hurricane. Tiles and chimneys have been blown into the street, half the trees in the streets have been snapped off close to the pavement, and four tram cars have been tumbled from the tracks.

It has been impossible for vessels to enter the harbor. An Italian bark which tried to come in at noon was battered by the ice to a wreck in sight of the dock and foundered with all on board.

Two attempts were made to send help to the crew, but the sailors put back before getting a dozen yards from land, as it was impossible, they said, for small craft to live in such a sea. An English bark went ashore an hour later just outside of the harbor, and four of the crew were drowned.

A Greek [illegible] ship has been endeavoring to get inside for the last two hours. She is flying signals of distress and is firing guns, but no assistance has been sent her.

Two small vessels are reported to have been wrecked off Point St. Andrea.

A large wave broke over part of the waterfront in the early evening and flooded the streets near by.

Two cabs with horses and drivers were caught in the current where the water was receding and were carried into the harbor and drowned.

Fifty persons have been injured by falling trees, tiles and chimneys.

FROZEN TO DEATH.

An Old Man Near Paisley Found Near His House.

PAISLEY, Ont., Jan. 17.—Mr. John Galbraith, living about five miles from here, came into town on Saturday to do some shopping.

He left in the evening on foot for home and was not afterwards seen until this afternoon, when his body was found frozen inside of his field.

He was near his house, and it is thought that being old he was overdone with the walk home through the storm. He lived in a small house on a farm owned by Mr. Alexander McNeil, M.P.

DEAD IN THE SNOW.

A Farmer Loses Himself Between His Barn and Home.

KINCARDINE, Jan. 17.—William Solomon, a respected farmer of Huron Township, Bruce county, was frozen to death on Monday last. He went out to the barn, a short distance from the house, after dark, and in attempting to return through a blinding snowstorm prevailing he missed his way.

When his family could communicate with neighbors a searching party was formed, and a 10 acre field of snow from six to eight feet deep was entirely turned over before the remains of the unfortunate man were discovered, frozen still as he had fallen exhausted in the snow about 60 rods from his house.

It was Thursday afternoon when the discovery was made. Deceased was in his 83rd year. The funeral took place on Saturday and was largely attended.

DEEP SEA FISHERIES.

The Modus Vivendi Will Be Proclaimed For Next Season.

OTTAWA, Jan. 17.—Last session an act relating to the modus vivendi for Atlantic fisheries was passed, by which the Governor-General-in-Council was authorized to establish the modus vivendi from year to year by proclamation if deemed advisable without awaiting the action of Parliament, as has been done every year since 1888.

It is understood that next Saturday's Canada Gazette will contain the proclamation putting the modus vivendi in form for the coming fishing season.

Professor Saunders, late Executive Commissioner to the World's Columbian Exposition, has presented a report to the Minister of Agriculture, giving a very full account of what was done by him from the time of his appointment in December, 1891, to his resignation on account of ill-health.

There will be another exodus of ministers to-morrow to attend the banquet given by the Eastern Townships' Liberal-Conservative Association in honor of the Hon. W. B. Ives. The ministers who will be present are Sir John Thompson, Sir Adolphe Caron and Hon. Messrs. Costigan, Foster, Ouimet, Patterson, Wallace and Wood.

NO CAUSE STATED.

But All the Same Three Women Were Badly Used By Masked Men.

PLATTSVILLE, Ont., Jan. 17.—A few nights ago a gang of masked men broke into the house of a widow named Mrs. Skillings, who lives with two daughters a short distance west of here.

They broke the furniture, smashed the windows and ill-used the old lady considerably.

Constable Leader has had the matter in charge and made several arrests and to-day two of the suspects, named Wright and Close, were committed to stand their trial at Woodstock.

It is said there are more arrests to follow.

HIS LAST SMOKE.

It Consoled Him While [illegible] Killed Him When It [illegible]

MONTREAL, Jan. 17.—Arthur Allan, the youngest son of the late Sir Hugh Allan, met his death by suffocation at an early hour yesterday. He had spent the latter portion of Sunday evening at the St. James' Club with a number of friends, and about 1 o'clock this morning left the club, going home to his room in Dorchester-street, only a few yards from the club house.

Some time after the other occupants of the house were awakened by smoke issuing from Mr. Allan's sitting-room. When the door was opened the flames were speedily extinguished and the young man was found sitting in his easy chair dead. Investigation showed that he, most likely having fallen asleep, had dropped his glowing cigar in the waste paper basket, and death by suffocation from the smoke had ensued. Mr. Allan had been in poor health for some time, suffering from sore throat.

Arthur Allan was one of the most popular young men in town. He had only attained his majority a few months ago, when by the terms of Sir Hugh Allan's will the Allan estate was divided. Arthur's share brought in a revenue of about $40,000 a year. The tragic death has created a great sensation in the city on account of the prominence of the family.

FATHER ANDRE DEAD.

A Well-Known Figure in the Northwest Passes Away.

TORONTO, Jan. 17.—News has been received in the city that Father Andre, a well-known Roman Catholic priest, died at Calgary last Tuesday. Pere Andre figured prominently in the rebellion of 1885, as he was located at Batoche and was intimate with all the leaders there. He was Riel's spiritual adviser at Regina and saw him to the scaffold.

Father Andre's remains will be buried in Calgary. He was born in France in 1833.

Newspapers Cost Money.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—William Zeegler, a well-known real estate dealer, has purchased one-fifth of an interest in The Brooklyn Eagle, and intends to secure the control of the paper if the stockholders can be induced to sell their holdings. It is said the owners of The Eagle value it, together with its business plant and property, at $3,600,000.

VERY DARING ROBBERY

IN DAYLIGHT IN QUEEN-STREET, TORONTO.

The Robbers Were Evidently the Same Parties Who Recently Robbed Davis' Jewelry Store in Queen-street East—The Police Nonplussed.

TORONTO, Jan. 18.—Another sensational robbery, equaling in daring the looting of Ammon Davis' jewelry store, 184 Queen-street east, at 9 o'clock on the morning of Dec. 27 last, was successfully carried out yesterday afternoon on the premises of Fred Roberts, jeweler, 186 Queen-street west.

At 4.15 two young men, with the lower part of their faces muffled in scarfs, suddenly presented themselves before Mr. Roberts and his assistant, John Wade, and without preliminary each levelled a brace of revolvers at the heads of the storekeeper and his clerk and demanded silence. Three other intruders, also masked, followed close on the heels of the two first, and also drew weapons. Roberts and Wade were bound hand and foot with cord similar to that used on packing cases, gagged with handkerchiefs and thrown to the floor, and the visitors were proceeding to gather in the stock of watches and miscellaneous jewelry when the entrance of Charles Smith, an employe of a livery table a short distance down the street, who entered the store for the purpose of having a ring repaired, interrupted the proceedings.

Smith states that as soon as he entered the door was quickly closed behind him. Attributing the strange appearance of the men in the store to some joke that was being perpetrated, he was preparing to enter into the spirit of the affair when he was roughly seized from behind, silence being enforced at the point of a revolver. A handkerchief was placed in his mouth and partially forced down his throat with the barrel of the weapon. His hands were also bound and he was thrown upon the floor.

One of the thieves then lowered the blind and all five set to work ransacking the show case and window of their valuable contents, filling their coat pockets. They also ransacked the till, securing $30, and searched the pockets of Roberts. They only contained $1, but this the men took. Having secured all the valuable portion of the stock the men walked out the front door.

The thieves didn't have sufficient cords with which to bind Smith's feet, and to this fact the trio owe their early escape from incarceration, for as soon as the five men left the store Smith says that he rose to his feet and making his way to the door opened it by lifting the latch with his head. He then rushed out into the street, and presenting his manacled wrists to an expressman who was passing requested him to sever the cords. The expressman, however, not liking the appearance of the affair, drove hastily off without complying with the request. The next man who came along, however, was more humane and released the unhappy Smith, who in turn untied the cords which bound his companions in misery.

By this time the alarm had been spread and a crowd gathered in and around the small jewelry store, which almost blocked traffic in the street, and an increasing stream of questions was poured in upon the participants in the strange affair.

All three were afterwards examined by the detectives, but no clew was left by the perpetrators of the theft as to their identity. One fact, however, seems to connect them with the jewelry robbery which occured recently at 184 Queen-street east inasmuch as the cord which was used to bind the victims was of identically the same quality and size as that used in the Davis robbery. A similar remark too was dropped by one of the young ruffians to the effect that he did not like to leave until he had spilt somebody's blood.

All five were derby hats, long overcoats and each handled a brace of flashing revolvers, but though they were only disguised by their scarfs being drawn across the lower part of their faces, yet not one of the victims can furnish the slightest information as to their facial appearance and are not even sure if they would recognize their assailants if they were confronted with them.

Mr. Roberts states that he is not in a position at present to say just what jewelry has been stolen but estimates his loss at anywhere between $500 and $1000. He is of the opinion that none of the young men were over 20 years of age, all having smooth faces.

The heads of the detective and police department are reticent concerning their opinion of the robbery, but openly express their amazement that so open a theft could have been successfully committed in day light on so crowded a thoroughfare as Queen-street is at this hour of the day.

CAPRIVI EXPECTS WAR.

He Has His Eye Opened for Strategic Movements Against France.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The Berlin correspondent of The Daily News says of Chancellor Von Caprivi's appearance before the Commission on the Army bill yesterday:

"He spoke with great frankness of strategic details of a more or less secret nature and described the probable operations in the event of war, especially with France. He admitted in general the utility of forts; for instance, he said, it would require much larger masses of troops to surround Paris than it would have required in 1870.

"Germany had not built forts because they made such exorbitant demands for men from the field army. He dwelt upon the horrors of war, which the bill was intended to avert, and denied that the measure was a screw without end."

NOVA SCOTIA COAL.

It Will Not Affect Prices Here, So Local Coal Dealers Say.

TORONTO, Jan. 18.—A reporter had a talk yesterday with a few of the local coal men regarding the purchase of the Nova Scotia coal mines by an American syndicate. They profess to evince very little interest in the matter. The price of coal would not in the least be affected here, the Nova Scotian article not coming so far west as Toronto.

An interesting fact brought out, however, was that arrangements were being made to place bituminous coal on the Toronto market at prices considerably lower than those prevailing.

Mr. R. E. Gibson, President of the Conger Coal Company, said he did not know much more about the reported purchase of the Nova Scotia mines by an American syndicate beyond what had appeared in the newspapers. "I don't see how it could possibly affect prices here. Nova Scotia coal is not brought here. It seems to me those people would never undertake the development of these mines for the Canadian trade only. It would not pay them. This Mr. Whitney, you know, is brother of the man who was Mr. Cleveland's right-hand man while he was President. And it seems to me that there must be some understanding that the Cleveland administration is going to knock off the duty. If this is done it will enable the syndicate to bring in Nova Scotia coal at prices much lower than any other competitor can. In fact the Pennsylvania people, who now practically have a monopoly, won't be in it.

"Some claim that Nova Scotia coal is brought as far west as Belleville. I don't believe it. On the other hand the Grand Trunk carries coal from Pennsylvania right through to Montreal."

"If the railroads have not been able heretofore to bring Nova Scotia coal up here and make it pay, then how are they going to do it in the future?" said Mr. H. J. Watson, manager of the Canada Coal Company. "It will not make a particle of difference to the Toronto market. As you know, Nova Scotia only produces bituminous coal, and the Canadian trade in this does not amount to much. Only the other day I was talking to an American dealer and he said that the demand in Canada for bituminous coal was so small that it made little or no difference to his company whether it shipped any to this country at all. In fact, some of those who use their own cars will not ship soft coal to Canada at all, owing to the difficulty of getting their cars back again."

"The principal reason why the syndicate has purchased the Nova Scotia mines is to supply the Atlantic steamers running out of Boston and other American ports," said Mr. John Keith, "and you can depend upon it the steamship companies have also a hand in the deal. At present they are at the mercy of the American combine, and they are determined to get cheap coal. Vessels will carry coal from Cape Breton to Boston at 50c a ton.

"The price of coal will not be affected here. We are within 300 miles of the finest coal fields in the world, while the Nova Scotia mines are some 1400 miles distant. It is not the Canadian trade they have in view, you can be sure of that. The whole object is to offset the western men.

"The owners of the Ohio bituminous mines bought up the Port Stanley road about a week or 10 days ago. They have also purchased the old barges on which the G.T.R. used to transhipp their cars across the Detroit River at Sarnia. The Ohio coal will now be placed on cars at the mouths of the pits and will be brought right through to Toronto and elsewhere without handling. This will result in all probability in cheaper soft coal, at least to the railways."

"Terry, the great coal magnate, is behind this deal to buy up the Nova Scotia mines," said a well-known coal man who did not desire his name to be mentioned. "I know what I am talking about. So far his name has been kept out of the matter. Whitney I do not know. Terry I do, and well. And I know that he would not touch the thing unless he knew that the duty was going to be removed by the Cleveland Administration. These men are after the almighty dollar, and they don't care if it is cutting the throat of their own countrymen to get it."

CHEAPER COAL.

When the Birds Nest Again the Price Will Probably Drop One Dollar.

TORONTO, Jan. 18.—If the coal dealers had had the weather equally as windy as could not well have been. The selling prices of $6.50 per ton it is more than $1 per ton too dear, but it is useless for the coal buyer to expect relief for some time.

The wholesale men, who can no longer plead the existence of the Reading trust, now look in the storm of the winter their justification for exorbitant prices. Our local dealers say they can do nothing so long as the shippers keep up the rates.

It is not probable that the railroad coal men will make any further increase in schedule prices, because the withdrawal of the Jersey Central from the combine and the resumption of independent business bring the element of competition into the market. However, the retailers will not sell their coal bought at the enforced prices at rates that will not insure a profit on those old transactions before they are compelled to. Thus the pernicious influences of the trust survive. The process of readjustment in the market will be tedious, and very likely the people will have to wait until summer before they experience the healthy influence of competition.

If a trust is honestly and thoroughly shattered, however, its remains cannot long stay in harmony. The output of coal cannot be restricted except by collusion or conspiracy. With an unrestricted output the conditions will soon become such that the healthy, natural law of competition will assert itself in fair prices. Even conceding that the weather entitles the coal man to take a high price for his goods, coal is at present $1 a ton too dear. Five dollars and a half would be a high price. If all goes well the unjust dollar will be knocked off before the snow flies next winter and the householder will ere long buy his coal as he buys his other goods, in an open market.

THE DEADLY TROLLEY.

An English Lad Has a Narrow Escape in Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Jan. 18.—Harry Lupton, a young English lad employed by Mr. H. S. Almas, farmer, Ancaster Township, had as narrow an escape from being mangled yesterday as ever was. About 8 o'clock Mr. Almas and the young man arrived in town on a load of potatoes for the market, and Mr. Almas, who was driving down MacNab-street, got within a short distance of the street railway tracks before the approach of a car was noticed.

The horses became unmanageable. Mr. Almas tried to turn them easterly in King-street, but on doing so the hind runner caught and stuck on the rail, and the car struck it before it got clear.

The rear end of the sleigh was demolished and Lupton was thrown, caught by the car and dragged 20 or 30 feet. Motorman George Guy did his best to stop the car in time to prevent the accident, but did not succeed.

Fortunately the guard on the car was so low that the unfortunate young fellow could not get under it and was thus kept from the wheels. Otherwise he certainly would have been cut in two, for he fell lengthwise across the track. He was picked up by Constables Knox and Walsh, and when the former asked Mr. Almas what he should do with him the reply was: "He is of age and can take care of himself."

People who were standing around were very indignant at the remark, for it was not known at that time but that Lupton might have sustained fatal injuries. The young man was taken to the City Hospital, where it was found that his injuries were not serious, though he had sustained very painful bruises upon his right side and thigh.

Another Trolley Accident.

HAMILTON, Jan. 18.—At 12.30 yesterday Mr. James Laws, an old man of 60, had a narrow escape from instant death through being struck by a trolley car in King-street east. He had just jumped off a westbound car at the corner of Wentworth-street, and was in the act of crossing the other track when he was struck by a rapidly approaching eastbound car and knocked down.

He was dragged some distance and sustained severe contusions on the head and body. His nose was broken, several teeth knocked out and his forehead badly gashed. Dr. Beagh attended the old man's injuries, and he was then taken to his home in Wentworth-street south.

A BAD WRECK.

A Santa Fe Train Derailed and a Negro Roasted Alive.

KEOKUK, Ia., Jan. 17.—The first section of the California limited express on the Santa Fe Railway was derailed five miles east of Medill, Mo., yesterday morning.

The dining-car rolled down an embankment, caught fire and was burned.

William Ross, a colored waiter, of Chicago, was roasted alive.

Six or eight other persons were injured seriously. A broken rail caused the wreck.

A Tough Youngster.

WATERTOWN, N.Y., Jan. 17.—John Wright, a Canadian boy 15 years of age, has been arrested here by an officer from Chaumont, this county, at which place he had been employed by a farmer. The family went away leaving the boy on the premises. He ransacked the house, took $5 in money and other valuables, removed his trunk, and after completing his depredations, scraped the quicksilver from the back of a mirror and mixed it with pie and other eatables, evidently for the purpose of poisoning the family. His work was discovered and he was arrested.

Grover Talks of Silver.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—President-Elect Cleveland came to town yesterday. He spent a considerable portion of the time with Senator Vilas, who, it is said, was summoned to give an idea of the prospect of silver legislation in the Upper House. It is understood Senator Vilas departed at the end of the interview, with assurances that the President-elect hoped that no effort would be spared by the Democrats in the Senate to secure the proposed repeal of the Sherman Act before March 4.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Mr. Charlton, one of the Liberal leaders and a member of the Canadian Parliament, was at the Capitol yesterday interviewing the leading members of the House on the subject of closer commercial relations between the United States and Canada.

He said the Liberal party did not want the annexation question thrown in as a party question at this time, but it wanted free trade between Canada and the United States in natural products of the farm, the mines, the forests and the manufactured products composed of native raw material.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOUR COLUMN.

"FOR CHRIST AND THE CHURCH."

[All communications intended for this column must be marked "Christian Endeavour" and sent to Box 113, Peterborough, not later than Friday previous to date of issue.]

Looking Unto Jesus.

Thou, Lord, my path shalt choose,
And my Guide be,
What shall I fear to lose
While I have Thee?
This be my portion blest,
On my Redeemer's breast,
In peaceful trust to rest!
He cares for me.

Shall I, then, choose my way?
Never, oh, no!
I, creature of a day,
What can I know?
What dread perplexity
Then would encompass me;
Now I can look to Thee—
Thou orderest so.

This lightens every cross,
Cheers every ill;
Suffer I grief or loss,
It is Thy will!
Who can make no mistake,
Chooseth the way I take;
He Who can ne'er forsake,
Holds my hands still.

Sweet words of peace and love
Christ whispers me;
Bearing my soul above
Life's troubled sea.
This be my portion blest,
On my Redeemer's breast,
In peaceful trust to rest;
He cares for me.

Christ died my love to win,
Christ is my tower;
He will be with me in
Each trying hour.
He makes the wounded whole,
He will my heart console,
He will uphold my soul
By His own power.

To Thee the only wise,
Whatever be,
I will lift up mine eyes,
Joyful in Thee.
This be my portion blest,
On my Redeemer's breast,
In peaceful trust to rest:
He cares for me.

Topic for week beginning January 22—God's Covenant. "If thou wilt, then." Zach. 3, 7; John 15, 7-8.

A covenant, if between equals, is a mutual understanding and agreement of two wills; if between superior and inferior, is a conditional promise.

Forming parts of one great whole, two covenants—the covenant of works and the covenant of grace—claim the just consideration of the thoughtful student of revelation. There are other covenants—conditional promises—between God and man, of which we have record; but these while forming part of God's plan occupy a position subordinate to the two above mentioned.

The covenant of works, entered into between God and Adam, was a promise of life conditional upon perfect obedience. In the exercise of personal choice Adam violated this covenant through eating of the forbidden fruit, involving, in his fall, posterity whom he represented.

"In Adam all died." The covenant of grace which some seperate into (a) the covenant of redemption, the mutual understanding and agreement between the Father and the Son; and (b) covenant of grace, the promise made on God's part to those for whom Christ should die, conditional upon perfect obedience; promised life to all those who have been and shall be gathered into one in Christ. In this covenant Jesus stands as mediator between God and the sinner, as surety for believers. "In Christ shall all be made alive." The promises made to Noah, Abraham, David, the returned exiles, all demanded implicit obedience in their offer of favour, power, happiness, prosperity, If we would truly enjoy life here, we must believe God's Word, aud do it; if we would stand among the ministering spirits before the throne, we must abide in Christ and bring forth the fruits of righteousness.

WARSAW.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Quite a number of our young people took advantage of the fine sleighing and drove on Monday night to South Dummer's annual tea. The report a fine tea and an excellent programme.

The Bell telephone office has been removed to the post office.

The fifth annual Sunday-school convention of Dummer township took place here on the 12th inst. In spite of the severity of the weather the attendance at the three different sessions was up to form. The children were addressed in the Baptist church in the morning by the Rev. S. T. Bartlett, of Lakefield. The afternoon session in the Methodist church was principally devoted to Sunday-school teachers. The evening session in the Presbyterian church was perhaps the most enthusiastic of the whole. The officers elected for the coming year are:—President, Alex. Smith; secretary, Alex. Watts.

The annual meeting of the Dummer and Douro Agricultural was held in the town hall on Thursday. It is some years since this society has done anything in the line of exhibition there. But at the present meeting they resolved to make their society what it ought to be and give its members all the benefits possible. Without doubt we may look for an excellent exhibition here next fall. The following officers were elected for '93:—

President—Alex. Smith.
1st Vice-President—R. W. Payne.
2nd Vice-President—M. D. Sullivan.
Secretary—Wm. Snelgrove.
Treasurer—G. W. Reid.

A public school teachers institute was held in the school house on Friday. As it was for the benefit of the district teachers only the attendance was not very large. At the close the teachers formed themselves into what will be known as the Warsaw Teachers' Institute. The object is to meet occasionally and talk over the best methods of teaching in our public schools. The object is a good one and we wish them success. The following are the officers:—

President—Mr. A. R. Reid.
Secretary—Miss M. O'Connel.
Executive Committee—Misses. Frazer and O'Connel, and Mr. Reid.

FRASERVILLE.

An Interesting Lecture by Rev. Jos. Kilgour.

On Thursday evening, January 26th, Rev. Jos. Kilgour will deliver an interesting lecture in the Methodist church on the subject, "The Strange and Wonderful, in and Around Human Nature," Admission 15 cents, children 10 cents.

Something To Remember.

If you're a weak or ailing woman:—that there's only one medicine so sure to help you that it can be guaranteed. It's Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. In building up overworked, feeble, delicate women, or in any "female complaint" or weakness, if it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back. It's an invigorating, restorative tonic, a soothing and strengthening nervine, and a safe and certain remedy for woman's ills and ailments. It regulates and promotes all the proper functions, improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and strength.

Nothing else can be as cheap. With this, you pay only for the good you get.

Bordering on Consumption.

When a cold is neglected it frequently develops a condition bordering on consumption. No other remedy will so quickly relieve and cure cases of this dangerous kind as Dr. Woods Norway Pine Syrup, because no other remedy possesses such perfect curative powers as does this prince of pectoral remedies.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The Mount Pleasant Sunday School is preparing for its annual tea and concert, which will be held in February.

IMPERIAL BAKING POWDER

PUREST, STRONGEST, BEST.

THE BIGGEST DAY IN 7 YEARS!

Saturday, December 3rd was the biggest day MR. J. J. SHEEHY has had in seven years. Why is this? Surely not because there is less competition. Certainly not because inducements are not being held out by others. Most assuredly not because prices of farm products are showing an upward tendency. Then why??

Simply because the purchasing public of the town and surrounding country have read Mr. Sheehy's advertisements, have inwardly digested them and have conclude that cheap sale or no cheap sale Mr. Sheehy is bound not to be undersold

We want every day in December to be a big day. How are we to accomplish this? Simply by offering to the public better value for the money than can be had elsewhere. Just cast your eye over the following quotations:—

All Wool Flannels, 26 in. wide,	17½	Good Linen Towels each	5½
9 lb. Wool Blankets,	$3.75	Grey Wool Blankets,	31c. a lb.
14 yds. Heavy Grey Canton Flannel,	$1.00	25 yards Factory Cotton,	$1.00

These few quotations will probably give an idea of what we are doing and a glance at our BARGAIN TABLE in the centre of our store will convince the most skeptical that when it comes to general bargains we certainly are very decidedly "in it."

A TIRED WOMAN,

just as much as a sick and ailing one, needs Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. That builds up, strengthens, and invigorates the entire female system. It regulates and promotes all the proper functions of womanhood, improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, melancholy and nervousness, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and strength.

It's a powerful restorative tonic and soothing nervine, made especially for woman's needs, and the only guaranteed remedy for woman's weaknesses and ailments. In all "female complaints" and irregularities, if it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.

A great many medicines "relieve" Catarrh in the Head. That means that it's driven from the head into the throat and lungs. But, by its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy perfectly and permanently cures.

NORWOOD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

While Mr. A. Clysdale, of Dummer, was engaged in falling trees, one of the trees happened to fall on him. The young man had a limb fractured and is improving as well as could be expected.

While Robbie, the young son of Mr. W. Metcalf, Asphodel, was handling a stick of wood it happened to fall on his index finger, nearly severing it at the first joint.

The anniversary services of the Methodist Sunday school at South Dummer took place on Sunday and Monday last and were very successful. The service on Sunday was conducted by Rev. Jas. LOCAL LEGAL.

The following decisions, in appeal from the trial judge, to the Chancery Divisional Court, were delivered Monday in Osgoode Hall :—

Carton vs. Bradburn.—Judgment on appeal by the defendant from the judgment of Falconbridge. J., at the trial at Peterborough, in so far as it prevented the defendant from setting off his extra costs incurred by reason of the action having been brought in the High Court, against the damages and costs recovered by the plaintiff. The action was for malicious prosecution and arrest, and the plaintiff obtained a verdict for $50 only. The trial judge allowed the plaintiff costs on the County Court scale, and directed that the defendant should not have any set-off of his extra costs. Counsel for the defendant contended that there was no "good cause" under rule 1,172 for depriving the defendant of his set-off, and consequently that under McNair vs. Boyd, 14 P. R. 134, the judge had no power to prevent the costs following the event. The court reluctantly followed McNair vs. Boyd, and allowed the appeal, but without costs. Watson, Q. C., and R. E. Wood Peterborough, for the defendant. E. B. Edwards (Peterborough), for the plaintiff.

Norton vs. Smith.—Judgment on motion by the defendant to set aside the verdict and judgment for the plaintiff in an action tried before Weller, Co., J., of Peterborough, (sitting for Falconbridge. J.) and a jury. The action was brought against the administrator to recover the amount of two promissory notes and a sum for wages. The defence of the statue of limirations was set up. Judgment was given by the trial judge for the plaintiff for the amount claimed as found by the jury. Counsel for the defendant contended that the defence was proved, and that the evidence for the plaintiff was not corroborated as required by the statue. Order made reducing the verdict to $480. No costs of this motion to either party. C. J. Holman for the defendant. E. B. Edwards (Peterborough) for the plaintiff.

TELFORDIAN TEMPERATURE TOPICS.

Mr. Telford Prepares His Monthly Weather Report for December.

The last of another year has passed away and gone, and in casting our mind back over the twelve months of 1892 we find many things to cause both grief and rejoicing. Many have passed away to the great unknown, and, truly figurative of Macky Wilson's vacant chair, both as families and nations has death been busy gathering the fallen leaves. Our young Dominion has been no exception, having to mourn the loss of two of her ablest statesmen who, after spending a long, useful and honoured life for the prosperity and welfare of their country over which they presided, they too had to square their last accounts. May their memory live long in the hearts of every loyal and true Canadian! Many also can rejoice in accumulating wealth, friends and influence,—but to return to our leave-taking month, December came in fine, and continued so during the most of the month for the last of the year. We had some exceptions although the cold Saturday, you all will remember, and the following is the only times the thermometer came below zero. 20th only 5 deg. below zero, 23rd at sundown 2 deg. below, 24th morning 10 deg. below, 1 p.m, 4 deg. below ; 26th morning observation 16 deg. below. at 1 p.m. at zero ; 28th at morning observation 0 deg. below, and 29th 8 deg. below. Then we had a number of days between 32 deg. freezing and 40 deg. the hottest being on the 3rd, leaving the mean temperature of the month at 20 deg. Rain fell on 3 days to the depth of ¼ an inch and snow on 13 days to the depth of only 8 inches, doing little good in sleighing, which was poor during the month. Both the rain and snow fall was light for December. no thunder or northern lights ; twice fog ; one lunar ; no halo and two mock suns. The following is the different points from which the wind was blowing at sunrise during the month respectively, namely, northwest, 13 days ; west, 2 days ; southwest, 0 days ; southeast, 8 days, and north 2 days.

OFFICE—FURNITURE WAREROOMS,

TO BE OR NOT TO BE "IN IT."

A Life Agent called at a friend's place one day,
HE WASN'T IN IT ;
He had seen "the bore" coming and fled from his way
HE WASN'T IN IT ;
He had heard so much said, he was tired and sick
Of insurance and agents—'twas all a blank trick,
When one's coil must be shuffled to win it,
HE WASN'T IN IT.

A bit of a draft blew o'er his bald head,
HE WAS IN IT ;
Pneumonia sent him straightway to his bed,
HE STAYED IN IT ;
His doctor made of it a "quite special" case,
To save him for running still more of life's race,
But the grave took some chances to win it,
AND HE'S IN IT.

When approached by a gent for insuring your life,
GET RIGHT IN IT ;
It's the right thing to do for your children and wife,
THEN STAY IN IT.
Remember that fires take your goods "out of sight,"
And that accidents happen each day and each night.
While insurance protects every minute,
IF YOU'RE IN IT.

A Bank Manager's Opinion.

HE IS "IN IT."

The General Manager of one of the leading banks in Canada, writing to a personal friend, says :—"I have no hesitation in saying that I place the CANADA LIFE upon the highest platform. It is in my opinion carefully, economically and honestly managed ; its Reserve Funds are well invested ; its rates of Premiums are low, and its future is, I think better assured than a great majority of Companies. I have my own life insured in the Company for a round amount, and would not hesitate to increase the amount of my policies should I decide upon taking out further insurance."

A Government Insurance Actuary's Opinion

On the Relation between Ordinary and Tontine Service.

It is frequently asserted by Companies whose business is nearly all tontined, that although the CANADA LIFE may and does pay large ordinary profits, yet it cannot compare so favourably on a long term distribution or tontine period, and that in the end better results can be obtained on a tontine policy in a large American Co. than on an ordinary or tontine policy in the CANADA LIFE. To prove the absurdity of this statement, the following piece of common sense is quoted from Mervin Tabor, late Actuary of the Illinois Goverment Insurance Department. In his well known book, "The Three Systems of Life Insurance," he says: "A company that gives large dividends on the ordinary kind of policies, can give much larger on the same kinds when Tontined, and a company that pays but meagre dividends on the usual forms, adopting perhaps the Tontine system to "cover up" its small surpluses, cannot be relied on for large returns of surplus under the Tontine Forms of Insurance."

The CANADA LIFE does not "cover up" its Quinquennial profits as some Companies do, but publishes them throughout the country.

It can and does surpass other Companies on Quinquennial profits. It should and will surpass them on Tontine profits.

WHY TO BE "IN IT."

BISHOP HAWKE'S REASON :—"I claim that Life Insurance is not only a humane, but I might say a Christian Institution."

LORD LYNDHURST'S REASON :—"A Policy of Life Insurance is always an evidence of prudent forethought. No man with a dependent family is free from reproach if not insured."

WHEN TO BE "IN IT."

The younger, the cheaper. Therefore insure when young. Besides, by insuring in the CANADA LIFE now, you will share in three years' profits.

WHERE TO BE "IN IT."

The best place to be "in it" is in the Company that gives the best returns for the least money, consistent with absolute security. Therefore, in order to be "in it," choose the Ice Races at Port Perry.

The annual winter races held at Port Perry, on Scugog lake, yesterday, were an immense success, being attended by an immense crowd of enthusiastic sportsmen. In the 3 minute class there were 9 entries, including Connor Bros.' "Gladstone." Three heats were trotted, and "Gladstone," notwithstanding the competition of well known speeders, took fourth place in each heat. He was driven by Mr. J. Newhall. The prize winners were: "Lady Watson," 1, "Chestnut Dan," 2, "Bebe," 3. Time, 2.35, 2.37, 2.39½. The 2.35 class was won by "John L," 1, "Minnie S.," 2, and "Munchaw," 3rd. "Tobogan," 4th. Three heats were trotted. Time, 2.34, 2.35, 2.37. The free for all race comes off to-day, the entries being F. J. Daly's "Blackstock," of Lindsay, "Dock Smith," "John Doddridge," "John L."

It Will Be a Pleasant Affair.

The Loss and the Benefit of Fire.

The loss is to Mr. J. C. Turnbull, and the benefit is to the public, which they will reap in the great clearing sale which begins on Thursday, Jan. 19th. This is the first clearing sale which Mr. Turnbull has had in eleven years and this is forced upon him by the fire that recently occurred in his store. As is known, only the goods in the cellar were touched by fire, yet smoke damaged the goods slightly on the upper floor. However, the whole stock will be sold at clearing prices. This is a chance to get great bargains in all classes of goods, for Mr. Turnbull has the well earned reputation of keeping his advertising promises—when he says close figures, then close figures will rule. Call and see.

Collegiate Institute Lecture Series.

The fourth lecture of the Collegiate Institute course will be delivered in the Assembly Hall, on Friday evening, Jan. 25th, at 8 p.m. Mr. Hampden Burnham, M.A., will be the speaker, and his subject is "A chat about Ancient Egypt" or a brief description of the country and the people. The Egyptians were to remote, antiquity what ancient Greece has been to the modern world, and recent discoveries have opened for inspection what has hitherto been a sealed book in the history of mankind. Some knowledge of Ancient Egypt is essential to the student of history. During the evening musical selections will be given. Admission 20c.

The Wood Will be Measured.

Councillor Winch, chairman of the Market Committee, saw Mr. Green, market clerk, this morning in reference to the question of measuring wood offered for sale on the market, which was brought up in the council at its last meeting. Mr. Green said he would attend to the matter at once and measure every load of wood which was on sale on the market, giving the seller a ticket on which is marked the number of square feet in the load as well as the kind of wood offered, whether hard wood, soft wood, etc. Purchasers when buying wood are requested to ask the sellers for their ticket, and if it is not produced, they should not buy the wood. Henceforth every load will be attended to in this manner by the clerk.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH AND THE TOWN COUNCIL.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I should like to know whether it is the function of the Town Council to take revenge on those who criticise their actions, and that at the expense of the public interests. The two most energetic members of last year's Board of Health, Messrs. Pearse and Hall, are dropped from the Board of the present year, (Mr. Shortly, I believe, retiring from choice) and the public have the impression that this is done because these gentlemen in the energetic discharge of their duty towards the public health had come in contact with the council, which seemed to enjoy—if not actively, at least passively—obstructing the board in the carrying out of its legitimate instructions. Do the council realize that they are the servants not the masters of the people, and that they will not be permitted to play fast and loose with the most important interest of the people—their health? I have no word to say against the new members—it is the petty spirit of spite shown by the council against Messrs. Pearse and Hall, whose only offense is doing their duty faithfully, that I condemn.

Yours, etc.,
SANITAS.

A SOCIAL GATHERING.

Held in the George Street Methodist Church by Young People.

At the regular meeting of the Epworth League of Christian Endeavour held in the George street Methodist church on Monday evening there was a large attendance. The president, Mr. H. E. Armstrong, occupied the chair. After the opening religious exercises, Rev. Mr. Locke and Mr. W. F. Chapman, secretary of the Y.M.C.A., each gave pointed addresses on the society and strongly urged all Christians to live up to its principles. A few minutes intermission followed which was pleasantly filled in by social converse. Afterwards refreshments were served by the ladies of the Christian Endeavour Society, who endeavoured to make every one feel thoroughly "at home." Afterwards a carefully selected programme was successfully carried out. Miss Ella Owens played an instrumental solo cleverly. Miss Ethel Sharp gave an acceptable reading. Miss May Richardson sang "Anchored," in fine voice. Miss Laura Wilkinson favoured with an instrumental solo, showing splendid technique. Miss Mann gave a practiced exhibition of club swinging which was loudly applauded. A quartette "Farewell," was rendered in good style by Misses Annie and Clara Belleghem, A. Wilkinson and Maguire. Masters Percy and Leslie Owens excuted a pianoforte duet with commendable precision and were tendered an encore. The proceedings were brought to a close by the pronounciation of the Mizpah benediction.

What is Going on at the Rink Where Curlers Most do Congregate.

There was a large number of curlers at the rink last night busily practising the roarin' game. In the afternoon G. M. Roger and T. Connal played a 13 point game. The former won easily by a score of 13 to 5 points.

A make-up match occurred at the rink last night between quartettes skipped by G. Edgison and D. W. Dumble. The latter won by one shot in a 14 end match. Four times the rinks were even.

An inter-rink match occurred last night between rinks skipped by J. H. Connal and Judge Weller. Five curlers played on each side as follows:

The skips elected at the rink on Monday night have selected their men to do battle in the great competition at Lindsay next week. Following is the personnel of the rinks in the Dryden Cup contest:

A PRAISWORTHY ORGANIZATION.

First Annual Meeting of the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children—The Secretary's Report.

The local branch of the National Society for the prevention of cruelty to children held their first annual meeting at the office of Mr. Hampden Burnham, secretary, yesterday afternoon. Those present were Rev. J. E. Trotter, Rev. Father Rudkins, Rev. J. C. Davidson, Messrs. John Burnham, Q.C., D.W. Dumble, police magistrate, and Hampden Burnham.

ANNUAL REPORT.

The secretary's report was presented and adopted. Following is the report:

First Annual Report of the Local Branch of the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

PATRON OF THE NATIONAL SOCIETY.

Her Majesty the Queen.

OFFICERS OF THE LOCAL BRANCH.

Honorary President—His Lordship the Bishop of Peterborough.

Honorary Vice-President — A. C. Dunlop, Esq.

Honorary Sec.-Treasurer—Hampden Burnham, Esq.

The Local Branch of the National Society was formed in January, 1892, with the above mentioned officers and an exective committee. The founder and director of the National Society, Rev. Benjamin Waugh, wrote the secretary acknowledging the local branch and forwarding copies of all material required in carrying on the work. Letters have been exchanged between the City Aid Society of Toronto and the local branch, looking to the introduction and improvement of legislation with respect to children. The police of the town and county have at all times rendered the most willing and effectual assistance. Fourteen cases of cruelty and wilful neglect of children have been directly handled, in the past year by this branch. A few extracts from the book of notes and memoranda will show the nature of them:—

"Mrs. ——— called to say that it was her son-in-law who had beaten her children and that she had turned him out after receiving the warning. The cruelty was, however, on the part of the father, who had knocked down his son, aged twelve years, with a stick of cordwood and had most wantonly illused him by whipping and confinement. This the mother admitted on being closely pressed during a stormy interview."

Extract from report of a case at Oak Lake, Methuen, referring to a girl fifteen years years old:—"She lives with her father and step-mother. She has sometimes been beaten by them until she was marked and scarred. Her parents do not give her the same food as they themselves eat. Sometimes for a long period her food has been potatoes and turnips. She has been made to draw a drag in the field like a horse, and the coarse and meagre clothing is so torn as to be useless and indecent. This case of hardship has been the scandal of the township."

"Report brought in of a father's whipping a lame boy ferociously. Badly frightened on receiving the warning from the hands of a policeman."

"Case of frightful cruelty to a little child of two and a half years of age. The father and stepmother have repeatedly expressed a wish for it to die. It has been beaten horribly, put in a cold room for hours without food, and only saved from starving by the efforts of an old woman, who at considerable risk gave it food unknown to the parents. On more than one occasion it has been thrown across the room, striking the wall and falling to the floor. This case was thoroughly ferretted out. The neighbours were afraid to interfere."

In addition to the fourteen cases mentioned, there have been others to the number of about seven in which the Society has been indirectly concerned and in which its co-operation has been bespoken although not required. A fairly good system of obtaining information has been established, and no doubt when the people are fully aware of the objects of the Society, and that the names of those furnishing complaints are kept secret, it will exercise a greater influence. The Society has received from persons complained of, letters couched in bitter and sarcastic terms. Those who are brought most in contact with cases of cruelty and neglect in the county, agree in stating that the establishment of the local branch has had a salutary effect.

HAMPDEN BURNHAM,
Hon. Sec'y.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The election of officers was then proceeded with, resulting as follows:

Hon.-President—His Lordship Bishop O'Connor.

Hon. Vice-President—A. C. Dunlop.

Sec'y-Treas. — Hampden Burnham.

A resolution was carried amending the constitution so that the limit of membership might be increased to 40. It may be stated that all those desirous of making donations to the society for the several purposes it so actively and effectually carries on, might do so by forwarding the same to the secretary, who will thankfully receive all contributions. The society is a praiseworthy organization to the town and county of Peterborough, and carries on a good work.

The meeting then adjourned.

Owing to the severity of the weather during the past weeks cordwood has been in great demand. The farmers of this vicinity are worthy of merit for the superior quality of wood which they have delivered in this village this season.

There are encouraging prospects of of our village growing during next summer as some three or four of our citizens have decided to erect new dwellings.

We regret to learn that a young child of Mr. Donald McFarlane, of Mather's Corners, expired on Monday last. We tender our sympathy to the bereaved parents.

Several jockeys are at present engaged in training horses for the race course.

Several cellars in this place are deluged with water on account of the creeks being frozen solid to the bottom and damming back the water into the drains.

Dr. Johnston drives a team now.

The farmers are busy now drawing wood into the village.

Mr. David Eason, formerly of Keene, is now in Norwood finishing his education. Success to him.

The Christian Endeavour Society in connection with the Presbyterian church is progressing rapidly. They have now upwards of sixty members and an attendance of nearly or over a hundred.

FIRES IN THE STREETS

To Keep Pedestrians From Being Frozen in St. Petersburg

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The weather throughout Europe is intensely cold. In Russia the mercury is reported to have fallen to 69 degrees below zero and in Siboria to 79 degrees below zero. Wood fires are kept burning in the streets of St. Petersburg for the benefit of wayfarers.

An army of men are employed in the streets of Berlin clearing away the snow. So far they have been able to clean passages only in the principal streets. All suburban traffic is suspended.

While a boatman of Colberg, Pomerania, was trying to release his ice-bound boat, a sudden change of wind drove the boat with its owner out to sea. Twelve pilots tried to rescue the man, but were unable to help him on account of the ice. They then tried the rocket apparatus, but this also failed. The man doubtless perished of exposure in a fearful snowstorm that was raging.

All river and canal traffic in Germany is interrupted. Navigation on the Baltic has almost ceased. The pontoon bridges on the Rhine have been hauled in. In some parts of Hungary the thermometer is 52 degrees below zero Centigrade. In Constantinople tram cars and cabs have stopped running and snow has blocked all traffic in the suburbs. Even telegraphic communication in Turkey is generally interrupted. Many deaths from the cold have been reported.

CANADA'S IMMIGRATION.

Agents Are Working Vigorously Across the Atlantic.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Hon. Thomas Mayne Daly's accession to the head of the Department of the Interior is resulting in a vigorous emigration policy being waged in Great Britain.

A feature of his new policy is the granting of increased commission payments to those steamship agents who encourage bookings to Winnipeg and the Canadian Northwest instead of to Australia.

Vigorous efforts are also being made to increase the emigration from Norway and Sweden to Canada. However, in these countries, owing to more or less opposition to the loss of inhabitants, the agents have to go about their work quietly.

The agents appointed in Great Britain are doing good work. These gentlemen are stationed as follows: Mr. Stewart at Inverness, Mr. Fleming at Dundee, Scotland, and Mr. Woods, ex-M. L. A. of Manitoba, in the English Midland counties.

Taking all together an excellent year in the matter of emigration to Canada is promised.

IRISH HOME RULE.

The Financial Terms Said To Be Substantially Arranged.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—A Cabinet Council, lasting three hours, was held Monday and it was rumored that the friction between members of the Cabinet as to details of the Home Rule Bill showed a considerable augmentation since the last meeting.

The financial terms of the bill are said, however, to be substantially arranged. In the first Home Rule Bill the ratio of Ireland's contributions to the Imperial exchequer was one-fifteenth, totalling £3,242,000 per annum. The new proposal, based upon juster data, will make Ireland's contribution only one-twenty-third, equalling £2,070,865 per annum.

Another important feature in the Irish financial scheme is that a loan shall be granted from the Imperial to Irish exchequer to enable the Irish administration to start fair. The more reasonable of the Irish party will hesitate before opposing this financial scheme. The demands of the Redmond section, that Ireland's contribution should be only £1,600,000, will not be entertained by Mr. Gladstone.

NEW CARDINALS.

The Pope Has Created Fourteen, All in Britain and Europe.

ROME, Jan. 17.—The Pope created 14 cardinals at the Consistory Monday, the list not including any Americans or Canadians. Archbishop Vaughan of Westminster was elevated to the cardinalate, also Archbishop Logue, Primate of Ireland, Archbishop Krementz of Cologne, Prince Archbishop Kiopp of Breslau, Monsignor Mocenni, Papal Under-Secretary of State; Monsignor Persico, Secretary of the Propaganda, and others, there being in all 6 Italians, 2 French, 2 Prussian, 1 English, 1 Irish, 1 Hungarian and 1 Spanish.

Pope Leo in his allocution thanked God for having preserved him to celebrate his episcopal jubilee. This event, the Pope said, would be regarded by men as a sign of the divine protection extended to the church in these calamitous days through the preservation of the Supreme Pontiff.

The Pope announced in addition to the cardinals named the creation of two cardinals reserved. They are believed to be Heinhuber and a French bishop.

"I was deaf for a year, caused by catarrh in the head, but was perfectly cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla." H. HICKS, Roches'r, N. Y.

A MONSTER CHURCH

To Be Built At Rome as a Rival to St. Peter's Dome.

ROME, Jan 17.—Cardinal [illegible] has submitted to the Pope a scheme for adding another to the Catholic edifices of the country. The Cardinal's scheme is to erect on the Monte Vaticano a church with a cupola equal in size and effect to that of St. Peter's, the cost of which is to be defrayed by contributions of the Catholics throughout the world.

Round the sacred edifice it is proposed to group the ecclesiastical colleges of the different countries that are now situated at Rome. The further consideration of the proposal will be submitted to a consistorium of cardinals.

The estimated cost of carrying out the scheme is about £4,000,000, and it is calculated that its construction would give employment to 14,000 workmen for six years.

Required a Portfolio.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The Chronicle says it hears that the new Irish Home Rule Bill was drafted by the Rt. Hon. James Bryce, Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, and that Mr. Gladstone gave Mr Bryce a seat in the Cabinet for the very purpose of drafting that bill.

Hayes Has a Spell.

TREMONT, Ohio, Jan. 17.—The information has just been obtained that Ex-President Rutherford B. Hayes has had an attack of neuralgia of the heart, and although his condition has slightly improved he is still a very sick man.

Yet Held for Ransom.

HAVANA, Jan. 17.—Ignacio Herrera, who was recently kidnapped by brigands, who demanded $10,000 for his release, has not yet been set free.

"Now is the winter of our discontent made glorious summer" by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This wonderful medicine so invigorates the system and enriches the blood that cold weather becomes positively enjoyable. Arctic explorers would do well to make a note of this.

THE HAIR.

Florette Gives Explicit Directions How to Dress It.

The latter part of winter has brought quite a revolution in hair-dressing. The accompanying sketch shows in a general way the trend of the new style, which is to no longer pile the hair in coils and puffs on the top of the head, but to arrange it at the back in graceful long-shaped twists. It is a style which suits most faces admirably, as it softens hard features and emphasizes delicate ones, though it is whispered by those in authority that these modest coils are only the forerunners of large chignons, such as were displayed by the belles of twenty years ago. May the day never come when women again allow their heads to be disfigured with these monstrosities, which absolutely ruin the natural growth of the hair. One should always be careful to dress the hair in a style which will harmonize with the contour of the head and shape of the features, thus ensuring an appearance which is never obtained unless the hair is carefully and becomingly arranged. Indeed, this is a detail which marks a well-dressed woman, and without which the most elaborate toilet looks dowdy and incomplete.

The band called the fillet should serve to bind the hair against the head. Fillets were used when there were no hairpins, and they will be more graceful now if made part of the hair dressing instead of mere ornaments. If you wish to secure the Greek effect, discard hairpins. Braid the hair loosely, starting a little above the nape of the neck, and pass your fillet about the head and over the braid, looping it up a little. The end of it hangs against the neck and comes undone as it chooses. If the start of the braid bulges and is not pretty, put another band around to hold it in place. The hair at the sides is pulled very loose, or the short locks are pulled from under the fillet and are drawn back loosely over it. Almost all the Greek ways are modifications of this method, and all depend upon the looping of the hair through the bands of the fillet. Don't fasten the fillet too tight. If you do it will slip all the time and be uncomfortable.

Just the very touchiest touch now is to write the initials in the lower left hand corner of the envelope in all social correspondence, and it is in much better taste to write this brief superscription than to have it engraved. A good thing about this is the fact that if you apprehend from the initials that there may be something disagreeable in the letter you are not obliged to open the envelope.

Prof. Morse, of Salem, Mass., has solved the problem of house-heating in a curious fashion. He has built his house with all its rooms fronting southward, and only a passage on the north. Almost the whole southern front of the house is made of glass, and by means of reflectors Prof. Morse is enabled on sunny days to heat his whole house with sunshine alone. At night and on cloudy days he has hearth fires going. He believes that by this contrivance he has the most wholesome heat that is attainable.

Gladstone has now attained a greater age, says the Pall Mall Gazette, than any other Prime Minister of England ever reached. Lord Palmerston died in harness, but he died on the eve of his eighty-second birthday. Chatham died at seventy, Fox at fifty-seven, Pitt at forty-seven, Canning at fifty-eight, and When Sir Robert Peel met with his fatal accident he was sixty-two. Earl Russel attained the good old age of eighty-six, but did not hold office after he was seventy-seven. Gladstone has completed his eighty-third year.

They had a peculiar auction sale in New York last week—a young lady going into mourning sent her handsome wardrobe to the auction-room to be sold for what it would fetch. The articles sold included several evening costumes by Worth, Felix, Kertenx and Robinson. Thirty women and as many men braved the storm to attend the sale. The bidding was lively, but the prices brought were nothing in comparison to the alleged cost. An elaborate trimmed evening costume of royal purple velvet, with gold embroidery, made by Felix of Paris, which originally cost, so the auctioneer said, $5,000 was knocked down for $75. A Nile green silk evening dress by Felix brought $17. A fur-trimmed jacket made by Robinson was sold for $65. The other articles were sold at prices ranging from $1 to $15. We fancy that the richest thing about that sale was the story connected with it.

The late Sir Richard Owen, the comparative anatomist, attended an international gathering of naturalists in Naples in September, 1845. At that time he was not far from forty years of age; but he looked much younger, as he was clean shaven. When he presented himself at the council, says "The British Medical Journal," one of the foreign members, who was well acquainted with the work the professor had already done, asked the name of this youngish, fresh-colored individual who was entering in a very modest and unassuming way. "His name is Owen," was the reply. The Italian scientist accordingly made his way over to Owen and said to him: "And how is your respected father?" Owen took in the situation at a glance, and replied gravely: "I am sorry to say he has been dead for some years now." "Uncle, I should have said, perhaps," pursued the foreign gentleman. "I have no uncle living," was the answer. "You don't mean to say that you are the author of all those books?" Owen assured him that such was the case, but it was some time before the learned foreigner was convinced.

They Got It At Last.

For many years scientists tried to concentrate the blood, flesh and bone making qualities contained in the oil of the Norwegian cod. They only partially succeeded. But by new chemical processes, rendered feasible by electrical forces, the life giving properties of the oil have all been captured, and are safely imprisoned within that famous remedy which is being talked about all over the country, known as "Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil." Physicians acknowledge that this is the greatest discovery, or rather the perfection of a discovery, ever given to the world. To say that it cures consumption by making blood, flesh and bone for the patient is quite enough. It is a remedy that positively needs no puffing. Many young people have been saved by its use. In big bottles, 50c. and $1.00, at all Drug Stores.

Back-ache is caused by sick kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills will remove it. By their peculiar action on the kidneys, they impart activity and benefit the system by purifying the blood. FRANCE'S BIG SCANDAL.

THE FLOWER OF THE REPUBLIC ARE STAINED.

The Prosecutor Demands a Judgment for Punishment of Count de Lesseps and Others for Fraud—All Sorts of Disgraceful Transactions.

PARIS, Jan. 18.—Advocate-General Rau opened for the prosecution in the Panama cases yesterday. He said that until the last moment he had cherished a hope that the defendants, whose reputations had hitherto been unsullied, and some of whom had contributed to the glory of France, would furnish frank explanations of charges against them and establish their innocence.

In this expectation he had been disappointed. He found himself compelled to demand from the court a judgment that would brand them with fraud. He also felt it his duty to demand an adequate sentence upon Ferdinand de Lesseps, whose former glory and honor had been wrecked in this tragic adventure, which had reduced to poverty many thousands of thrifty workers. M. Rau declared the payments made on commission were outrageously high, especially those on the contract given to Eiffel, whom the Advocate-General blamed severely for accepting 33,000,000 francs.

M. Rau emphasized that newspapers of all shades, their editors and managers, had received money, and all sorts of disgraceful transactions were concealed under the heading of advertising expenses. The Advocate-General had not finished his address when the court adjourned.

The Government will soon strike a blow at the Royalists. It is reported on excellent authority that there is now ample evidence of a Royalist conspiracy and that arrests will be made at an early date.

The conspiracy has been hatched in London and Madrid, and the Count of Paris, instead of having been specially close in expenditures of late for the Royalist cause, has been unusually lavish. He is not himself managing any details, but his leading representatives are more active than ever.

Royalist influence and funds have had much to do with the recent activity in revolutionary circles in Paris, and it is reported that much of the applause of the Extremists at the Tivoli Vaux Hall was furnished by paid Royalist claqueurs.

The Royalist plan appears to be to overthrow the Republic by some means, no matter what those means are, and to foment and promote disorder, in the hope that the French people will turn to the Count of Paris or the Duke of Orleans for rescue or protection.

The headquarters of the Royalist-Socialist intrigue just now is said to be the Maison du Peuple, and it is there that the police, through their spies, have acquired much valuable information as to the designs of the Royalists.

The bill extending the bank note issue was passed by the Chamber of Deputies.

An official denial was given to-day to the report that M. Cambon was to succeed M. Waddington as French ambassador to Great Britain.

Count Hoyos, the Austrian ambassador to France, called at the Foreign Office to-day to enquire into the case of M. Szekely, the Austrian newspaper correspondent whom the Government has ordered to be expelled from France on the ground that in the despatches about the Panama affair sent by him to his paper he libelled Baron Mohrsheim, the Russian ambassador to France.

RUSSIAN RECRUITS.

They Are Forced to Jump from a Running Train on Fire.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 18.—Flames burst from the front car of a train loaded with recruits. The train was going at full speed and the tongues of fire swept backward and in a few minutes all the cars were blazing. The engineer did not stop the train until he had run a considerable distance.

In the meantime there was a scene of indescribable confusion in the cars. The recruits, or at least as many of them as could do so, leaped from the windows and doors. Some of them landed uninjured in the snowbanks, while others who landed in the cleared track were killed.

Nine were killed and 20 terribly injured.

THE BRITISH LION GROWLS.

And the Khedive Must Again Reconstruct His Cabinet.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—At a Cabinet council yesterday afternoon it was decided that the Khedive of Egypt must be firmly dealt with.

This is taken to mean that the new Egyptian Cabinet must be dismissed and replaced by men who are favorable to Great Britain.

Mr. Cromer, the British representative in Egypt, has informed the Khedive that Great Britain would not sanction the appointment of Fakhri Pasha as President of the Council.

Russian, French and Turkish intrigues are suspected.

Mr. Comber gave the Khedive 24 hours to change his ministry, and then Fakhri Pasha resigned.

Undermine British Influence.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—The Times correspondent in Cairo says: Fakhri Pasha, the new President of the Council, is an opponent of English reforms. His suppression of English advising authority, if successful, will undermine all British influence.

WAR IN HAYTI

Because the Voters Were Too Many For Hippolyte's Men.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—A despatch to The Herald from Kingston, Jamaica, says: News was received yesterday which indicates that the long-threatened revolution against the government of President Hippolyte of Hayti has broken out.

A battle was fought yesterday morning in the streets of the village of Lasse de Nez, a settlement back of Port au Prince. As soon as word of the uprising was received at the Government House President Hippolyte issued orders for troops to be despatched to the place. In a short time a little army of 300 soldiers and 20 commanding officers were on the way.

The reports declared that the streets were filled with armed men. While fighting was in progress at this point news was received at Port au Prince of another uprising near St. Michael's. The residents were in terror as a result of this uprising.

All places of business were closed. Even the private residences were barricaded and the occupants sought shelter. Troops are under orders to leave to suppress this rebellion, and they will be hastened with all the speed the limited facilities of the republic afford.

President Hippolyte at once issued a manifesto announcing that these uprisings are not serious and that there is no organized rebellion or armed opposition to the government. In the elections which were held Saturday Hippolyte's friends and relatives were chosen deputies, but their success is due to a display of force at the polls which terrorized the voters. Armed troops were stationed at the polling places, and at the point of the bayonet ballots were ordered to be cast for friends of the President.

Notwithstanding the encouraging terms used in the manifesto of the President, he is undoubtedly fearful of a general uprising and is in terror of his life. The guards about his house have been doubled and other precautions taken to ensure his personal safety. The discontent against the President is spreading all through the republic. Many of his former adherents in the north have abandoned his support, and like desertions are reported from the south.

THE POPE ASSERTS.

Mgr. Satolli is Not Mistaken; He is Always Merciful.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—A special to The Herald from Rome says the news of Mgr. Satolli's appointment as apostolic delegate to the United States caused much consternation and dissatisfaction in certain circles, but at the Vatican and Propaganda no doubt is felt but that the Pope has acted wisely.

Cardinal Rampolla said plainly when questioned on the subject that the appointment has been made a reply to the determined resistance of the envoy's enemies. Some days ago a prelate speaking to the Pope remarked: "It seems Mgr. Satolli has made a mistake."

His Holiness cut him short with the emphatic answer: "Whether well or ill, that which Mgr. Satolli has done he has done because I told him to do it. Mgr. Satolli is not mistaken; he is always merciful."

Corrigan's Denial.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Archbishop Corrigan says he has not written the Pope on any subject since Dr. McGlynn's restoration. Neither has he written anyone in the United States against such restoration.

BERLIN, Jan. 18.—Seven deaths from cholera disorder have occurred at the Lunatic Asylum at Halle. The cause of the disorder has been traced to the impure water used.
